

The Quincy Patriot,

(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)

Published every Saturday by

M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Printer.

Also—Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

W. M. OGDEN, M. D.

HAS REMOVED FROM

BOSTON TO QUINCY,

And taken the Office

Opposite Drug Store of C. C. Johnson,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Jan. 2. tf

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.

Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. tf

MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,

[Who is stopping at Dr. Roundy's.]

Will Examine and Prescribe

FOR THE SICK.

Also will give PNEUMONICAL Readings of the

Past and Future Destiny.

☞ Please call and try.

Quincy, March 6. tf

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

OFFICES:

At his dwelling house, QUINCY.

No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.

Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.,—other hours in Quincy.

Sept. 14. tf

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,

Office, Weymouth Landing.

Weymouth, Mass. July 13. tf

Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants

CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

Wedding & Funeral Flowers

Furnished at Short Notice.

ISAIAH WHITE,

Feb. 20 ly. 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK,

Real Estate and Insurance Agent.

Granite Street, Quincy.

May 4. ly

B. F. MESERVEY,

WATCHMAKER,

2 CITY HALL AVENUE,

BOSTON.

☞ Watches and Jewelry repaired.

April 29. ly

JAS. WHITE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

FLOUR!

47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.

Quincy, June 18. tf

FURNITURE

—AND—

UPHOLSTERY GOODS!

Our stock is large, and in point of style and

workmanship

CANNOT BE SURPASSED

BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON

Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our

Warehouses, and Judge for themselves.

BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,

511 Washington St., Boston.

July 13. ly

NEW

Wheelwright Shop.

THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,

NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILD'S

Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow,"

is now prepared to execute all orders in the

Wheelwright line.

Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds

of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.

The Subscriber hopes by his long experience

and strict attention to the interest of his customers,

to merit a portion of your patronage.

DANIEL McCURDY,

Quincy, May 9. tf

Ah! My Teeth.

DR. C. S. FRENCH performs successful operations in extracting

teeth by a new and improved

process of preparing and inhaling in its purity Nitrous Oxide Gas. Such as prefer this to other methods, at a price one third of the cost of the ordinary method.

Call at Dr. French's, on the corner of Washington and Court Streets.

C. S. FRENCH.

Quincy, April 18. tf

Rhode Island Coal.

R. L. LEE,

WOULD respectfully inform the people of Quincy and vicinity, that he is now preparing to furnish them with the Rhode Island

Coal, cheap for cash.

Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short

for the Store, and Granular Fuel.

ORDER SLATES can be found at Whitney &

Gray, at Mr. W. Gray's Store, on Quincy Adams

Street.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Jan. 9.

Agricultural Warehouse

SEED STORE,

49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row,
BOSTON.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood

offer a large assortment of the best

Agricultural Implements, Machinery,

—AND—

TOOLS OF ALL KINDS.

—ALSO—

Garden, Field and Flower Seeds,

Grown by Experienced Seedmen in Europe

and America, the quality of which is not and cannot be surpassed.

SEED POTATOES.

Early Rose, Goodrich, Sebce, Blue, &c.

Fertilizers of all kinds.

Also, Trees, Shrubs, Plants, &c.,

At Wholesale and Retail, at the Lowest Prices.

All orders and inquiries by mail or express,

will meet with prompt attention.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood.

Boston, May 8. 2m

SEED BARLEY.

50 bushels prime Seed Barley. For sale by

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Apr. 17. tf

PLANTS FOR SALE.

CABBAGE, Cauliflower, Celery, Egg and

Tomato PLANTS.

FLOWER and BEDDING PLANTS.

Jacunda Strawberry Plants.

Also, TRELLISES various sizes and patterns.

JOSHUA H. SPEAR,

Brackett Street.

Quincy, May 1. tf

SEED POTATOES.

150 bushels Seed Potatoes consisting of Early

Goodrich, Sebce, Davis, Seedlings, and Bangor

Jackson Whites, at the lowest Cash Prices.

Which we are selling at a low price.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Apr. 17. tf

Flower Seeds.

SEVERAL new varieties of last years growth.

Also, garden seeds. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Mar. 27. tf

GRASS SEEDS.

THE Subscriber has just received a choice

lot of New Grass Seeds, consisting of Northern

Herds Grass, Red Top and Clover Seeds,

which we are selling at a low price.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Apr. 17. tf

QUINCY

MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce

that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a new Warehouse, where

EVERY VARIETY

—OF—

Monumental Work,

from the simplest grave stone, to the

Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,

may be seen finished and ready for lettering.

All persons needing such, are invited to call

and judge for themselves,—they are sure to find

in so large a Collection what will suit their taste

and requirements.

The character of the place for good work and homestdealings is so well known that it is not necessary to refer to it.

All prices from ten dollars upwards.

SHOP and YARD near South Street Depot.

JOSEPH ARY.

Quincy, April 27. tf

SAUCES.

H. LONG & Co.'s Celebrated Worcestershire and Windsor Castle Sauces.

For sale at

ABERCROMBIE'S.

Quincy, Oct. 31. tf

For New and Beautiful Styles

—OF—

PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at

E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.

Quincy, May 1. tf

SPRING TRADE.

THE Subscriber, having employed a good

upholsterer is now ready to accommodate the public, in remodeling old furniture of any description. Housekeepers should send in their work

previous to the summer season, if they would have it attended to, at an early hour and oblige.

N. B. New and desirable paper hangings, will be found Cheap for Cash.

JOSEPH ARY.

Quincy, Mar. 20. tf

PHILBRICK'S

Fire Kindlings!

The Best Article in Use!!

A BOX contains 144 Squares—One Square will kindle

a fire of wood or charcoal, burning from 8 to 10 minutes, being the cheapest and best article ever used for kindling fires.

Directions—Light one of the small Squares, lay it on the grate of the stove, then put on your wood, and you will have a sure fire without further trouble.

Only 20 cents per Box.

For Sale by

JAMES PARKER,

Quincy, Feb. 29. tf

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Mar. 27.

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the

Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., until further notice.

Persons having business with the Town will

please present it on those days.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen

E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of

ENNSON S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.

Quincy, March 6. tf

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the

Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each

Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1857.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen

E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of

ENNSON S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.

Quincy, March 6. tf

SOUTHER'S

Newspaper and Periodical Depot.

I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends,

that I have purchased the interest, and leased the

store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT,

Next Door to the Post Office,

Where I will continue to supply the

Daily and Weekly Newspapers,

MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,

to patrons promptly.

Subscriptions taken for any Paper or Magazine in the Country.

School Books, States, Pens, Ink and Paper, in fact, every thing connected with the Stationery

Department, on hand or procured at the shortest

notice.

Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING

LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the day.

Papers and Magazines bound in any style.

E. B. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 1. tf

MRS. M. E. CURTIS

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity that she has taken the rooms

formerly occupied by

MISS CURRIER,

Over Mr. C. T. Reed's Store,

Where she is prepared to show them a large and

Choice Assortment

—OF—

French Millinery Goods,

suitable for the season.

STRAW GOODS, Bleached Pressed and

Dyed.

Mourning and Grave Cloths constantly on hand or made to order.

Orders received for FINE FLOWERS.

Dress and Cloak Making in all its varieties.

Corsets, Hoop Skirts, and other articles kept constantly for sale.

Also, Agent for the famous WOOD SEWING

MACHINE. Those in want of a Good Machine,

please call and examine.

Quincy, May 9. tf

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY

WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies

generally—that she has removed to the

Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING.

Thanking them for past favors, respectfully solicits orders for

SPRING and SUMMER

MILLINERY.

Fresh assortment constantly on hand.

well as worship Him on Sabbath days: then your religion is spurious, hypocritical and abhorrent—a refuge of lies! Its sounding brass and tinkling cymbal entice but the giddy-hearted, and warn the wise to beware.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

FOURTH OF JULY. The arrangements for the celebration in this town, on Monday next, are being completed very successfully. If the day is favorable we see no reason why the people of Quincy cannot enjoy it very pleasantly. It is hoped by the Committee of Arrangements that the citizens generally will decorate their residences, and make it as much a gala day as possible. The Trades as far as we can learn will be well represented. Let those who can join, make active preparations do so, and notify the Marshal,—time is short, and a little more "fire" is desired.

A HANDSOME LEGACY. We give our readers to-day the will of the late Dr. Ebenezer Woodward. It is quite lengthy but will be very interesting to our readers. He bequeaths the largest part of his great wealth to the town of Quincy, for the purpose of establishing and maintaining forever a Female Institute for the education of females from the age of ten to twenty, who are born in Quincy and none other. The property to be managed by the Selectmen, together with the Clerk and Treasurer; and the School by the ministers of Quincy. All ornamental as well as useful branches, the donor wishes to have taught in said Institute. The Institute to be located on the Greenleaf farm, and the deceased thought the piece of land adjoining C. C. Johnson's the most proper for its location. A very appropriate name for the building when built would be WOODWARD FEMALE INSTITUTE.

ACCIDENT. On Thursday of this week, as Mr. Samuel Johnson was at work upon the tower of Mr. H. B. Brown's new house, the staging gave way precipitating Mr. Johnson to the ground, a distance of about 30 feet. In his descent he struck upon two other stagings which broke the fall and thus, in all probability saved his life. As it happened no bones were broken, and it is thought that a few bad flesh bruises is the extent of his injury.

OUR SCHOOLS. The following assignments have been made for the summer examinations of the public schools of Quincy.

Willard Primaries,	Tuesday, July 6
Adams, " "	Thursday, " 8
Coddington, " "	Friday, " 9
Washington, " "	Forenoon, Monday, " 12
Crane School, " "	" " " "
Willard Grammar & Intermediate, Tuesday, July 13
Adams, " "	Thursday, " 15
Washington, " "	Friday, " 16
Coddington, " "	Monday, " 19
Quincy Grammar & Primary, Tuesday, " 20
High School, Thursday and Friday, July 23, 25

A QUINCY MOTHER. Mrs. Isaac Singleton, who lives on Quincy Avenue, on the 24th instant, gave birth to two fine healthy sons,—weighing exactly, nine pounds each,—an extraordinary weight for twins.

The case in part was one of difficulty; but having a skillful accoucheur in attendance, it was terminated speedily and safely, both to mother and children—who are all doing well.

Lines on the tomb of "Woodward," on the first page, was received last week, but was unavoidably delayed to this number.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING. During the shower on Monday afternoon, a barn in Braintree, owned by Dr. Cutting, was struck by lightning, in which the Dr.'s two daughters had taken refuge from the rain, on their return home from school. One of the girls was instantly killed and the other remained insensible for some time. The barn was set on fire but was seen by two men who immediately entered it and found the young girls and gave the alarm.

The Ladies of the Universalist Society in this town, received over eleven hundred dollars from the fair held last week.

Auction. Ebenezer Adams, Esq., sells on Tuesday next, four acres of Grass at the Point, belonging to Mr. Litchfield. See notice.

Henry H. Faxon, Esq., advertises Pew No. 33, in the Stone Temple, to be sold on Monday next.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY. The currency now in use is soon to be called in and no more like it issued. The new series will be entirely different, and the same is true of all the greenbacks that are to be issued hereafter. The quality of the paper is to be changed, and the new style is now in process of manufacture under government supervision. It is thought to be impossible to counterfeit the currency that is to succeed that now in use. New and different presses will be used in printing, and a part of the work will be done in some other city than Washington. The change is to be most thorough in the manner of keeping accounts as well as in the kind of currency produced; a system which is believed will prevent fraud, and which at the same time does away with the useless and absurd mystery that used to be thrown around this part of the public service.

Editorial Note. We advise all buyers of good cloth to call on Messrs. Farnall & Brooks, as we can testify that the quality is all right.

WILL OF THE LATE DR. WOODWARD.

In the name of God, Amen: I, Ebenezer Woodward, of Quincy, County of Norfolk, in the Commonwealth of Mass., do make, ordain, and declare this instrument to be my last will and testament.

In the first place, I give and bequeath to my dear beloved wife, the use, profit, and benefit, during her life, of the dwelling house in which I live, together with the land and buildings attached thereto. I also give her all the furniture in said house, wearing apparel, harnesses, carriages and horses in my possession, at the time of my decease, together with the pew No. 58 in Stone Temple, situated in the broad aisle: the before mentioned house, buildings, land and pew to be used by her during her natural life, and then to be disposed of as hereinafter mentioned.

Secondly,—I give and bequeath to my wife all my personal property of whatever nature, with the exception of that portion which I may specifically give away hereafter in this instrument, for her sole use, during her life, and to be disposed of as this will directs at her death.

Thirdly,—I give and bequeath to my sister, Eliza Woodward Hudson, five thousand dollars, ($5,000) in personal estate, at my death, if she may be living, I also bequeath to her and her husband, Frederic Hudson, after the death of my wife, the house, buildings and land, where I now live and pew No. 58 in Stone Temple, during their natural lives, and then, at their death, to go in fee simple to Woodward Hudson, or if they, Eliza Woodward Hudson and Frederic Hudson, die before my wife, then the estate to go in fee simple to Woodward Hudson, or his heirs, either brothers, sisters or children; but, if he leaves no heirs then it is to go to the town of Quincy, for the same purposes and objects as my other real estate.

Fourthly,—I give and bequeath after the death of my wife, to Woodward Hudson or his heirs, either brothers or sisters or children, the sum of twenty thousand dollars, ($20,000) in personal estate, to be paid to some responsible person at the time of my wife's death; if Woodward Hudson leaves no heirs, as specified, then the above twenty thousand dollars, ($20,000) to go to the town of Quincy, for the same purposes and objects as my real estate.

Fifthly,—I give and bequeath to the town of Quincy, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and County of Norfolk, in its corporate capacity, all my real estate, at or at least within twenty-five (25) years, after my decease, they shall establish and continue for the town of Quincy forever a Female Institute, for the education of females, from the age of ten to twenty years, who are native born,—born, I wish to be understood, in the town of Quincy, and none other than these, to be allowed to attend this Institute, which I wish to be as perfect and as well constructed as any other in the State.

2. The property which I bequeath to the town of Quincy for this purpose, is to be perpetually managed by the Selectmen of said town, together with the Clerk and Treasurer of Quincy, for the best advantage of said town and said Institute.

3. Whenever the town of Quincy becomes a city then the government of said city to have the management of said property, for the benefit of said city, to be used according to the directions of this will and for the purposes herein mentioned.

4. I would recommend that the said town or city, as the case may be, should choose a committee from time to time, to confer with the above named officers, concerning the best mode of managing said property and to see that it is not wasted or lost.

5. The management of said Institute or school, so far as the selection of instructors and the studies to be pursued and all internal regulations, to be and to remain under the direction of the following gentlemen forever, viz:—

The several ordained and settled ministers of the town or city, as may be, and all settled ministers to be added to this committee from time to time, as they become residents of Quincy. I mean the Catholics as well as the Protestants, and all who are settled for one or more years, and reside in the town of Quincy. I wish no sectarianism taught in the Institute, leaving that to the parents and the pastors of their choice; the senior pastor of Stone Temple is to be perpetual chairman of said Board or Committee.

6. I wish all the ornamental as well as useful branches of learning taught in this Institute, or school, which are taught in any other similar Institute in the State.

7. The said Institute is to be located on land given by said donor to the town of Quincy. My present opinion is that the most proper location is nearly opposite the Hancock lot on the farm of the late Daniel Greenleaf; but the said Committee with the Selectmen, Town Treasurer and Clerk are to decide on what part of said farm the location shall be.

8. I ordain that the farm, the whole of which is now occupied by Peter Butler, Esq., shall, after the expiration of the present lease, be occupied by him after my death until Woodward Hudson dies before that period, then, if the said Peter Butler so wishes, to be occupied by him for ten years from my death, at the rate of one thousand dollars ($1,000) per year, together with all taxes levied thereon; the rent to be paid to the town of Quincy as a fund for the Female Institute, deducting sufficient therefrom, for posts and rails to keep the fences in repair and good order.

9. When Woodward Hudson becomes of age, then he is to have in fee simple, to be disposed of as he pleases, the Mansion House, the Farm House, with all the buildings thereunto belonging, together with twenty-one acres of land or thereabouts, viz:—Beginning on the North-west side of Pond street, which runs into Putnam street, hence continuing through Putnam street, over the bridge to Hancock street, together with the land opposite the Mansion House, on the West side of Hancock street as far as the railroad line with the brook through the centre; which place I now value at fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

10. I ordain, that under penalty of losing or forfeiting this donation, the town of Quincy do not allow any part of the farm which I leave to the town in this my will, north of the brook running through it, to be sold under (10) ten years after my decease; and also that the town, or its agents, do not sell or lease lot marked on the plan number thirty-three (No. 33) or permit or cause to be permitted, any bridge over Black's Creek, so called, for the space of twenty-five years (25) after my death. The town or its agents are forbidden under penalty of forfeiture to my heirs, cutting, opening or making or permitting to be cut, opened, or made, any street, road or passage way through lot No. 33 (thirty-three) to Mount Wollaston, for the space of twenty-five years (25) after my decease, and if the County Commissioners cut, open or make any road or passage way through land next Mount Wollaston, then the town of Quincy forfeits all rights to the property.

11. I recommend to the managers of the Female Institute to clear out the inlet called Black's Creek, and to make wharves there for the accommodation of the town of Quincy, and to increase the value of the property that it may, to the utmost extent be made productive to the town for the purposes named in my will.

Sixthly,—If the town of Quincy refuses to accept the above property upon the terms herein specified, or fail to comply with the words and intent of the will, as determined by good judges, or should surrender the property, or use it for any other purpose than contemplated in this will, then I bequeath the said property to the Trustee of Dartmouth College to be used by them, in the manner they may think best, for the promotion of Science and Literature.

Seventh,—I wish all the real estate held in trust by me for my wife, both in Quincy and Boston, to be given by her to the town of Quincy for the same purposes as this will directs, providing the town of Quincy accepts of my donation and not otherwise. This my wife can do by confirming this will or by making one of her own; the real estate, in Boston not to be conveyed till after her death.

Eighthly,—If Thomas Brooks be alive at the decease of myself or wife, and continues in the service of the survivor as long as said survivor may desire said service, he is to receive the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) from my personal estate, on the death of the survivor or the termination of the service.

Ninthly,—If my wife neglects to make a will then the remainder of the property on her death after complying with the bequests in this will, is to be divided equally between Woodward Hudson, and the town of Quincy for the Female Institute, and if Woodward Hudson be not living at the time, and leaves no children, then I make the said Institute for the town of Quincy my residuary legatee.

Tenthly,—I direct that all my debts at the time of my death be at once paid from my personal property, and that all debts due me be immediately collected, so far as the law will allow and permit.

I appoint my wife, Mary Ann Ware Woodward, and Frederic Hudson, of Concord, Mass., Executors of this will. If neither of them be living, the Selectmen of the town of Quincy will be the most appropriate persons to act in this capacity. I wish no bonds required or exacted of M. A. W. Woodward or Frederic Hudson, for the performance of this duty; no appointment or record of property except to comply with the laws of the Commonwealth. My Executors are simply to convey to the town of Quincy, the real estate willed by me after the requirements and conditions of my will are complied with, the remainder of the property to remain in the possession and hands of my wife, Mary A. W. Woodward with Frederic Hudson for her advice.

In witness of each and every one of these items herein contained, I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this eighteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1869. EBENEZER WOODWARD.

Witnessed by Joseph Aray, Jr., Thos. Brooks and George L. Gill.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT. As Capt. C. C. Bumpus, of this town, while in the discharge of his duty in Boston Harbor, as Custom House Inspector, was passing from the brig "Marine," to the Cutter "Hamilton," on Monday last, he accidentally fell and badly injured his right arm.

PUBLIC DEBT. The statement of the public debt for July has been published and a recapitulation is printed in the Washington press despatches. The reduction for the past month is over $16,000,000.

Young Gents, Attention. We would call the attention of those visiting the city in pursuit of clothing to Lovejoy's Clothing House in Dock Square, corner of North Street. His stock is large and attractive, and good bargains are offered to customers.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

Summer Exodus.—Gilmore's Testimonial Concert.—Commencement at Cambridge.—State Railroad Commissioners. Colonel C. F. Adams, Jr.

BOSTON, JULY 1, 1869.

One third of summer has passed. The exodus of Bostonians to the rural districts has already commenced; and dullness will reign supreme here until the fides of September. The country in this vicinity has great attractions,—every thing in nature smiling in beauty; and no wonder its sylvan retreats are so desirable for those, hemmed up in the city a great portion of the year. So wonderful are the facilities of travel, that about one-third of the population of Boston doing business here, sleep in the suburban towns. Notwithstanding the advent of warm weather, the city is very healthy, and with due regard to sanitary discipline, the chances for long life here are as good as in the rural districts. Sickness being adventitious, or not essentially inherent, can in great measure be shunned even in the atmosphere of great cities. No small portion of the summer tourists return to Boston in the autumn, poorer in health than when they left.

Gilmore's testimonial Concert on Tuesday was one of the pleasant events of the week. The inside scene at the Coliseum, resembled the opening day of the Jubilee; choruses seats well filled—the orchestra from twenty thousand; expenses about $15,000. The day was beautiful and the whole proceedings a success. A National Chorus organization is to be formed, and a series of Promenade Concerts are to be given in the Coliseum. Thus the whole country is awakened by musical enthusiasm.

Commencement at Harvard College on Tuesday, with the annual dinner to the Alumni at Harvard Hall, chronicles well among the passing matters of the present week. The proceedings published in the leading papers of the Boston press were of much interest. The honorary degrees conferred this year were sparing. Doctor of Laws, Gov. Claflin and Hon. John G. Palfrey; Master of Arts, Algonquin College, M. D., of Boston,—John K. Paine, instructor of music of Harvard College. Among the overture selected for six years, was the Hon. Charles Francis Adams.

We are pleased to state that Gov. Claflin by the consent of the Council, has appointed Col. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., one of the three Railroad Commissioners for Massachusetts; salary of each, $4,000 per annum. Col. Adams has given much attention to the railroad system both in the United States and Europe, as his able articles in the monthly Atlantic will show. As a literary writer, Mr. Adams ranks as one of the ablest and most promising young men of our country.

For the Patriot
OBITUARY.

One after another, the good and beloved portion of our community, are summoned from earth, regardless of age or condition. We sorrow at their departure, and find it difficult to be comforted. True consolations for the wounded spirit by bereavement are found in the sublime truths of the Messiah; who indeed, is the "Resurrection and the Life." The dead shall live again in happy reunion with all they hold dear in this earthly tabernacle.

Their neighborhood has been recently called to sincerely mourn the death of Mrs. Mary T. Cummings, the amiable wife of our esteemed and well known fellow-citizen, Noah Cummings, Esq. Five short weeks since, the writer of this article met Mrs. Cummings weeping at the tomb of her old day physician, Dr. Woodward, on the day of his obsequies. Then she was in the time of her death, but she was the useful and honored life. But the inevitable decree of the recording angel of death has ordained otherwise, and she has gone in the harvest of life, to meet her reward in the abodes of Elysium.

Mrs. Cummings passed her whole married life, of more than thirty years, in the vicinity of the Railway Village of Milton and Quincy. She possessed, prominently, those good characteristics that constitute the tender wife, affectionate mother, good neighbor, and the virtuous dignity of a woman. During her long sojourn here, she commanded in a high degree the sincere respect and esteem of our whole community. Of affable demeanor, with a constant desire to do good and be useful, she closes scarce yet in its evening shades, a well spent and unsullied life. The surviving partner of her joys and sorrows has our deepest sympathy. He loved her wisely and well. The consolatory state was an uninterrupted round of domestic bliss. The ties of the family circle are burst asunder, and a keen sorrow has sought its abode in that pleasant dwelling, where before was found all that was desirable to make life attractive.

May the Giver of every good and perfect gift sustain the bereaved husband and children in their deep affliction.

The funeral of Mrs. Cummings on Tuesday was largely attended by mourning friends. Rev. Dr. Morrison of Milton, and Rev. Mr. Wells of Quincy, officiating most impressively.

CLOTHING. We would call the attention of those visiting the city in pursuit of clothing to Lovejoy's Clothing House in Dock Square, corner of North Street. His stock is large and attractive, and good bargains are offered to customers.

YOUNG GENTS, ATTENTION. We would call the attention of those visiting the city in pursuit of clothing to Lovejoy's Clothing House in Dock Square, corner of North Street. His stock is large and attractive, and good bargains are offered to customers.

Horrible. At Milford, Wisconsin, recently, a boy and girl were killed by their friends to prevent the consequences expected from the bite of a mad dog. One, a boy, was bled to death after an opiate had been administered, and the girl was smothered in a feather bed.

A white baby was picked up a few days ago on the Dan river, near South Boston, Virginia. It was in a metallic coffin, with a bottle of milk at its mouth, and a roll of greenbacks under its head, while newly picked roses decorated its strange cradle.

Braintree One Hundred Years Ago.

In the month of March, 1769, the following names appear on the records of the officers of the town for that year: For Selectmen: Norton Quincy, Ebenezer Miller, Dea. James Penniman, Ebenezer Thayer and Jonathan Bass. For Town Clerk and Treasurer: Elisha Niles.

For Moderator: Joseph Palmer. The town then comprised all the territories now included in Quincy, Braintree and Randolph.

In 1769 the town was divided into two precincts,—North and South,—the boundaries being where the town lines now are of Braintree and Quincy. In May 1781, the South Precinct was set off and remained a Precinct until 1793 when it was incorporated as a town and called Randolph, in honor of Peyton Randolph, President of the first Congress of the Confederation.

Quincy remained the North Precinct of Braintree until February, 1792, when it was divorced from its mother, and called Quincy, in honor of Col. John Quincy.

The increase of population in the three towns previous to the year 1800 was small,—that year the census showing the following result as the number of inhabitants in each town, viz: Braintree, 1,285; Quincy, 1081; Randolph, 1021, making a total in the three towns of 3,387.

In 1865 the population of Braintree was 3,225; Quincy, 6,718; Randolph, 5,734, a total of 16,177.

Joseph Palmer the Moderator of the town meeting in 1769, belonged to the North Precinct, also Norton Quincy and Ebenezer Miller,—Dea. James Penniman and Ebenezer Thayer, to the Middle Precinct, Jonathan Bass to the South Precinct. The Town Clerk and Treasurer, Elisha Niles, was a son of Rev. Samuel Niles, second minister of the second parish in the town, and belonged to the Middle Precinct.

The town meetings were held at that period in the old meeting-house, which stood near the site of the present church of the first parish. The Deacon's seat in front of the pulpit being occupied by the Moderator and Town Clerk, while often in the heat of debate on exciting questions, words were uttered which now could not be considered a sad desecration of the house of God. The state of things continued till the former town of Quincy built which stood at the junction of Washington and Union streets.—Randolph Reg.

The officers and soldiers who served under Gen. Burnside in the Expedition to North Carolina and in the Ninth Army Corps are to have a Reception and Clambake at Rocky Point (R.I.) on the 7th of July. The Committee having it in charge have arranged with the several Railroads to Boston and to Providence for a free return pass to all those who attend the meeting, upon the certificate of the Secretary of the Society. The Headquarters of the Committee are, in Boston, at the office of Col. W. V. Hutchinson, No. 31 Kilby street, and at Providence at Capt. Bowen, 12 South Main street.

Rocky Point is a place most happily chosen, as it is one of the most attractive spots in Narragansett Bay, and has large hotel accommodations for the families and friends of the members of the Corps, who may attend.

SHIPPING MOLASSES IN BULK. The iron brig Norfolk, built to carry molasses in bulk, returned from her first voyage to Cuba last Wednesday. Her voyage to Matanzas demonstrated fine sailing qualities. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing worked well, the tanks remained perfectly tight and not a pint of molasses was lost by leakage. The cargo of the Norfolk consisted of 84,075 gallons, which will be pumped by steam power from the vessels. Into water pig ballast was pumped on arrival, and she took on board about two hundred hogheads of molasses daily, while fifty hogheads is considered a good day's work when stowed in the ordinary way. The hogheads of molasses came alongside in lighters and were turned into troughs, from which it flowed readily into tanks. On the return voyage every thing

Poetry.

SUNDAY NIGHT.

A light is in the parlor,
A fire is in the grate,
The clock upon the mantel,
Ticks out, "It's getting late;"
The curtains at the windows,
Are made of snowy white,
The parlor is a pleasant place,
To sit in Sunday night.

There's books upon the table,
And pictures on the wall;
Then—there's a pretty sofa,
But the sofa isn't all;
If I am not mistaken,
(I'm sure that I am right),
There is somebody sitting there,
This pleasant Sunday night.

Farmers' Department.

PRUNING FRUIT TREES.

This part of the round of business which farmers should go through with yearly, is often sadly neglected. It is strange that so profitable a part of the farm as the orchard should be left uncared for. Let us look at a few of the excuses which farmers give for not attending to this matter.

Some say they believe it is an injury to a fruit tree to prune it; that is not natural. Let it be remembered that the tree is not in a natural state, if it were it would be worthless. Its state is an artificial one and it requires artificial treatment. Corn and potatoes will not grow without culture, but because fruit trees will live and occasionally bear crops of indifferent fruit some people think this a sufficient reason for allowing them to grow and remain a tangled mass of brush.

Another says it is a good plan to trim trees, it ought to be done but he cannot get time to do it. This is an old and threadbare excuse; what everybody says when a piece of work is not attended to properly, "couldn't get time."

I know a farmer who allows manure to accumulate in his barn-yard year after year because he can not get time to haul it out.

Be sure of this, a man gets time to do a thing when he really wants to do it; when he makes up his mind that he will do it; and if a farmer fails of caring for his orchard in this respect, he lacks the purpose, not the time.

Another still would trim his trees but he is in doubt as to the best season for pruning. When this is the case, let the person endeavor to ascertain by observation and careful experiment, or at least so far as to satisfy his own mind, the best season in which to perform this work.

Authorities differ about the best time for pruning, but all agree that it is better done at any time than not at all. On our place experience seems to point to the early summer months as best, for a wound then made quickly hardens in the hot summer air, and very speedily heals over.

Whenever the work is done let it be done carefully and well. Do not attack a tree as if possessed with the idea that about so much is to be cut off, no matter where. Do not put a saw into it, until you have formed in your mind some idea of the best shape which you can give it, so as to know what branches it is necessary to remove, and what retain. Never follow the practice which some people have adopted, of leaving stumps of small limbs for future use as handles to climb up by; but make every cut as close as possible and smooth.

A little practice will give the ability to discern at a glance just what needs to be done. After this a little attention every year, and your trees will soon be each one "a thing of beauty and a joy forever" and besides this the improvements will be sensibly felt in your pocket.—Homestead.

Incidents.

HARD TIMES. The credit system has been carried to a pretty fine point in some of the rural districts, if we may judge from the following dialogue, said to have recently occurred between a customer and the proprietor:

"How's trade, Squire?"
"Wall, cash trade's kinder dull, naow, Major."

"Dun anything terday?"
"Wall, only a leetle—on credit Aunt Betsey Pushard has borst an egg's worth of tea, and got trused for it till her speckled pullet lays."

A little boy was strewing salt upon the sidewalk for the purpose of removing the ice, when a lady passing, exclaimed:
"Well I declare this is real benevolence!"
"No it ain't," said the boy, "it is salt."

"Sonny, do you love me any?"
"Oh, don't I though!"
"What for?"
"Because you always bring me candy when you come to see Sissy Jane. Give me some more."

"And what does Sissy Jane love me for?"
"Oh, 'cause you take her to concerts, and give her so many nice things. She says, so long as you are fool enough to bring her shawls and bonnets, she won't sack you no how. Now give me some more candy."

AGENTS WANTED FOR

Secrets of the Great City.

A Work descriptive of the VIRTUE, and the VICE, the MYSTERIES, MISERIES and CRIMES of New York City.

It contains 33 fine engravings; and is the Spiciest, most Thrilling, instructive, and cheapest work of the kind published.

ONLY $2.50 PER COPY.

Agents are meeting with unprecedented success. One in Marlborough, Mass., reports 36 subscribers in a day. One in Lawrence, Pa., reports 44 subscribers the first day. One in Meriden Conn., 68 in two days, and a great many others from 10 to 100 per week.

Send for circulars with terms, and a full description of the work. Address, JONES BROTHERS & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

PUBLISHED BY JONES BROTHERS & Co., 119 4th

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE BEST BOOK OF THE PERIOD

WOMEN OF NEW YORK!

Or, The Under World of the Great City.

The most startling revelation of modern times. New York Society Unmasked. "The Aristocracy," "Women of Pleasure," "Married Women," and all classes thoroughly revealed. 60 Illustrations.

The New York Book Co., 143 Nassau St. N. Y. J 12 4w

DODD'S

NERVINE

DID IT

NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.

REMEMBER FATHER, I should like to tell you another word before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of your medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—ever faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE with me, and my body at once began to improve. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My limbs had been so weak and stiff, and had lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give me any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever used, and I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account.

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

J 12 4w

Very truly, Mrs. L. S. NICHOL.

Genuine Lykens Valley

Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice at the lowest cash prices.

OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

Boston, July 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now on hand, the Pure Genuine Franklin Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being the genuine article.

WALLACE GOODY, Agent for Summit Branch R.R. and Short Mountain Coal Co. Quincy, July 6.

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

The Quincy Patriot,

(Established by John A. Green, in 1837;)

Published every Saturday by

M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESBOTT, Printer.

Also, Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1869.

NUMBER 28.

CONDITIONS.

No Subscription nor Advertisement will be inserted unless the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be changed until ordered out.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.

BOSTON.—S. M. PITTINGILL & Co. S. B.
NILES, HORACE DODD, T. C. EVANS, A. L.
BRYANT & Co., ALLEN & SHAW, and COOK & DAVENY.
NEW YORK.—S. M. PITTINGILL & Co.
GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., and PEARSON & Co.
PHILADELPHIA.—COE, WETHEBELL & Co.

NATIONAL

SURANCE CO

OF THE
STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Special Act of Congress,
JULY 25, 1868.

CAPITAL $1,000,000,
PAID IN FULL.

Which Office:

LOCAL BANK BUILDING,
PHILADELPHIA.
The business of the Company is transacted in which all general correspondence.

OFFICERS:

CLARK, President.

ARMAN Finance and Executive

KE, Vice-President.

ELT, Secretary and Actuary.

offers the following advantages:

Company, chartered by special

capital of $1,000,000.

of premium.

per insurance than other company in every locality.

except from attachment.

unnecessary restrictions in the non-forfeitable.

taken which pay to the into return all the pre-

the insurance costs only the annual payments.

to be taken that will pay to the into insure number of years, during

of one-tenth the amount is charged for risks upon the lives

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

to pay dividends to policy-

to low a cost that dividends will

Agricultural Warehouse

AND

SEED STORE,

49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row,
BOSTON.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood

offer a large assortment of the best

Agricultural Implements, Machinery,

AND

TOOLS OF ALL KINDS.

ALSO

Garden, Field and Flower Seeds,

Grown by Experienced Seedmen in Europe

and America, the quality of which is not and cannot be surpassed.

SEED POTATOES.

Early Rose, Goodrich, Sebex, Blue, &c.

Fertilizers of all kinds.

Also, Trees, Shrubs, Plants, &c.,

At Wholesale and Retail, at the Lowest Prices.

All orders and inquiries by mail or express,

will meet with prompt attention.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood.

Boston, May 8. 2m

SEED BARLEY.

50 bushels prime Seed Barley. For sale by

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Apr. 17. 1f

PLANTS FOR SALE.

CABBAGE, Cauliflower, Celery, Egg and

Tomato PLANTS.

FLOWER and BEDDING PLANTS.

Jacunda Strawberry Plants.

Also, TRELLIS various sizes and patterns.

JOSHUA H. SPAR,

Quincy, May 1. 1f

SEED POTATOES.

150 bushels Seed Potatoes consisting of Early

Goodrich, Sebex, Paria, Seedlings, and Bangor

Jackson Varieties, at the lowest Cash Prices.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Apr. 17. 1f

Flower Seeds.

SEVERAL new varieties of last year's growth.

Also, garden seeds. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Mar. 27. 1f

GRASS SEEDS.

THE 84 subscribers have just received a choice

lot of New Grass Seeds, consisting of Northern Birds Grass, Red Top and Clover Seeds, which are selling low for Cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Apr. 17. 1f

QUINCY

MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce

that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a Warehouse, where

EVERY VARIETY

OF

Monumental Work,

from the simplest grave stone, to the

Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,

may be seen finished and ready for lettering.

All persons needing such, are invited to call

and judge for themselves—they are sure to find

in so large a Collection what will suit their taste

and requirements.

The character of the place for good work and

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in

the Town House every SATURDAY, from 12 to 1 o'clock, P. M., until further notice.

Persons having business with the Town will

please present it on those days.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of
ENGLISH S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.

Quincy, March 6.

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each

Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of

paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions

of the law of 1867.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of
ENGLISH S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.

Quincy, March 6. 1f

SOUTHER'S

Newspaper and Periodical Depot.

I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends,

the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that I have purchased the interest, and leased the

store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT,

Next Door to the Post Office,

Where I will continue to supply the

Daily and Weekly Newspapers,

MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,

to patrons promptly.

Subscriptions taken for any Paper or Magazine

in the Country.

School Books, Slates, Pens, Ink and Paper, in

fact, every thing connected with the Stationery

Department, on hand or procured at the shortest

notice.

Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING

LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the

day.

Papers and Magazines bound in any style.

E. B. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 1. 1f

MRS. M. E. CURTIS

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that she has taken the rooms

formerly occupied by

MISS CURRIER.

Over Mr. C. T. Reed's Store,

Where she is prepared to show them a large and

Choice Assortment

of

French Millinery Goods,

suitable for the season.

STRAW GOODS, BLEACHED AND DYED.

Mourning and Grave Clothes constantly on hand or made to order.

Orders received for Funerary FLOWERS.

Dress and Cloak Making in all its varieties.

Corsets, Hoop Skirts, and all articles kept constantly for sale.

Also, Agent for the famous WOOD SEWING

MACHINE. Those in want of a Good Machine,

please call and examine.

Quincy, May 9. 1f

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY

WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies

generally—that she has removed to the

Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING.

Thinking then for past favors, respectfully so-

Poetry.

For the Patriot.

LINES FOR INDEPENDENT DAY, 1869.

Azani the cannon's voice we hear,

The Herald of our Liberty;

And o'er our country far and near,

The triumph notes of liberty.

For all the blessings freedom gives,

Our gratitude is due to those,

Who freely offered up their lives,

That we might triumph o'er our foes.

For sacred principles they fought,

For equal rights and equal laws;

Justice and liberty they sought,

And conquered in a righteous cause.

The sons sustain'd their fathers' fame,

In hateful Tyranny's despite;

They won no less an honor'd name,

Contenting for a sacred right.

My country should we e'er again,

Be call'd to tread the tented field,

Thy patriot soldiers to sustain,

May Justice ever be their shield.

The motto "death or stripes and stars,"

Thy patriot soldiers to sustain,

No guilty stain, degrading, mars

The noble flag of liberty.

Forget not those who died for you,

And let their loved ones to your care;

Be to your promise just and true,

Let them your nation's blessings share.

Where'er the flag they honor'd waves,

Let not their relics lack your aid;

One voice from many thousand graves,

Remind you of your promise made.

You may not tread as paupers now,

Those whom your martyrs had sustain'd

For them was pledged your honor's vow,

And by your acts should be maintained.

Then let them on this jubilee,

Be cheer'd by your symphony,

And lov'd for their brave kindred's sake.

F. M. ADLINGTON.

Weymouth, Mass.

Interesting Selections.

LOAF CAKE. One tea-cup of butter,

two tea-cups of sugar, three eggs, one-half cup of sweet milk, one and a half tea-cups of yeast, and flour to make a stiff batter;

season to taste.

COMMON POUND CAKE. Five cups of flour, three cups of sugar, one and a half cups of butter, three eggs, one cup of cream, one teaspoonful of saleratus, and two nutmegs.

A THOUGHT. A successful book is often a greater event than a successful campaign. There are no less events in the history of the human mind that do not sear the forehead of the world as battles do, yet change it not less.

Modesty is not only an ornament, but also a guard to virtue. It is a kind of quick and delicate feeling into the soul, which makes her shrink and withdraw herself from everything that has danger in it. It is such an exquisite sensibility as warns her to shun the first appearance

Miscellany.

Tim Bunker on being Smart Next Week.

"When are you going to bring home my sled, neighbor Frink?" I asked one morning as I drove up to Jake's door.

There was a fresh snow on the ground, fallen upon an old well-frozen coat, and the sledging was first rate.

"Well, I was calculating to bring it home next week, if that'll do," answered

Jake, as he stood in the door chewing the last mouthful of his breakfast. It was consequently is called into action only once in four years. The clock is wound up every eight days. The main dial is twelve feet in diameter, and the total cost exceeds $50,000.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

FOURTH OF JULY.

Grand Celebration

Ninety-Third Anniversary
Of the Declaration of Independence
Of the United States of America, IN QUINCY.

With pleasure we record the befitting manner, in which the Nation's birthday was celebrated in this good, old, ancient and distinguished town. It was certainly with an earnestness not excelled by any in the Commonwealth. The young men of this place started the project of having a celebration several months ago, and since that time have worked with energy and zeal; and now may well feel proud of the successful manner in which the day was observed.

The night previous was very quiet, unusually so for Quincy. We have not heard of the slightest rowdy act being committed,—such as the unbecoming of gates, moving of buildings, signs &c., as in former years. It may be accounted for by the extensive police arrangements, and the extended notices, which were so conspicuously posted; still we shall give credit to the rising generation, who entered so heartily into the work of celebrating that they found no time to be "cutting up pranks."

At sunrise the bells sent forth their merry peals in concert with the booming of the cannon, announcing to the people that it was time to be up and stirring, and assist by their presence to make this anniversary one of pure enjoyment and thanksgiving. The early trains brought hundreds of strangers, while many more came in teams, of all sizes, ages and shapes; and it was estimated that there were not less than ten thousand persons in the streets at eight o'clock.

At half past seven the procession under the Marshalship of W. H. H. Rideout, took up its line of march, through the principal streets and over the route previously announced, in the following order:—

Aids. CHIEF MARSHAL. Aids. Quincy Brass Band.

Division I.—WM. H. FOLLETT, Marshal. Military Escort,—McClellan Guards.

CAPT. WM. BOTT, 40 men. Carriages containing the Orator, Chaplain and Reader of the Declaration of Independence.

AND the Selectmen, School Committee and other Town Officers.

Die. II.—W. M. FRENCH, Marshal. Fire Department.

Niagara Engine Co. No. 1.—Michael Welsh, 100 men.

Tiger, No. 2.—E. S. Brown, 40 men. Granite, No. 3,—Richard H. Dexter, 50 men.

Vulture, No. 4.—Joseph F. Lapham, 70 men.

Die. III.—LEVI STEARNS, Marshal. Composed of the different mechanical trades of the town.

Some persons representing the Granite, Boot, Curying and Printing Business, were prosecuting their work.

Die. IV.—GEO. RANDALL, Marshal. Inmates of National Sailors' Home and Sailors' Snug Harbor, in Carriages, Pupils of Washington, Quincy and Crane Schools in Carriages decorated with flags, &c.

Division V. CARRIQUERMAN LALANDEJUG, Marshal. Antiques and Horribles.

This division being a grand feature in the procession, we give rather an extended notice. It required a great amount of work to perfect and arrange it and therefore we congratulate our friend the Marshal upon its success. The first section was led off by the tin pot band,—A. Coffin, leader, and was exceedingly well carried out. Next came the Great Fiddle that was not played at the Coliseum, but which was in this case well taken care of by a gentleman from Portland, formerly a resident of Quincy. Next came the Remnants of the Jubilee which was well conceived and carried out by masters Pattee and Newcombs. The Velocepede and Donkey Cart, created a large amount of fun; while the battery under command of Capt. Packard, and steam fire engine Capt. Delno, were constant objects of curiosity and mirth. The squad of Indians with Mr. D. F. French as Chief, did escort duty to the delegation of Antiques from Charlestown, who to the number of forty, made a lively and gay appearance. They brought with them the venerable sword of Bunker Hill, and after the march was over Mr. Devoreux, in a short and eloquent speech presented it to the Marshal of this division, and soon after our Charlestown friends started for home, apparently well pleased with their morning's excursion.

Too much praise cannot be given to the McClellan Guards, and the Fire Companies, for the prompt manner in which they responded to the invitation to participate, and the interest they took, by turning out in such large numbers and looking so well, it shows that their institutions are in a flourishing condition.

In fact, each of the divisions made a very fine appearance, and reflected great honor. Those representing the trades did exceedingly well and undoubtedly it there were another procession of the kind it would be augmented considerably.

The decorations were not so extensive as we should like to have seen them. The most elaborate that we saw were the residences of Dr. W. S. Pattee, Colonel Packard, Mr. G. Bowditch, and Mrs. Cass, while many others displayed the colors.

After a march of about two and one half hours the column returned to the Stone Temple, where, after being reviewed by the Chief Marshal, they were dismissed.

At half-past ten o'clock exercises appropriate to the day were held in the First Congregational Church, at which a large audience had assembled. The ladies of the town had completely enveloped the pulpit with a profusion of rare flowers, presenting a beautiful appearance.

After a voluntary on the organ and a chorus sung by the choir, prayer was offered by Rev. J. D. Wells, the pastor of the church. The Declaration of Independence was read by Henry Lunt, Esq., and at its conclusion the choir sang Keller's American Hymn. The orator of the day, Charles Francis Adams, Jr., upon appearing on the platform in front of the pulpit, was received with warm applause.

In commencing his remarks Mr. Adams said that it was useless to pretend to be original in the delivery of a Fourth of July oration, after some 70,000 or 80,000 orators had preceded him, but that this day was now regarded as sacred as it had ever been. Reference was then made to the battle of Gettysburg, fought six years ago on the anniversary of this day, and to those who with him took part in that event, this anniversary had a peculiar significance. The events which had since elapsed had enabled us to see those times in their true proportion. Now that passion and excitement had passed away, and grief had become lessened by time, we could measure the work of our hands. We could say whether the work was well done, or ill done. For himself he feared no second judgment of the people, as the work was bravely and well done.

Our generation had been one of stirring events. We had lived through much and suffered much, proving ourselves capable of great events.

As we recalled these great events, and remembered that our freedom was enjoyed and maintained by suffering, it was eminently proper that we should see what we were doing to hand it down to posterity.

It was a momentous question to see what we had done since the close of the war.

He then reviewed the events which had transpired since the close of the rebellion and asked if we might not claim that the victories of the past five years are greater than the victories during the five years of war. But we had only overcome one evil, to yet meet another which was, Centralization; and unless met with the right spirit would cause us much injury. This he considered as most powerful in the city of Washington, and the course of the office-seekers at that place was severely denounced, as was also the action of the stockbrokers of New York.

If there was one quality our citizens should respect, it was the independent sphere of thought and action. All men should rise above party lines and think for themselves. They should view all things with an eye to the common country, and not to a party faction.

Reference was then made to the injury he considered had been the result of a strict adherence to party rather than to the common interests of the country, and in closing he said, "Were our brave officers at the battle of Antietam asked whether they belonged to the Republican or Democratic party? Were our gunners standing at their posts, and the dying soldiers gasping for breath, asked whether they voted for Bell, Douglas, Breckinridge or Lincoln? No! party was not thought of, and they were only asked if they were true to their duty."

The oration of Mr. Adams was a brilliant effort, many of the patriotic sentiments uttered being received with loud applause. His theme was "Four Years of War and Four Years of Peace—their Triumphs and their Lessons."

The entertainments in the Town Hall passed off quite pleasantly, and were well attended by the children, for whose benefit they were arranged.

The programme closed by a most beautiful display of fireworks, furnished from the Laboratory of Benjamin F. Wedger, Pyrotechnist, West Roxbury.

The pieces were perfectly successful, and with the assistance of a very little wind to have carried off the smoke, they would have appeared still more brilliant. The Sub-Committee on fireworks speak in the highest terms of Mr. Wedger, both as a master of his business, and as possessing all the qualities of an honorable dealing man, and take pleasure in recommending him to all Committees, who, in future years may need the services of a Pyrotechnist.

We give here the names of the persons constituting the various Committees: Salutes—C. H. Curtis. Procession—W. H. H. Rideout, W. M. French, R. H. Dexter, E. Whichever, Levi Stearns, Geo. Randall.

Church—H. Lunt, W. O. Howland, J. H. Elcock, G. W. Morton.

Music—G. H. Field, Stephen Pennington, H. Lunt.

Hall—C. H. Curtis, H. Gray, C. P. Tirrell, Levi Stearns.

Fire Works—C. P. Tirrell, E. Whichever, H. Lunt, W. H. H. Rideout, G. W. Washburn.

Police Arrangements—W. H. H. Rideout, E. Whichever, C. H. Curtis.

We also give here a list of the Committee who did the work and carried out so successfully the Celebration.

C. Philip Tirrell, E. Whichever, Stephen Pennington, J. P. Hayward, G. W. Washburn, Levi Stearns, Wm. H. H. Rideout, Henry Lunt, H. Dexter, George Randall, Henry Gray, Walter Sargeant, G. Bowditch, Jr.

FILE. One of the barns on the estate of Hon. Josiah Quincy in the north part of the town, was discovered on fire about ten o'clock, on Wednesday evening last, and before the fire companies arrived it was nearly consumed, together with eight cows, three horses, several wagons and a large quantity of hay. Loss about four thousand dollars, which is fully covered by insurance. There were other buildings adjacent, which were saved by the exertion of firemen from this and the adjoining towns. The amount destroyed was larger, than by all the other fires in this town, for the last fifteen months, combined. Cause of the fire unknown.

The stone weighs 10,600 pounds, and is one of the largest, if not the largest in the country, and has been pronounced by competent judges the finest. It cost $42,400.

Among the persons present, and supposed to be the only one who had seen WASHINGTON, was Timothy Dodd, of Boston, who saw him at Hartford, Conn., and was fifteen years old at the time.

FOURTH OF JULY.

DEAR PATRIOT: I have a grievance—I feel mortified, slighted, humbled. I hope the "The man about town," whose careful oversight extends so far, will sympathize with me and console me in my distress.

For the past ten years I have been getting up a pretty good opinion of myself; the kindness and condescension showered on me by my rich neighbors, made me feel as if I was somebody. I was proud when the light elastic step of the soldier, or the rattle and clatter of a "bully" brought the "boys" from the workshops and the women from the wash tub to see the sight—and at last I got the conviction that I was one of the principal streets of the town.

Alas for my conceit! Decoration day came and I found myself neglected. The procession counter-marched on School street in order to avoid me. I however took consolation in thinking that perhaps the Committee who had that matter in charge, knowing that the widows and orphans of many of the soldiers who gave their lives for the Union, live on my borders, wished to avoid recalling the memories of lost husbands, fathers or brothers, and kept away in kindness on that account.

When the Fourth of July procession was announced, I felt proud that I was the head quarters of the principal trade of the town, and I was satisfied that I would be gratified with a sight of our ancient and honorable visitors, but when the procession turned up Franklin Avenue and took the trouble to cross the railroad, I felt the locomotives, and serenade the gravel pits, in order to avoid my shorter and pleasanter route, I retired into my shell discontented and disheartened.

"Lowly and sad Mr. Chems, Lorn and sad am I."

LIBERTY STREET.

The Legislature having granted the sum of twenty dollars for a uniform for each member of the State Militia, the various regiments are considering of what the uniforms shall consist.

A GUBERNATORIAL IDEA. The Hon. Charles Francis Adams has exercised a judicious reserve since his return from England, but it is understood that he has been a very busy thinker. After a residence abroad for seven years he is undoubtedly able to look upon the issues which divide parties in this country with a more impartial judgment than those who have been in the thick of the fight. He was recognized as a hero at Harvard this year, and at Quincy last Monday Charles Francis, Jr., undoubtedly represented the ideas of his distinguished father, when, in a Fourth of July oration, he protested against the tendency to centralization in our government, censured the disgusting scramble for office in Washington, and deplored the stock gambling of the times. He also demanded respect for independent thought and action. We suggest Charles Francis Adams, Sr., for the next Governor of Massachusetts.—John Quincy had better stand one side, and as Artemas Ward used to say,—"Give the old man a chance."—Boston Herald.

DROWNED. It is with regret that we learn of the death of Miss Nora Giles, daughter of Rev. Henry Giles, for many years, and until recently, a resident of this town. She was a talented, beautiful and highly educated young lady of eighteen summers. She was drowned at Bucksport, Me., on Saturday last, by the upsetting of a sail-boat.

The balloon sent up from Boston Common, last Monday afternoon, came sailing over in this direction about four o'clock, attracting general attention. Its course lay over the westerly part of the town. The name of the balloon and the movements of its occupants could be distinctly seen by the aid of a glass. We learn that it landed about sunset in Lakeville.

THE WASHINGTON STATUE.

Ball's equestrian statue of GEORGE WASHINGTON, which has been enveloped in flags, since its completion, on the Public Garden, in Boston, was formally uncovered and delivered to the city on Saturday afternoon last.

As the flags dropped, a national salute was fired, and Gilmore's Band played an appropriate selection. Prayer was then offered by the Rev. Dr. Miner, and the Honorable Alexander H. Rice delivered the monument to Mayor Shurtleff as the representative of the city in a short address.

The event, although entirely dissociated from elaborate ceremony, inaugurated a work which elicited the warmest commendation of every looker-on—which competent judges declared unrivaled in point of merit—and which is equally a credit to Mr. Thomas Ball, of Boston, and to American art in every relation as applied to the production of the statue. It will be long a subject of local, New England, and we may safely say, national pride.

This equestrian statue is the first erected in Boston. It was modeled by Mr. Ball for twelve thousand dollars, and cast by Ames Manufacturing Company, at Chicopee. It was cast, in fourteen pieces, but the joints are invisible from the base. The horse stands, his left fore foot raised with the graceful curve of the thoroughbred, the neck arched, and the eye looking down. The statue is 38 feet high, the pedestal being 16 feet. Height of WASHINGTON 12 feet, height of plinth 13 1-2 feet.

The pedestal, which is of Quincy granite, was designed by Hammett Billings, is 15 feet in length, 7 1-2 feet in width, and 14 feet in height. Its sides are flat, with its ends in the form of a semi-circle. The heavy granite base is surrounded by three steps, and the foundation extends down 11 feet and rests upon piles.

The statue weighs 10,600 pounds, and is one of the largest, if not the largest in the country, and has been pronounced by competent judges the finest. It cost $42,400.

Among the persons present, and supposed to be the only one who had seen WASHINGTON, was Timothy Dodd, of Boston, who saw him at Hartford, Conn., and was fifteen years old at the time.

FOURTH OF JULY.

DEAR PATRIOT: I have a grievance—I feel mortified, slighted, humbled. I hope the "The man about town," whose careful oversight extends so far, will sympathize with me and console me in my distress.

For the past ten years I have been getting up a pretty good opinion of myself; the kindness and condescension showered on me by my rich neighbors, made me feel as if I was somebody. I was proud when the light elastic step of the soldier, or the rattle and clatter of a "bully" brought the "boys" from the workshops and the women from the wash tub to see the sight—and at last I got the conviction that I was one of the principal streets of the town.

Alas for my conceit! Decoration day came and I found myself neglected. The procession counter-marched on School street in order to avoid me. I however took consolation in thinking that perhaps the Committee who had that matter in charge, knowing that the widows and orphans of many of the soldiers who gave their lives for the Union, live on my borders, wished to avoid recalling the memories of lost husbands, fathers or brothers, and kept away in kindness on that account.

When the Fourth of July procession was announced, I felt proud that I was the head quarters of the principal trade of the town, and I was satisfied that I would be gratified with a sight of our ancient and honorable visitors, but when the procession turned up Franklin Avenue and took the trouble to cross the railroad, I felt the locomotives, and serenade the gravel pits, in order to avoid my shorter and pleasanter route, I retired into my shell discontented and disheartened.

"Lowly and sad Mr. Chems, Lorn and sad am I."

LIBERTY STREET.

The Legislature having granted the sum of twenty dollars for a uniform for each member of the State Militia, the various regiments are considering of what the uniforms shall consist.

A GUBERNATORIAL IDEA. The Hon. Charles Francis Adams has exercised a judicious reserve since his return from England, but it is understood that he has been a very busy thinker. After a residence abroad for seven years he is undoubtedly able to look upon the issues which divide parties in this country with a more impartial judgment than those who have been in the thick of the fight. He was recognized as a hero at Harvard this year, and at Quincy last Monday Charles Francis, Jr., undoubtedly represented the ideas of his distinguished father, when, in a Fourth of July oration, he protested against the tendency to centralization in our government, censured the disgusting scramble for office in Washington, and deplored the stock gambling of the times. He also demanded respect for independent thought and action. We suggest Charles Francis Adams, Sr., for the next Governor of Massachusetts.—John Quincy had better stand one side, and as Artemas Ward used to say,—"Give the old man a chance."—Boston Herald.

DROWNED. It is with regret that we learn of the death of Miss Nora Giles, daughter of Rev. Henry Giles, for many years, and until recently, a resident of this town. She was a talented, beautiful and highly educated young lady of eighteen summers. She was drowned at Bucksport, Me., on Saturday last, by the upsetting of a sail-boat.

The balloon sent up from Boston Common, last Monday afternoon, came sailing over in this direction about four o'clock, attracting general attention. Its course lay over the westerly part of the town. The name of the balloon and the movements of its occupants could be distinctly seen by the aid of a glass. We learn that it landed about sunset in Lakeville.

RECENT LEGISLATION.

By the acts of the Legislature of this year, towns are granted authority as follows:—

To open the polls for all elections at seven o'clock in the forenoon.

To raise and expend money for the detection of persons committing felony in such town.

To raise a sum not exceeding twenty-five cents for each of its rateable polls for premiums to encourage the planting of shade trees, by the owners of real estate, upon the public squares or streets adjoining their estates.

To select and take any parcels of land within their corporate limits to the extent of one acre, as a place for the erection of a city or town hall or for the enlargement of any existing city or town hall lot; the title to vest fully in the town or city. Compensation in case of failure to agree with the owner to be determined as in the case of new roads.

To select and lay out any lots of land within their limits as gravel and gravel pits from which to take earth and gravel necessary to be used in the construction, repairs, or improvement of the roads of the town. Proceedings to be had as in the laying out of streets, the depth and extent of proposed excavation to be specified and the residue of the land to revert to the owner within ten years from the taking.

Towns having one or more steam fire engines, or in which water for extinguishing fires is supplied from hydrants, may appoint not exceeding twenty hose men to each hose carriage.

The school district system has been entirely abolished.

The Mayor and Aldermen of any city and the selectmen of any town upon proceedings had as in the case of new roads, may make and maintain all such main drains and sewers as they shall judge necessary for the public convenience or health through any person's lands and repair the same from time to time.

Towns may raise and expend money to provide conveyance of pupils to and from public schools.

Inspectors of petroleum, earth rock oil and their products, are to be appointed in each town, and no person shall sell or keep for sale for illuminating purposes, Kerosene, refined petroleum or any product thereof, without the same is inspected, under penalty of fine, or imprisonment, or both. All such oils or products, igniting under 110 degrees of heat, to be deemed unsafe and liable to confiscation. And any one offering such for sale is subject to penalty before stated, and is also liable to all damages which may happen from ignition or explosion.

Persons returning false or fraudulent lists of property to assessors with intent to avoid or evade taxation, are made liable to a fine not exceeding $1000, or imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year.

Money received by the County Treasurers for dog licenses, and not expended for damages done by dogs, are annually to be paid back to towns in the proportion originally paid in, and such monies are to be expended in support of public libraries or schools.

Mayors and Aldermen of cities, and Selectmen of towns, may make such rules and regulations in relation to the passage of carriages, wagons, carts, trucks, sleighs, or other vehicles, through the streets or public ways as they shall deem necessary for the safety or convenience of those who travel on said streets or ways on foot or in vehicles, with penalties for violation thereof, not exceeding twenty dollars.

Evening schools are authorized for the education of persons over twelve years of age, instead of fifteen years, as in the General Statutes.

Street railway corporations are required to erect and maintain to the satisfaction of Mayor and Aldermen, and Selectmen, upon every bridge or draw of a bridge, over which its track is located, suitable guards or railings sufficient to prevent their cars running off such bridge or draw.

When any land taken for a road is covered in whole or part by a building and the same can be removed upon adjoining land of the same owner, the Mayor and Aldermen, or Selectmen, may there remove the same upon the owner's neglect, after notice, so to do.

The act requiring the Assessors to post up lists of all persons assessed a poll tax is repealed, and any person omitted from taxation, by giving notice on or before the 15th day of September, may be assessed.

Cities and towns may construct for their own use lines of electric telegraphs upon and along the roads within their limits. And Mayors and Aldermen and Selectmen may upon such terms and conditions as they may prescribe, authorize any person to construct for private use such telegraph lines, which shall become the property of the city or town, and always subject to regulation and control of said authorities, with the right of such city or town to attach wires thereto for its own use and to allow other parties also to so do upon reasonable terms and conditions.

Four hundred dollars is authorized to be paid by the State Board of Agriculture for the best treatise or treatises, containing not more than two hundred pages, duodecimo, respectively upon the science of road making and the best method of superintending the construction and repair of public roads.

Parishes and religious societies are authorized to admit to membership, women, with all the rights and privileges of men.

Trustees of funds of religious societies are hereafter to hold offices for three instead of five years, and the power to fill vacancies is taken from the Board of trustees and devolved upon the society.

The income of the State School Fund is hereafter to be distributed, one hundred dollars to each city and town which complies with the school laws, and the balance among the cities and towns in proportion to the number of children from five to fifteen years of age.

The Board of Education are to report to the next General Court a plan to provide for free instruction to men, women or children in mechanical drawing, either in existing schools or in those to be established for that purpose.

The microscope shows the color of the hair due to a deposition of pigment in its substance. When the hair glands become enfeebled, this pigment fails. One after another the hairs become white, or fall out, producing baldness. Baldness is easy to prevent but hard to cure. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR stops it: even restores the hair sometimes: always restores its color. Immediate renovation is at once visible: softness, freshness and the gloss of youth. This great ornament should be preserved since it can be by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which is beautifully clean and free from anything injurious to the hair.—Tribune, Springfield, New York.

LEGACY TO DARTMOUTH COLLEGE. The Hon. Richard Fletcher, of Boston, has left a residuary legacy to Dartmouth College, his Alma Mater, estimated at $100,000. It is to be invested as a permanent fund, and the income used at the discretion of the trustees.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT. About four o'clock, yesterday afternoon, as Mr. James S. Donnell, connected with the International Telegraph Company, who are running a special wire to connect with the French Cable, (soon to be landed at Duxbury,) was at work upon a pole, on the O. C. Railroad, near Baxter's bridge, while leaning back, was struck by the inward train upon the head, producing a laceration of the scalp, of six inches, and a fracture of one third of the skull,—extending to the ear—the brain protruding.

Dr. Ogden was called, who, assisted by Dr. Underwood, removed several pieces of bone—a portion of brain escaping. Ice was placed upon his head, and in a state of unconsciousness, he was sent by the next train to the Hospital in Boston.

Summary Intelligence.

As the official circular of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association announces the approaching Fair to be held at Faneuil and Quincy Halls, it may be inferred that the idea of using the Coliseum has been abandoned.

Seven miles of violin strings vibrated at one time during a performance at the Peace Jubilee.

The wharf property of Newhall & Baldwin, at N-ponset was sold on Tuesday last, for $3150 to James Price.

The price of butter at St. Albans, Vt., on Tuesday, was 33 to 34 cents, some choice lots selling for 35.

At an examination of the public schools in Taunton last Friday, it was stated that a daughter of Mr. Alden F. Sprague, an attendant of one of the Grammar Schools, had not been tardy or absent for five years.

The Gilmore benefit is said to have produced about $20,000, net—but the report is that he receives from the proceeds of the Festival enough to make up $50,000.

The French cable, at last accounts was successfully laid, newly to the Grand Banks of Newfoundland.

Hammon, N. J., has sent a million quarts of strawberries to market this season.

President Grant and family have made arrangements to spend the last week of the present month at Newport.

The Rev. Clark Carter has resigned the pastorate of the Trinity Congregational Church at Neponset.

The Weymouth Iron Company, whose works were recently burned, had surplus enough on hand, with the insurance, to rebuild, and then declare a dividend of ten per cent. to the stockholders.

15,000 Bottles
—OF—
PRIME CIDER

IN Quarts, pints and half pints at wholesale and retail, in cases of one and two dozen, suitable for home use, with convenient carrying cases, on MONDAY, June 28, 1869. Leave Liverpool wharf, foot of Pearl street, Boston, at 9 A. M., 2:30 and 5:30 P. M. Leave Hingham at 7:30 and 11 A. M.

A allowance made for our cases and bottles (returned in good order) at the store of N. B. FURNALD, Washington st., or at the house of G. BROOKS, Hancock street, will receive prompt attention.

FURNALD & BROOKS.
Quincy, July 10.

Commonwealth Life Ins. Co.,
OF NEW YORK.

WANTED,
Good and Reliable Agents,
to work for this Company. To the right men, either a guarantee, a salary, or a commission, will be paid.

Also, an experienced Life Insurance Man, to act as General Agent, in every County of Massachusetts, to whom superior inducements will be offered.

Apply (if possible in person) to:
JOHN M. FALK,
179 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON
J 10-2w

NATIONAL
Mount Wollaston Bank.

ON and after SATURDAY, May 1st, 1869, until further notice, this Bank will not open on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS.

HENRY F. BARKER, Cashier.
Quincy, April 27, 1869.

FOR PAINTERS' COLIC, Use Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer

Work for the Ladies at Home.
YOU can get any first class Sewing Machine and pay for it in work supplies by us, or in small monthly payments. Address National Clothing Manufactory Company, 36 Water Street, Boston. J 10-2w

Town Meeting.

NORFOLK, SS. To either of the Constables of the Town of Quincy, in said County.

Greeting: In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, qualified to vote in Town Affairs, to meet at the Town House (Lycum Hall) in said Quincy, on THURSDAY, the 15th day of July inst., at four o'clock in

The Quincy Patriot,

[Established by John A. Green, in 1837.]

Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,

Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then Three Dollars
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESOTT, Printer.

Also—Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

NATIONAL INSURANCE CO.

OF THE
STATES OF AMERICA,
MINISTERS, D.C.

Special Act of Congress,
July 25, 1868.

CAPITAL $1,000,000,
D IN FULL.

Local Office:
NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,
PHILADELPHIA.

Agents for the Company in which all general correspondence.

FIGURES:
LARK, President.
HARRIS, Vice-President.
HARRIS, Secretary and Actuary.

Offers the following advantages:
Company, chartered by special act.

Capital of $1,000,000.
No premium for insurance than other company.

Insure in its terms.
Insure in every locality.
Insure on attachment.
Insure on one-third the amount of other companies.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Insure on risks upon the lives
of persons.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1869.

NUMBER 29.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,

Hancock opp. Granite St.,

QUINCY.

Jan. 2. if

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.

Homeopathic Physician,

Opposite E. Clapp's Store,

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

Aug. 25. if

MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,

[Who is stopping at Dr. R. W. M.]

Will Examine and Prescribe

for this sick.

Also will give Psychological Readings of the

Past and Future Destiny.

Please call and try.

Quincy, March 6. if

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

OFFICES:

At his dwelling house, QUINCY.

No. 7 Court Square, Boston.

Office hours in Boston from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M., other hours in Quincy.

Sept. 14. if

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

Office, Weymouth Landing.

Weymouth, Mass. July 13. if

Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants

CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

Wedding & Funeral Flowers

Furnished at Short Notice.

ISAIAH WHITE,

Feb. 20 ly. 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK,

Real Estate and Insurance Agent.

Granite Street, Quincy.

May 4. ly

B. F. MESERVEY,

WATCHMAKER.

2 CITY HALL AVENUE,

BOSTON.

Watches and Jewelry repaired.

April 29. ly

JAS. WHITE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

FLOUR!

47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.

Quincy, June 18. if

FURNITURE

— AND —

UPHOLSTERY GOODS!

Our stock is large, and in point of style and

workmanship

CANNOT BE SURPASSED

BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON

Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our

Warehouses, and judge for themselves.

BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,

511 Washington St., Boston.

July 13. ly

NEW

Wheelwright Shop.

THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,

NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS

Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow,"

is now prepared to execute all orders in the

Wheelwright line.

Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds

of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.

Blocks made to order.

The Subscriber hopes by his long experience

and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.

DANIEL McCURDY.

Quincy, May 9. if

Ah! My Teeth.

DR. C. S. FRENCH performs

careless operations in extracting teeth by a new and improved

process of preparing and inhaling

in its purity Nitrous Oxide Gas. Such a

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in

the Town House every SATURDAY, from

1-12 o'clock, P. M., until further notice.

Persons having business with the Town will

please present it on those days.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen

E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of Quincy.

ENSON S. FELLOWS, } Quincy, March 6.

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the

Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each

Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of

paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions

of the law of 1867.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen

E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of Quincy.

ENSON S. FELLOWS, } Quincy, March 6.

SOUTHER'S

Newspaper and Periodical Depot.

I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends,

the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that I have purchased the interest, and lease the

store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT,

Near Door to the Post Office,

Where I will continue to supply the

Daily and Weekly Newspapers,

MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,

to patrons promptly.

School Books, Stationery, Pens, Ink and Paper, in

fact, every thing connected with the Stationery

Department, on hand or procured at the shortest

notice.

Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING

LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the day.

Papers and Magazines bound in any style.

E. B. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 1. if

MRS. M. E. CURTIS

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and

vicinity that she has taken the rooms

lately occupied by

MISS CURRIER.

Over Mr. C. T. Reed's Store,

Where she is prepared to show them a large and

Choice Assortment

French Millinery Goods,

suitable for the season.

STRAW GOODS, BLEACHED PRESSED AND

DYED.

Mourning and Grave Cloths constantly on hand or made to order.

Orders received for Funeral FLOWERS.

Dress and Cloak Making in all its varieties.

Corsets, Hood Skirts, and other articles kept

constantly on hand.

Also, Agent for the famous WHEEL SEWING

MACHINE. Those in want of a Good Machine,

please call and examine.

Quincy, May 9. if

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY

WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies

generally—that she has removed to the

Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING.

Thinking them for past favors, respectfully so-

licits orders for

SPRING and SUMMER

MILLINERY.

A Fresh assortment constantly on hand.

MOURNING and GRAVE CLOTHS made to order.

All orders promptly attended to

CORNER HANCOCK & GRANITE STS.,

Quincy, April 18. if

REMOVED.

MRS. H. F. CURTIS.

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that

she has moved to a room over the POST

OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute

Poetry.

A SERMON.

So here! It is the night! It is the night!

And snow lies thickly, white untrodden snow.

And the wan moon upon a casement shines—

A casement crusted o'er with frosty leaves.

That make her ray less bright along the floor.

A woman sits, with hands upon her knees,

Poor tired soul! and she has naught to do,

For there is neither fire nor candle light:

The driftwood ash lies cold upon her hearth;

For the twilight flickered down an hour ago;

Her children wait a little in their sleep

For cold and hunger, and as if that sound

Was not enough, another comes to her,

Over God's undefined snow—a song—

Nay, never hang your heads—I say, a song.

And doth she curse the alchouse, and the sots

That drink the night out and their earnings there,

And drink their manly strength and courage down,

And drink away the little children's bread,

And starve her, starving by the self same act

Her tender sucklings that with piteous eyes

Look in her face, till scarcely she has heart

To work, and earn the scanty bit and drop

That feed the others?

Does she curse the song?

I think not, fishermen; I have not heard

Such women curse. God's curse is cast enough.

To-morrow she will say a better thing.

Pulling her sleeve down lest the babes show—

A better thing, but meant for an excuse—

"My master is not meant for many men!"

But now, ay, now she sits dumb and still;

So food and comfort, cold and poverty

Hear her down.

My heart is sore for her;

How long, how long? when troubles come of God,

When men are frown out of work, when wives

Are sick, when working fathers fail and die,

When babes go down at sea—then naught behoves

Like patience; but for troubles wrought of men

Patience is hard—I tell you it is hard.

JAN INGLEW.

Interesting Selections.

CURRENTS PRESERVED. Scald a few of the currents at a time, until all are done. Put sugar into the juice in the proportion of a pound of sugar to a pound of currants and boil a few minutes; then put the currants back into the syrup, and boil them up once.

LEMON Pudding. One quart of sweet milk, one pint of bread-crumbs, four eggs, one-half cup of butter, one small cup of white sugar and one lemon. Put bread in part of milk, add yolks, butter and sugar; beat together with the remainder of the milk. After it is baked, beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth with three table-spoons of powdered sugar and juice of lemon. Cover, and brown lightly.

A darkey in Natchez, Miss., was boasting to a grocer of the cheapness of ten pounds of sugar he had bought, at a retail store. "Let me weigh the package," said the grocer. The darkey assented, and it was found two pounds short. The colored gentleman looked perplexed for a moment, and then said, "Guess he didn't cheat dis chile much, for while he was gettin' de sugar, I stole two pair of shoes."

Never be ashamed of confessing your ignorance, for the wisest man on earth is ignorant of many things, insomuch that what he knows is a mere nothing in comparison with what he does not know. There cannot be a greater folly in the world than to

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

TOWN MEETING. The meeting held on Thursday afternoon, to see if the town would accept the donation of the late Ebenezer Woodward, was very slimly attended—less than fifty were present at the time the meeting was called to order, and a few came in afterwards. Many of those present, from an old bachelor idea, that their children would get no benefit from his handsome gift appeared to be opposed to accepting it. Mr. Sprague thought the bequest would be of no benefit to the town. He said it was like giving him $50,000 in one of our Western territories with restrictions not to use it until he arrived in the States. The restriction would be apt to cost him his life and the fifty thousand with it. This donation he thought was a good deal similar. It would cost the town more than they would receive. Still we think the gentlemen would be apt to accept of the $50,000 if offered, put him where you may, not that he has any larger grasp for the "almighty dollar" than Yankee generally; and we believe the town will do the same thing, and will accept of this donation.

After some remarks by several persons on motion of Dr. Wm. S. Pattee, the following vote was passed, that a Committee of three persons be chosen to consider the subject of the bequest of the late Ebenezer Woodward, with reference to its acceptance by the town and report at an adjournment of this meeting.

Chose, Wm. S. Pattee, Wm. S. Morton, and Charles Marsh ad hoc Committee.

Voted, To adjourn to August 12th, at four o'clock, P. M.

ROBBERY. The boot manufactory of Messrs. John D. & T. A. Whitcher, on School street, was entered by a window on Tuesday night, and eight cases of boots, worth $350, were carried off.

THE FRENCH CABLE. The second great ocean cable has been successfully laid. The shore end was spliced on Wednesday last, at St. Pierre, and this section will be completed to Duxbury, within a few days, probably without any risk or difficulty. There is some little matters yet to be arranged respecting the cable. Congress has not yet authorized its landing on our shores, though Massachusetts has given its consent. A bill passed the United States Senate at the last session, provided that no foreign cable should be landed here without the consent of Congress, and without provisions for reciprocal use by the governments concerned, but it failed in the House for want of time. This measure undoubtedly expressed the will of the people, and it is said our authorities have so notified those engaged in laying the French cable. The difficulty, however, we have no doubt, will soon be removed.

THE HIGH SCHOOL. The examination of this school will be held Thursday and Friday next. The first class being examined on Thursday, and the second and third on Friday. On Thursday evening the usual graduating exercises will take place, at the Town Hall. Friday evening, at the same place, the graduating class give a social reception to a few of their friends.

FATAL ACCIDENT. During the fire at South Boston on Sunday, Henry White, 49 years of age, while looking at the flames from a fourth-story window at 876 Federal street, lost his balance, and falling out upon the pavement was almost instantly killed. He belonged to this town. Coroner Wilson was called to view the body.

GEO. PEABODY. This rich London Banker, who has gained a world-wide reputation by reason of his princely generosity and noble deeds of philanthropy on both sides of the Atlantic, has returned to his native State, his health unhappily much impaired. He is said to have lost sixty pounds of flesh during the past year, but he is not by any means a thin man now. He was seventy-four years of age last February. Mr. Peabody was present at the dedication of the new Peabody Institute at Danvers, on Wednesday last, and gave the Institute $45,000 more, making in all $100,000. The magnitude of his public bequest is widely known. They exceed eight millions of dollars in gold, and thousands on both sides of the Atlantic will "rise up and call him blessed."

CHURCH STRUCK BY LIGHTNING. On Sunday afternoon the Orthodox Church in Cohasset was struck by lightning and damaged to the extent of a thousand dollars. The same flash also shattered the flagstaff on the premises of Mr. Johnson.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

BOSTON, JULY 15, 1869.

Dulness of the City.—Stamped to its Suburbs.—The State Political Situation.—Beauties of the Liquor Law.—The next Governor.—National matters.

While there is an acknowledged general depression of business in Boston with a treacherous money market, its citizens have all reason for gratitude for the general good health of the city. A few cases of summer sickness have made their appearance here; and the wonder is that there is not more; as our markets are filled with crude fruits and vegetables and partaken of freely. A judicious use of vegetable food in the summer season, of good quality, is a preventive to disease. The sparing use of animal food in hot weather is imperative. With a proper attention to diet, both as to quality and quantity, the call of the physician would be less frequent, and much physical suffering mitigated. Many of our churches are closed until Sept. Our school vacations of six weeks will soon commence, and thousands will leave our dusty pavements for the more genial seclusion of that portion of creation fashioned by the Hands of God—the country. The lovers of nature can find abundant enjoyment in its sylvan retreats. In the mean time we have no doubt that Boston will remain where it is, although in a sombre and dull mood until autumn.

The attempts to enforce the Prohibition Liquor Law since it came into force, July 1st, have produced quite a stir in a portion of our community—the main topic of conversation. The law is impolitic and unenforced. But it is on the statute book and should be rigorously enforced. The issue was boldly made by the Legislature of the present year. Let the law be carried out, sparing no liquor dealer, great or small. It was a dreadful mistake to grant the free use of cider to our farmers; the well springs of their farms should be their only drink. The welfare of our German citizens has been duly regarded in the high mandate of the State, that no lager beer should be indulged in. Here, so far, bear this deprivation quite philosophically. The next code of laws should be the sounding of the tocsin bell, that no person should be from home after 9 o'clock in the evening—no traveling on the Sabbath, except to church, and that no young man should go to a courtship on Sunday; in fact, a revival of the Blue Laws of the Colonies, as reasonable, and more practical, than the Prohibition Liquor Law, now for a few months on the Statute Books of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The remedy for all injudicious laws is their repeal—not in their violation; and if we mistake not, the matter will be thoroughly attended to at the State Election in November. Already States are out for gubernatorial nominees. Governor Claflin to take the place of Mr. Boutwell in Congress and Hon. Henry Daves or Harvey Jewell to receive the nomination for Governor. Nous verrons. The most probable event is that the next Governor will be taken from the town called Quincy in the County of Norfolk. Meanwhile the political situation throughout the Union is not so placid as was anticipated. The insatiable desire and scrambling for office and the measuring out government patronage without any other merit than partisanship—the hitches of difficulty in momentary matters, and the tendency of the Federal Government to centralization of powers, are awakening the people to believe that reforms are necessary which we shall probably see in the State Elections of the present year.

QUICK TRIP TO NEW YORK. The steamer Neptune, Capt. Baker, of the Metropolitan Steamship line, left port at 2 A. M. on Friday last and proceeded to New York, discharged her cargo, took on board a full load of Boston freight and arrived on her return at 8 P. M. Sunday evening, having thus made the round trip in two days and eighteen hours. The steamer of this line are 2000 tons, burthen, and considering the time occupied in discharging and loading a vessel of this class, it is believed that this trip of the Neptune is the quickest passage on record.

We were attracted when in Boston, in passing up Washington street, by a large number of boxes piled up in front of No. 55. On a further examination we found them to be the popular and healthful game of croquet, and when we found that a handsome and strong set could be bought for about $4.00, we at once invested, and we advise our readers to "go and do likewise." Be sure to go to the croquet headquarters. D. B. Brooks & Bro.

BAIRD'S MONTHLY. This magazine is too well known to need commendation from us. It is one of those old standard works which becomes familiar by long acquaintance and improves by age. As a publication for the family circle it has no equal as something can always be found to suit the various tastes of its readers.

BAILLOU'S MONTHLY.

This magazine is too well known to need commendation from us. It is one of those old standard works which becomes familiar by long acquaintance and improves by age. As a publication for the family circle it has no equal as something can always be found to suit the various tastes of its readers.

For the Patriot.

SHORT ITEMS.

JOSEPH SHEAHAN, son of our fellow-townsman, Maurice Sheahan, has been admitted to Harvard College, clear of all conditions; ranking, in his examination, among the very first in a class of over one hundred and thirty applicants.

Our streets are now in excellent order; and the road-makers are learning fast how to construct good sidewalks.

The ladies' dressing-room of the Old Colony Station in Boston, isn't so nicely kept as it used to be. It didn't look clean at all, when a lady entered it the other day, in search of some cool water, which she failed to find.

There ought to be a rail in front of the ticket office in this same station, so that the applicants might go up one by one,—thus avoiding confusion; and not only so, but removing some causes of disturbance to the somewhat sensitive organization of the presiding genius.

It is impossible to do justice to Mr. Adams's Fourth of July Oration. It was simply beyond all praise. Its words were words that breathe and burn. Its eloquent sentences filled the soul of every hearer, who was possessed of a single spark of truth and virtue, with enthusiastic resolves to labor earnestly for the suppression of the national follies, and for the increase of the national glory. For myself, I am glad to have listened to a man who is fully alive to the dangers of the hour,—and bold to declare them. These are the men whom we ought to put into our legislative councils. These are the men whom we ought to set in the highest places of the land.

A. C. Y.

For the Patriot.

MOUNT DESERT.

"An island, full of hills and dells,
All ramped and uneven,
With green recesses, sudden swells,
And odorous valleys, driven
So deep and straight that soft air there
The wind is cradled to soft air."

Mrs. Browning, in these words has truthfully described this wonderful island, for a ramble over which we have recently returned. In all our peregrinations, at home or abroad, it never before has been our good fortune to enjoy such variety of scenery within so narrow a circle. The island is about twelve by eighteen miles in extent, and reproducing much of the grandeur of the New Hampshire mountains, with the same attractive features of Nahant and Newport. There are thirteen lakes and thirteen mountains, all interesting to the geologist, sportsman, forist and artist. Blue bells, water lilies, the twin-flower, mountain cranberry, strawberries, raspberries, blueberries, huckleberries, with other fruits and flowers abound in their season to such an extent that the delightful tourist looks on the name of the island given to it by Champlain, a strange misnomer. But besides these mountains, lakes and

"Winding shores of narrow capes and Isles which lie slumbering to ocean's hulla-bay."
Besides the natural and scenic beauty of Mt. Desert there are many historical and poetic charms that are associated with the days long ago. Of these legends and histories another paper will speak.

E. P. T.

July 13, 1869.

ISAAC KEENE, of Duxbury, Mass., lately visited the school in his district, and on being asked to "talk" to the children offered each an acre of good land to plant "on shares," he furnishing the manure and ploughing the same, and at the end of two years he promised to give a clear title of the land to such as had industriously improved it in a good and farm-like manner.

CLOTHING. When you visit Boston for clothing be sure and call first at Geo. H. Richards, 24 and 25 Dock Square. He has a large stock which he is selling very low. His goods are warranted, and his sales immense, as might be supposed, therefore he can sell cheap—and his customers are sure to find that which will suit.

The friends of Mrs. Emily A. Hardwick, will be pleased to learn that she has been secured as teacher in one of the Grammar Schools in Lynn, with two assistants. We wish her success in her new field of labor.

SUDDEN DEATH. John O. Lovett, Jr., son of the Cashier of the Hingham Bank, went out with a friend upon the beach Saturday afternoon, and after sitting a moment or two fell back and died. He was about twenty years old, and his death was probably caused by heart disease. He left the office on State street, where he was employed, that afternoon in good health and spirits.

The hay crop is unusually good on the Cape this season. An Barnstable stand of grass can be bought for $3 to $5 per ton.

For the Atlantic to the Pacific.

BRIGGS HOUSE, CHICAGO, (ILL.)

JULY 12, 1869.

Name, destination and object, are about the first things that the hasty reader will be curious to know. Take wholesome advice and postpone indefinitely the consideration of the first, for you know a traveller is obliged to write a great deal about himself,—what he sees, and what he does. You will therefore enjoy his letters much better, if, without seeking an introduction, you allow him to keep behind the scenes he desires to display for your enjoyment. With this advice then, allow me to use that insignificant, troublesome little pronoun, and tell you at once, where I am going. When I reach Omaha, if the Indians don't object, and the Pacific Railroad is willing, and a kind Providence continues to smile upon me, I expect to start out West. My object for such a destination is to play, study, sport, think, work, and worship in Jehovah's great American Academy of fine arts. From childhood's hours it has been a petted wish. Often on Saturday afternoons, bidding farewell to the old stone School House, I made boyish pilgrimages to Centre Rock, and fancied myself on some lofty peak of the Rocky Mountains.

For many years the granite rocks that shaded my evening play, were my mountains, and the brook through which I waded, my Mississippi. In later days, I imagined with delight I could see the world, from Penn's Hill, Faxon's Common, or President's Hill. "Ignorance was bliss." Joining Miss A.—a geography class was death to this enjoyment, for it convinced me there was something beyond the Quincy horizon.

Hope still lived, and with it grew a faith that I would some day see the world. Although the plant has poor soil to grow in, and no expectations of becoming much richer, yet already it is in bud, and a single shoot is preparing to blossom. When writing to a friend some years since in the heart of California, he was requested to look for me on the first train that crossed the Continent. Circumstances have allowed a few trains to pass over, but at last I'm ready, carpet bag in hand, to follow Empire westward, riding on a rail across the New World.

Shall I write anything about Chicago? Can I write anything that has not been written? One suggestion about the route here. There are a dozen, one of which Boston people seldom take,—that is by the way of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. This is not generally known, and that the time and fare on this route is the same as on the others,—with the privilege of visiting Washington without additional expense. To a lover of nature this route has many attractions. "The boys in blue" will see some of their old camping grounds, Monocacy, Point of Rocks, Bolivar, and Maryland Heights, Harper's Ferry, and other places of interest in Virginia. The prairies of Indiana and Illinois can be passed in the night train.

Chicago is the last great city made, and ought to be the best. Like Boston, and even Quincy, in fact, something may be said of it by outsiders, who don't know any better, that are not so pleasant for its people to consider. I arrived Saturday, just the worst day they ever had in Chicago, of course. The wind was blowing, dust flying, and sun burning. Chicago is a busy place. It was so Saturday. The hats that were blowing off, the dust heaps and cord wood that was circulating mid air, seeking shelter in eyes, nose or mouth, which ever happened to be exercising its functions, all had a tendency to keep things going. Although not as bad as Pittsburgh, Chicago is a smoky city. They burn the soft or anthracite coal, which makes a heavy black smoke, that seldom rises above the buildings, and gives the many fine marble fronts a dirty appearance. The city abounds in fine streets, horses, and well-dressed and well behaved young men. The velvet coat gentry, and ragged wanderers, are not seen here as in Boston streets. Three or four streets are rivals in business, and Wabash and Michigan Avenues for residences. If Chicago should ever be destroyed for one besetting sin, undoubtedly that sin would be the raging love of money. The "Garden City," as it is called, has no big organ or a Coliseum, but they have a tunnel and a depot to talk about. A printed card hangs on the gas jet above me, intended for Bostonians of course, giving them this advice, "Don't blow out the gas." The Briggs House is well known in Quincy, and the best thing I can say for our young old townsman, French, is, that he is now what he always has been. When camping out next month in the Yosemite Valley, doing my own cooking, what a pleasant thing it will be to think of the dinners at the Briggs House. If time allowed, it would be hardly necessary for me to try to convince you, of the growth and enterprise of Chicago. You have either seen or heard all about it, and therefore already convinced.

TRAVELER.

Summary Intelligence.

The Independent and Wideawake base ball clubs of South Braintree played a match game for the championship of that town Saturday, resulting in a victory for the Independents—25 to 7.

A party of Boston reporters had a peripatetic time in a small sail boat in Dorchester bay Sunday night, and landed on an unknown shore, and were compelled to walk home after midnight.

Smelts have made their appearance inside of Black Rock, North Cohasset. They run remarkably large for this season of the year, and take shrimp and ground worm bait readily.

Lorena Rosa charged $200 for singing in the Jubilee; Adelaide Phillips sang for nothing.

A young man named J. Edwin Sherman of Bucksport has discovered, it is said, a method of making pure steel from iron in an inconceivable short space of time by removing the impurities of the metal.

Plum pudding with lard and sauce is the invention of a lunatic servant girl.

A young man appeared in St. Louis and claimed a reward of $100, advertised for news of a missing girl. He had eloped with and married her.

A big hog at Muscatine, Iowa, has been discovered as the milkier of crows.

A ten years law-suit prevents the building of a hotel on the summit of Mount Washington.

A son of George E. Goodhill, of St. Johnsbury, aged four years, died last week from the effects of eating heartily of uncooked rhubarb.

Boston has a surprise in store for the people, which will eclipse even the Peace Jubilee. It may take two years to perfect it.

Butter sold at thirty to thirty-two cents per pound at St. Albans, Vt., on Tuesday.

Medal awarded to "Barrett's."

It is estimated that at least fifty thousand Americans are now traveling in Europe for enjoyment and instruction.

A young woman in Michigan has applied for a divorce after a protracted wedded life of exactly two weeks.

Present prospects are that the Delaware fruit-crop will be so large that even the special arrangements made by the railroads will be insufficient to move it to market.

Sixty-one newspapers were started in the United States during May, and probably about as many stopped.

The cost of advertising for one column of the New York Tribune, one insertion, is seven hundred and thirty dollars. For business notices on the 4th page, the charge is sixty cents a line; one insertion.

There are five St. Crispin lodges in Abington, with an aggregate membership of 1400, and the lodge at East Weymouth will soon erect a hall for its own use.

Lily Sunday, on the 11th inst., was duly observed at Worcester, the desks and altars bearing bouquets of the beautiful white garden lilies, and in several churches the services took character from the floral display.

There is more travel from than to California on the Pacific Railroad.

The largest owner of personal property in the United States is Commodore Vanderbilt, who is said to hold twenty millions' worth.

Miss Mary Graves has the pastoral charge of the Universalist Church at North Reading.

"Barrett's" in constant demand.

Mary Scott, of Cario, Massachusetts, who was said to have been the original Mary who "had a little lamb," died recently, aged 95 years.

Five English gentlemen have decided to make the tour of England, Scotland and Wales, on velocipedes.

On the 12th of July the number of money order post offices was increased some three hundred, making an aggregate of about 1800 in this country.

A storm in Iowa carried four thousand feet of lumber a distance of three miles, tearing the boards to bits as they flew through the air.

At a moderate estimate, the number of pins manufactured weekly in Birmingham exceeds 200,000,000.

The Pennsylvania apple crop will be larger than for many years. Send them along, when ripe.

Potatoes are selling in St. John, N. B., at fourteen cents per bushel.

There are now being built, at Bath, 65-ton vessels of the different dimensions, from 100 to 2000 tons.

The nights are so cold in Canada that corn is languishing, and without a decided change will prove a failure.

The cathartics used and approved of by the Physicians comprising the various Medical Associations of this State, are now compounded, and sold under the name of "Parson's Purgative Pills."

"Barrett's" uses Vegetable matter.

Hon. George H. Monroe, who has been conductor of the Suffolk County Journal for nearly ten years, has retired from that position and accepted an editorial situation upon one of the daily papers in Boston.

The announcement of an express train that shall run from Liverpool to London in four hours is a remarkable event. The distance is 200 miles; and in order to make the 50 miles per hour it will be necessary to make it a through train—that is, to allow no stop between the two places. The necessity of stopping for water is obviated by mechanical means.

A new kind of blasting powder, called ammoniac powder, has been successfully used in Sweden. Its properties are quite remarkable from their inconsistency with each other. It is said to combine considerable explosive force with a tardy inflammability; that it cannot be exploded by percussion; and that it does not deteriorate from the effects of the climate.

Now is the Time To Save Money!

OUR ENTIRE STOCK

—OF—

Spring and Summer

CLOTHING

TO BE CLOSED OUT AT FROM

25 to 33 per cent less than cost of Manufacture.

We have the largest and most attractive stock of

Men's, Boys' and Youths'

CLOTHING

IN NEW ENGLAND.

Which we are determined to close out at once

REGARDLESS OF COST!

GEO. H. RICHARDS,

24 and 25 Dock Square.

Price tells and everybody tells

the Price.

Remember!

OUR PRICES ARE

BOTTOM PRICES.

Geo. H. Richards,

The Olden Wooden Building,

24 and 25 Dock Square.

CHEVIOT WALKING SUITS

At Richards',

24 & 25 Dock Square.

TRICOT DRESS SUITS

At Richards',

24 & 25 Dock Square.

MIX'D CASSIMERE BUSINESS SUITS

At Richards',

24 & 25 Dock Square.

LINEN DUCK SUITS

At Richards',

24 & 25 Dock Square.

WHITE MARSHALLS & DUCK VESTS

At Richards',

24 & 25 Dock Square.

SEER SUCKER SACKS

At Richards',

24 & 25 Dock Square.

FINE BLACK ALPACA SACKS

At Richards',

24 & 25 Dock Square.

Try the Pacific Collar,

The best paper collar yet manufactured.

For Sale by

C. T. REED.

Quite Nobby,

The perfumed Scarf may be had of

C. T. REED.

The Pain Killer is sold by

All Dealers in Family Medicines.

15,000 Bottles

—OF—

PRIME CIDER

IN Quarts, pints and half pints at wholesale and retail, in cases of one and two dozen, suitable for transportation to any part of the country. Allowance made for our cases and bottles if returned in good order.

Orders left at the Store of N. B. FURNOLD, Washington St., or at the house of G. BROOKS, Hancock street, will receive prompt attention.

FURNOLD & BROOKS.

Quincy, July 19.

Commonwealth Life Ins. Co.

OF NEW YORK.

WANTED,

Good and Reliable Agents,

to work for this Company. To the right men either a guarantee, a salary, or a commission, will be paid.

Also, an experienced Life Insurance Man, to act as General Agent, in every County in Massachusetts, to whom superior inducements will be offered.

Apply (if possible in person) to

JOHN M. FALK,

179 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON

J 10-3w

NATIONAL

Mount Wollaston Bank.

ON and after SATURDAY, May 1st, 1869, until further notice, this Bank will not open on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS.

HENRY F. BARKER, Cashier.

Quincy, April 27, 1869.

PROPOSALS

FOR COAL!

DEALERS in Coal are invited to bring in by the 21st inst., proposals for furnishing the Town with coal for the ensuing year. For the various kinds and quantities, enquire of EDWARD B. TAYLOR, Jr., Secretary of the Board of Public Works, Quincy, July 17.

WANTED!

FIVE American Girls to do Winding Work, in my rooms, (Post Office Building, 2d Second Floor.) Easily learned, steady work and good pay.

Mrs. W. S. CONSWELL.

Quincy, July 17.

WANTED!

A SMART capable woman to do general house work. None but experienced help need apply.

JAMES EDWARDS.

Quincy, July 17.

GOOD GOODS

LOW PRICES.

I HAVE a lot of Misses Serge Hand Sewed Congress Boots all sizes. Warranted Perfect, which I shall sell at the extremely low price of $1.10 per pair.

Also a few pairs of Ladies' for $1.20 per pair. Ladies' Serge and Kid Baskets and Slippers. Gents' Calf Boots great variety of styles and prices. Many other goods received the past week which you are invited to call and examine.

C. T. REED.

Cor. Hancock and School Sts.

Gents' Calf Boots.

FRENCH TOE Steel Shank Sewed by hand, for only $4.00 per pair. Only a few now left.

C. T. REED.

Quincy, July 17.

To Building Contractors.

SEALED Proposals for furnishing the materials and building two small School Houses in Braintree, one in the South, and one in the West part of the Town, will be received up to SATURDAY, the 24th inst. at the office of the Building Board, in Braintree.

The plans and specifications may be found at the office of Luther Briggs, Architect, 30½ Building, Boston.

Address proposals, "Asa French, South Braintree," writes the endorsement, "Proposals for building two School Houses, in Braintree."

Poetry.

FIRST TO OFFER.

Two maidens were walking in the grove
(They both were growing old.)
The one to tell a tale of love,
The other to be told.

"He is not rich," the elder said,
"Nor handsome, nor high-born;
The man whom I propose to wed
Most other girls would scorn."

"What is he, then? you make me fear;
The maiden's tears fell fast;
He was the first to offer, dear,
And he may be the last!"

Farmers' Department.

SOAP SUDS.

A cistern or tank, of from two to four hogheads, should be constructed in the vicinity of the sink or laundry of every farm house, and a system of conductors so arranged as to lead the suds and slops into it as they are made.

This liquid matter is a powerful fertilizer, containing the food of plants in a state of solution, and consequently in a condition to be readily taken up and absorbed by vegetables as soon as applied.

Irrigating gardens with soap-suds, after the liquid has become stale is a powerful means of promoting vegetable growth, especially in dry weather. Some have considered the value of suds to be equal to that of the same weight of manure; this, however, is probably an exaggerated estimate; yet we want no additional corroboration to satisfy us of its intrinsic worth, as a vegetable stimulant.

Great care should be observed that the decaying matter and suds do not taint the air about the dwellings, as in the process of fermentation and decomposition sulphuretted hydrogen gas is thrown off. This is an active poison. When inhaled it acts directly upon the blood, thickening it and turning it black. A single gallon of it, mixed with 1200 of air, will render it poisonous to birds, and one gallon in 100 will kill a dog. Many of our people are not sufficiently careful about allowing such "sinks of iniquity" to exist about their dwellings.

WATER FOR MILCH COWS.

From observation we have long been satisfied that plenty of water is not only very essential to the health of milch cows as it is indeed to that of all animals, but it contributes largely to the flow of milk.

We found that by inviting cows to drink large quantities of water, the quantity of milk yielded by them could be increased several quarts per day, without materially injuring its quality; and that the milk obtained is approximately proportioned to the quantity of water drunk. Cows which when stall fed with dry fodder, gave only from nine to twelve quarts of milk per day, at once produced from twelve to fourteen quarts daily when their food was moistened by mixing with it from eighteen to twenty-three quarts of water per day.

Besides this water taken with the food the animals were allowed to drink at the same intervals as before, and their thirst was excited by adding to the fodder a small quantity of salt. The milk produced under the water regimen, after having been carefully analyzed and examined as to its chemical and physical properties, was adjudged to be of good quality and excellent butter was obtained from it.—Cor. Stock Journal.

SWEDES.

Those who have neglected to sow a liberal breadth of root crops can still put in Swedes or rutabagas and by proper cultivation get a splendid crop. This is just the time to sow them. They do better than if sown earlier or later. Sown too early they have a tendency to bolt in the fall or to rot. We believe it is economy for every farmer to cultivate roots. They are very useful as a change of feed in winter. The cattle do better and they require less hay. No farmer should go into the winter without roots.—Ploughman.

Anecdotes.

"Why is it," said one of our school-masters to a young scapgrace who had caused her much trouble by his bad conduct, "why is it you behaved so well when you first came to school, and are so disobedient now?"

"Because," said young hopeful, looking up into the teacher's face, "I wasn't much acquainted then."

"How much longer," asked a hungry traveler in Ireland, who had already been waiting an hour, "are you going to keep me without my dinner?"

"Yer honor shall have it in five minutes."

Another awful interval ensued. The waiter was again summoned. On this occasion he escorted his guest to the window.

"Look into the yard, yer honor. D'ye see that codd cock there? Well I've been chasing him for the last half hour, and when I catch him yer dinner 'll soon after be ready."

Agricultural Warehouse

SEED STORE,
49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row,
BOSTON.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood
offer a large assortment of the best Agricultural Implements, Machinery,
AND
TOOLS OF ALL KINDS.

Garden, Field and Flower Seeds,
Grown by Experienced Seedmen in Europe
and America, the quality of which is
NOT and CANNOT be surpassed.

SEED POTATOES.
Early Rose, Goodrich, Sebago, Blue, &c.

Fertilizers of all kinds.
Also, Trees, Shrubs, Plants, &c.,
At Wholesale and Retail, at the Lowest Prices.
All orders and inquiries by mail or express,
will meet with prompt attention.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood.
Boston, May 8. 2m

SEED BARLEY.
50 bushels prime Seed Barley. For sale by
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Apr. 17. 1fPLANTS FOR SALE.
CABBAGE, Cauliflower, Celery, Egg and
Tomato PLANTS.
FLOWER and BEDDING PLANTS.
Jacunda Strawberry Plants.
Also, TRELLISES various sizes and patterns.

JOSHUA H. SPAR,
Quincy, May 1. 1f

SEED POTATOES.
150 bushels Seed Potatoes consisting of Early Goodrich, Sebago, Davis, Seedlings, and Bangor
Jackson Whites, at the lowest Cash Prices.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Apr. 17. 1f

Flower Seeds.
Several new varieties of last year's growth.
Also, garden seeds. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Mar. 27. 1fGRASS SEEDS.
THE Subscribers have just received a choice
lot of New Grass Seeds, consisting of Northeast Hens Grass, Red Top and Clover Seeds, which we are selling low for Cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Apr. 17. 1f

QUINCY
MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a Ware-room, where

EVERY VARIETY
—OF—
Monumental Work,
from the simplest grave stone, to the

Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,
may be seen finished and ready for lettering.
All persons needing such, are invited to call
and judge for themselves.—they are sure to find
in so large a Collection what will suit their taste
and requirements.

The character of the place for good work and honest dealing is so well known that it is not necessary to refer to it.
All prices from ten dollars upwards.
SHOP and YARD near South Quincy Depot.

P. McGRATH.
Quincy, April 27. 1f

For New and Beautiful Styles
—OF—
PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at
E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.
Quincy, May 1. 1f

SPRING TRADE.
THE Subscribers, having employed a good unpollster is no ready to accommodate the public in renovating old furniture of any description.
Housekeepers should be in their work previous to the hurried season, if they would have it attended to, at an early hour and oblige.

J. B. NEW and desirable paper hangings, will
be found cheap for Cash.
Quincy, Mar. 20. 1f

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,
At 8 Oak Place, Boston,

FROM 11 A. M. to 1 P. M., 7 1-2 to 10
GIVES special attention to Epilepsy; to all Nervous Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical Colleges, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.
His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office
or, will be sent by mail, for the following prices:—

"Epilepsy," 50 cents.
"Inhalation," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Ship and Shore Hygiene and Sanitation," $1.25.
"Chloric Health," 40 cents.
"The Boston," 60 cents.

Many of the best Advocates have recommended this book. Dr. Cornell's Advocate of Epilepsy, Dr. Williams College says, "The Boston" is a book to do great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm.
H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Girard College, says, "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."

Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all our young men."
Aug. 17 if

USE
AVERILL'S
PAT. CHEMICAL
PAINT.

IVES & MERRITT,
32 Building Slip,
New York.

"It's a good thing to have a handsome penman for a beau," said Mary as she glanced over a tablet-doux.
"Yes," replied Julia, "if the penman is only handsome I don't care how ugly the penmanship is."

Genuine Lykens Valley

Franklin Red Ash Coal!
THE Undersigned having now on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice
at the lowest cash prices.

OWEN ADAMS.
Post Office Box, No. 31.
BOSTON, July 1st, 1867.
Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now on hand, the Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being
the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit
Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co.
Quincy, July 9. 1f

LUMBER, COAL,
WOOD,
BRICK, &c.

THE Subscribers have just received at their descriptions, consisting of:—
Spruce Timber and Joist,
Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,
Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,
Sheathing and Finishing Boards,
Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Russian Red and White Ash Coal, George's Creek Camberland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick,
Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold Cheap,
for Cash.

ORDERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo.
H. Locke, Washington M. French, Joseph W.
Lombard, or at Post Office Box, 125, will receive prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.
Quincy, Aug. 22. 1f

M. HARTNEY'S
Quincy and Boston Express.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M.
Leave Boston at 2 1-2 o'clock, P. M.
ORDERS in Quincy may be left at the following places, at the Store of C. T. Reed & Co.,
and Daniel Baxter & Co.

Office in Boston, 48 North Market Street
Order Box, 29 and 40 South Market street.
Business attended to with care and responsibility.
Quincy, May 25. 1f

WILLIAM GARRITY'S
(Formerly Farnald and Shea's)

Quincy & Boston Express
Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 2 1-2
P. M.
Quincy—Orders may be left at Whitney & Nash's, John
A. Wood's, W. Abernethy's, and at the Stable.
Boston—3 Washington street, 44 South Market St.;
2 Faneuil Hall Square,
Quincy, Sept. 1. 1f

JOHN RING,
WILL faithfully attend to the delivery of any packages intrusted to his care,
Leave Quincy at 8 1-2; Boston at 2.

Orders left at his residence on Summer
Street, or at E. Clapp's Store, in Quincy; or at Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt
and careful attention.
Quincy, May 18. 1f

EATING, BILLIARD
AND BOWLING SALOON.

Goodnow's Building, Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

THE Proprietor having newly arranged his Apartment, and made extensive additions to his stock and fixtures, is now provided with every facility for furnishing his patrons with the best of the Market, his aim will be to keep a first class Eating, Billiard and Bowling Saloon, where refreshing beverages, Cigars, Tobacco, &c., &c., can be had.

Also, Parties and Families, furnished with Oysters, cooked and raw, Pickled Olives, Lamb Tongues, or Leg of Lamb and Oyster Chowders, Oryster and Fanny Crackers, Fies, Cakes, &c.
Fruits of all kinds in their respective seasons.
Confectionery, Nuts and all kinds of refreshments
of the best quality.

The public is respectfully invited to give him a call.
Quincy, Sept. 5. OTIS ROGERS, Proprietor. 1f

ELLIS' Iron Bitters.

HAVING used your Iron Bitters in my practice, I can testify to its superior tonic property for invigorating the appetite and promoting digestion. I can unhesitatingly recommend it in cases of general debility and dyspepsia, and in conditions of the system requiring the use of a ferruginous tonic. Its agreeable flavor must recommend it to all.

Yours, Respectfully,
CHAS. S. GAUNT, M. D.,
Professor in the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.
For sale by Druggists generally. M 15 if

THE HOWE
Sewing Machines.

NICHOLS & BALDWIN,
133 Washington Street,
Boston.

Ministers give testimony of its efficacy,
and from all directions we receive tidings of cures performed.

Dyspepsia: It is sure to cure.
Heartburn: One dose will cure.
Sick-Headache: Has cured in hundreds of cases.
Headache and Dizziness: It cures in thirty minutes.
Acidity of the Stomach: It cures in thirty minutes.
Rising of the Food: It cures immediately.
Distress after Eating: One dose will remove.
Cholera Morbus: Rapidly yields to a few doses.
Bad Breath: Will be changed with half a bottle.

IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS.
ITS UNPRECEDENTED SUCCESS is owing to the fact

It Cures by Assisting Nature
To re-assort her army in the system!
Nearly every dealer in the United States sells it at
ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Plaster and Salve.
GREEN Mountain Balm of Gilead and Cedar Plaster.
Miss Sawyer's Salve, and Tracy's Salve.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, May 15. 1f

C. G. CLARK & CO.,
Proprietors,
New Haven, Conn.
For sale by Sept. 5. 1f

J. A. McLellan's

LADIES' & GENTS'
Variety Store,
Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.,
QUINCY.

IS THE PLACE TO GET
BARGAINS!

Hosiery, Gloves, Hdkfs., Cottons, White
Goods, Stamped Aprons, Ladies'
Children's Gents' and Boys' Hats, Artificial Flowers, Patent Medicines,
Hoop Skirts, Boots, and
Shoes, &c., &c.

We have marked down our goods below
the lowest. We mean sell!

REMEMBER THE PLACE,
J. A. McLELLAN'S,
Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.
Quincy, May 9. 1f

BOOTS & SHOES.

BARTHOLOMEW HERNAN would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy that he has taken the shop recently occupied by

MR. JOHN WILLIAMS.
Ober Emerson's Hair Dressing Saloon.
And having secured the services of Mr. Williams, is prepared to make Custom Boots in the best manner, and at the most reasonable cash prices.
Also, will repair Ladies', Gents' and Children's Shoes, at short notice.

Quincy, April 17. 1f

BOOTS & SHOES
Made and Repaired!

THE Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has moved to the shop corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.
where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

NATH'L. NIGHTINGALE.
Quincy, May 8. 1f

Don't Fail to Call
—AT—
D. B. STETSON'S

AND EXAMINE
HIS LARGE STOCK OF
BOOTS AND SHOES

Some Extra Bargains.
Quincy, April 3. 1f

$100 REWARD
For a medicine that will cure
COUGHS, INFLUENZA,
TICKLING IN THE THROAT,
WHOOPIING COUGH, OR RELIEVE CONSUMPTIVE COUGHS, as quick as

Coe's Cough Balsam!
OVER ONE MILLION BOTTLES have been sold, and not a single instance of failure is known. We have in our possession any quantity of Certificates, some of them from EMINENT PHYSICIANS who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over every other compound.

It does not Dry up a Cough, but LOOSENS IT,
so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely
Two or three doses
Will invariably Cure Tickling in the Throat.

A half bottle has often completely cured the most Stubborn Cough, and yet, though it is so cured and placed with their operations, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in Season.
No Family should be without it.
It is within the reach of all, it being the cheapest and best medicine extant.

Both sizes, ordinary 4 oz. and MAMMOTH FAMILY BOTTLE.
Containing three times as much, will be found at all Drug Stores.

C. G. CLARK & CO.,
Proprietors, New Haven, Conn.
For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

THIS GREAT REMEDY
For all diseases of the STOMACH,
is the discovery of the inventor of Coe's valuable Cough Balsam, while experimenting for his own health. It cured Cramp in the Stomach for him, which had before yielded to nothing but chloroform.

The almost daily testimony from various parts of the country, encourage us to believe there is no disease caused by a disordered stomach, it will not speedily cure.

Physicians endorse and Use it!
Ministers give testimony of its efficacy,
and from all directions we receive tidings of cures
performed.

Dyspepsia: It is sure to cure.
Heartburn: One dose will cure.
Sick-Headache: Has cured in hundreds of cases.
Headache and Dizziness: It cures in thirty minutes.
Acidity of the Stomach: It cures in thirty minutes.
Rising of the Food: It cures immediately.
Distress after Eating: One dose will remove.
Cholera Morbus: Rapidly yields to a few doses.
Bad Breath: Will be changed with half a bottle.

IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS.
ITS UNPRECEDENTED SUCCESS is owing to the fact

It Cures by Assisting Nature
To re-assort her army in the system!
Nearly every dealer in the United States sells it at
ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Plaster and Salve.
GREEN Mountain Balm of Gilead and Cedar Plaster.
Miss Sawyer's Salve, and Tracy's Salve.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, May 15. 1f

C. G. CLARK & CO.,
Proprietors,
New Haven, Conn.
For sale by Sept. 5. 1f

NEW DRESS GOODS

At E. CLAPP'S.
Quincy, May 1. 1f

OYSTER SALOON.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Joseph T. French
his good will and interest in the Saloon
81 Hancock Street,
the Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the public that his aim will be to keep a quiet orderly place, and attend to all who may favor him with their patronage.

Families furnished with Oysters, Cooked, and Raw, Pies, Cakes, &c.
Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, and all other kinds of Refreshments of the best quality.
The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

STEPHEN TOTMAN.
Quincy, April 17. 1f

C. F. & J. W. PIERCE,
WOULD respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity that they will keep constantly on hand the

MOST APPROVED PATTERNS
of
Cook, Parlor and Office
STOVES.

They are also agents for the HOME FRIEND;

A FIRST CLASS COOK STOVE, which is not excelled in style and finish by any stove manufactured. It is

QUICK and PERFECT, in its operation, not liable to crack by fire, and is in all respects suited to the requirements of the kitchen.

Any pattern of Stove in the Market,
DELIVERED and SET
As Cheap as they can be Bought IN BOSTON.

Repair Pieces Guaranteed.
Furnaces and Ranges
SET and REPAIRED.

A Large Assortment of Custom Made TIN WARE,
AND

Fire Proof Britannia Tea Pots, AND JAPANNED WARE.

Wire and Hair Stoves; Stoves, Scrubbing, Shoe and Hand Brushes; Porcelain Kettles and Sauce Pans; French Sauce Pans; French Roll Pans; Vegetable Boilers; Wire Broilers, &c.

A good assortment of KEROSENE LAMP, LANTERNS, Burners, Chimneys, Shades, Wicks, and Chimney Cleaners.

COPPER PUMPS set with Tin-lined Lead
Pipe and repaired.
Also—Cast Iron Sinks, Lead Pipe, Sheet
Lead, Zinc, &c.

Particular attention given to altering Lamps and Lanterns to burn Kerosene Oil and Fluid.

The highest prices paid for Copper, Brass, Britannia, Lead, Iron, Rugs & Paper Stock.
JOBING done at short notice.

CHARLES F. PIERCE,
JAMES W. PIERCE.
Quincy, March 17. 1f

STOVES. STOVES.
E. S. FELLOWS

HAS for sale at his Store on Hancock Street,
the MOST APPROVED PATTERNS,
—OF—
Cook, Parlor and Office
STOVES.

Any Pattern of Stove in the Market will be delivered and set as CHEAP as it can be bought in Boston.

Among the most Approved Patterns is The Norton Cook Stove,
THE BEST STOVE
For Beauty of Form and Finish; Economy of Fuel; Quick Baking and Ventilation of Oven.

Five sizes,—plain or with Extension Top, Hot Closet and Reservoir.

Furnaces and Ranges
SET and REPAIRED.
A Large Assortment of Custom Made Tin Ware,
AND

Fire Proof Britannia Tea Pots and Japanned Ware.

JOBING done in the Best Manner at Short notice.
E. S. FELLOWS.
Quincy, Oct. 24. 1f

ELIAS HOWE
SEWING MACHINES,

Are celebrated for doing the BEST WORK,
using a much smaller needle for the same
thread than any other Machine.

SEWING of all kinds, such as HEMMING,
FELLING, BINDING, COORDING, BRAIDING, SEAMING, QUILTING, TUCKING, GATHERING, and Fagoting, done in a superior manner, on
our Family Machines.

Some valuable improvements have recently been added to these Machines, which render them superior to those made heretofore. Ladies who use our Family Machines, cannot fail to be credited and pleased with their operations; they are not subject to the annoyance and difficulties experienced with most machines.

Experience has proved that there is but one really good Sewing Machine, and that one is the HOWE'S. It is more common than known as the "LOCK STITCH." The advantages of the Howe Lock Stitch consist in its economy in the use of thread, the elasticity of the seam, (having the same appearance on both sides,) and the fact that it cannot be unravelled.

The HOWE'S MACHINES are better made; they are free from disagreeable noise; they are much less liable to get out of order; and when out of order, they cost less for repairs.

They combine the greatest simplicity and durability with the greatest certainty in operation,
and for all household Sewing—Shirt, Dress,
Cloak, Vest Making and Tailoring, are THE
BEST MACHINES IN THE WORLD.

The HOWE'S MACHINES have taken the Premium for the Best Work whenever they have been in competition with other Machines. This arises from the fact that they are constructed of the best material, and in the best manner.

This Machine can be seen in operation at

N. B. FURNALD'S,
Who is the Agent for Quincy.
Quincy, Jan. 23. 1f

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEALTH

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 Endicott St., Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to female system. Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb, Painful Menstruation, or other Menstrual Derangements, are all treated on new pathological principles, and speedily relieved in a very few days. No injury whatsoever is the new mode of treatment, that most obscure complaint yields under it, and the afflicted person soon regains in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of the Female System than any other physician of the time. Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Female Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

W. B. FURNALD, M. D., has been a member of the Boston Medical Society, and is a member of the Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Boston, Sept. 6, 1869.—1y

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1869.

NUMBER 30.

CONDITIONS.

No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot:
BOSTON—S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., S. R.
NILES, HORACE DODD, T. C. EVANS, A. L.
BRYANT, & Co., ALLEN & SHAWLER and COOLEY & DAUGHTY.
NEW YORK—S. M. PETTINGILL & Co.,
Geo. P. ROWELL & Co., and PRASER & Co.
PHILADELPHIA—Coe, WETTERHILL & Co.

NATIONAL
SURANCE CO
OF THE
STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Special Act of Congress,
Feb. 25, 1868.

CAPITAL $1,000,000,
IN FULL.

Office:
NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,
PHILADELPHIA.

Business of the Company is which all general correspondence should be addressed.

FIGURES:
LARK, President.
Urban Finance and Executive

CE. Vice-President.
LET, Secretary and Actuary.

Offers the following advantages:
Company, chartered by special act of Congress.

Capital of $1,000,000,
in full.

Insurance on other company's property.

Remain in its terms.
Company in every locality.

Exempt from attachment.
Necessary restrictions in the non-forcible.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

When taken per to the insurance costs only the
usual payments.

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in
the Town House every SATURDAY, from
1:30 to 4:30 o'clock, P. M., until further notice.
Persons having business with the Town will
please present it on those days.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of Quincy.
ENNSON S. FELLOWS, }

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions
of the law of 1867.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of Quincy.
ENNSON S. FELLOWS, }

SOUTHER'S Newspaper and Periodical Depot.

I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends,
the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that I have purchased the interest, and leased the
store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT.

Next Door to the Post Office,
Where I will continue to supply the
Daily and Weekly Newspapers,
MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,
to patrons promptly.

Subscriptions taken for any Paper or Magazine
in the Country.
School Books, Slates, Pens, Ink and Paper, in
fact, every thing connected with the Stationery Department, on hand or procured at the shortest
notice.

Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the
day.

Papers and Magazines bound in any style.
E. B. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Quincy, May 1.

Poetry.

WEALTH AND WORK.

BY GEORGE W. HENGEY.

The farmer with the nabob ranks,
Add with the gilded millionaires;
For he controls substantial shares,
And holds in them the safest shares.

His banks are banks of loan and clay,
His shares are shares in the mold;
The more they break, the more they pay,
In dividends of green and gold.

Let Wall street brokers boast of "bears,"
And other brutes that kick and roar—
Or Erie stock and Central shares,
And "bulls" that follow low for more.

The farmer's "stock" is sure to rise,
When he calls Whiteface and the Rian;
Was ever beef so near the skies,
"Since the old cow jumped over the moon?"

Shoddy may pass for silk and wool,
And burnished brass for solid gold,
And he who has his pockets full,
In chariots of velvet rolled,

May win the smile where he may go;
But there are those who understand,
The tinsel of his outside show
Reveals a fool with four-in-hand.

The farmer with his honest team,
Lightfoot and swift can sweep the plain—
His "hay" is not bay rum; his "cream"
Something which goes with might and main.

When merry wings its dying feet,
Or justice hastes with lifted lash;
One the rewards of honor meet,
The other chaos, in its crash.

He who is balanced well and true,
Will never bend the supple knee
For office; he will get his due—
He raises his own glory.

In field and orchard we behold
In buds his promissory notes,
To be redeemed in glowing gold,
When bobolinks shall tune their throats.

There's nothing "blue" about him save
The sky; and there is nothing "green"
Except the fields, where grasses wave
Their plumes, and beautify the scene.

His road was not by Vander built,
But it is safe and straight and wide;
Gold beaten thin, and spread in guile,
Glow not where he would rule and ride.

His face is bronzed by summer skies,
His honest hands are hard and brown;
And there is something in his eyes,
That came with light from Heaven down.

He is not of the earth a clod,
But nature's child, erect and free
Where wood birds sing, and blossoms nod,
And rivers shout in ecstasy.

He often hears it said of a husband
That he is fond of his wife. Well, so he is of his best beef and coffee, and it seems as if he were placed in the same category of creature comforts. When a wife evidently wishes to say the least possible
of her husband, assures us he is a "good provider" you conclude he is to her like the Dutch woman's husband, "the most con-venientest thing about the house, except her new cooking-stove." Now marriage in its true estate implies good providing on the part of both, as far as possible.

To sustain a good home requires not only a steady income, but an intelligent expenditure. A loving wife, with health and sense will make the family supplies
last like the widow's cruise of oil, but,
lacking these, she will soon breed a famine or bring her husband to bankruptcy.

All cool calculations as to whether a man can afford to marry, grate harshly on the soul of real womanhood. As if a wife was to be an expensive luxury, like a fine house or a fast horse, that one must have a good income to sustain in proper style. We don't wonder that thoughtful, reliable young men are afraid to marry,
lest they shall not be able to meet home
expenses. The way in which our girlish graduates ignore domestic work; the smirk and sneer with which they shirk everything that helps to cover the body or supply the stomach, is enough to make one afraid to become a responsible partner with such. Poor pictures, poor music, and poor bread, make a poor home, even when it is warmed with an abundance of gay worsted work. Besides this, the way in which a multitude of modern wives whine and worry about their domestic cares, is enough to disgust any sensible man and make him dread family responsibilities. Yes, we are sorry that our best young men are afraid to marry, but we do not wonder at it. Now men's hearts grow dry and women's desolate, for want
of that companionship which is found only in a well-assorted marriage. Woman alone in the world often seems to stand
as a cipher,—at the right side of the right man she counts ten; at the wrong side of the wrong man she is like a decimal,
and diminishes him ten-fold. If our young folks were as ready to begin housekeeping in a small way as their parents did,
and the young wife was, like her grandmother,
a helpmeet indeed, then they could go on comfortably, even with a small salary, and the number of indigent husbands and invalid wives would be greatly diminished.

Beginning with a fine establishment, which
in itself invites much company and calls for a retinue of servants, the young mistress fails, under the combined cares of housekeeping and maternity. If she has no children she is usually worse off still.

A story to illustrate. I was called to a thriving town in the southern part of the State to see an invalid wife. The husband, a brisk man, with a world of business on hand, met me at the station. As we made our way through the finest street
to a first class residence, he told me this story, which is a fair sample of many I hear. He had married a country girl in good health, who had helped a widowed mother to do their work. He had brought her to a home of abundance, furnished
her with plenty of hired help, and though unburdened with business or babies, she had broken in health, and what is still more discouraging, he had brought the best of physicians, and yet she was no better, but rather worse. He was disgusted with the doctors, though they were his personal friends, and had sent for me to see whether he must always have a sick wife; if so, he must bear it. He loved her, and would be glad to make her well and happy, if he knew how, but he was unable to do either. Well, we found the invalid wife in an easy chair,
handsomely attired, her pretty slippers resting on an embroidered stool. She was a woman of fine physical organization, power enough of mind and body to accomplish great good, if well directed, and to work much mischief if misused. It seemed that without any acute sickness,
or assignable cause, she had become dyspeptic, weak in the back, and unable to walk. She had been treated for all manner of infirmities, special and general, and still had grown steadily worse. When the husband took me back to the railroad station, he said:

"Do you know what is the matter with my wife?"

"Yes."

"Will you tell me?"

"Yes, if you are ready for the truth."

"I am!" he answered.

"Well, your are occupied with your store, your farm, and your mill, which satisfies your business ability, and as to your social nature, you are generous and kind, but not demonstrative. That beautiful wife of yours has nothing to do but to think of her house, think of her dress, think of you. The result is, she has all kinds of longings, when you are out of sight, and no real rest when you return; for with your head and hands full of business, you have not much time for petting and caressing her, when you are at home.
Hence, when you are gone, she fears she does not please you, and gets a heartache, which, when it is chronic, begets all manner of aches, from top to toe, and especially stimulates, and often induces that class of infirmities which bear the very disagreeable cognomen of "Female Diseases."

"The strong man listened to all this and much more, with the quiet deference of a child, and said, with a sigh:

"I guess you are right! Has she told you this?"

"No," I replied; she is deluded with the idea that she is diseased."

Well, said he, "what can I do about it? I thought I had done well for her, when I took her from domestic drudgery and placed her in this nice home, with everything at hand."

"Put you in such a place," I replied,
"and thus cramp your energies, and you would be restless as a lion, and cross as a bear, instead of meekly dreaming yourself into desponding invalidism."

"Oh, I could not live so!" he replied.

Neither can a woman who has any real soul. When "olive plants" are plenty to care for, a woman may have head, hand and heart well employed.
But in the lack of these, she must have other work. We talk of maiden ladies growing selfish, nervous and exacting, or,
as we say "notional," but I have seen more married ladies than ancient maidens who bear these marks. Husbands, overindulgent, often intensify these peculiarities, and then grow weary of what they have induced. They often pet and circumscribe her healthful energies, and then wonder why she grows so weak and exacting. A very distinguished statesman, whom I greatly respect, was conferring with me in reference to his invalid wife, feeling sorry that she had lost her native energy and cheer. I told him she had nothing to do which would keep either alive. And so we had a pleasant parley, not on politics, but on woman's needs;
he maintaining that his wife was much too delicate to do anything, and I that she would be delicate until she did do something. But seriously, many good

Interesting Selections.

RED-CURRENT PUDDING. Red-currant pudding may be made in the usual way, with a pudding crust and boiled; or it can be made by pressing the fruit through a sieve, so as to free it from the seeds which are very disagreeable; then, in a pint of pulp add two ounces of breadcumbs and a quarter of a pound of sugar;
put it into a tart-dish with a rim of puffpaste; serve with cream or custard.— White currants may be treated in the same manner.

A splendid display of fireworks have been arranged in the hereafter for the benefit of people who fail to pay the printer.

Mr. Ikes last trick was to throw Mrs.
Partington's hat in the alley, and call the old lady down from the third floor to see an alley-gaiter.

The woman who made a pound of butter from the cream of a joke, and a cheese from the milk of human kindness, has since watched the close of a year, and hung 'em to dry on a bee-line.

A New Hampshire editor who has been keeping a record of big bees, announces at last, that "the beet that beat the beet that beat the other beet is now beaten by a beet that beats all the beets, whether the original beet, the beet that beat the beet, or the beet that beat the beet that beat the other beet."

A Pennsylvania chap recently tried to open a bomb-shell with a red hot poker. The last seen of him he was looking for a place to hang his hat, in the milky way.

A gentleman, on taking a volume to be bound, was asked if he would have it bound in Russia. "Oh no," he replied,
"Russia is too far off. I will have it done here."

Thorough and frequent stirring of the earth around plants in a dry season, is an antidote for the drought, and in a wet season prevents the soil from becoming baked.

An exchange says that a cup of coffee is a sure barometer, if you allow the sugar to drop to the bottom of a cup and watch the bubbles arise without disturbance. If the bubbles collect in the middle, the weather will be fine; if they adhere to the cup, forming a ring, it will be rainy; and if the bubbles separate without assuming any fixed position, changeable weather may be expected.

Try it.

It takes two to make a quarrel—just remember that. It takes two to get a quarrel fairly going, so hold your tongue the moment a storm is brewing, and you are without the pale of discord.

Miscellany.

A HAPPY HOME.

LADIES—We may truly say with Tupper,
"Oh, happy lot, and hallowed, even as the joy of angels,
Where the golden chain of godliness is entwined with the roses of love."

But when husbands and wives talk of their rights, of the other's duty, we fear they have fallen short of that high and perfect unity which makes one forgetful of self. Those who truly love are bound by better, brighter links than those of right, or duty, even. There are exacting women with whom a husband even never feels the freedom of love, but is always in bondage to courtesy or ceremony. I remember that air of triumph with which one of these opened a letter from her husband, written within an hour after she left him, saying, as she read, "There I knew I should hear from him soon; for he forgot to ask me to write to him when he took leave of me at the cars, and he knew I would not send a word, if I stayed away all winter, unless he asked me to do so." To this I said, "It is not possible that you need an assurance from your husband that he wants to hear from you?"
She answered, "No doubt he is always very anxious for letters when I am away, but he has got to ask for them if he gets them, and he knows it too."

The way in which married persons speak of their life partners, is often suggestive as to the grade or character of the relationship they sustain to each other.
For instance, when a wife says, with an air of contentment, "My husband is very indulgent," it suggests childhood, rather than intelligent, helpful, loving partnership. Or when the husband leaves an invalid wife in my care, and tells me he does not want me to allow her to do thus and so, it conveys the same idea.

We often hear it said of a husband that he is fond of his wife. Well, so he is of his best beef and coffee, and it seems as if he were placed in the same category
of creature comforts. When a wife evidently wishes to say the least possible
of her husband, assures us he is a "good provider" you conclude he is to her like the Dutch woman's husband, "the most con-venientest thing about the house, except her new cooking-stove." Now marriage in its true estate implies good providing on the part of both, as far as possible.

To sustain a good home requires not only a steady income, but an intelligent expenditure. A loving wife, with health
and sense will make the family supplies
last like the widow's cruise of oil, but,
lacking these, she will soon breed a famine or bring her husband to bankruptcy.

All cool calculations as to whether a man can afford to marry, grate harshly
on the soul of real womanhood. As if a wife was to be an expensive luxury, like
a fine house or a fast horse, that one must have a good income to sustain in proper style. We don't wonder that thoughtful,
reliable young men are afraid to marry,
lest they shall not be able to meet home
expenses. The way in which our girlish graduates ignore domestic work; the smirk and sneer with which they shirk
everything that helps to cover the body or supply the stomach, is enough to make one afraid to become a responsible partner with such. Poor pictures, poor music,
and poor bread, make a poor home, even
when it is warmed with an abundance of gay worsted work. Besides this, the way in which a multitude of modern wives
whine and worry about their domestic cares, is enough to disgust any sensible
man and make him dread family responsibilities. Yes, we are sorry that our best young men are afraid to marry, but we do not wonder at it. Now men's hearts
grow dry and women's desolate, for want
of that companionship which is found only
in a well-assorted marriage. Woman alone in the world often seems to stand
as a cipher,—at the right side of the right man she counts ten; at the wrong side
of the wrong man she is like a decimal,
and diminishes him ten-fold. If our young folks were as ready to begin housekeeping in a small way as their parents did,
and the young wife was, like her grandmother,
a helpmeet indeed, then they could go on comfortably, even with a small salary, and
the number of indigent husbands and invalid wives would be greatly diminished.

Beginning with a fine establishment, which
in itself invites much company and calls
for a retinue of servants, the young mistress fails, under the combined cares of housekeeping and maternity. If she has no children she is usually worse off still.

A story to illustrate. I was called to a thriving town in the southern part of the State to see an invalid wife. The husband, a brisk man, with a world of business on hand, met me at the station. As we made our way through the finest street
to a first class residence, he told me this story, which is a fair sample of many I hear. He had married a country girl in good health, who had helped a widowed mother to do their work. He had brought her to a home of abundance, furnished
her with plenty of hired help, and though unburdened with business or babies, she had broken in health, and what is still more discouraging, he had brought the best of physicians, and yet she was no better, but rather worse. He was disgusted with the doctors, though they were
his personal friends, and had sent for me
to see whether he must always have a sick wife; if so, he must bear it. He loved her, and would be glad to make her well and happy, if he knew how, but he was unable to do either. Well, we found the invalid wife in an easy chair,
handsomely attired, her pretty slippers
resting on an embroidered stool. She was a woman of fine physical organization,
power enough of mind and body to accomplish great good, if well directed, and
to work much mischief if misused. It seemed that without any acute sickness,
or assignable cause, she had become dys-
peptic, weak in the back, and unable to walk. She had been treated for all manner of infirmities, special and general,
and still had grown steadily worse. When
the husband took me back to the railroad station, he said:

"Do you know what is the matter
with my wife?"

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

GRADUATING EXERCISES. The Town Hall was crowded on Thursday evening last, by a very appreciating audience, to listen to the graduating exercises of the Quincy High School. The lack of good ventilation, and the hot oppressive air, made the first part of the exercises, which comprised a little too much rhapsody, rather wearisome, particularly to those who were allowed one square foot for standing room, at the rear end of the hall. They appeared to have their thoughts attracted more towards their extraneous than what the young ladies were reading. The latter part of the exercises were much better enjoyed, and as a whole gave great credit to the graduating class, and to their excellent instructors. We should be pleased to say a few words of each separately, but time and space will not permit, still we cannot refrain from saying that Misses Ansbury, Carr and Newcomb did exceedingly well, and so did Master Starbuck.

All the young ladies were dressed charmingly, and it was amusing to see the thousand of eyes all turned towards the stage as each stepped gracefully out from behind the curtain. We heard one young gent near us remark "there's the prettiest girl in town," but we cannot call any name therefore we will leave it for our readers to guess who she may be.

The following were the members of the Graduating Class:—

Anna Louise Savil, Abbie Louisa Ewell, Minnie Jane Carr, Maggie Thompson, Carrie Francis Ricker, Annie Marie Bigelow, James Edward Starbuck, Mary Jennie Newcomb, Fannie Howard Hersey, Sarah Reynolds Gregg, Jeannie Sampson, Charles Lincoln Hovey, Angie Smith Ansbury.

SAD ACCIDENT. Mr. James Dolan, a very industrious young man, who has been in the employ of Mr. John Page, Jr., for several years, met with quite a shocking accident on Friday last week. While standing near the rolling mill talking with Mr. Joseph Page, he placed his left hand on the belt which moved the roller, and his thumb was instantly drawn in between two cog wheels, and before the machinery could be stopped, his thumb was completely ground to pieces. He was conveyed to Dr. Ogden's office, where it was amputated. The fine weather and the strictly temperate habits of Mr. Dolan have been very favorable to the amputation, and he is rapidly recovering from the shock.

The workmen employed in the shop, wishing in some manner, to show their sympathy to their afflicted companion, started a paper, headed by their employer, and raised fifty dollars, which they presented to him, as a slight token of their regards.

FIRE. An old dwelling house, on Winter street, near the Nash Place, at Quincy Neck, was entirely destroyed by fire on Monday evening last. It had been twice set on fire previously, but the third and last time made it a complete ruin. It was owned by Mrs. Lewis Cleverly, and had not been occupied for some time. It stood high, elevated on a hill, and its frame, which was of oak, dry and combustible, made a bright and brilliant light, which was reflected for miles around; cutting out all the engines of the town, and the Union Company from Weymouth.

CLOSED FOR REPAIRS. The Universalist Church will be closed for the next six weeks—till September 1st. It is the intention of the Society to paint their church inside and out, and in other ways to improve its general appearance. The Sabbath School will meet to-morrow morning, as usual, at which time it will take some action in regard to their annual picnic.

VERY SUCCESSFUL. Steamer Massasoit, is doing a very fine business, especially in the picnic line. Large parties brought on the steamer almost daily, visit Lovell's Grove, just beyond the Point bridge, and have grand times. The grove is in a very good condition; and there are ample accommodations for tables, swinging, dancing, bathing, &c.

THE Orthodox Society have voted to dispense with their afternoon service during the warm season.

VACATION. This week the public schools in this town were closed for the long vacation. What shall be done with the children to keep them from that mischief which idle hands are so prone to do?

PEACHES. The trees in New Jersey are loaded, and in Delaware the limbs are unable to bear the burden of the fruit which is upon them, and are breaking down.

A Bold Robber Successfully Caught.

A few minutes past twelve, on Monday noon last, Mr. John Pratt, employed in Mr. N. B. Fernald's furniture store, locked the doors as usual and started for dinner—Mr. Fernald having gone to Braintree with some furniture. At twenty minutes past twelve, Mr. Fernald returned to his store and found a front and a back door open, but no one about the store.

After attending to some customers, who soon came in, he locked up and started for home. He had proceeded but a short distance, when he met Mr. Pratt, whom he questioned in regard to leaving the store unlocked. Mr. P. informed him that he did not, but that his daughter had seen Mr. Philip Whalen, a young man, who had worked there several months since, leaving by the back door as she was returning from school. This solved the mystery; and on returning to the store, which the proprietor immediately did, he found the contents of his money-drawer gone. Mr. Fernald thinking the thief had started for Boston, concluded to step about the one o'clock train, which was nearly due, and overtake the rogue if possible; at the same time ordering Mr. Pratt to drive along the road in the same direction. As the train was passing from the Wollaston to the Atlantic Station, in the north part of the town, Mr. Fernald noticed the thief travelling along the turnpike. He accordingly stopped at Neponset, and started back in pursuit of him. In crossing the bridge he very fortunately met Justice Morton, who filled out a writ for him. By this time up came Mr. Pratt, who informed Mr. Fernald that he had seen "the chap" and after he had passed him, the thief had left the road and gone across the fields near the residence of Mr. John J. Glover.

Mr. Fernald then left Constable Ramsdell and Mr. Pratt at the Neponset Bridge and starting in his wagon through Dorchester for the Granite, which was about two miles off, believing that the rascal would come that way. He arrived at the bridge, inquired of the draw tender if any such person as he described had passed. It seems that he had not, but in some fifteen or twenty minutes he hove in sight. Mr. Fernald then went into the house and kept a watch from a window for the rogue who was over an hour after he came in sight, before he mustered courage enough to cross the bridge. As he did, Mr. Fernald stepped up and arrested him. After tying his hands behind him, and binding him to the wagon he started for home by the way of Neponset.

When he arrived there the prisoner wished to get out at his sister's a moment, which Mr. Fernald at first decided not to comply with, but on a second thought concluded to let him, and was stopping his horse, when Whalen, who had loosened his hands, jumped out, and took "leg bail." Mr. Fernald followed, leaving his horse in the road going along. The distance around one of the houses was measured three times, at the rate "double quick," the pursued leaving one corner as the pursuer came around the other; then a high board fence was scaled and the circumference of several more houses were quickly measured. At last the thief reached the lumber wharf of Mr. Pratt's, and after dodging around a dozen or more piles of boards, found a hiding place, Mr. Fernald thought he had lost him, but by perseverance he was at last found and pulled out from a pile of lumber. He was about to tie him, when again he started and after running around several piles was beginning to get the better of his pursuer, when Mr. Fernald beckoned to Mr. Pratt, and as he was passing his door he stopped him. This time he was securely bound and taken to the lock-up in this place. On the following day he had his trial before Justice Morton, and was fined ten dollars and costs, but failing to pay the fine and costs he was sent to Dedham for ninety days. Rather a small sentence after so bold a robbery and so hard a chase.

There will be a parade of the Dorchester Rifles in their new uniform to-day, accompanied by the Metropolitan Band. They will proceed to Milton Hill, where a dress parade will take place at 5 o'clock, after which they will have a collation at their armory. In the evening there will be a promenade concert in Vose's Grove.

The shoe business of Lynn, Massachusetts, is steadily increasing. The total number of cases of boots and shoes manufactured in, and sent away from, Lynn during the six months ending July 1, was 114,480, of which the first quarter of the year gave 62,911 cases and the second, 51,569 cases. For the first six months of 1868, the shipments were 98,361 cases, showing a gain of 16,089 cases this year. The total number of pairs of shoes manufactured and shipped during the past six months was 6,868,800, having a value of nearly, if not quite, $10,000,000.

DR. WOODWARD'S BEQUEST.

To the Publisher of the Patriot:

What is this extraordinary hesitation, on the part of some of our townsmen, in accepting the terms of Dr. Woodward's splendid bequest? I did not attend the meeting, as I suppose many others did not, because it was inconvenient for me to do so, and I imagined that the acceptance of this great gift was a mere matter of form, which could just as well be accomplished by a few people, in a few moments, as by a multitude after protracted discussion. Here is a property of hundreds of thousands coming into our hands upon the most simple conditions—hundreds of thousands, I say,—for there cannot be any doubt that the Doctor's heirs will literally comply, not only with his commands with regard to his real estate, but also with his expressed wishes with regard to his personal property. Are we going to give it all to Dartmouth College?

Shall we permit ourselves to dream of giving up this grand Female Institute, at which Irish and Americans, Protestant and Catholic alike, will receive an equal and sufficient education? We can establish it in ten years, or even less, if we manage carefully. A road can be cut at once from Greenleaf street to the Germantown road; and then a little energy on the part of the Selectmen will speedily dispose of scores of house lots at good prices. Nothing but good management is needed to raise from the real estate alone a large sum of money within a few years.

Let us hope that the Town, at its adjourned meeting, will declare its grateful acceptance of the terms of the Will.

CITIZEN.

APPLES. In the central, western and northern parts of New York, the apple trees are literally loaded with fruit. So great a crop has not been known for a number of years.

The apple trees in the vicinity of Hartford, Conn., give promise of an abundant crop.

It is said that the apple crop in Maine will be very light this season.

In this vicinity there is scarcely any. Many large orchards have scarcely enough to pay for picking.

All the republican papers in Boston, except the Traveller, are for the repeal of the liquor law. They say that the law is not endorsed by the republican party. Organizations are being formed all over the State for the purpose of working for the repeal of this law.

Dealers are not allowed to sell cigars from any boxes except those in which they were originally packed. Farewell to black-walnut counter cases. Some kinds of cigars are for cheapness put up in large pine boxes like soap boxes. These will look well on the dealers' counters.

BRAINTREE. The cemetery in front of Dr. Storrs' church in Braintree has been used as a burying place since 1716. Mrs. Elizabeth Niles, wife of Rev. Mr. Samuel Niles, being the first to be buried. The council called to consider the expediency of organizing a new Baptist church in South Braintree, came to the conclusion that such a movement would be unwise, but recommended that one be established at North Braintree, which was agreed to, and the usual services were held.

It is not an uncommon complaint against a newspaper that it hasn't life enough. But a brother editor reports this odd objection made to his paper by a gossip-loving old lady: "I like your paper very much; I have only one objection to it—it hasn't deaths enough."

MILITARY. The order for the muster of the First Brigade has been issued for the Encampment at Strawberry Hill, August 10, where there have been many improvements since last year. An excellent drive road has been constructed on the beach, and communication between the Hill and Hull is thereby greatly facilitated. Arrangements have been made so that over 8000 persons can be taken from the field at one time, and six boats have been engaged during the five days' muster. The First Regiment will report at Liverpool wharf at 8.30 A. M., on the 10th; the Seventh and Ninth at Lewis wharf at 8.45, and the second Battalion at 9.30 at Litchfield's wharf; and the Third Regiment, which is made up out of town companies, will report at 11.30, and the cavalry and artillery at 12.

BOYNTON, 21 Congress St., and 6 Congress Square, maintains pre-eminence in the gastronomic line. Every thing neat and in good order; good cooks and attentive waiters.

A Wisconsin couple quarrelled about whether there should be saluters in the flap-jacks, and applied for a divorce. Several couples in Massachusetts have had work to get the flap-jacks to quarrel about.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific.—No. 2.

OMAHA, NEBRASKA. Between Trains—July 15, 1869.

Leaving Chicago at midnight in order to traverse the State of Missouri, we took the Burlington and Quincy, Hannibal and St. Joseph, Council Bluffs and St. Joseph lines, to this point. Quincy is quite a little city, on the Mississippi River,—about 150 miles above St. Louis. A large river steamer, "Andy Johnson," had just arrived from St. Louis. Although Quincy is on the Mississippi, it is not as pleasant for residences as the elder town in Massachusetts, of the same name. Can all the school children in our town tell how many Quincys there are in the United States, and where they are situated? Twelve at least, perhaps more. While on the prairies a few hours ago, waiting for a train at a turnout, we could see the engine puffing nine miles off in a bee line; at first, a little speck, then gradually drawing nearer, and appearing larger. If the earth was once all prairies, we ought to consider earthquakes a great blessing. A great share of the ground is flooded at the present time. Many thousands of acres of corn are spoiled. Rain is doing a vast amount of damage in the States west of Ohio. The cars west of Chicago are new and much better than at the East, but the roads are laid much worse. It gives one something of a sea-sick feeling at times. Pullman's sleeping, eating and drawing-room cars, are sent out on some of the California trains,—so one is not obliged to get off the train the whole distance. The bridge here is hardly begun yet, and when a car does go through, it has to be brought across the river on a flat boat. Council Bluffs, on the Iowa side, and Omaha, on the Nebraska, both need finishing to be attractive. A pleasant and large party are to take the train in the morning across the Plains. One Harvard party, of about a dozen, are going to explore about the peaks of Colorado. Another Harvard, of four, go through to California. A Senatorial party will stop at Salt Lake City. It is not allowed to speak of Omaha as being west; they claim they are one hundred miles east, and that they have a population of 20,000; but like many Western figures, will stand some discounting without destroying the truth. The horse cars here, as at St. Joseph, (which greatly resembles a Southern city) are really mule cars. The Missouri River is muddy, swift and winding.

TRAVELER.

St. Pierre is a very little island—a mere speck in the blue sea. Its area is but one hundred and six square miles, and its permanent population but two thousand persons. But as it is a national rendezvous and shelter for the French boats that fish in these seas, its population is very movable in numbers as well as otherwise. It is one of three islands that compose the French colony of St. Pierre and Miquelon. There is name enough if not much land.

THE TREASURY. Mr. Boutwell has still over $100,000,000 cash on hand, with more coming in. So we are promised another large monthly reduction of the national debt. Very good. Let the public be fully satisfied that the debt is being paid off without any serious effort, and the government credit will soon feel the benefit of public confidence.—New York Herald.

Swapping WIVES. Two men, named Godsee and Lowell, having each become dissatisfied with their lawful wives, made a bargain, the women consenting, by which the parties were to exchange partners for life. Everything went on finely for a time, one of the newly made pair residing in Haverhill and the other in Amesbury. But the matter leaked out, resulting in the arrest of all the parties concerned, and their being bound over in the sum of five hundred dollars for trial on a charge of bigamy.

A NEW NOVELT BY MRS. HENRY WOOD. In the SATURDAY EVENING Post of July 17th, a new Serial is begun by the celebrated author of "East Lynne." It is called "GEORGE CANTERBURY'S WILL," and opens in this author's usual interesting manner. An extra edition will be printed of the early numbers of this story, but those wishing it would do well to apply early. Sample copies of The Post, containing the opening chapters, will be sent gratis. Price of The Post, $2.50 a year; four copies, $6.00. Address H. Peterson & Co., 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

A German, named Carl Schell, married a young girl just from the Faderland at Omaha, some three weeks ago, in a most peculiar manner. He purchased a pair of ear-bobs, put them in her ears, and informed the young lady that "this little ceremony constitutes a marriage in America." After a week had passed he took them out, and informed her of another piece of news, viz: "This little ceremony constitutes a divorce in America." He is now in jail for stealing a trunk.

"Barrett's" is just the thing.

GRANT'S CHAMPAGNE CIDER. "Vindex," the Washington Correspondent to the Boston Journal, of the 17th instant, says:

"A box branded 'Grant's Champagne Cider,' was received at the White House to-day. Its exterior appearance indicated that it had received hard usage, and when opened it was found to contain a dozen bottles, all labelled as above, and sent from a Massachusetts firm as a present. Three of the bottles were empty, and the supposition is that some one had too much curiosity while the box was in transit and helped himself."

The cider was put up by the firm of Fernald & Brooks, of this place, who have bottled from the pure juice of the apples, over 30,000 bottles during the winter and spring, and are now receiving orders from all parts of the country.

The Rev. Miss Olympia Brown, of Weymouth, has accepted a call from the Universalist church at Bridgeport, (Conn.) and enters upon her duties next month.

The Postmaster-General has established a post-office at Hingham Centre, with Mrs. Henry Siders as Postmistress.

THE CATTLE MARKET. Over 2,800 Western cattle have been received at Brighton during the past week,—a larger number than has ever before been received in one week. Of these about one thousand are Texan or Cherokee cattle, which have been fed in Missouri over a year. They are sold at low prices. There is little change in quotations of other grades. There were only 200 New England cattle. Northern lambs are also rather scarce.

LONGEVITY. There resides on Hardin Pike, twelve miles from the city, Mrs. Dinah Vies, a widow lady, who is now verging on her 114th year. She is vigorous and healthy, and is, though almost incredible to relate, still able to ride horseback and attend to her personal wants. She has been married three times, has over 400 descendants living, and has been a widow for twenty-three years. She has one great-great-granddaughter three years of age. Then she has a daughter named Mrs. Sawyers, who is in her ninetieth year. Each one of her husbands served in the Revolutionary war, for which she draws pensions. This is a remarkable case, and the facts were narrated to us by one who has known her for a lengthy period.—Nashville (Tenn.) Union, Feb. 24.

ACT CONCERNING THE IMPOUNDING OF CATTLE. The following act was passed by the last legislature and approved, which may be of interest to field-drivers:

SEC. 1. When beasts are taken up and detained by a field-driver, in pursuance of the provisions of chapter twenty-five of the General Statutes, he may impound them in a suitable place on his own premises; and for the purposes of said chapter he shall be considered a pound-keeper, and such place on his own premises shall be considered a town pound, in relation to beasts therein impounded.

SEC. 2. This act shall apply only to such towns as shall adopt the same by a vote of the majority of the legal voters present and voting at a town meeting duly held for the purpose.

CHEAP MUSIC. All who take an interest in the diffusion of a love for music, at once of a high and popularly pleasing character, will do all they can in aid of the circulation of De Witt's six-penny series of choice music, for voice and piano. All the pieces are carefully arranged, and the whole mechanical "get up," is of the most workmanlike and elegant style. We have just received the following pieces. All of them are super excellent in their different styles: "Thy Voice is Near," "Blue Eyed Violets," "Up in a Balloon," and "The Maiden and her Linnets." Any person desiring any of this six penny series can procure it by sending to R. M. DeWitt, 13 Frankfort street, N. Y.

THE FAMOUS BREACH OF PROMISE CASE. At a hearing in the case of Miss Craig, who had received a verdict of $100,000 in a suit for breach of promise brought by her against a venerable lover named Sprague, which took place at Wheaton, Illinois, last Saturday, the Court decided against the reasons advanced by defendant for a new trial, but ordered a remission of $60,000 of the sum awarded plaintiff by the jury. Miss Craig's counsel stated that she would not appeal against this decision, so she comes out of Court with $40,000, minus her lawyers' fees.

HITCH IN THE LIQUOR LAW. The Worcester Gazette says that there appears to be some doubt thrown on one provision of the Liquor Law, and the matter is of great interest to dealers. The penalty for the first offence of selling is ten dollars and from twenty to thirty days imprisonment. Chapter 270 of the Acts of 1866 provides that in cases where the penalty provided by law is fine and imprisonment, the offender may, at the discretion of the Court, receive imprisonment without the fine, or pay the fine without imprisonment, where he proves that he has not before been convicted of a similar offence. This provision applies to all laws passed previously to May 29, 1866. It is claimed by some that it applies also to the new law, but this is a question that will have to be determined by the Courts.

A WELL OCCUPIED HALL. The receipts at the Boston Music Hall for the twelve months ending May 31 were as follows:—From organ concerts, $2,901.85; other concerts, $9,184; fairs, lectures, miscellaneous gatherings, &c., $13,278.80; use of the hall for Sunday services, $2,600; N. E. Conservatory of Music, annual rent, $2,500; use of Bunsford Hall and ante-rooms, $1,292; sale of organ books, $50; profits of exhibition of busts and brackets, $105.83—Total receipts, $31,912.21.

APPOINTMENT. Mr. Christopher T. Bailey, of Weymouth, has received the appointment of Deputy State Constable, from Major Jones, and has entered upon his duties.

GOOD HEALTH. We have received from the New England News Company the July number of this interesting "Journal of Physical and Mental Culture." We think, on perusing that a great deal that is instructive and useful might be gleaned from its pages. Both the original and selected articles in this Magazine will be by eminent writers on all subjects. This number is accompanied by a supplement on the treatment of the apparently drowned. It may prove very useful just at this time of beach rides and water excursions.

Published at 21 Franklin street, Boston, at $2.00 per year. Specimen numbers twenty cents.

Summary Intelligence.

A sufficient amount of funds has been secured to provide for Unitarian preaching in Randolph for a year. Regular Sunday services are held in Stetson Hall.

A new Universalist church of 61 members was organized on the 11th at South Weymouth.

Two young girls while bathing in Neponset river near Readville on Saturday, got in beyond their depth, and were both drowned.

Mr. Eli Edgerly has killed on one tree in Durham, N. H., during the last ten years, twenty-five eagles. Two have been killed this season.

The amount of butter shipped from the St. Albans market, on Tuesday last, was 772 tubs. Prices ranged from 32 cents a pound upwards.

A Cincinnati man who recently visited Maine, wrote home that it was no credit to the people that they were temperate, as a class, since their water was so good and their whisky so poor.

A farmer at Fort Smith, Arkansas, recently plowed up a keg containing $5000 in Spanish silver dollars of the date of about 1806, and American half dollars of old date. The keg was probably buried twenty or thirty years ago.

Kentucky has raised a snake with a head at either end and without a caudal extremity.

It is stated that all the honey bees within a circuit of twenty-five miles about St. Louis have simultaneously deserted well-filled hives and disappeared.

A white girl twelve years old, and a colored girl eleven years old, were kidnapped in New Haven on Wednesday evening.

A wedding took place near Dry Grove, Miss., a few days since, in which the bride had scarcely reached her tenth year, the groom being over six feet high and thirty-eight years of age.

A premium of $500 is to be given at the St. Louis fair this fall for the cow that will give the largest and richest yield of milk.

It cost just $208 to try a negro at Columbus, Georgia, for stealing a chicken valued at thirty-seven cents.

The artesian well at St. Louis, has reached a depth of three-quarters of a mile, cost $66,000, and reached no water.

ADAM'S Fourth of July Address.

The Address delivered by Col. Charles F. Adams, Jr., at Quincy, on the 5th inst., together with an appendix, giving a full account of the Celebration, will be published Tuesday morning, July 27th, and will be for sale at Southern's Newspaper and Periodical Depot and by W. P. LENT.

PRICE 25 CENTS.

Quincy, July 24.

1w

HIGH SCHOOL.

The Examination of Candidates for admission to the High School will take place at the High School Room, on Monday, July 26th, at 9 o'clock, A. M.

For order of School Committee,

E. GRANVILLE PRATT, Chairman.

Quincy, July 24.

1w

Salt Grass for Sale.

TEN Acres of Salt Grass, of good quality. Apply to JOHN J. GLOVER.

July 24.

North Quincy.

FOR SALE.

ONE Large tent, will accommodate 40 persons. Will be sold cheap.

Also, 1 good Ice Cream Freezer, nearly new, by JOSEPH L. AREY, JR.

24 Washington Street.

Quincy, July 24.

1f

COLTON'S SELECT FLAVORS.

DELICIOUS, strictly PURE, of the CHOICEST FRUITS. Dr. J. G. Holland (Timothy Tibbels) Springfield, "They are the standard in all this vicinity."

JOHN HAYES NEWPORT R. I. the well known dealer in luxuries, "I have tried my sales with them. Grocers and Druggists trade their sales with them."

Dr. J. G. Holland, Albany, N. Y. "I consider Dr. Hayes' superior in richness and delicacy of flavor also in great strength."—DEAR, E. LELAND.

J 21-2m

FLEW AWAY

FROM the residence of the Subscriber, about a fortnight since, a very fine Canary Bird, quite tame, and an excellent singer. Whoever will return the same to the subscriber, will be suitably rewarded.

ELIZABETH C. ADAMS.

Quincy, July 24.

1w

For the next 60 days,

We will sell any garment in our immense stock

At less than the Actual

COST OF MANUFACTURE.

We defy the World.

LOOK!

For $1.00,

HEAVY LINEN PANTS.

For $1.25,

HEAVY LINEN SACKS.

For $1.00,

HEAVY LINEN VESTS.

For $12.00,

AN ALL-WOOL BUSINESS SUIT.

For $15.50,

A GENUINE SILK MIXED SUIT.

For $7.00,

AN ALL-WOOL SACK.

One Thousand all-wool Vests.

For $1.00, Each.

The best Linen Finish, Cloth Lined

PAPER COLLARS,

2 Boxes for 25 Cents.

WILMOT'S,

121 Washington Street, Boston.

OPPOSITE WATER STREET.

J 21-2w

CHEAP, CHEAP,

A LOT of House paper at 6 to 10 cents per roll, by

JOSEPH AREY, JR.,

24 Washington Street.

Quincy, July 24.

1f

PROPOSALSFOR COAL!

DEALERS in Coal are invited to bring in to the undersigned on or before SATURDAY, the 31st inst., proposals for furnishing the Town with coal for the ensuing year.

For the various kinds and quantities, enquire of EDWARD H. TAYLOR, Selectmen of W. UNDERWOOD, Esq. of Quincy, Quincy, July 17.

3w

WANTED!

FIVE American Girls to do Domestic Work, at my rooms, (Post Office Building, Second Floor.) Easily learned, steady work and good pay.

Mus. W. S. COGSWELL.

Quincy, July 17.

2w

WANTED!

A SMART capable woman to do general house work. None but experienced help need apply.

JAMES EDWARDS.

Quincy, July 17.

3w

Quite Nobby,

The perfumed Scarf may be had of

C. T. REED.

Old Colony and Newport

RAILWAY COMPANY.

THE Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Old Colony and Newport Railway Company will be held at the Hall of the Passenger Station of the Company, in Boston, on THURSDAY, the 29th day of July instant, at eleven o'clock, A. M., for the choice of Directors and any other business that may come before the meeting.

By order of the Directors, JOHN S. BRAYTON, Clerk.

Poetry.

A GENTLE WORD.

A gentle word is never lost,
Oh! never then refuse one;
It cheers the heart when sorrow's wet,
And tells the cause that brings one.
It soothes the heart when sorrow's wet,
It turns our thorns to roses;
It changes dreary night to day,
And hope and peace discloses.

A gentle word is never lost—
The fallen brother needs it;
How easy said, how small the cost,
What joy and comfort speeds it!
Then drive the shadow from thy brow,
A smile can well replace it;
Our voice is music when we speak,
With gentle words to grace it.

Farmers' Department.

CLEANLINESS OF SWINE.

In one respect farmers commonly show the worst of their management in fattening hogs. These animals appreciate cleanliness, yet their owners make them live in dirt and then charge them with a fondness for filth. This is oppression and slander combined. Every person familiar with their habits, knows that when clean straw beds and other comforts are given them, they are scrupulous to keep them clean. When shut up in a narrow pen, where they must eat, sleep and live in one apartment, they cannot but be uncomfortable; and such a condition greatly retards their thriving. A "hog pen" has become proverbially a repulsive place; this is the owner's fault, and should never be suffered. There is no reason why it should not be clean and even attractive. We hear farmers who raise grain say they have more straw than they can sometimes use, while at the same moment their hogs have not enough of it to make a dry and clean bed. Animals can never thrive well unless kept clean. Every one knows that a well groomed horse is better than a neglected one, with a shabby coat. Nearly the same result has been found when this treatment is applied to swine. Let every manager lay down this rule, that a hog pen should never be distinguished by its odor twenty feet distant. The sleeping apartment should be separate, and kept clean and dry. The other portion should be daily cleaned out, and the manure at once mixed with coal and ashes, &c., to make compost and destroy the odor, which is as injurious to the health of swine to breathe as it is to human beings. It is not necessary that a piggery should cost five hundred dollars that it may be kept in splendid order; a cheap and simple structure may be subjected to the most perfect system of cleanliness. The satisfaction it will afford the owner, the comfort to the occupant, and the profits to the purse, will be three-fold compensation.

Potatoes ought not to be disturbed after the tubers have begun to form. With the early sorts this takes place early but with the late ones not before the middle of this month. After the tops interfere with the use of the cultivator, turn a light furrow towards the hills, and leave them, pulling weeds by hand as they appear through the season.

Beets may still be sown with the prospect of a fair crop. Thin the earlier plantings as needed.

Budding can be continued to the last week in July. Cherries and peaches grow much more readily by budding than grafting. Pears can also be budded, but grafting is to be preferred.

Anecdotes.

"If you please, ma'am, I wish to leave immediately."
"Why?"
"When I took the place, ma'am, I was not aware that master was Irish. My friends would never forgive me if I took service in an Irish family."
"But you came to us from the Marquis of Ballymaloney's?"
"Yes, ma'am; but his lordship was never at home while I was there."

Old Billy W— was dying. He was an ignorant man and a very wicked one. Dr. D— an excellent physician and a very pious man, was attending him. The old fellow asked for bread. The doctor approached the bedside, and in a very solemn tone remarked:—
"My dear fellow, you cannot live by bread alone."
"No," said the old fellow, slightly reviving, "he's bled to have a few vegetables."
The subject was dropped.

"Martha," said James, "what letter in the alphabet do you like best?"
"Martha didn't like to say, but the young man insisted."
"Well," was her final answer, as she dropped her eyes, "I think I like U best."

A man being awakened by the captain of a passenger-boat with the announcement that he must not occupy his berth with his boots on, very considerably replied, "Oh it won't hurt 'em; they're an old pair."

Agricultural Warehouse

SEED STORE,
40 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row,
BOSTON.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood
offer a large assortment of the best Agricultural Implements, Machinery,

TOOLS OF ALL KINDS.

Garden, Field and Flower Seeds,

Grown by Experienced Seedmen in Europe
and America, the quality of which is
NOT AND CANNOT BE SURPASSED.

SEED POTATOES.

Early Rose, Goodrich, Sebce, Blue, &c.

Fertilizers of all kinds.

Also, Trees, Shrubs, Plants, &c.,
At Wholesale and Retail, at the Lowest Prices.
All orders and inquiries by mail or express
will meet with prompt attention.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood.
Boston, May 8. 2m

SEED BARLEY.

50 bushels prime Seed Barley. For sale by
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Apr. 17. 1f

PLANTS FOR SALE.

CABBAGE, Cauliflower, Celery, Egg and Tomato PLANTS.

FLOWER and BEDDING PLANTS.

Jacunda Strawberry Plants.

Also, TRELLIS various sizes and patterns.

JOSHUA H. SPEAR,
Quincy, May 1. Brackett Street. 1f

SEED POTATOES.

150 bushels Seed Potatoes consisting of Early
Goodrich, Sebce, Davis, Seedlings, and Bangor
Jackson Whites, at the lowest Cash Prices.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Apr. 17. 1f

Flower Seeds.

SEVERAL new varieties of last year's growth.
Also, garden seeds. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Mar. 27. 1f

GRASS SEEDS.

THE Subscriber has just received a choice
lot of New Grass Seeds, consisting of Northwestern Hard Grass, Red Top and Clover Seeds, which we are selling low for Cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Apr. 17. 1f

QUINCY
MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a Ware-room, where

EVERY VARIETY
— OF —
Monumental Work,

from the simplest grave stone, to the
Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,

may be seen finished and ready for lettering.
All persons needing such, are invited to call and select for themselves—they are sure to find in so large a Collection what will suit their taste
and requirements.

The character of the place for good work and honest dealings is so well known that it is not necessary to refer to it.

All prices from ten dollars upwards.

SHOP and YARD near South Quincy Depot.

P. McGRATH.
Quincy, April 27. 1f

For New and Beautiful Styles

PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.
Quincy, May 1. 1f

SPRING TRADE.

THE Subscriber, having employed a good upholsterer, is ready to accommodate the public, in remodeling old furniture of any description.
Housekeepers should send in their work
previous to the summer season, if they would have it attended to, at an early hour and oblige.

JOSEPH AILEY.
N. B. New and desirable paper hangings, will
be found cheap for Cash.
Quincy, Mar. 29. 1f

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,

At 8 Oak Place, Boston,
From 11 A. M. to 1 P. M., 7 1/2-2 to 3.

GIVES SPECIALTIES to Epilepsy, to all Nervous Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical Colleges, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.

His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office
or, will be sent by mail for the following prices:—
"Epilepsy," 50 cents.
"Inhalation," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.
"Cerebral Health," 40 cents.
"The Reason," 40 cents.

Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says, "The Reason" is adapted to great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm.
H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Harvard College, says, "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."

Dr. Eddy says, "It should be read by all our young men." Aug. 17 if

USE
AVERILL'S

PAT. CHEMICAL

PAINT.

IVES & MERRITT,
32 Darling Slip,
New York.

Plaster and Salve.

GREEN Mountain Balm of Gilead and Cedar Plaster.
Miss Sawyer's Salve, and Tracy's Salve.
For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, May 15. 1f

Genuine Lykens Valley

Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, the undisputed recommendation of the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit
Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co.
Quincy, July 6. 1f

LUMBER, COAL,
WOOD,
BRICK, &c.

THE Subscribers have just received at their Wharf, several Cargoes of Lumber of all descriptions, consisting of:—
Spruce Timber and Joist,
Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,
Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,
Sheathing and Finishing Boards,
Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Burnside red and white ash Coal, George's Creek Cumberland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick,
Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold cheap,
for Cash.

ORDERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo.
H. Locke, Washington M. French, Joseph W.
Lombard, or at Post Office Box, 159, will receive prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.
Quincy, Aug. 22. 1f

M. HARTNEY'S

Quincy and Boston Express.

New Arrangement.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Leave Boston at 2 1/2 o'clock, P. M.

ORDERS in Quincy may be left at the following places, at the Store of C. T. Reed & Co., and Daniel Baxter & Co.

Office in Boston, 43 North Market Street
Order Boxes, 29 and 40 South Market Street.

Business attended to with care and responsibility.

Quincy, May 25. 1f

WILLIAM CARRITY'S

(Formerly Farnall and Shear's)

Quincy & Boston Express

THE Subscriber having purchased the good will of the Route recently managed by Messrs. Spear & Ransell, and having secured the services of Mr. Williams, is prepared to make Custom Bots in the best
manner, and at the most reasonable cash prices.

Also, will repair Ladies', Gents' and Children's Shoes, at short notice.

Quincy, April 17. 1f

Don't Fail to Call

D. B. STETSON'S

AND EXAMINE
HIS LARGE STOCK OF

BOOTS AND SHOES

Some Extra Bargains.

Quincy, April 3. 1f

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable,
healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded gray hair is soon restored
to its original color
with the gloss and freshness of youth.
This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness
often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed,
or the glands atrophied and decayed.
But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment,
it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair
from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts
long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,
PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS,
LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE $1.00.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

FOOTZ'S

MIXTURE.

The Great External Remedy.

For Man and Beast.

It will Cure Rheumatism.

The reputation of this preparation is so well established, that little need be said in this connection.

ON MAN it has been found to cure PAINFUL
NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, CONTRACTING MUS-
CLES, STIFFNESS AND PAINS IN THE JOINTS,
STITCHES IN THE SIDE OR BACK, SPRAINS,
BRUISES, BURNS, SWELLINGS, COLIC AND
SPASTIC PRICK, PAINS AFFLICTED WITH RHEU-MATISM can be effectually and permanently cured
by using this wonderful preparation. It penetrates to the nerve and bone immediately on being applied.

ON HORSES it will cure SCRATCHES,
SWELLINGS, POLI-EVIL, FISTULA, OLD RUN-NING SORES, SADDLE OR COLLAR GALLS, SPRAINED JOINTS, STIFFNESS OF THE
STIFFLE, &c. It will prevent HORN AND
WEAK BARK IN MILCH COWS.

I have met with great success in bringing my Mixture within the reach of the Public. I am
daily in receipt of letters from Physicians, Druggists, Merchants and Farmers, testifying to its curative power.

DAVID E. FOOTZ, Sole Proprietor,
BALTIMORE, Md.

June 25-1y cctw

COLGATE & CO'S

AROMATIC

VEGETABLE SOAP,

Combined With Glycerine, is recommended for the use of LADIES and in the KITCHEN.

Plaster and Salve.

GREEN Mountain Balm of Gilead and Cedar Plaster.
Miss Sawyer's Salve, and Tracy's Salve.
For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, May 15. 1f

J. A. McLellan's

LADIES' & GENTS'

Variety Store,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.,
QUINCY,

IS THE PLACE TO GET

BARGAINS!

Hosiery, Gloves, Hdkfs., Cottons, White

Goods, Stamped Aprons, Ladies'

Children's Gents' and

Boys' Hats, Artificial Flowers, Patent Medicines,
Hoop Skirts, Boots, and
Shoes, &c., &c.

We have marked down our goods below
the lowest. We mean sell!

REMEMBER THE PLACE,
J. A. McLELLAN'S,
Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.
Quincy, May 9. 1f

BOOTS & SHOES.

BARTHOLOMEW HERNAN would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy that he has taken the shop recently occupied by

MR. JOHN WILLIAMS,
Over Emerson's Hair Dressing Saloon.

And having secured the services of Mr. Williams,
is prepared to make Custom Bots in the best
manner, and at the most reasonable cash prices.

Also, will repair Ladies', Gents' and Children's Shoes, at short notice.

Quincy, April 17. 1f

Boots & Shoes

Made and Repaired!

THE Undersigned would respectfully announce
to the public that he has moved to the shop
corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.

where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots
and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

NATH'L. NIGHTINGALE.
Quincy, May 8. 1f

Don't Fail to Call

D. B. STETSON'S

AND EXAMINE
HIS LARGE STOCK OF

BOOTS AND SHOES

Some Extra Bargains.

Quincy, April 3. 1f

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is
at once agreeable,
healthy, and effectual
for preserving the hair. Faded gray
hair is soon restored
to its original color
with the gloss and
freshness of youth.
This hair is thick-
ened, falling hair checked, and baldness
often, though not always, cured
by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed,
or the glands atrophied and decayed.
But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment,
it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair
from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts
long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy
lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,
PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS,
LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE $1.00.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

FOOTZ'S

MIXTURE.

The Great External Remedy.

For Man and Beast.

It will Cure Rheumatism.

The reputation of this preparation is so well established, that little need be said in this connection.

ON MAN it has been found to cure PAINFUL
NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, CONTRACTING MUS-
CLES, STIFFNESS AND PAINS IN THE JOINTS,
STITCHES IN THE SIDE OR BACK, SPRAINS,
BRUISES, BURNS, SWELLINGS, COLIC AND
SPASTIC PRICK, PAINS AFFLICTED WITH RHEU-MATISM can be effectually and permanently cured
by using this wonderful preparation. It penetrates to the nerve and bone immediately on being applied.

ON HORSES it will cure SCRATCHES,
SWELLINGS, POLI-EVIL, FISTULA, OLD RUN-
NING SORES, SADDLE OR COLLAR GALLS,
SPRAINED JOINTS, STIFFNESS OF THE
STIFFLE, &c. It will prevent HORN AND
WEAK BARK IN MILCH COWS.

I have met with great success in bringing my Mixture within the reach of the Public. I am
daily in receipt of letters from Physicians, Druggists, Merchants and Farmers, testifying to its curative power.

DAVID E. FOOTZ, Sole Proprietor,
BALTIMORE, Md.

June 25-1y cctw

COLGATE & CO'S

AROMATIC

VEGETABLE SOAP,

Combined With Glycerine, is recommended for the use of LADIES and in the KITCHEN.

Plaster and Salve.

GREEN Mountain Balm of Gilead and Cedar Plaster.
Miss Sawyer's Salve, and Tracy's Salve.
For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, May 15. 1f

THE

ELIAS HOWE

SEWING MACHINES,

Are celebrated for doing the BEST WORK,
using a much smaller needle for the same
thread than any other Machine.

SEWING of all kinds, such as HEMMING,
FELLING, BINDING, CORING, BRAIDING, SEAMING, QUILTING, TUCKING, GATHERING, and FACING, done in a superior manner, on
our Family Machines.

Some valuable improvements have recently been added to these Machines, which render them
superior to those made heretofore. Ladies who use our Family Machines, cannot fail to be gratified and pleased with their operation; as they are not subject to the annoyance and difficulties experienced with most machines.

Experience has proved that there is but one really good Sewing Machine, and that one is the "HOWE" SEWING MACHINE, or more commonly known as the "LOCK STITCH." The advantage of the Howe Lock Stitch consists in its economy
in the use of thread, the elasticity of the seam,
and the fact that it cannot be unravelled.

The Howe Machines are better made: they are free from disagreeable noise: they are much less liable to get out of order; and when out of order, they cost less for repairs.

They combine the greatest simplicity and durability with the greatest certainty in operation,
and for all household Sewing—Shirt, Dress,
Cloak, Vest Making and Tailoring, are THE
BEST MACHINES IN THE WORLD.

The Howe Machines have taken the Premium
for the Best Work whenever they have been in competition with other Machines. This arises from the fact that they are constructed of the best material, and in the best manner.

This Machine can be seen in operation at

N. B. FURNALD'S,
Who is the Agent for Quincy.

Quincy, Jan. 23. 1f

NEW DRESS GOODS

At E. CLAPP'S.

Quincy, May 1. 1f

OYSTER SALOON.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Joseph T. French
his good will and interest in the Saloon

84 Hancock Street,

the Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the public that his aim will be to keep a quiet orderly place, and attend to all who may favor him with their patronage.

Families furnished with Oysters, Cooked, and Raw, Pies, Cakes, &c.

Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, and all other kinds of refreshments of the best quality.

The patronage of the public is respectfully
solicited.

Quincy, April 17. STEPHEN TITMAN. 1f

STOVES. STOVES.

E. S. FELLOWS

HAS for sale at his Store on Hancock Street,
THE MOST APPROVED PATTERNS.

— OF —
Cook, Parlor and Office

STOVES.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

ANOTHER THIEF CAUGHT.

A few weeks since the premises of Mr. N. B. Farnald, in this town, were robbed of about twelve hundred pounds of lead pipe, which was safely removed in the night without disturbing any one. Mr. Farnald was determined that such an affair should not again happen, and took precautionary measures by setting a trap for the burglars, and has been quite successful. His trap was a very ingenious one, and worked to a charm.

He left his open wagon in his yard, and placed in it a lot of lead pipe, and after dark each night he fastened to a wheel a rope; the end of which he carried through a slightly opened window into the dining room, near his bedroom, and fastened it to a chair, nicely balanced on two of its legs; upon the chair he rested ingeniously a large tin pan. In getting the pipe easily, the thief was obliged to move the wagon, which was backed up against the L of the house, which would pull the rope that was fastened to it, and overset the tin ware. With this cunning device all arranged, Mr. Farnald retired each night to enjoy "Nature's sweet restorer."

About one o'clock on Wednesday morning he was aroused by the tin pan, and got up to see what was the matter. On going to the window Mr. Farnald perceived some one at the wagon. He woke his son Thomas, a smart active lad of eighteen, and prepared to capture the rascal who had moved, while he and his son were dressing, several hundred pounds of the pipe to the road, preparatory to removing with the help of a team and accomplices. Mr. Farnald intended to wait until the wagon, with the accomplice drove up before he made an attack, but the thief in moving a heavy piece of pipe from the wagon, let it fall accidentally against the house, which so frightened him that he started from the premises on a run, and Mr. F. and son gave chase.

The thief ran through Mr. F's garden into Mr. Spear's, and from there to the street, then down Spear street to Sea street, by the Niagara Engine House, and was going up the hill near Mr. Abercrombie's store as Thomas Farnald caught him. Mr. Farnald fired five shots at the thief while running and his son Thomas seven, one ball passing within a few inches of his head, according to the rogue's account. By the help of neighbors who had been alarmed by the pistol shots, he was taken to the lock-up and there safely secured for trial. The different routes to Boston were searched to capture his accomplice, but no success attended it.

The thief gave several names, the most prominent being William Kendall, and probably belongs in South Boston. He was taken, the same afternoon before Justice Temple of Dorchester, who bound him over in the sum of three hundred dollars, to appear at the September Court, and not being able to give bonds, he was taken to Dedham jail.

HIGH SCHOOL. The reception given on the evening of Friday, the 23d inst by the class which had just graduated from the High School was a very pleasant affair. A large company had assembled at half past eight o'clock, and after about an hour of social intercourse the services of Gilmore's Band were called into requisition, and everybody indulged more or less in the festive dance. At twelve o'clock the party separated, apparently having spent a very pleasant evening.

HORRID. It is pleasant to have good neighbors. It is one of the blessings of this life. Still, we want them to know their place and not be too familiar. Scarcely anything will provoke us more than to have them always intruding. We, therefore, in the deepness of our soul, cannot find words to utter complaint against Mr. Thomas Forsyth, who put an end to a monster he found in his chamber one day last week. Mr. Forsyth resides on the estate of the late Ebenezer Harmon, near the line which divides Quincy from Braintree, and going into his chamber, he found the reptile, and as we said before soon put an end to him. His snake-ship measured nearly four feet and had nine rattles. He also during the same week killed two more rattlesnakes near his premises. One having eleven rattles and the other ten.

The rural life of Mr. Forsyth must be delightful, if he is not, charmed—but for us, we should be inclined to "pull up stakes" and leave. If we couldn't find a buyer, we should be tempted to give the estate to the first man we found who had courage enough to sleep with a big rattlesnake crawling about on the floor. It makes us shiver all over to even think of it.

THE NEW TOWN CLOCK. The fine clock which was purchased and placed in the tower of the Stone Temple under the supervision of Mr. John O. Holden was finally set running on Monday last. And it is hoped and believed that we shall now be favored with as correct time as can be obtained from any clock where the hands are exposed to the elements.

It is from the factory of E. Howard & Co., of Boston, who have the reputation of furnishing the best tower clocks made in New England, if not in this country. Its weight is about 500 pounds. The time part is carried by a block of Quincy Granite, weighing 250 pounds, and the striking part by an iron weight of 900 pounds. Some 60 feet of wire rope and 100 feet of chain are required for the weights.

The cost of the clock exclusive of setting up, repainting and gilding the dials, was $550.00. The dials which are eight feet in diameter with figures eleven inches in length, required between forty and fifty books of gold leaf for their gilding.

Much more time and expense were required in placing the clock in position than was expected on account of the unsafe condition of the wood work of the tower. The total cost will probably be about $1000, which it is hoped time will prove has been well expended.

PIC NIC. A picnic was held last Saturday on the beach near the National Sailors' Home, by the Sunday School organized last winter in Wollaston, and by the people living in the immediate neighborhood. Between seventy and eighty persons were assembled, making quite a turnout for the "suburbs." Mr. H. H. Faxon, kindly furnished the use of his new and commodious sea-shore house, Mr. John Faxon provided boats for the enjoyment of the party in sailing, and Mr. George W. B. Taylor took charge of the conveyance of the people and provisions. An excellent clam chowder was prepared by some of the ladies, and was heartily relished by everybody. After supper, at about six o'clock, all returned home, having had an exceedingly pleasant time.

A CURIOSITY. A monster of a fish, called by some a horse mackerel, measuring eight feet and three inches in length and six feet in girth, came ashore near Mear's, at Great Hill, yesterday morning. He is a wonderful specimen of a fish, and a curiosity which will be sought by many of our citizens.

FIRST CHURCH. Morning and evening services will be held as usual on the first and second Sundays in August; after which the Church will be closed, for cleaning and repairs, until the first Sunday in September.

THE UNIVERSALIST SABBATH SCHOOL Pic Nic announced for next Tuesday, is unavoidably postponed.

DORCHESTER. AQUATIC. A sailing and rowing regatta for Dorchester boats will take place this afternoon at half-past two o'clock. The boats will be divided into three classes, and separate prizes will be given for keel and centre board boats.

A DOZEN BOTTLES of "Grant's Champagne Cider" has been sent to the President. What office is vacant?—Phila. Age.

We would inform the Age that the head partner of the firm is just at this time, we think, too busily engaged in arresting the rogues prowling about the country, to accept of any office. But if he succeeds in finding any good fat bird belonging to the government, that needs "picking," we think, if Mr. Farnald should refuse we could find some one who would attempt to fill the vacancy. We have several professional gentlemen here.

ADAMS'S ORATION. The excellent address delivered by Col. Charles F. Adams, Jr., in the Stone Temple, on the fifth inst. has been published, and is for sale at Southern's Periodical Store, in this place, and by William Parsons Lunt, 221 Washington street, Boston. Those who did not have the pleasure of listening to Mr. Adams, on this occasion, should not fail to procure a copy as they will find it worthy their careful perusal.

CUSHMAN & BROOKS. We always feel a pride in calling public attention to a firm who exhibit marked tokens of energy and enterprise, and who seem to act as though they believed that pleasing the public was one of the first steps to popular favor. This is manifested by no firm in a greater degree than by Messrs. Cushman & Brooks, at their splendid store, Nos. 37 and 39 Temple Place, Boston. No store presents a greater variety of goods, nor a better selected stock. Everything desirable in the dry goods and millinery line can be found at this establishment, of the first quality. Prices are so reasonable that all dickering is out of the question, and as the firm is composed of reliable men, the goods purchased are found to be just what they are represented. See advertisement.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

BOSTON, JULY 29, 1869.

Prospects of Financial Relief.—Money Gambling, vs. Gov. Boutwell; the Secretary plucky.—Public sentiment on the Prohibition Law.—The Government of the State to change hands.—The Franco-American Submarine Telegraph; successful result; Grand Celebration at Duxbury.

The heira of Bostonians from the city still continues; rendering matters very inanimate, and doubtless is one cause of the apathetic state of business. Money, which has been for some weeks past artificially scarce, is gradually becoming easier. The war between the stock and gold gamblers in New York and the Secretary of the Treasury exists; but Mr. Boutwell has so far triumphed, that soon money will be plenty enough to meet all the wants of trade. It would seem that with four hundred millions of greenbacks and three hundred millions of bank bills—making now three times the former currency, there ought to be enough to satisfy all. Neither does the expansion of credit from speculation and over-trade, make the financial market comfortable for borrowers. It may be counter to the principles of political economy as taught by writers on this science, but commercial business in the United States has shown that the more paper money is in circulation the more difficult it is to loan on the part of borrowers, notwithstanding its paradoxical features.

The Liquor question has now fairly taken the political field; and the question of Prohibition or License is to be the main issue at the ensuing State election. The subject is of no little importance who will be the next governor.—Governor Claflin it is now said does not want to go to Congress, and will not decline a re-nomination for his present position. On the other hand, the liberal Republicans do not want him and will not vote for him. The split in the party would render the canvass a triangular one. In that event a certain gentleman of Quincy, if nominated, would be very likely to "take the Governor's chair."

In the mean time, passages at arms are not unrequited among the leading Republican journals of the State, touching the merits or demerits of the Prohibition Liquor Law. The Boston daily papers, if we except the Traveller, are on the liberal side, or anti-Prohibition. The friends of License, argue that Massachusetts is fast losing its high character as a law-abiding community. Lager beer, which is prohibited, flows to-day in trade as free as water. That the law of July 1st, instant, should be enforced on all violators, great and small, until it is repealed, which is not the present case; the small dealers are punished, while large traffickers in the ardent go free. The law itself, says the Boston Journal, "is not adapted to the wants of the people. Very many Prohibitionists, no doubt, believe this to be so. Its operation does not check the tide of intemperance. It drives it from the public eye to thrive and increase in secret corners. Depending entirely upon law to make men temperate, the advocates of the law fold their hands and desert the field where, by moral suasion, they made the most converts in former times." Again it says:

"The Prohibitionists have become aggressive and challenge their opponents. There may be Republicans who counsel delay and advocate a postponement of the struggle, but if it is not met squarely this year, it will come up at a moment when we are not prepared to meet it, and it may come under such auspices that it will be too late for the Republican party to exert the strength which to-day it can put forth." Such are the comments of the ablest Republican papers of the Commonwealth, but the friends of Prohibition will pass them unheeded.

The recent completion of the Franco-American cable is one of the important events of the day. By order of Gov. Claflin, one hundred guns were fired on Tuesday by the First Battery as a jubilation. Appropriate services have also been held in Duxbury, and the community seem well pleased. The French Cable takes its start from Brest, in the north western part of France, and traversing under the waters of the Atlantic to a small island, (St. Pierre,) south of, and near to Newfoundland, owned by the French, and thence to Duxbury, in Massachusetts,—the whole distance over 3,300 miles. The new Cable and workings are said to be superior to the English Cable, and the tariff much cheaper—the transmission per word being one dollar. The line of over-land telegraph from Duxbury to Boston, passing through Quincy, is about forty miles.

Kelly & Leon's Minstrels.—a very excellent company of musical performers, highly recommended by our exchanges—are to appear at the Town Hall this evening. Burlesque opera is their forte, and those who love fun will find it in abundance on the occasion of their appearance in Quincy. See advertisement for particulars.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific.—No. 3.

CHEYENNE, WYOMING TERR., }
July 20, 1869. }

My stay in Omaha was prolonged three days, during which time I saw many things of interest, which time and space will not allow me to mention. A heavy thunder storm came up at daylight each morning. It usually cleared up about 10 o'clock, but the streets were so flooded with water and soft mud, that it was quite uncomfortable getting about until afternoon. The rain has no effect on the river,—it is the melting snow from the mountains, that causes the rise in the summer. A look into this river, whose waters have been flowing down two thousand miles, and destined to flow as far again ere it empties into the Gulf of Mexico; this water, running farther than any other on the face of the earth; this journey, from the frigid through the temperate to the torrid zone, yet confined within a single Republic, fills a reflective mind with wonder and amazement.

Council Bluffs was visited one fine afternoon. They are decidedly of a peculiar formation,—kind of marl shaped, in ridges, like pointed rocks, but completely covered with a bright green sod, without a tree or shrub upon them. The whole forms a picture, which many artists have admired, but as yet have not been able to copy. The Councils that have been held upon them gives them the name, and they, the city, at their base.

First, the surrounding tribes of red men met there. Later, the pale faces came to counsel with them. Lastly, the Mormons, disturbed by advancing Christianity, made plans for crossing the Plains and hiding in the Salt Lake valley. Omaha takes its name from a tribe of Indians that still hang about the vicinity, but are fast fading away. A view from Capitol Hill embraces all the surrounding country. But we must leave Omaha, and start across the Plains. This, many a school boy has done at South Quincy,—but that is not the Plains referred to just now. He can never appreciate the size of this Plain until he rides over it. If he understands the multiplication table, he can imagine something about it, when he knows that we have rode five hundred and sixteen miles on the Union Pacific Railroad, and can just see the end, fifty miles west of us. It appears like a great sea of wild grass, with no whales but buffaloes, no sharks but Indians, no schools of small fry, but prairie dogs in abundance. The rains had damaged the track, but fifty miles away from Omaha, we found a good road. For the first time it appeared to me that we were in a new country. Most of the ranches had plain board houses, ten by fifteen feet square, in one room. Others were built of earth, or turf, with straw thatched roofs. We came to the Platte River, at Elkhorn, thirty miles west of Omaha, and followed it about three hundred miles, keeping it in sight about a third of the time. At Lone Tree, we looked in vain for the trees. Trees will grow if planted two or three feet deep. It appears as if a part of this immense Platte Valley had sometime been a salt sea, and at the abating of the waters, a substance had been left on the earth destructive to vegetation. We first saw the prairie dogs near Fort Kearney. They sat up, or rather stood up, on their hind legs; looked at the train as it passed through their town, doubting whether or not it was best to be afraid. Their shape is much like the muskrat. Their color might be called a sandy cream,—about the size of a large terrier, but they resemble a woodchuck enough to belong to that family. The hills west of Fort Kearney depict, resembling a long line of irregular green snow drifts, made a splendid sunset view. Some animals were mistaken for wolves by some of the company, proved to be jack-saw rabbits. We saw no owls or rattlesnakes living in the same holes with prairie dogs, as many have affirmed. At Plum Creek a battalion of soldiers are stationed. The Indians have been troublesome here, killing a party at work upon the road some time since. The Cheyenne, Sioux, Arapahoe, Pawnee, and other tribes always meet here when going out to war. As night approached, we had a sociable on board of the train. Not gifted in making railway friends, I was involuntarily drawn into it. The circumstances around, the open country, and open manners of Western life, made an opening easy and agreeable. Even the birds sat upon the backs of the cattle, as they lay chewing their cuds by the wayside. Neither was in the least annoyed, but each seemed to enjoy the others' company. The city of Cheyenne, pronounced Shi-en, notwithstanding it is situated on the Plains, is nearly as high as Mt. Washington, the highest peak but one east of the Mississippi. It is a difficult thing to describe one of these mushroom cities of the Plain, to people with Eastern ideas. Take a box of play houses, the older the better, go into a large room carpeted with green, throw the houses from the box, as high as possible, let them come to the floor in their own way, take a stick and mark out some streets at right angles, and you have made a lilliputian Cheyenne. The air is excellent, appetite above par; antelope, deer and small game begin to appear on the tables.

Best of all, we see not in a dream, but in fact, the grand and sublime object of my long pent up desires. Fifty miles towards the southwest, through a perfectly clear, transparent air, that seems to bring it within reach, I see the Rocky Mountains, wrapt in snowy mantles, and expression, bright with the radiance of a morning sun. There is something enchanting about these monumental snow peaks. At every period my eyes go up to meet them. While comfortably preserved from heat in this colossal refrigerator, tempered by the sunlight, with charity I think of friends less favored. Soon I shall be sliding down those glorious snow banks. Won't it be jolly? By starting at 9 o'clock this morning in the Wells, Fargo & Co's stage, we shall be due at Denver, one hundred and thirty miles south, to-morrow at sunrise.

TRAVELLER.
RATE OF TAXES. The Selectmen have been busily engaged for some time on the taxes, and have nearly completed the work. The rate this year will be $17.50 on a thousand. Last year it was $15.00. The year before $17.00.

Pic Nic. The Methodist Sabbath School at the Point had a very pleasant time at Nantasket beach on Tuesday last. Quite a large number was conveyed by Mr. Lapham, and some of the young folks enjoyed private teams.

Mr. C. N. Chandler, who for twenty years kept an eating room at 31 Water street, and was in the business thirty-nine years, died recently at the age of 76 years. He was born in Quincy, and during the war of 1812 served with the Quincy Light Infantry. The demolition of the building where he had served his customers for so many years, and the difficulty of finding another place suitable, combined with an active life and other circumstances, it is thought hastened his death.

All the Ladies praise "Barrett's."

Summary Intelligence.

The proposition for the introduction of Chinese labor into the shoe business of Lynn, meets with general approval from the manufacturers.

A hen in Newport has laid an egg which has upon one side an accurate date of a clock, the entire twelve figures being very plainly defined.

The great tumult in Fairfield, Conn., on Sunday, was caused by a deacon's thrashing his servant girl because she was reluctant to remain at home to cook a nice dinner for him while he went to church to pray for her.

A project is on foot to improve the sewerage of Boston by flowing either fresh or salt water through the sewers and thus keeping them always sweet and clean.

There is some talk of agitating the subject of laying out a twelve hundred acre public park in Dorchester by the city.

Auburn, Me., is erecting this summer five school houses.

The first regular peach train of the season, consisting of fifteen cars fully loaded, arrived Tuesday at the depot in Jersey City.

A citizen in Wayne, Me., has in his family a silver spoon over 200 years old.

On the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific coasts there are 383 light-houses, lighted beacons and floating lights. On the Northern and Northwestern lakes, there are 124; total 507.

The amount of money sent through the mails by postal money orders is increasing about one hundred per cent annually. This year the aggregate foots up thirty million dollars, against sixteen million last year, and it is estimated that the amount will again double next year.

"Barrett's" a substitute for wigs.

The shipments of boots and shoes from Boston have been larger the past week than before in the same period during the past ten years. Upwards of 40,000 cases were shipped principally to the South and West. They were worth nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Colonel J. A. Sawtelle of Lowell has two fig trees growing in his garden, which he brought from New Orleans in 1861, on each of which are over a dozen nearly ripe figs.

Pine apples are cultivated in the peninsula of Florida with the greatest success. They are larger than those grown in the West Indies, and fully equal to them in sweetness and flavor.

The raspberry crop in Maine promises to be an unusually abundant one.

Faded hair yields to "Barrett's."

NATIONAL Mount Wollaston Bank.

ON and after SATURDAY, May 1st, 1869, until further notice, this Bank will not open on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS.

HENRY F. BARKER, Cashier.

Quincy, April 27, 1869.

SUMMER GOODS,

AT RETAIL,

—BY—

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

At their New and Spacious Store,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

Now landing, per Steamer TARIFA, Cases of WHITE GOODS, elegant styles,

LINENS,

Rich FANS,

White FRINGES,

HAMBURG FLOUNCINGS.

French BRILLIANTS,

LINEN LAWNS,

SHIRT FRONTS,

CHEMISETTES,

Thread-lace COLLARs,

Infants' Embroid'ed WAISTs

SCARFS,

NECK-TIES,

Rich RIBBONS,

White & Col'd Lisle Thread GLOVES

English HOSIERY,

Silk Handkerchiefs,

(Extra large sizes.)

For Old Gentlemen.

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

37 and 39 TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

At Our New and Spacious Store,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

Our only place of Business,

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

Will offer at Retail,

1200 dozen Ladies' and Misses' Linge CAMBRIC

HANDKERCHIEFS,

1000 dozen Gentlemen's Linge CAMBRIC HAND-

KERCHIEFS,

And a large Line of Misses' and Children's Hdks.

At very reasonable prices.

Nos. 37 & 39 Temple Place.

The Celebrated

Old Bay State Corsets!

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

Will offer at retail at their new and Spacious Store,

37 and 39 Temple Place,

One Thousand Dozen of the Old Bay State Cor-

sets, all WHOLEBONE, CORDED EDGES,

"White and Colored," all sizes,

At 65 Cents per Pair.

Also, one Thousand Dozen FRENCH GORED

CORSETS, a most perfect fitting Corset, at $1.25

per pair, at retail.

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

(Our only place of business.)

J 31 BOSTON. if

PROPOSALS

FOR COAL!

DEALERS in Coal are invited to bring in to the undersigned on or before SATURDAY, the 31st inst., proposals for furnishing the Town with coal for the ensuing year.

For the various kinds and quantity, enquire of EDWARD B. TAYLOR, }
E. W. UNDERWOOD, }
ENGLISH S. FELLOWS, }
Quincy, July 17. }
J 31-Boston. }
J 31-Boston. }

WANTED!

A SMART capable woman to do general house work. None but experienced help need apply.

Quincy, July 17. JAMES EDWARDS. J 31-Boston.

Salt Grass for Sale.

TEN Acres of Salt Grass of good quality. Apply to JOHN J. GLOVER.

July 24. North Quincy.

FOR SALE.

ONE Large tent, will accommodate 40 persons. Will be sold cheap. Also, 1 good Ice Cream Freezer, nearly new, by JOSEPH AREY, JR.

24 Washington Street, Quincy, July 21.

A Valuable Work.

THE Subscriber has been appointed Sole Agent for the sale of Prof. Parsons' "Laws of Business," for the towns of Quincy, Hingham and Cohasset, and will proceed to canvass for subscriptions immediately. This is a very valuable work and every business man should secure a copy from the Agent, as it is not for Sale at the Bookstores.

Quincy, July 31. GEORGE BAXTER. J 31-Boston.

$5 REWARD.

THE above reward will be paid for the arrest of the person, or persons, who took Flowers, in front of William Spear's Tomb, in the Old Cemetery, in Quincy.

Dorchester, July 31. CHARLES SPEAR. J 31-Boston.

WANTED.

A MIDDLE aged, Protestant woman, to do work in a family of six; good cook, washer and ironer,—to such a one, $5 per week will be paid.

Quincy, July 31. Apply at this OFFICE. J 31-Boston.

To Building Contractors.

SEALED Proposals for furnishing the materials and building a School House in the village of South Braintree, will be received up to SATURDAY, July 31st, 1869.

The plans and specifications may be found at the office of Luther Briggs, Architect, Joy's Building, Boston.

Address proposals, "Ass French, South Braintree, Mass.," write the endorsement, "Proposals for building a School House, in Braintree."

Building Committee. J 31-Boston.

Houses to Let.

SLATED Roof House, 10 Rooms, with Bath, Stable, Carriage House &c. 2 Acres of Land, on North street. Cottage House 6 Rooms, on Brackett Place.

French Roof House, on Linden Place.

HENRY H. FAXON. J 31-Boston.

Old Horse R. R. Sleepers

FOR SALE!

ONE Hundred Cords at $2.00 per Cord. HENRY H. FAXON. J 31-Boston.

TOWN HALL,

ONE NIGHT ONLY.

Saturday Eve. July 31st.

The Associated Artists of Kelly & Leon's Minstrels!

From 720 Broadway, New York, in New Songs, Dances, Burlesques, &c.

Their entertainment will be given unaltered

The Tour Ensemble, in point of elegance will be the same which has established their fame in New York, during their THREE YEARS' stay.

Concluding with the Burlesque Opera,

GRAND DUTCH S!

Admission, 35c. Reserved Seats, 50c.

For particulars see programmes.

Doors open at 7 o'clock; Performance to commence at 8.

CHARLES MELVILLE, Business Manager.

Quincy, July 31. J 31-Boston.

GILMORE'S</

Poetry.

REBUKE.

The world is old and the world is cold,
And never a day is fair to find;
Out of the heavens the sunlight rolled,
The green leaves rustled above my head,
And the sea was a sea of gold.

The world is cruel, I said again,
Her voice is harsh to my shrinking ear,
And the nights are dreary and full of pain.
Out of the darkness, sweet and clear,
There rippled a tender strain;

Rippled the song of a bird asleep,
That sang in a dream of the building wood,
Of shining fields where the reapers reap,
Of a wee brown mate and a nestling brood,
And the grass where the berries peep.

The world is false, though the world be fair,
And never a heart is pure, I said,
And lo! the clinging of white arms bare,
The innocent glow of my baby's head,
And the lips of a childish prayer.

Farmers' Department.

HORTICULTURAL MAXIMS.

Fruitfulness and growth of the tree cannot be expected the same year.

There is no plum tree that the curculio will not take, though any kind may sometimes escape for one year in one place.

Peach borers will not do much damage when stiff clay is heaped up around the tree a foot high.

Pear blight still puzzles the greatest men. The best remedy known is to plant two for every one that dies.

If you don't know how to prune, don't hire a man from the other side of the sea that knows less than you do.

Don't cut off a big lower limb unless you are a renter, and don't care what becomes of the tree after your time is out.

A tree with the limbs coming out near the ground is worth two trees trimmed up five feet.

Shorten it, not lengthen up.

If you had your arm cut off, you would feel it to the heart—a tree will not feel but rot to the heart.

When anybody tells you of a gardener that understands all about horticulture and agriculture, and that he can be hired, don't believe a word of it, for there are no such to be hired. Such a man can make more than you can afford to give him, and if he has sense enough to understand the business he will also have enough to know this.

HOW MANY CABBAGES PER ACRE.

The great cabbage growers about New York city generally calculate upon 10,000 heads per acre, allowing four superficial feet to each plant, which gives a surplus of 3,000 feet for missing plants. We suppose the crop may average five cents a head, giving $500 an acre, which, considering it is a second or third crop of the season, affords a pretty good return.

Cabbages often follow peas, with which radishes or lettuce have been grown; and ground from which an early crop of potatoes has been taken is often planted with late cabbages. The soil for this crop must be rich, and manure used sparingly.

Hog manure is not approved in this vicinity, it is said that it produces "club-footed cabbages." The gardeners prefer rotation for this crop, though we have known cabbages grown upon the same spot a dozen years in succession. Near a city there is no doubt about the profitability of the crop; and we believe it a valuable one for food for cattle and sheep.

It increases the flow of milk but it does not improve the quality. Irrigation is valuable where cabbages are grown, and they require a vast quantity of water as well as manure, with deep tillage and thorough cultivation.—Tribune.

Incidents.

A youth stopping at a village inn, during a thunder storm, said to a bystander, "Why, you have heavy thunder here?" "Well, yes," replied the man, "considering the number of inhabitants."

An irregular apprentice frequently keeping late hours, his master at length took occasion to apply some weighty arguments to convince him of the "error of his ways." During the chastisement, the master exclaimed:

"How long will you serve the devil?" "The boy replied whimpering—

"You know best sir—I believe my indentures will be out in three months."

"Sir, you are a fool!"

"Do you call me a fool, sir?"

"Yes, sir!"

"Yes, sir! I would call any man a fool who behaves as you do."

"Oh! you would call any man a fool. Then I cannot consider it personal. I wish you good morning, sir."

"My dear," inquired a young wife of her husband, on his return from business, "have you seen the beautiful set of walnut furniture which the Smiths have bought?"

"Hem, no, my love, but I have seen the bill, and it quite satisfies me."

"Sambo where's your master?"

"Gone out."

"Has he left off drinking yet?"

"Oh, yes, he leave off two, three times his morning."

Agricultural Warehouse

SEED STORE,

49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row, BOSTON.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood

offer a large assortment of the best

Agricultural Implements, Machinery,

—AND—

TOOLS OF ALL KINDS.

—ALSO—

Garden, Field and Flower Seeds,

Grown by Experienced Seedmen in Europe and America, the quality of which is NOT and CANNOT be surpassed.

SEED POTATOES.

Early Rose, Goodrich, Sebey, Blue, &c.

Fertilizers of all kinds.

Also, Trees, Shrubs, Plants, &c., At Wholesale and Retail, at the Lowest Prices.

All orders and inquiries by mail or express, will meet with prompt attention.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood.

Boston, May 8.

SEED BARLEY.

50 bushels prime Seed Barley. For sale by

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Apr. 17.

PLANTS FOR SALE.

CABBAGE, Cauliflower, Celery, Egg and Tomato PLANTS.

FLORAL and BEDDING PLANTS.

Jacunda Strawberry Plants.

Also, TRELLISES various sizes and patterns.

JOSHUA H. SPEAR,

Quincy, May 1.

SEED POTATOES.

150 bushels Seed Potatoes consisting of Early Goodrich, Sebey, Davis, Seedlings, and Bangor Jackson Winton, at the lowest Cash Prices.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Apr. 17.

Flower Seeds.

SEVERAL new varieties of last years growth. Also, garden seeds. For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Mar. 27.

GRASS SEEDS.

THE Subscriber has just received a choice lot of New Grass Seeds, consisting of Northern Hensle Grass, Red Top and Clover Seeds, which we are selling low for Cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 7.

QUINCY MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a Warehouse, where

EVERY VARIETY

—OF—

Monumental Work,

from the simplest grave stone, to the

Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,

may be seen finished and ready for lettering.

All persons needing such are invited to call and judge for themselves,—they are sure to find in so large a Collection what will suit their taste and requirements.

The character of the place for good work and honest dealings is so well known that it is not necessary to refer to it.

All prices from ten dollars upwards.

SHOP and YARD near South Quincy Depot.

P. McGRATH.

Quincy, April 27.

For New and Beautiful Styles

—OF—

PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.

Quincy, May 1.

SPRING TRADE.

THE Subscriber, having employed a good upholsterer is now ready to accommodate the public, in remodeling old furniture of any description. Housekeepers should send in their work previous to the harvest season, if they would have it attended to, at an early hour and oblige.

JOSEPH AREY.

N. B. New and desirable paper hangings, will be forwarded for Cash.

Quincy, Mar. 29.

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,

At 8 Oak Place, Boston,

From 11 A. M. to 1 P. M., 7 1/2-3 to 4.

GIVEN special attention to Epilepsy; to all Nervous Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.

His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office or, will be sent by mail for the following prices:—

"Epilepsy," 50 cents.

"Inhalation," 25 cents.

"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.

"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.

"Cerebral Health," 40 cents.

"The Reason," 60 cents.

Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says, "The Reason" is adapted to do great good, especially on a subject so much neglected." Wm. H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Girard College, says, "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."

Rev. Dr. Eddy says, "It should be read by all our young men."

Aug. 17 if

USE

AVERILL'S

PAT. CHEMICAL

PAINT.

IVES & MERRITT,

32 Barling Slip,

112-8w New York

Genuine Lykens Valley

Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice at the lowest cash prices.

OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

BOSTON, JULY 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now on hand, the Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co. Quincy, July 6.

LUMBER, COAL, WOOD, BRICK, &c.

THE Subscribers have just received at all descriptions, consisting of:—

Spruce Timber and Joist,

Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,

Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,

Sheathing and Finishing Boards,

Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Burnside red and white ash coal, George's Creek Cumberland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick.

Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold Cheap, for Cash.

ORDERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo. H. Locke, Washington M. French, Joseph W. Leonard, or Post Office Box, 129, will receive prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.

Quincy, Aug. 22.

M. HARTNEY'S

Quincy and Boston Express.

New Arrangement.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Leave Boston at 2 1/2 o'clock, P. M.

ORDERS in Quincy may be left at the following places, at the Stores of C. T. Reed & Co., and Daniel Baxter & Co.

Office in Boston, 42 North Market Street, Order Box, 29 and 30 South Market Street.

Business attended to with care and responsibility.

Quincy, May 25.

WILLIAM GARRITY'S

(Formerly Fernald and Shea's)

Quincy & Boston Express

THE Subscriber having purchased the good will of the Route recently managed by Messrs. Spear & Hamond is prepared to convey Freight and Passengers between Quincy and Boston, and hope by strict attention to business to merit a share of public patronage.

N. B.—Furniture Moved and Parties accommodated at short notice.

Leaves Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 2 1/2 P. M.

Quincy—Orders may be left at Whitney & Nash's, John A. Wood's, W. Abernethy's, and at the Stable, Boston—3 Washington Street, 4 1/2 South Market St.; 2 Faneuil Hall Square, Quincy, Sept. 7.

JOHN RING,

WILL faithfully attend to the delivery of any packages entrusted to him, and

Leave Quincy at 8 1/2; Boston at 2.

Orders left at his residence on Summer Street, or at E. Clapp's Store, in Quincy, or 2 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt and careful attention.

Quincy, May 18.

EATING, BILLIARD

—AND—

BOWLING SALOON.

Goodnow's Building, Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

THE Proprietor having newly arranged his Apartments, and made extensive additions to his stock and fixtures, is now providing for every facility for furnishing his patrons with the best Market articles, his aim will be to keep a first class Eating, Billiard and Bowling Saloon, where refreshing beverages, Cigars, Tobacco, &c., &c., can be had.

Also, Parties and Families, furnished with Oysters, cooked and raw, Pickled Cakes, Lamb Tongues, Pies, Fruit, and Oyster Chowders, Oyster and Green Salad, and all the delicacies of the season.

Fruits of all kinds in their respective seasons. Confectionery, Nuts, and all kinds of refreshments of the best quality!

The public is respectfully invited to give him a call!

OTIS ROGERS, Proprietor.

Quincy, Sept. 5.

Ellis' Iron Bitters.

HAVING used your Iron Bitters in my practice, I can testify to its superior tonic properties for invigorating the appetite and promoting digestion. I can unhesitatingly recommend it in cases of general debility and dyspepsia, and in conditions of the system requiring the use of a ferruginous tonic. Its agreeable flavor must recommend it to all.

Yours, Respectfully

CHAS. S. GAUNTT, M. D.

Professor in the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

For sale by Druggists generally. M 15 if

THE IMPROVED

HOME

Sewing Machines.

NICHOLS & BALDWIN,

125 WASHINGTON STREET,

BOSTON.

The Great External Remedy.

For Man and Beast.

It will Cure Rheumatism.

The reputation of this preparation is so well established, that it need not be said in this connection.

MAN has never failed to cure PAINFUL NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, CONTRACTING MUSCLES, STIFFNESS and PAINS IN THE JOINTS, STITCHES in the SIDE or BACK, STRAINS, BRUISES, BURNS, SWELLINGS, CORNS and FROSTED FEET, Persons affected with Rheumatism can be effectively and permanently cured by using this wonderful preparation: it penetrates to the nerve and bone immediately on being applied.

ON HORSES it will cure SCALES, RINGS, SWELLINGS, POLLS, FLEA, OLD RINGS, NING SORES, SADDLE or COLLAR CANKERS, STRAINED JOINTS, STIFFNESS OF THE STOMACH, and all the ailments of the HORSE and WEAK BACK IN MILCH COWS.

I have met with great success in bringing my Mixture within the reach of the Public. I am daily in receipt of letters from Physicians, Druggists and Merchants and Farmers, testifying to its curative powers.

DAVID E. FOUTZ, Sole Proprietor.

BALTIMORE, Md.

June 25-1y

cc1w

J. A. McLellan's

LADIES' & GENTS' Variety Store,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts., QUINCY.

IS THE PLACE TO GET BARGAINS!

Hosiery, Gloves, Hdkfs., Cottons, White Goods, Stamped Aprons, Ladies' Children's Gent's and Boys' Hats, Artificial Flowers, Patent Medicines, Hoop Skirts, Boots, and Shoes, &c., &c.

We have marked down our goods below the lowest. We mean sell!

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

J. A. McLELLAN'S,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.

Quincy, May 9.

BOOTS & SHOES.

BARTHOLOMEW HERNAN would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy that he has taken the shop recently occupied by

MR. JOHN WILLIAMS.

Over Emerson's Hair Dressing Saloon.

And having secured the services of Mr. Williams, is prepared to make Custom Boots in the best manner, and at the most reasonable cash prices.

Also, will repair Ladies', Gents' and Children's Shoes, at short notice.

Quincy, April 17.

BOOTS & SHOES

Made and Repaired!

THE Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has moved to the shop corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.

where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

NATHL. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, May 8.

Don't Fail to Call

—AT—

D. B. STETSON'S

AND EXAMINE

HIS LARGE STOCK OF

BOOTS AND SHOES

Some Extra Bargains.

Quincy, April 3.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor ever any before so universally adopted into use, in all countries and among all classes, as this mild and pleasant medicine.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

It is a more reliable and far more effective remedy than any other.

</

HOUSES,
OLD FURNITURE,
RES. STORE BUILDINGS,
FARM RISKS,
any of the safer class of hazardous terms.

ND, JAN. 1st, 1869,
$10,000.00,
LOSSES PAID.
N. W. MUNROE,
Treasurer.
J. HOWLAND, Secretary.

uth & Braintree
MUTUAL
Insurance Co.,
WEYMOUTH.
BUILDINGS AND OTHER BUILD-INGS EXTRA HAZARDOUS,
at as low rates as any other

Risk August 1, 1868,
$1,500.00.
$17,000—$5,000
N. L. WHITE, President.
J. L. WHITE, Secy.
Aug. 1. 1y

S. STOCKING,
Dental Surgeon,
personal attention to the setting of Gold, Silver, and Vulcanized Rubber, will be extended to ignorant boys or to be indifferently executed. Every to be perfectly and to be used —Half cash at the time of finishing balance when, by use, the work is their work with will also be furnished fitted over, or other material, at a price considerably cheaped at the present day.
the use of Gas or Sulphuric Ether.
most Row, (opposite Boston, A 24th

ctions for the Hair.
Holt's, Sade's, Norbail's, Clane,
s, Ball's, Mat her's, Chivaliers', Bistret's and various other kinds.
Mass. R. HAYDEN,
Washington Square.

NO REWARD that will cure APLEZANZA
in the THROAT.
WHOOPIING COUGH,
CAPTIVE COUGHS,
Cough Balsam!

RE MILLION BOTTLES.
and not a single instance of it.
We have in our possession Certificates, some of them from PHYSICIANS in their practice, and given it the every other compound.
Not Dry up a Cough, LUNGES IT,
the patient to expectorate freely Cure Tiedling in the Throat. has often completely cured the Cough, and, yet, though it is so in its operation, it is perfectly purely vegetable. It is very sore, and may be administered
1y

GROUP we will guarantee it taken in Season.
should be without it.
much of all, it being the cheapest one extant.
sides, ordinary 4 oz. and
H FAMILY BOTTLE.
times as many, will be found at all Drug Stores.

CLARK & CO.,
New Haven, Conn.
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
COE'S
EPSIA CURE GREAT REMEDY
for all diseases of the TOMACH,
the inventor of Coe's valuable while experimenting for his own Cramp in the Stomach for him, is yielded to nothing but elaborately testimony from various parts encourage us to believe there is aid by a disordered stomach, it cure.

endorse and Use it!
the testimony of its efficacy, ations we receive tidings of cures
performed.
It is sure to cure.
One dose will cure.
It has cured in hundreds of cases.
Dissolves?
It cures in thirty minutes.
Stomach?
It corrects at once.
Fever?
It stops immediately.
Rapidly yields to a few doses.
Will be changed with half a bottle
EFFECTLY HARMLESS.
GREATEST SUCCESS is owing to by Assisting Nature
her way in the system.
in the United States with it at CLARK PER BOTTLE.

CLARK & CO.,
New Haven, Conn.
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
by

THE Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Granite St.

TERMS—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satisfactory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. Warren's Cordial.
Dr. Warren's celebrated Pulmonic Cherry
Cordial for Consumption, Bronchitis,
Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup,
&c. For sale by Quincy Mar. 27. 1y

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Granite St.

TERMS—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1y
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. 1y
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1y
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. 1y
FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y
NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS,
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 8. 1y
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1y
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATS can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1y

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1y
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1y
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Rundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe

Those girls! There was such a shout of merry laughter behind her. It pealed forth upon the startled ears of Miss Polly and Mr. Wilkins, frightening them nearly into fits. When they recovered a little, there were Tom and Mollie on one side, and Jane and Mr. Ellis on the other, the last two looking very surprised.

In an instant Mollie's arms were round her aunt's neck, and she was crying.

"We'll say you are the dearest auntie in the world. Be good, now."

"Be magnanimous," put in Tom.

"You see we've all found each other out."

"And all are equally culpable," subjoined Mr. Ellis.

Miss Polly Whitehead was a wise woman. I shouldn't have written about her if she hadn't been wise. And when she saw that Fate favored her desires she did not try to undo the doings of Fate. For reasons of her own she had determined to try her fortunes matrimonially; and when she saw that her niece inclined thus also, she agreed to let them go along with her for shipwreck or prosperity; remembering that if she did otherwise her example and precept would contradict each other. Oh, acute Miss Polly! Thus it happened that three weddings took place in one day.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 7, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

MORE ROGUES CAUGHT. Mr. N. B. Farnall who has been quite successful of late in catching thieves, through energy, perseverance and zeal succeeded in bringing two more to justice the present week, and deserves the thanks of our community, and all good citizens generally. Mr. Farnall learned some facts from William Kendall, alias Ivanhoe, whom he arrested last week, concerning the pipe which was stolen from his premises on the 27th of June last. After several days of careful search he succeeded in finding his lead pipe in a junk store on Ruggles street Roxbury; and traced out two individuals as having been connected in stealing and selling the same. About three o'clock Monday morning last, by the aid of Officer Murdough, of the Fifth Police, Boston, he succeeded in arresting Barrett Ivanhoe, brother to the one he arrested last week, and Andrew Rodenheaver, a step-father to the young rogues. The former was brought before Justice Temple of Dorchester, and was bound over in the sum of $300 to await the action of the Grand Jury for Norfolk County, the latter was brought before Associate Justice Hard, of Boston, and held in $500 for trial in the Superior Court.

THE WEDDING. One of these pleasant reminiscences in the matrimonial journey of this life was enjoyed at the residence of Mr. N. Ebenezer Glover, on Edwards Hill, by a large gathering of relatives and friends, on Tuesday evening last. The arrangements for this festive celebration of their tenth wedding day had been made a perfect secret to Mr. and Mrs. Glover. They had each been lured away from home, on the above named evening, by some of their friends who had the matter all nicely arranged, and the reader can judge of their surprise when they each returned separately—one twenty minutes or more before the other—to find their house lighted and crowded with visitors; a large table bountifully spread with all the good things that so tempt the appetite, and another table loaded with sin ware. It was for a few minutes somewhat trying to each of them—as much so perhaps, as when the Reverend gentlemen had tied the hymeneal knot ten years before.

Mr. Glover, after regaining his courage a little, and glancing around—his eye meeting his nearest and dearest friends, particularly his daily associates in the shop, who had taken a very active part in making this one of the happiest events of his life, soon began to feel at home. Still, there was one old masked gentleman, with a huge cane and a long bathing suit on, who seemed to all outward appearance, a perfect stranger to those present, but alas, his mask dropped and lo and behold, whose face did they see but "Uncle William." After partaking of the supper so nicely spread, and enjoying the festivities of the evening the assembly gradually retired much pleased with the enjoyments of the occasion.

ACCIDENT. As Dr. Morrison, wife and daughter were riding near Bracketts wharf, on Sunday afternoon last, his horse became frightened by some goats, reared and turned so short as to overset the buggy, throwing its occupants suddenly to the ground. The Doctor was picked up and carried into Mr. Joshua H. Spear's, and it was thought at first, that he was fatally injured, but was soon restored to consciousness. His wife had an arm broken, and his daughter fortunately received only a few slight bruises.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

Summer Sickness; proper Diet the prophylactic. The Southern States Elections; turning of the political tide. The progress of Civil Liberty in Europe; France, England, Canada. The Fenian movement for Liberty.

BOSTON, AUGUST 5, 1869.

Matters very tranquil here through the week. In consequence of the frequent mutations in the weather and the absence of prudence in diet, there is much sickness in the city, and the medical profession are quite busy. The markets were never more flooded than now with all sorts of articles from the vegetable kingdom; some of a doubtful quality as to wholesomeness in diet. The indulgence of improper food in dog-days is always hazardous; throwing the system, as the physicians say, into an abnormal state.

The elections in many of the Southern States are coming off this week, generally favorable to the Conservative party, and following in the wake of the recent election in Virginia.

It is now said that the test oath will not be required of the members elect of the Virginia Legislature, and that General Grant will oppose the advice of his whole Cabinet, if necessary, before he permits it to be applied. It is certain that some of his constitutional advisers favor applying the oath. It is surmised that the coming election in Tennessee will result in the return of ex-President Johnson to the United States Senate; if so, won't there be in that august body political melody in abundance? The result of the October elections in Ohio and Pennsylvania is very doubtful.

While the political phase is changing in our own country, and a more liberal policy inaugurated to restore the Southern States to the Union, there are indications of commotion of a serious character with many of the European Powers. The Emperor of the French is making great political concessions to the Corps Legislatif. The Senate of France, a servile body, appointed by the Emperor, will not oppose the Imperial wishes. With the newly recovered privileges of the Legislative authority, there will be but three things wanting to make the return of France to a complete liberal form of government, viz: Responsibility of the Ministry; real freedom of the press, and the liberty to hold public meetings for discussion. These changes seem to go on peacefully, but it is a revolution after all. The French Emperor by yielding to this progressive tide to a democratic foundation of government may close his reign in peace, but it will be the end of Imperial dynasty. France ultimately, like England, and we hope Spain, will become a republic. The heaven is working in all the enlightened European nations of Europe for greater progress in democratic socialistic ideas. Hereditary power, titled nobility, and the divine right of kings, are melting away by the sunshine of a higher civilization. The Canadians wish a divorce, a vinculo, from Great Britain. And the Fenian movement is still looking with hope for the restoration of the Emerald Isle to the sisterhood of nations as a free and independent people. May God speed the day when Ireland shall be forever free from the power and tyranny of her greatest foe on earth, the British Empire.

TOWN MEETING. The adjourned meeting, to hear the report of the Committee, and to take such action as the town may think proper, in relation to the bequest of the late Dr. Woodward, is to be held on Thursday next. The action of this meeting is of importance to our citizens, and all voters should make it a business to be present and take some action in the matter.

GOOD ACCOMMODATIONS. Mr. T. J. Danbar, proprietor of the steamer Massachusetts, has placed a large coach on this end of the route this week, for the accommodation of passengers to and from our village and the boat; and has secured Mr. Paul W. Newcomb as driver. The coach will leave Geo. L. Baxter's store three times each day; carrying passengers to the boat and giving them a through ticket to Boston for twenty-five cents. This is cheap and pleasant travelling, and will be much enjoyed by those who will leave their work a few moments occasionally to partake of the comforts and pleasures bestowed so freely upon them.

The young gentlemen who block the entrance to the Post Office, nearly every pleasant evening, would do a great favor to the citizens generally, and to the ladies in particular, if they would take a little pains to keep the passage way clear. The limited space on the steps, or from the door to the office, will not admit of a group of ladies or gentlemen, stopping to talk, and makes it very unpleasant to those who are obliged to crowd themselves in or out.

"Barrett's" makes the hair silky.

For the Patriot.

"Where there's a Will there's a Way."

A writer in the Patriot, has expressed his surprise that the citizens of this town should have hesitated as to accepting the donation under the will of the late Dr. Woodward. I suppose it was because many like himself neglected to attend the meeting, and because the town has not been accustomed to such gifts and did not know how to behave.

Whatever may be thought of the restrictions under the will, or the legalities of it, the town has nothing to do with either, but to avoid violating the former, and to graciously accept all that it may receive by the latter; for however the wishes of the donor may be thwarted, the generosity and public spirit manifested is worthy of all praise, and a vote should be placed upon the records showing a proper appreciation.

There is one feature of the will which it is to be hoped will be initiated hereafter, that by which the property is placed in the charge of Officers of the town, who are annually elected, thus being held accountable; instead of Trustees for life, with power to appoint successors. The effect of this last course is now to be seen in the "Adams Temple and School Fund." The Trustees appointed by John Adams were the wealthiest and most public spirited of our townsmen. The descendants of almost every one of them could today erect the building proposed without feeling the cost of it; and yet, though the life-time of a generation has passed, one is reminded every time he looks at the Hancock Lot, of the "Sluggard's garden."

"As I passed by this morning, I saw the wild briar. The thorns and the thistles grown broader and higher."

Our citizens will expect the present board of public officers, or others as active as they, to see to it that the advantages to be derived from this donation will be so expeditious that some now living will reap the benefits.

TOTAL SOLAR ECLIPSE. There will be, according to scientific prophecy, a remarkable eclipse of the sun to-day. The interposing moon will totally obscure the sun's rays to a large number of the earth's inhabitants, while we of the Bay State will find three-fourths of its disk darkened near its setting.

The eclipse will be observed as total along a track one hundred and forty miles wide, and over six thousand miles long. This track begins in Siberia, traverses Alaska, British America, Montana, Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, and North Carolina, ending in the Atlantic Ocean. We in New England shall not be privileged with the sight of total obscuration, but here the partial eclipse begins at twenty-four minutes past five, and ends at sunset.

We learn that Mr. Edward Southworth, of this town, has been promoted to the position of Sub-Master in the Rice School, at the South End, Boston, with an annual salary after the first year, of $2,400. This school has been organized recently, and will occupy their new house next term. We congratulate Mr. Southworth, and also the school, on his appointment.

POST MORTEM BENEVOLENCE. A contemporary draws the contrast between the wisdom of such men as George Peabody, Peter Cooper and Alexander H. Stewart of New York, in making their donations for charitable purposes during their lifetime; and the folly of those who undertake similar benefactions by will, is continually receiving fresh illustrations from experience. The last instance is the quarrel now going on over the McMillen legacy in Cincinnati. McMillen left to that city property valued at $800,000, for the purpose of founding a first class university. Two years or more have elapsed, but nothing has been accomplished except the accumulation of income. Now the Trustees ask the City Council for permission to use temporarily the Orphan Asylum building on Elm street, but the Council refuses, and so the enterprise is at a standstill. If McMillen had attended to the business himself, while he was on earth, instead of delegating it to Trustees after his death, he could have had the institution in full operation long ago, and enjoyed the pleasure of witnessing its fruits; but at present it looks as though the money will be as good as wasted.—Journal.

Candidates from the Second (Hon. Oakes Ames) Congressional District, for Admission to the Naval Academy at Annapolis will present themselves for examination, at the Court House, Court Square, in Boston, on Wednesday, August 18th, at 10 o'clock A. M.

The United States public debt statement for August, shows a decrease during July of $7,433,744, and a decrease since March 1st, 1869, of $43,896,523.

Prove "Barrett's" by trying it.

For the Patriot.

DR. WOODWARD'S WILL.

Much controversy and much conversation has arisen in relation to the will of Dr. Woodward, wherein he gives to the town of Quincy certain lands, for the purpose of founding a school for young ladies. There are few bequests that are received with more favor than those which are for the support and maintenance of Institutions of Learning. Education has placed Massachusetts in the foremost rank of all the States, and new communities, over our wide spread union, look to her practice and example, for their guide in the direction of their schools and colleges of art, literature and science.

There are some circumstances attending the bequest of Dr. Woodward, that has caused our people to hesitate at its acceptance, which are well worthy serious consideration.

In the first place, there is a question as to the title of the estate bequeathed, growing out of the fact that the property was conveyed to him, in trust, for certain specific purposes—but soon after his acceptance of the trust he conveyed away this estate, (and doubtless with all due formalities,) to a gentleman now deceased, who on the same day reconveyed by a quit claim deed, back to Dr. W., seemingly free from the trust—but the conveyance and reconveyance is so manifestly an endeavor to get the fee of the land into his possession, that there can be but little doubt that the Supreme Court would set aside both conveyances, and the property would then belong to the heirs of Thomas Greenleaf, who created the trust, and Dr. Woodward, not being an heir, could neither convey, or devise, or bequeath it.

As the town of Quincy would not desire to enter into a legal controversy, in relation to an estate, which if they possessed, might be a burden upon their hands, they will doubtless consider well before the bequest is accepted.

The question has been mooted, whether if the title to the estate were perfect in Dr. Woodward, whether, on account of its effect upon our High and Central Schools, it were better or not to decline the gift.

There are certain restrictions in the bequest—such as the one confining it to young ladies between the ages of ten and twenty, and that of the pupils being born in the town of Quincy, which are somewhat objectionable as by the latter clause certain classes are excluded from the institution. And there is also the question whether if such an institution should be inaugurated, it would not draw young girls from our Schools to such an extent that their usefulness would be much impaired and the number of pupils much contracted. As it is desirable to keep up the character and standing of our public Schools, it would be well to consider the effect of these private and exclusive Seminaries.

It has been said that corporations have no souls—which may be true—but the people that compose them have, and although there may be some individuals who from their wealth and position in society, do not need the consideration of the community, yet there are none so high who would reject the kind feelings of those with whom they have ever been connected in friendly association. There is in the will of Dr. Woodward, in relation to the estate bequeathed to the town, an evidence of vindictive malignity which has been rarely if ever equalled. The passions that stir the human bosom, should assuredly pass away with the passing breath; but here is a will drawn up by the testator, when the shadow of death was upon him, that in no way abated one jot or one tittle, the hatred that crowded his mind when in the strength and vigor of his days. Will the town of Quincy by accepting the bequest keep alive, and assume for itself those embittered feelings, that should have gone down with the testator to the grave?

A CITIZEN.

The popular and well managed Boston Museum, first in the field, will open for its next regular dramatic season on Monday, August 9th.

Coal is arriving at Boston in large quantities. During the first three days last week about 30,000 tons were received, but owing to the high prices at which it is held, consumers are backward in laying in their winter's supply.

RANDOLPH. The amount raised by taxation in Randolph this year is $52,000. Rate of taxation $17.00 on a thousand. The valuation of the town has increased about $140,000 during the past year.

The streets of this place were lighted for the first time on Thursday evening of last week. The services of the two bands were called into requisition in honor of the event.

No long stories about "Barrett's."

Summary Intelligence.

Paris undertook to get up a subscription to purchase a house for Jeff Davis. The amount raised was $130.

Slippery elm bark is peeled in Minnesota in large quantities and shipped to eastern druggists.

The conscience money fund in the United States Treasury now amounts to over $80,000.

"Idlewild," the home of the late N. P. Willis, has been sold for $35,000.

The Jubilee bell drum has been let for an orchestra boarding-house.

The crop reports from Wisconsin and Iowa continue to predict abundant, and with one exception, early harvests. Corn is a little backward, but if the frosts hold off, this crop will be large.

A young lady of Logan County, Ky., advertises for sealed proposals for her hand and heart.

Myriads of grasshoppers have already appeared in the southern part of Mo.

A Georgia boy twelve years old, perfectly well and healthy in other respects, is able to breathe only about four times a minute. His case puzzles the doctors.

A lady recently visited Mount Holyoke who was ninety-four years old, and her previous visit had taken place seventy-nine years before, when she was a girl of fifteen.

The newest thing under the sun in an agricultural way is grafting potatoes which is done by cutting the eyes out of one and inserting those of another in their place.

The St. Louis authorities have reconsidered their former action, and have decided that the Artesian well shall be sunk to the depth of 4000 feet, if necessary before being abandoned. Its depth is now 3836 feet.

A young gentleman of Logansport, Ill. has used a barber for spoiling his moustache in trying to color it, and laid his damage at $50.

An Austrian editor has been fined five florins for calling Andrew Johnson the most corrupt scoundrel in America.

A master builder presumed there are three thousand carpenters alone in the city of Chicago, Ill., out of work.

The Georgia rice crop now bids fair to be the best that has ever been grown in that section.

Alexander H. Stephens is not recovering from his late illness very rapidly. He has not been out of the house since February, and before that was carried out with great difficulty. He is still daily engaged on the second volume of his book, and his friends think that the labor retards his recovery.

Handkerchiefs are now made in New Orleans from the ramie plant. The texture is finer than silk.

"Barrett's" makes coarse hair fine.

A company has been formed in New York to bring fresh meat to that market from Texas. The entire hold of their vessels is lined with a non-conducting felt; and by chemical means a cold below the freezing point will be kept up.

It is stated that over twelve millions of gold coin are locked up in the vaults of the United States Assistant Treasurer in San Francisco to the great injury of the commercial interest of the community.

One peculiarity of the present summer is the coolness, almost coldness of the nights. Watchmen and others whose business keeps them out of nights say they have not known such a summer in that respect for many years.

PERSONAL. Mr. Joseph F. Torrey of St. Louis Missouri, arrived in this town one day this week. He is in hopes by spending a few weeks in this, his native place, to recover in some measure his health, which has been much impaired by the care of a large periodical business, which he has been very successful in carrying on, in this Western city.

PERSONAL. One of our solid men, William S. Morton, Esq., and his favorite dog, were weighed on the new Standard Scales a few days since. Their united weight was four hundred and twenty-eight pounds—the dog weighing a little over one hundred.

General Sylvanus Thayer of the class of 1807, founder of the Thayer School at Dartmouth College, has just given the academic department of the college the sum of $1000 for the foundation of two prizes, to be conferred annually on members of the Sophomore class.

The first prize is $40 and the second $20, both to be given for excellence in analytical geometry and calculus.

"Barrett's" Famous Hair Restorative.

NATIONAL Mount Wollaston Bank.

ON and after SATURDAY May 1st, 1869, until further notice, this Bank will not open on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS.

HENRY F. BARKER, Cashier.

JOSEPH A. REY, JR.

Old Horse R. R. Sleepers

FOR SALE!

ONE Hundred Corals at $2.00 per Cor.

HENRY H. FAXON.

SUMMER GOODS,

AT RETAIL,

—BY—

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

At their New and Spacious Store,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

Now landing, per Steamer TARIFA, Cases of

WHITE GOODS, elegant styles,

LINENS,

Rich FANS,

White FRINGES,

HAMBURG FLOUNCINGS.

French BRILLIANTS,

SHIRT LAUNES,

SHIRT FRONTS,

CHIEFSETS,

Thread-lace COLLARS,

Infants' Embroid'ed WAISTS

SCARFS,

NECK-TIES,

Rich RIBBONS,

White & Col'd Lisle Thread GLOVES

English HOSIERY,

Silk Handkerchiefs,

(Extra large sizes.)

For Old Gentlemen.

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

37 and 39 TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

At Our New and Spacious Store,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON,

Our only place of Business,

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

Will offer at Retail,

1500 dozen Ladies' and Misses' Linen CAMBRIC

HANDKERCHIEFS,

1000 dozen Gentlemen's Linen CAMBRIC HAND-

KERCHIEFS,

And a large Line of

Misses' and Children's Hdkfs.

At very reasonable prices.

Nos. 37 & 39 Temple Place.

The Celebrated

Old Bay State Corsets!

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

Will offer at retail at their new and Spacious Store,

37 and 39 Temple Place,

One Thousand Dozen of the Old Bay State Cor-

sets, all WHOLEBONE, CORDED EDGES,

"White and Colored," all sizes,

At 65 Cents per Pair.

Also, one Thousand Dozen FRENCH GORED

CORSETS, a most perfect fitting Corset, at $1.25

per pair, at retail.

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

(Our only place of business.)

J 31 BOSTON. if

GILMORE'S

Self Sealing Tin Cans!

— ALSO —

ALL KINDS OF

GLASS FRUIT JARS.

For sale by

C. F. PIERCE & CO.

Quincy, July 31.

if

Salt Grass for Sale.

TEN Acres of Salt Grass, of good quality.

Apply to JOHN J. GLOVER.

July 24.

North Quincy.

FOR SALE.

ONE Large tent, will accommodate 40 persons.

Will be sold cheap.

Also, 1 good Ice Cream Freezer, nearly new, by JOHN J. GLOVER.

Quincy, July 24.

24 Washington Street.

Quite Nobby,

The perfumed Scarf may be had of

C. T. REED.

MUSTER.

THE Sloop Boat John Adams, will run from Quincy to Newburyport, every Saturday during the coming Muster,—leaving the Point at 8 o'clock, A. M., and the beach at 5 1/2 o'clock, P. M.

Quincy, August 7.

GEORGE SPEAR.

Town Meeting.

THE Inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, qualified to vote in Town affairs are hereby reminded that an adjournment of the meeting held on the 15th day of July, last past,—in reference to the bequest to the Town by the late Ebenezer Woodward,—will be held THURSDAY, the 12th day of August, at four o'clock in the afternoon, at the Lyceum Hall in

STER.

John Adams, will run from Southbury Hill, each day, leaving the Point at 5:15 o'clock, and returning at 5:45 o'clock.

GEORGE SPEAR.

Meeting.

Town of Quincy
The Town of Quincy is hereby notified that the meeting of the Town, for the purpose of electing a new selectmen, will be held on Thursday, the 12th of August, at 10 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Town House.

L. GILL, Town Clerk.

VER LINE.

Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Fall River, O. Deck, $4.00.

Quincy, Mass., and New York.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

Leave Quincy at 4:30 P. M., and arrive at New York at 10:30 A. M. the following day.

Leave New York at 10:30 A. M., and arrive at Quincy at 4:30 P. M. the following day.

CROPS IN CALIFORNIA. The San Francisco Bulletin of 10th ult., says California was then at the height of the harvest season. Little hay remained to be cut, but there was considerable grain standing, there not having been enough laborers in the State to cut and gather and thresh the grain as speedily as the farmers desired. The wheat crop, as a whole, has not been so much injured by rust as was expected, but is lighter than it would have been with the full average of rain. Still, the greater breadth sown, and partly on new soil which has given all its vigor to the grain, will, it is now thought, produce an unprecedented aggregate. The fruit crop is ripening rapidly. Plums, peaches, pears, apples and nectarines are abundant and of good quality. The grape crop will be unusually large and of a good quality.

LOUISIANA. The cotton and sugar crop of Louisiana will be the largest and best ever produced there. The cotton crop is so far advanced that the work can do no harm, even though it should make its appearance. The city of New Orleans, Ex-Governor Hahn says, is prosperous beyond the most sanguine expectations. The people generally have ceased to talk about the late war, and a laudable spirit is everywhere prevalent to forget and forgive the past as speedily as possible.

Mrs. Beulah Hunt, of Randolph, celebrated her one hundredth birthday in June. She is still hale and hearty, and able to attend to the active duties of life. She has a large number of descendants, some of whom have nearly reached the foot of life's declivity, and are themselves old and gray headed.

HASTY AND FOOLISH MARRIAGES. The Lawrence Eagle reports seeing two well-dressed young women sitting in the police station of that city, recently, weeping over their two husbands, who were in the lock-up. The girls had been at work at Lowell, and had laid up some money; when two Englishmen who had just arrived, made love to them and married them, after a very short acquaintance. A week spent in travelling and at the beach, one of the girls having loaned her man over a hundred dollars towards the expenses of the trip. The villains had been arrested for bigamy, each of them having a wife living.

THE HOOSAC TUNNEL. The Springfield Republican says the workmen at the east end of the Hoosac Tunnel have unexpectedly struck a vein of soft rock, of the mica slate order, which is quite easily pruned and picked off without blasting. If this sort of rock extends for any considerable distance, the contractors will be saved a great deal of money.

Marriages.

In this town, on the 1st inst., in the Chapel, at the Sailors' Snug Harbor, by Rev. Samuel Kelly, Mr. Leonard Foss of Belmont, to Miss Rebecca P. Basley of Germantown.

On the 2d inst., by Rev. S. Kelley, at the Methodist Parsonage, Quincy Point, Mr. William H. Lord of Quincy, to Miss Hannah W. Gardner of Hingham.

On the 2d inst., by Rev. James E. Hall, Mr. James E. Floyd of Boston, to Miss Emma P. Bates of Milton.

On the 5th inst., by the Rev. C. R. Brainard, Mr. James P. Jones of Quincy to Louisa E. daughter of Mr. John and Mrs. Caroline Merritt of Philadelphia, Pa.

On the 13th ult., by Rev. J. Burnham Davis, of Charlestown, Mr. Francis A. Massey to Mrs. Mary E. Sowerby.

On the 18th ult., by Rev. T. A. Friguglietti, Mr. Thomas Carroll to Miss Mary Sullivan.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 30th ult., Mrs. Mary T. wife of late Mr. Thomas W. Tilden, aged 45 years and 4 months.

On the 5th inst., Robin, son of Mr. Earl and Mrs. Josephine Marble, aged 4 months.

Special Notices.

A CARD. The Superintendent, family and inmates of the Almshouse in this town, would return their sincere thanks to Capt. George Spear, for the pleasant sail he gave them in his fine Sloop John Adams, on Wednesday last. It was a fine treat, very pleasantly enjoyed, and deserves our hearty thanks.

SPEAR PICNIC. The Descendants of the Late Seth Spear will hold their Annual Family Picnic at Houghs Neck, on WEDNESDAY, August 11th, 1869. Per order.

NOTICE. Bills against the Fire Department will not be approved by the Engineers, or paid by the Selectmen, unless ordered by the Engineers.

WASHINGTON M. FRENCH, Chief Engineer.

Twenty-five Years' Practice In the Treatment of Diseases incident to Females, has placed DR. DOW at the head of all physicians practicing with practice a specialty and making time to give a specialty and permanent cure in the worst cases of Suppression and all other Menstrual Derangements, from whatever cause. All letters for advice must contain $1.

Office No. 5 Edmund Street, Boston.

N. B.—Readers to those desiring to remain single must be careful.

Boston, July 1869.

The Legislature of Massachusetts during its six months session, has chartered twelve railroad corporations as follows: the accompanying figures indicating the capital stock of each:—Bedford $150,000; Taunton & Providence, $500,000; New Bedford & Taunton, $350,000; Taunton & Attleboro, $200,000; Hopkinton Branch, $200,000; Monadnock, $50,000; Attleboro & Enfield, $300,000; Amesbury, $150,000; Salisbury, $100,000; Essex Branch, $200,000; Massachusetts Central, $3,000,000, with leave to increase or double that amount; Holyoke & Westfield, $200,000 to $350,000.

The working model of a steamboat, with a new style of propellers, has been exhibited at Bridgeport. The wheels are made like augurs, and cause nothing of the jar to the vessel, nor commotion in the water, that is experienced from the present style of side wheels, and are said to secure greater speed.

DEATH OF AN EMINENT IRON MANUFACTURER. Mr. Increase Robinson, whose death occurred at his residence in Boston on the 10th ult., at the age of 80 years, was the oldest of the six Robinson brothers, who have been extensively engaged in the iron business, in the Old Colony, about half a century. Increase has been connected with the Bridgewater Iron Manufacturing Co. (Lazell, Perkins & Co.) about sixty years; he was also chief director of the Weymouth Iron Company from its organization, and advisorily connected with several other companies. Mr. Robinson was the oldest iron manufacturer in the State, a man of sound judgment and marked ability. He was a native of Bridgewater, where he resided until his removal to Boston, some fifteen years since.—Taunton Gazette.

OLD BUILDINGS! We have those ancient Structures, which Tell of days of yore. They in the mind fill a niche Could not be filled before. They take us back to "good old times," When man for man did live; When for the sake of paltry "dimes" His peace he did not give; When men were honest as the day, And sold at prices fair, Like Richard who gives "Clothes" away, Almost—in Old Dock Square; In that old Store of such renown, The oldest building, now, in town.

For the next 60 days, At less than the Actual COST OF MANUFACTURE.

We defy the World.

LOOK! For $1.00, HEAVY LINEN PANTS.

For $1.25, HEAVY LINEN SACKS.

For $1.00, HEAVY LINEN VESTS.

For $12.00, AN ALL-WOOL BUSINESS SUIT.

For $15.50, A GENUINE SILK MIXED SUIT.

For $7.00, AN ALL-WOOL SACK.

One Thousand all-wool Vests.

For $1.00, Each. The best Linen Finish, Cloth Lined.

PAPER COLLARS, 2 Boxes for 25 Cents.

WILMOT'S, 121 Washington Street, Boston.

$25.00 Reward. STOLEN from my Stable, THURSDAY, June 2nd, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5 P. M.

A new Buggy Breast-plate Harness. It had four Rosettes, some red in front, Buckles all covered. The traces are lined, brown on top, oval shape, and covered with leather. The Trace Buckles were broad and flat outside, a recent style, and longer than the older pattern which are round. Side Straps double and stitched. Check of Bridle straight without nose. The above reward will be paid for the recovery of the Property.

EDWARD TURNER, National Mt. Wollaston Bank.

15,000 Bottles OF—

PRIME OIDER IN Quarts, pints and half pints at wholesale and retail, in cases of one and two dozen, suitable for transportation to any part of the country. Allowance made for our cases and bottles if returned in good order.

Orders left at the Store of N. B. FURNALL, Washington St., or at the house of G. BROOKS, Hancock street, will receive prompt attention.

FURNALL & BROOKS, Quincy, July 10.

Gents' Calf Boots, FRENCH TOP. Steel Shank Seamed by hand, for only $4.00 per pair. Only a few more left.

Grand Excursions.

BOSTON HARBOR, DAILY.

Boston, Hull and Hingham.

The commodious and comfortable STEAMER ROMER, Capt. C. E. ROMER, Good the fastest steamer of the season, will make regular excursions on MONDAY, June 23, 1869. Leave Liverpool wharf, foot of Pearl street, Boston, at 9 A. M., 2:30 and 5:30 P. M. Leave Hingham at 10:30 A. M., and 4 P. M.

Fare, 10 Cents. Stages will connect with the boat for Jerusalem Road, Pleasant Beach, Cohasset, East Marshfield and South Scituate.

SUNDAY, Two Trips down the Harbor. Leaving Liverpool wharf at 10:15 A. M., for a trip outside of Boston Light, stopping at Hull on her return, and leaving Hull at 2:15 P. M. for a trip to Minot's Lodge Light, stopping at Hull on her return, leaving Hull at 5 P. M.

FARE, 50 CENTS FOR THE ROUND TRIP. DAVID CHAPIN, Agent, Liverpool wharf, Boston.

Boston and Nantasket Beach, Four Trips a Day. On and after MONDAY, June 23, 1869, the favorite steamer JOSE STANISH, Capt. E. A. Case, will leave Liverpool wharf, foot of Pearl street, Boston, for Nantasket Beach, at 4:15 and 6:30 A. M., 2:30 and 5 P. M. Leave Nantasket Beach for Boston at 8 and 11 A. M., 3:30 and 5:15 P. M.

Fare, 25 cents each way. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays the steamer will touch at Fort Warren on the 9:30 A. M. trip from Boston, and the 11 A. M. trip from Nantasket Beach, giving passengers an hour to visit this celebrated fortification.

SUNDAYS TWO TRIPS. Leaving Liverpool wharf at 10 A. M., and 2:30 P. M. Touching at Fort Warren going and returning.

Fare, 50 cents each way. Passing all the fortifications in the harbor, and having passengers directly upon the finest beach in the United States, (noted for its safety for surf bathing and its fine hotels,) this boat affords the most delightful excursions ever offered the public in the vicinity of Boston.

J. H. W. D. CHAPIN, Agent.

GOOD GOODS.

LOW PRICES.

I HAVE a lot of Misses Serge Hand Sewed Congress Boots all sizes, Warranted Perfect, which I shall sell at the extremely low price of $1.00 per pair.

Also a few pairs of Ladies' for $1.20 per pair. Ladies' Serge and Kid Baskets and Slippers. Gent's Calf Boots great variety of Styles and prices, and many other goods received the past week which you are invited to call and examine.

C. T. REED, Cor. Hancock and School Sts.

CONFECTIONERY, Fruit, &c., &c. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and former patrons that he has reopened the old stand,

ON FRANKLIN STREET, where he will keep during the warm season a good assortment of Ice Cream, Confectionery, Fruit, &c., &c.

The public are cordially invited.

FREDERICK HARDWICK, Quincy, June 19.

IF YOU WANT A New Hat! Don't fail to call on

E. CLAPP, Quincy, May 1.

TO SCALDS AND BURNS Apply Davis' Pain Killer.

ICE CREAMS. THE Subscriber would thank his friends and patrons for their liberal patronage heretofore, and inform them that he may be found, on and after TUESDAY, June 1st, at the Old Stand, on Temple Street, where he will be happy to furnish Ice Creams to all who wish.

FAMILIES furnished with Cream and Cake at short notice.

PHILIP CARVER, Quincy, May 29.

A NEW STOCK OF GROCERIES. THE Subscriber having leased the store recently occupied by Mr. Lombard, next door to the Orthodox Church, and added a large stock of FRESH GROCERIES, would invite his friends and the public to call at his

NEW STORE, and examine his large stock of West India Goods which have been selected with care, and are warranted to give the best of satisfaction.

A good assortment of Fruit, Meats, Provisions, &c., of the best quality, constantly on hand.

JAMES N. BLAKE, Quincy, June 5, 1869.

SAUCES. H. LONG & Co.'s Celebrated Worcester. Shire and Windsor Castle Sauces.

For sale at ABERCROMBIE'S, Quincy, Oct. 31.

Try the Pacific Collar, The best paper collar yet manufactured.

For Sale by C. T. REED.

COLTON'S SELECT FLAVORS. DELICIOUS, strictly PURE, of the CHOICEST FRUITS. Dr. J. G. Holland (Timothy Tivoli) Springfield, "They are the standard in this vicinity."

"I have tried my sales with them," Grocers and Druggists tell their sales with them. Delicacy, purity, and health, are the well known dealer in groceries, "—CHAS. E. LEBLANC.

221-3m

The Best and Cheapest place to buy CLOTHES WRINGERS OR WASHING MACHINES. Or to get your WRINGERS REPAIRED, is at

H. S. THAYER'S, 42 Elm Street, - - BOSTON. Entrance from the Yard of Wild's Hotel. July 10

QUINCY PATRIOT.

Now is the Time To Save Money!

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF Spring and Summer CLOTHING

TO BE CLOSED OUT AT FROM 25 to 33 per cent less than cost of Manufacture.

We have the largest and most attractive stock of

Men's, Boys' and Yonths' CLOTHING

IN NEW ENGLAND,

Which we are determined to close out at once REGARDLESS OF COST!

GEO. H. RICHARDS, 24 and 25 Dock Square.

Price tells and everybody tells the Price.

Remember! OUR PRICES ARE BOTTOM PRICES.

Geo. H. Richards, The Olden Wooden Building, 24 and 25 Dock Square.

CHEVIOT WALKING SUITS At Richards', 24 & 25 Dock Square.

TRICOT DRESS SUITS At Richards', 24 & 25 Dock Square.

MIXED CASSIMERE BUSINESS SUITS At Richards', 24 & 25 Dock Square.

LINEN DUCK SUITS At Richards', 24 & 25 Dock Square.

WHITE MARSEILLES & DUCK VESTS At Richards', 24 & 25 Dock Square.

SEER SUCK

Poetry.

FIVE O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING.

AS SING BY PAMELA ROSA.

The dew lay glittering o'er the grass,
A mist lay over the brook,
The swallow near her nest forsook,
The snowy blossoms of the hawthorn tree
Lay thickly the ground adorning,
The birds were singing in every bush,
At five o'clock in the morning.

And Bessie the milk-maid merrily sang,
The meadows were fresh and fair,
The breeze of morning kiss'd her brow,
And play'd in her nut-brown hair;
But oft she turned and looked around,
As if the silence scolding,
'Twas time for the mower to whet his scythe
At five o'clock in the morning.

And over the meadows the mowers came,
And merry their voices rang,
And one among them wended his way
To where the milkmaid sang;
And as he lingered by her side,
Despite his comrade's warning,
The old, old story was told again,
At five o'clock in the morning.

The old, old story was told again,
At five o'clock in the morning.

Farmers' Department.

MANURING OLD ORCHARDS.

Old orchards that cannot be conveniently ploughed, and from which an annual crop of grass is taken, require renovating every few years, and the best seasons for doing this work are in the latter part of summer, and early in the spring. If done in early spring the rains carry the fertilizing materials down to the roots, before the hot sun dries up the manure, and if done in autumn the advantage is not so great.

Late fall manuring is objectionable for two reasons; first, it furnishes a lodgment for mice in winter if the coating is made up in part of straw or similar materials, and second, the nutrient is washed out and carried away by the flow of surface water at the melting of heavy snow, or during a copious rain while the ground is frozen.

It is not a judicious plan to spread the greater portion of the manure close around the trunks of the trees. The roots generally extend as far out as the branches, and it is the fibrous roots that take in food for the support of the tree; so the manure should be applied over a surface several feet out from the body, and if a sufficient quantity of manure is on hand, it is better to give the entire field a good top dressing. There is considerable danger in the use of the harrow, to work the renovating material into the soil. The drag is apt to bruise the bark of the trees, and if the teeth are sharp there is danger of mangling the roots which lie near the surface. The better way is to strew some kind of grain in the manure, beneath the trees, and allow the hogs to work up the soil by rooting.

Barnyard manure is not so well adapted to promoting the growth of trees as old loam from the woods, and where the time can be spared for the work, the most successful mode of giving new life to old trees is to remove the sod and apply a wagon load of loam or virgin soil to each tree.

REMEDY FOR THE TURNIP FLY.

S. Edward Todd, in the Working Farmer, proposes to rid the turnip crop of this pest by the use of ashes. He says: "As soon as the young plants can be seen, let a light sprinkling of wood ashes be sifted over the rows. It will not injure the housewife's sieve that is used to sift Indian meal. Ashes cannot be applied satisfactorily with the hand. The aim should be simply to cover the minute leaves with fine ashes sufficient to prevent their being devoured by the turnip fly. When ashes are applied by hand without a sieve, which should be held close to the ground, careless operators are very liable to throw it on so bountifully as to smother the tender plants."

Incidents.

The servant of an army officer one day met a crows who inquired of him how he got along with his fiery master. "Oh, excellently," answered the servant, "we live on very friendly terms; every morning we beat each other's coats; the only difference is he takes his off to be beaten and I keep mine on."

"Doctor, whenever I lean my head on my arm in this way, it pains me terribly. What shall I do?"

"Stop leaning your head on your arm in that way, madam."

A gentleman at a musical party asked a friend, in a whisper, "How shall I stir the fire without interrupting the music?"

"Between the bars," replied the friend.

Two distinguished philosophers took shelter under one tree during a heavy shower. After some time one of them complaining that he felt the rain.

"Never mind," replied the other, "there are plenty of trees; when this is wet through we will go to another."

LOVEJOY'S

CLOTHING HOUSE

DOCK SQUARE,

(Corner of North Street.)

THE CHEAPEST PLACE

TO BUY

GOOD CLOTHING.

J 19.

Em

RICHARD HAILS,

Merchant Tailor!

CORNER OF HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.,

WOULD inform the citizens of Quincy, and vicinity, that he has a large and

CHOICE ASSORTMENT

of goods adapted to the season which he will make to measure in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,

and warranted satisfactory.

Goods sold by the yard, and GARMENTS cut and trimmed.

All Goods warranted.

Quincy, June 19.

tf

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

Merchant Tailor & Dealer

IN

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS

AND VESTINGS,

School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

HAS on hand and is constantly receiving

from the best sources, New and Desirable

Goods adapted to his trade. All who wish first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price, are respectfully invited to call.

N.B. It would be well to remember, that

Cheapness and Dearthness are relative attributes;

they have a relation to the QUALITY of the articles, and that, which does not answer well

the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR

at any price.

Quincy, March 30

tf

QUINCY

MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce

that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a WARE-VARIETY

EVERY VARIETY

—OF—

Monumental Work,

from the simplest grave stone, to the

Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,

may be seen finished and ready for lettering.

All persons needing such, are invited to call

and judge for themselves,—they are sure to find

in so large a Collection what will suit their taste

and requirements.

The character of the place for good work and lowest dealings is so well known that it is not necessary to refer to it.

All prices from ten dollars upwards.

SHOP and LAID new South Quincy Depot.

P. McGRATH.

Quincy, April 27.

tf

THE FLORENCE

Favorite Sewing Machine.

It is excelled by none.

People should not fail to examine these

SIMPLE, DURABLE and elegant

Machines before purchasing any other.

C. S. FRENCH,

Agent for Quincy.

Quincy, May 29.

tf

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,

At 8 Oak Place, Boston,

FROM 11 A. M. TO 1 P. M., 7-1-2-4-10

GIVES special attention to Erysipelas; to all Venereal

Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and

Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.

His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office,

and will be sent by mail for the following prices:—

"Erysipelas," 50 cents.

"Phthisis," 50 cents.

"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.

"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.

"Clinical Health," 40 cents.

"The Boston," 60 cents.

Many of the best Educators have recommended this named book:—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams

College says, "The Boston" is adapted to do great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm. H.

Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Girard College,

says, "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public." Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all young men." Aug. 17

tf

USE

AVERILL'S

PAT. CHEMICAL

PAINT.

IVES & MERRITT,

22 Barling Slip,

712-100 New York.

tf

Genuine Lykens Valley
Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the

above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, the

undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being

the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit

Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co.

Quincy, July 6.

tf

LUMBER,

COAL,

WOOD,

BRICK, &c.

THE Subscribers have just received at their

descriptions, consisting of:—

Spruce Timber and Joist,

Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,

Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,

Sheathing and Finishing Boards,

Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Burn-

side red and white ash Coal, George's Creek Cumberland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick,

Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold Cheap,

for Cash.

ORDERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo.

H. Locke, Washington M. French, Joseph W.

Lombard, or at Post Office Box, 133, will receive

prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.

Quincy, Aug. 22.

tf

M. HARTNEY'S

Quincy and Boston Express.

New Arrangement.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Leave Boston at 2 1-2 o'clock, P. M.

ORDERS in Quincy may be left at the following places, at the Stores of C. T. Reed & Co.,

and Daniel Barker & Co.

Office in Boston, 43 North Market Street

Order Box, 39 and 40 South Market Street.

Business attended to with care and responsibility.

Quincy, May 25.

tf

WILLIAM GARRITY'S

(Formerly Farnald and Shea's)

Quincy & Boston Express

THE Subscribers having purchased the good will of the Route recently managed by Messrs. Spear &

Ramsdell is prepared to convey Freight and Parcels between Quincy and Boston, and hope by strict attention to business to merit a share of public patronage.

N. B.—Furniture Moved and Parties

accommodated at short notice.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 2 1/2

P. M.

Quincy—Orders may be left at Whitney & Nash's, John

A. Wood, W. Abernethy's, and at the Stable.

Boston—3 Washington street, 4 1/2 South Market St.;

2 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt

and careful attention.

Quincy, Sept. 7.

tf

Quincy & Boston Express.

JOHN RING,

WILL faithfully attend to the delivery of any packages entrusted to his care.

Leave Quincy at 8 1-2; Boston at 2.

Orders left at his residence on Summer

Street, or at E. Clapp's Store, in Quincy; or at Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt

and careful attention.

Quincy, May 18.

tf

For New and Beautiful Styles

PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.

Quincy, May 18.

tf

SPRING TRADE.

THE Subscribers, having employed a good

upholsterer is now ready to accommodate the public, in remodeling old furniture of any description. Upholstering and sewing in their work previous to the arrival of spring, if they would have it attended to, at an early hour and oblige.

JOSEPH ARLEY.

N. B. New and desirable paper hangings, will be found cheap for Cash.

Quincy, Mar. 20.

tf

LINIMENT.

FOR the cure of acute or chronic Rheumatism,

Gout, Catarrhs, Neuralgia, weakness of the joints,

Swelling, Cramps, &c. &c.

Merchants Gargling Oil, has been used to great advantage, with success for more than twenty years. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square.

Quincy, Feb. 20th.

tf

EATING, BILLIARD

AND—

BOWLING SALOON.

Goodnow's Building, Cor. Hancock and

Granite Streets.

THE Proprietor having newly arranged his

Apartment, and made extensive additions

to his stock and fixtures, is now provided with

every facility for furnishing his patrons with the best Market articles, his aim will be to keep a first class Eating, Billiard and Bowling Saloon,

where refreshing beverages, Cigars, Tobacco, &c.,

can be had.

Also, Parties and Families, furnished with

Oysters, cooked and raw, Pickled Clams, Lamb

Tongues, Pies, Feet, Clams and Oyster Chowders,

Oyster and Fanny Crackers, Pies, Cakes, &c.

Fruits of all kinds in their respective seasons.

Confectionery, Nuts, and all kinds of refreshments

of the best quality.

The public is respectfully invited to give him a call!

Quincy, Sept. 5.

tf

Elli's Iron Bitters.

HAVING used your Iron Bitters in my practice, I can testify to its superior tonic properties for invigorating the appetite and promoting

digestion. I can unhesitatingly recommend it

in cases of general debility and dyspepsia, and

in conditions of the system requiring the use of a ferrous tonic. Its agreeable flavor must recommend it to all.

Yours, Respectfully

CHAS. S. GAUNT, M. D.,

Professor in the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

For sale by Druggists generally. M 15 tf

Plaster and Salve.

GREEN Mountain Plaster of Gips and Cedar

The Quincy Patriot.

(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)

Published every Saturday by

M. ELIZABETH GREEN,

Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

GEO. W. PRESOTT, Printer.

Also,—Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

VOLUME XXXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 14, 1869.

NUMBER 33.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

CONDITIONS.

No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the Publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out. The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Patriot: BOSTON—S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., S. R. NILES, HORACE DODD, T. C. EVANS, A. L. BRYANT, & Co., ALLEN & SHALER and COOK & DAUGHTY. NEW YORK—S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., GEO. P. HOWELL & Co., and FRANKLIN & CO. PHILADELPHIA—COE, WETHERILL & Co.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,

Hancock opp. Granite St.,

QUINCY.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.

Homeopathic Physician,

Opposite E. Clapp's Store,

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,

[Who is stopping at Dr. Roundy's.]

Will Examine and Prescribe

FOR THE SICK.

Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.

☞ Please call and try.

Quincy, March 6.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

OFFICES:

At his dwelling house, QUINCY.

No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.

Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.

Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,

Office, Weymouth Landing.

Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants

CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

Wedding & Funeral Flowers

Furnished at Short Notice.

ISAIAH WHITE,

Feb. 20 ly. 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK,

Real Estate and Insurance Agent,

Granite Street, Quincy.

May 4.

B. F. MESERVEY,

WATCHMAKER,

2 CITY HALL AVENUE,

BOSTON.

☞ Watches and Jewelry repaired.

April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

FLOUR!

47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.

FURNITURE

— AND —

UPHOLSTERY GOODS!

Our stock is large, and in point of style and workmanship

CANNOT BE SURPASSED

BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON

Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our

Warehouses, and judge for themselves.

BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,

511 Washington St., Boston.

July 13.

NEW

Wheelwright Shop.

THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,

NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS

Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow,"

is now prepared to execute all orders in the

Wheelwright line.

Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds of

Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.

Blocks made to order.

The Subscriber hopes by his long experience and strict attention to the interest of his customers,

to merit a portion of your patronage.

DANIEL McCURDY.

Quincy, May 9.

Ah! My Teeth.

D. C. S. FRENCH performs

painless operations in extracting

teeth by a new and improved

process of preparing and inhaling gas, which is perfectly safe and pleasant. Please call and try it. Filling and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satisfactory manner.

C. S. FRENCH.

Quincy, April 18.

Rhode Island Coal.

R. L. LEE,

WOULD respectfully inform the people of

Quincy and vicinity, that he is now pre-

pared to furnish them with the Rhode Island

Coal, cheap for cash.

Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short

for the Store and Granular Fuel.

ORDER SLATES can be found at Whitney &

Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, on Quincy Adams

Street.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Jan. 9.

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House every SATURDAY, from 10 to 11 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of
EDWIN S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1867.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of
EDWIN S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.

SOUTHER'S

Newspaper and Periodical Depot.

I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends, the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that I have purchased the interest, and leased the store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT.

Next Door to the Post Office,

Where I will continue to supply the

Daily and Weekly Newspapers,

MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,

to patrons promptly.

Subscriptions taken for any Paper or Magazine

in the Country.

School Books, Slates, Pens, Ink and Paper, in

fact, every thing connected with the Stationery

Department, on hand or procured at the shortest

notice.

Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING

LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the

day.

Papers and Magazines bound in any style.

E. B. SOUTHER.

Quincy, May 1.

MRS. M. E. CURTIS

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and

vicinity that she has taken the rooms

formerly occupied by

MISS CURRIER,

Over Mr. C. T. Reed's Store,

Where she is prepared to show them a large and

Choice Assortment

— OF —

French Millinery Goods,

suitable for the season.

STRAW GOODS, BLEACHED PRESSED AND

DYED.

Mourning and Grave Clothes constantly on hand or made to order.

Orders received for Funeral FLOWERS.

Dress and Cloak Making in all its varieties.

Corsets, Hoop Skirts, and other articles kept

constantly for sale.

Also, Agent for the famous WHEEL SEWING

MACHINE. Those in want of a Good Machine,

please call and examine.

Quincy, May 9.

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY

WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies

generally, that she has removed to the

Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING.

Thinking them for past favors, respectfully so-

licits orders for

SPRING and SUMMER

MILLINERY.

A Fresh assortment constantly on hand.

MOURNING and GRAVE CLOTHES made to

order.

STRAW GOODS Repaired, Bleached & Dyed.

All orders promptly attended to.

CORNER HANCOCK & GRANITE STS.,

Quincy, April 18.

REMOVED.

MRS. H. F. CURTIS.

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that

she has moved to a room over the POST

OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute

DRESS MAKING,

in the latest Styles.

And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.

Quincy, Apr. 10.

A CARD.

THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance

of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making

— AND —

CARRIAGE TRIMMING

in all its branches

Also, REPAIRING done in the nearest

manner at short notice.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy Jan. 13

LIVERY STABLE.

REMOVED.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons

that he has removed to his

New Stable on Hancock Street,

REAR OF MESSRS. TIRRELL'S SHOP,

where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages

at short notice.

He would also take this opportunity to thank the public

for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.

JOHN HALL.

Quincy, June 20.

Dr. Warren's Cordial.

Dr. Warren's celebrated Pulmonic Cherry

Cordial, for Consumption, Bronchitis,

Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c.,

For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy Mar. 27.

Poetry.

TWO LITTLE PAIRS OF BOOTS.

Two little pairs of boots to-night

Before the fire are drying;

Two little pairs of tired feet

In trundle-beds are lying;

The track they leave upon the floor

Makes me feel much like sighing.

These little boots with copper toes,

They run the liveliest dog,

And oftentimes I almost wish

That they were miles away;

So tired I am to hear so oft

Their heavy tramp at play.

They walked about the new ploughed ground

Where mud in plenty lies;

They roll it up in marbles round,

And take it into pies;

And then at night upon the floor

In every shape it dries.

To-day I was disposed to scold;

But when I look to-night

At those small boots before the fire,

With copper toes so bright,

I think how sad my heart would be

To put them out of sight.

For in a trunk up-stairs I've laid

Two socks of white and blue,

If called to put those boots away,

O God! what should I do?

I mourn that there are not to-night

Three pairs instead of two.

I mourn, because I thought how nice

My neighbor "cross the way"

Could keep her carpets all the year

From getting worn and gray;

Yet well I knew she'd smile to own

Some little boots to-day!

We mothers weary get and worn

Over our load of care;

But how we speak of those dear ones

Let each of us beware;

What would our friends be to-night

If no small boots were there?

Interesting Selections.

APPLES FOR DESSERT. Take six fair apples (more if required), pare them and take out the cores, leaving the apple whole, place them in a stew pan and stew over them one cup of sugar (white is the best), and add about one pint of water. Cover, stew until tender (but not until cooked to pieces) and take out on dessert plates,—one for each person.

Stew down the liquor to the consistency of molasses and pour over each one.

Another Way. Prepare as above and bake them only filling up with sugar where the core is absent and turn on a little water. Sweet or sour apples can be prepared in the same manner.

EXTRACT OF LEMON. Take one pint alcohol; cut up three lemons rind and all removing the seeds; this will make a strong essence.

SUMMER DRINKS. The best summer beverage is cold water, ice-cold if you will;

but by all means grasp the glass by the hand, take a swallow at a time, remove the glass from the lips for a few seconds, then take another swallow; in this way

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 14, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

TOWN MEETING.

The adjourned town meeting, relative to the bequest of Dr. Woodward, was held Thursday afternoon last. The Committee chosen at the meeting, held July 15th, made the following report which was accepted.

REPORT:

The Committee appointed by the town to consider the matter of the will of the late Dr. Ebenezer Woodward in which he devises certain property to the Town of Quincy for the purpose of founding a school for females between the ages of ten and twenty years, beg leave to report that they have attended to their commission, and find that a portion of the landed estate conveyed in his will to the town, for the purposes afore-mentioned, was originally conveyed to Dr. Woodward, in trust, as appears by the will of the late Thomas Greenleaf. It further appears that Dr. Woodward conveyed as trustee, [this portion of] the estate to a third party who reconveyed it back to Dr. W. It is a salutary principle of law that a trustee cannot directly or indirectly sell to himself. Still to use the language of the late Judge Morton in the case of Litchfield vs. Cudworth, 15th Pickering, page 51, "these principles do not render the sale absolutely void. Strangers to the property cannot call it in question.—It is an abuse of authority which may be taken advantage of by any one whose interests are affected. Hence cestui que trusts, and all for whom the trustee or agent acted have an option to avoid the sale, and retain the property sold, or to confirm the sale and receive the consideration, as may be for their interest."

There appears to have been some oversight in Dr. Woodward in his capacity as trustee, in regard to making returns to the Probate Court, and there is, of course, a difference of opinion as to his title to the estate, arising out of the means by which the estate came into his hands, the manner of the fulfillment of his trust, which cannot be determined until the proper returns are made, and as they have not yet been made, your Committee cannot undertake to express an opinion in relation to the matter.

As affecting our Public Schools, it is undoubtedly true that a portion of the pupils might be drawn to the proposed Institution, but how far it would weaken them is a matter for the consideration of the town. Our schools must be maintained whether the Institute is established or not, and as only those born within the limits of Quincy can avail themselves of its advantages, we cannot, if we would, contract our present school system.

Objections have been made to the acceptance of the bequest, on the ground that the town has no control over it. This is undoubtedly a circumstance of much importance. The care of the Institute is however put into the hands of all the settled clergymen, who reside in Quincy. Ministers of the Gospel ought to be, and doubtless are, entitled to our consideration, confidence and respect, and that they would use their best endeavors to conduct the Institution judiciously, effectively and harmoniously, we have no reason to question, but how far that obviates the objection above alluded, is a subject for your consideration.

In relation to any exhibition of personal feeling, supposed to be in the will of Dr. Woodward, the Committee forbear making any comment, other than this, that it would be wrong and unjust to infer, that if the town should think proper to accept the bequest, it necessarily implies that it takes to itself, entertains or assumes the sentiments which are supposed to have actuated the testator, in the provisions of the will.

The Committee not feeling it their duty under the terms of the vote by which they act, to advise the town as to accepting or declining the bequest, respectfully leave the matter in its hands.

W. S. MORTON,

CHARLES MARSH,

WM. S. PATTEE.

Pending the question of the acceptance of the bequest the following resolves were offered by Hon. Charles Marsh, and after a very full and free discussion of the whole subject, the resolves were passed by a very decided vote.

Resolved,—That the inhabitants of the Town of Quincy in legal meeting assembled, accept with sincere gratitude the munificent bequest to the town, by its late respected and honored citizen, Ebenezer Woodward.

Resolved,—That we recognize in the provisions and conditions of the bequest, careful foresight for the improvement, and sale of the property bequeathed, and for the accumulation of the proposed fund, and a wise and liberal arrangement for its bestowment and future use.

Resolved,—That we pledge ourselves, by the instrumentality of our Town Officers, to manage carefully, to develop judiciously, and to dispose profitably, the property given, to the end, that there may be a rapid increase of the fund, and a speedy accomplishment of the plans of the donor, and that his wishes, as expressed in the instrument of bequest in regard to the manner of the appropriation of the fund may have strict and exact compliance.

Resolved,—That we hereby express our desire, that—in respect to his memory, and that his generosity and thoughtfulness for the education of young ladies of Quincy, shall be held in grateful and perpetual remembrance,—the Fund shall be held, and known as the "Woodward Fund," and the contemplated school be designated and forever known, as the "Woodward Female Institute of Quincy."

Voted,—That the Selectmen of Quincy are hereby authorized to attend to the transfer of the property bequeathed to the town, by the will of the late Ebenezer Woodward, and perform or have performed all legal measures to accomplish said transfer.

Voted,—That the meeting be dissolved.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

Out-of-Towners.—Apathy of the City.—Stringent Finances.—A trip from Boston to San Francisco in one week; what it costs.—Muster at Nantasket.—Boston Museum.

BOSTON, AUGUST 11, 1869.

We can in good truth chronicle another awful dull week here. Some careful souls have computed, by what calculation it is not known to your correspondent, that there are fifty thousand absentees—thousands of families being absent, with houses closed for the summer. In the mean time, money is quick and earnest at the banks and in the open market. The supply is uncomfortably short, and the rates of interest firmly maintained in most cases where negotiations can be effected. Prices are advancing on staple articles of foreign and domestic merchandise. Hard as money is, speculation is rife in real estate matters in and around Boston, and some handsome margins have been made in the purchase and sale of real property in Dorchester. Some Bostonians have ventured their excursions as far as San Francisco, a long overland journey. A ticket for a seven days' trip from the "Hub" to San Francisco costs $153; sleeping cars about $15.00; meals according to taste, from $10.00 to $25.00; incidentals, $10.00; total to the shores of the Pacific, $203.

Now the distance from Boston to Omaha is fifteen hundred miles; tickets for the same, $43.00. From Omaha to San Francisco, the goal of the journey—nineteen hundred miles; tickets for the same, $110. Entire distance from Boston to San Francisco, three thousand four hundred miles—a short tramp for these annihilating days of time and distance.

Thus a traveller can leave Boston and luxuriantly sweep across the Continent of North America to the golden shores of the Pacific—witness the fairest and most important productions of the Continent—pass two weeks in California, see the marvellous things of the Western World, and return home after an absence of thirty days—scarce the period of a school vacation.

The muster at Nantasket now in progress through the week, promises to be a big thing. At all events, it has decimated the city of quite a slice of its goodly people. Everybody seems on the move to the camp ground.

Mr. Kimball, of the Boston Museum, opened his twenty-seventh dramatic season on Monday evening, giving the public Bonicault's great comedy of "London Assurance"; of course, with new scenes, appointment, &c.; and the veteran actor, W. Warren, is retained—could not get along without him. The Museum will afford, as usual, great attractions through the season for the lovers of pure drama.

The Orthodox Society sell next Wednesday at auction, all the buildings on the new church lot. See advertisement.

FIRE. The barn of Dr. Alfred Loring, in Hingham, together with about thirty-five tons of hay, were destroyed by fire Saturday night. Several valuable cows perished in the flames.

N. Y. CENTRAL PARK. The number of visitors to the park during the year 1868 was: pedestrians, 3,121,189; equestrians, 71,064; vehicles, 1,299,189. The total expenditure for the year, was $279,416.31, and the receipts from all sources, were $20,427.68.

THE SUEZ CANAL. This enterprise is completed and will be opened to the trade of all nations in September next. The event will be duly celebrated. The work of digging it commenced in 1857. Its cost is $57,000,000. When the whole line is opened from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea, it will revolutionize the trade and commerce of a large portion of Europe.

During the past month the Boston Post Office paid out on money orders $104,607.46, and issued orders for payment in other cities of $26,021.33. Boston ranks as the second city in the Union as to the amount of money thus paid.

For the Patriot.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific.—No. 4. DENVER, COLORADO TERR., July 22d, 1869.

We paid Wells, Fargo & Co. fifteen dollars a head for the privilege of tossing us about all day and all night in one of their Concord coaches. We could neither sleep nor keep awake, but remained between the two, until we reached the city of Denver, at 6 o'clock in the morning—right glad that the good shaking we were taking was "growing beautifully less." The horses, sometimes four and sometimes six, were changed every ten miles, making eleven changes between Cheyenne and Denver. The three drivers, whom we had on different sections of the route, performed the same part on the stage, yet each acted a different character. The first was a member of the society for the prevention of cruelty to wild animals, in high standing, and a pet of the society. The second was a conscientious progressionist, constitutionally troubled with go-ahead-iveness. The third, and last, I am happy to say, was a heedless revolutionist, and strongly anti-Prohibition. The insurance companies will sustain no loss, it is hoped, but occasional bumps are found not mentioned in the late works on Phenology. Long's Peak was in sight during the twenty hours' ride. We seemed to keep the same distance from it, all the time. It stands like a pyramid, marked with snow, with its peak 14,000 feet above the level of the sea. Storms were raging, while the lightning was playing among the mountains, but no water reached the plains below. Riding into Colorado, forced me to change my opinion again, regarding prairie dogs. I am now convinced that frequently the prairie dog, a small species of the owl, and a yellow rattlesnake, inhabit the same hole.—Whether there is a separate apartment for the animal, bird, or reptile, under ground, is a question; but they certainly have the same entrance, and appear on the mounds like one happy family. Denver is the best made city we have seen since leaving Chicago. Coming close to the Rocky Mountains, and into a mining district, we expected to find a rag town, or paper town, as the miners call them. We were surprised to find ourselves in a New England city. The houses were well built of home-made brick, and many of the stores would look well on Broadway or Washington street. The city is situated on Platte River; five thousand feet above the level of the sea, in latitude same as Wilmington, Delaware. The purity of the atmosphere makes it seem a pleasure for the living to breathe, and has been a lasting benefit to many troubled with asthma, bronchitis or consumption. It is two thousand four hundred miles west and a little south of Boston, yet it has good society, schools, churches, streets, and other eastern peculiarities. It has all the enterprise of a growing Western town, with some of the social habits and customs of New England. The people are well informed, and evidently accustomed to good society. It is the entrepot for travellers from Europe and the States, seeking science, health, or pleasure among the Rocky Mountains. Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Colfax, Bolles, Dawes, Hooper, Agazis, his and other scientific parties, and many such men, and ladies, were here last year. If the railroad is completed, as is expected, next year, hundreds will visit Denver and its surroundings.

TRAVELLER.

Rev. A. F. Nightingale, a former resident of Quincy, now President of the North Western Female College, Evanston, Ill., will preach in the Orthodox church to-morrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Torrey of South Weymouth celebrated on Monday evening the 25th anniversary of their marriage. A very pleasant company of about 100 assembled at their residence, and presented them with many nice and costly presents. Appropriate remarks were made by Rev. Wm. Hayes, and a bountiful collation was provided.

SINGULAR CASE. A lady living in Farmington, Me., was most singularly poisoned a short time since by the gases that arose from chloride of lime she was pouring down a sink spout. The gold of her false teeth was made nearly black and she could hardly speak for three days afterwards.

CONDITION OF THE CROPS IN MAINE. The Belfast Age says, "that in all the shore towns in Maine the grass, in consequence of winter killing, will be thin and light—not more than two-thirds as much as last year. In all the interior towns the crop is better—almost as heavy as last year. Potatoes and grain are looking finely, with a prospect of a good yield. Corn in all sections is small and backward, and the prospect is that it must be light. The prospect for fruit is unusually good."

DR. WOODWARD'S WILL.

To the Publisher of the Patriot:

I take the following paragraph, in regard to the will of the late Ebenezer Woodward, from a communication which appeared in the Patriot of last week:

"In the first place, there is a question as to the title of the estate bequeathed, growing out of the fact that the property was conveyed to him, in trust, for certain specific purposes—but soon after his acceptance of the trust he conveyed away this estate, (and doubtless with all due formalities,) to a gentleman now deceased, who on the same day reconveyed by a quit claim deed, back to Dr. W., seemingly free from the trust—but the conveyance and reconveyance is so manifestly an endeavor to get the fee of the land into his possession, that there can be but little doubt that the Supreme Court would set aside both conveyances, and the property would then belong to the heirs of Thomas Greenleaf, who created the trust, and Dr. Woodward, not being an heir, could neither convey, or devise, or bequeath it."

The inference to be drawn from this statement, is, that the estate was left wholly and entirely in trust to Dr. Woodward, and that he and he alone, regardless of his trust, managed to have the fee in property transferred to his name, thereby defrauding the heirs of Thomas Greenleaf of their property.

Sometimes it is folly to notice charges of this sort, and perhaps it is in this instance; but, as Dr. Woodward is dead and cannot speak for himself, the writer of this communication requests of the Editor of the Patriot the privilege of briefly giving a few facts, on the point in question, in justice to the memory of the deceased if for no other reason.

Thomas Greenleaf left three children, his only heirs after the death of his wife. Two of these children, the daughters, were married. One third of the property passed, without restriction, to the son. The other two-thirds, passed in trust, to the two sons-in-law, one of whom was Dr. Woodward. The son and the son-in-law were the Executors of the Greenleaf will. Thus, the whole family were placed in full and absolute control of the entire property. To obtain the fee of the farm, therefore, it was necessary to obtain the consent of five persons, in full maturity of age and intellect, filling, under the provisions of the will, the three-fold capacity of Heirs, Trustees and Executors. Each one was compelled, by law, to sign and make oath to all the papers requisite in such a transaction as the sale and transfer of real estate, and under all these restrictions and requirements, the farm became the property of Dr. Woodward.

It may not be out of place to state, additionally, that the price paid for this estate by Dr. Woodward was five thousand dollars more than any sum offered by any other person for the same.

F. H.

August 10, 1869.

There will be a slight change in the time of running the Steamer Massachusetts on and after Friday next.

The railroad up Mt. Washington is finished and passengers are being transported at reasonable rates. It has a rise of 1700 feet in one mile, and the total rise is 3000 feet in 2 3/4 miles. It cost $100,000, and was projected by Mr. S. Marsh of Littleton.

The Middleborough Gazette says that the announcement of the marriage of Miss Minnie Warren to Commodore Nutt has proved to be premature at least. Miss Warren has not been, is not, and it is not known that she will be, married to Commodore Nutt. She is with her parents in Middleborough.

THE CROPS. The promise that "seed time and harvest shall never fail" is being fulfilled in a bountiful manner just now. Parties in no way interested in the grain trade, and on whose words implicit confidence can be placed, report that throughout Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Iowa, where the harvest is just commencing, the crop of wheat, oats and other small grain is really enormous, and promises a yield far in excess of any harvest for many years past, besides being in average far more extensive than ever before. Corn, too, is growing with amazing vigor now, and acres upon acres that were considered poor and sickly will tell a different tale before October.—Chicago Journal.

The work of closing the underground tenements in New York is being energetically pushed by the Board of Health, and some two thousand of the wretched people who huddled in the damp and noxious cellars have already been compelled to seek more healthful homes.

A member of the Twenty-first Connecticut Volunteers has a walking cane composed of four hundred and sixty-three pieces of leather and made from a pair of old boots, owned and worn by President Lincoln previous to his assassination.

Summary Intelligence.

Our diplomatic and consular service cost $173,000 per annum.

Grindstones are obtained in but two places in the United States—one in Ohio and the other in Michigan.

A number of Philadelphia clergymen have united in the determination to attend no more Sunday funerals unless the necessity is certified to by a physician.

J. Winslow Jones of Portland, has put up at his factory at Kendall's Mills, 500 bushels of raspberries in cans this season. The cost to him was from six to eight cents per pound.

One hundred and twenty houses ranging in value from $12,000 to $25,000 have been built or are in process of erection on Columbus avenue, Boston, where three years ago, there was not a single house.

The collection of bones on the battle fields of Virginia, to be used as fertilizers, is now prosecuted as a regular business.

The plate glass factory at Lenox, will begin to operate during the month of September next. It will be the second plate glass factory in the United States.

The heat in California was so great on the last days in June that the grape crop was injured to the extent of thousands of dollars.

The proprietors of the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, have fitted up one of its chambers as a ball room, which is to be opened this month with a first class hop.

Those who remember Ar Showe as being about the only Chinaman in this country, will open their eyes at the statement that at the present time there are, in round numbers, 170,000 Celestials in the United States.

Hundreds of dry goods clerks in New York are out of employment in consequence of the dullness of trade.

A firm in Worcester have got a contract to manufacture forty-five millions of envelopes, the price therefor being about $120,000.

Good fair peaches are selling in New York at fifty cents per basket of over half a bushel each.

There are about 50 miles of wire connected with the Boston Fire Alarm Telegraph, the total cost, with the working apparatus, being about $60,000.

The Rockland House, at Nantasket, has been enlarged by the erection of an addition which nearly doubles its former size. It is now the largest hotel in the county.

Now is the time to exterminate the "common" caterpillar by destroying the cocoons. A word to the wise.

An eight and a half foot Chinese giant and his wife of corresponding longitudinal proportions have arrived in the country.

The latest curiosity is a baby eight weeks old who has "crossed the continent." It is stated that he will not lecture on the trip for years to come.

The Boston Directory for 1869 contains five thousand more names than that of 1868—a pretty good increase for one year.

Fishermen rejoice that Spain has taken off the monopoly from Cadiz salt after January next, which will tend to reduce the price of that necessary article.

Barrel Rock in Broad Sound, Boston harbor, is in process of removal by submarine divers, under the direction of Gen. Foster. It was 21 feet high with a diameter of 17 feet but it has been split from top to bottom and already several tons have been removed.

A Fairfield, (Conn.) youngster, thirteen years old, who was recently shipped to California, found his way back via the Pacific railroad on four dollars. Home-sickness, pluck and dash were the secrets of his cheap travelling.

Use "Barrett's" Hair Restorative.

Another "flame," said to be twice as high as the Franconia flame has been discovered near the Notch at the White Mountains.

By the report of Secretary of State Warner it appears that during the past year 170 persons have had their names legally changed in Mass. eight-tenths of these being applied for by reason of adoption.

The receipt of peaches by the Philadelphia boat, at Boston, on the 10th inst., was 1149 boxes; in addition to several hundred by express from New York.—The fruit arrived in capital condition and brought very satisfactory prices.

The wheat crop of New York is expected to be one-third larger than usual and an enormous hay crop will be harvested.

South Abington produces more shoe tacks and nails than any other place in the country.

A contemporary speaks of an individual who "buys one or two shares of stock in every railroad and bank in order to go to all the annual elections and eat all the annual dinners."

Of 13,496 prisoners in the penitentiaries of thirty States, in 1867, according to a report just issued, seventy-seven per cent, more than three-quarters, had not learned a trade.

Charles Rich of New London, Wisconsin, has got into a novel speculation, viz: raising minks. He has a nice yard fitted up, and has already half a dozen young and old minks, and will soon have a large brood.

For the Patriot.

DR. WOODWARD.

Many citizens of this town were shocked at the assault on the character of the late Dr. Woodward that was printed in the last Patriot. No one who knew him will believe that the restrictions placed on his liberal bequest were dictated by "a vindictive malignity rarely if ever equalled." In absence of any statement by the testator of his reasons for putting certain clauses into the will, they may appear to us singular or unwise; but a decent respect for his useful and honorable life, to say nothing of Christian charity to the departed, should have prevented so foul an aspersion upon his memory. At the solemn hour when that will was executed, there can be no doubt that our good physician conceived himself to have sound and justifiable reasons for its different provisions. He may have erred in judgment as we all are liable to do; but any imputation upon his character the citizens of this town, to whom he gave the services of his life, and munificently endowed at his death, will indignantly repel.

CIVES.

GLADES HOUSE. Many of our readers will undoubtedly be pleased to learn that this old, and favorite resort has recently been put in excellent order, and leased by Mr. Hodges, of Newport. This is a fine place, during the hot weather, to spend a day or week, and now it is in such excellent trim it must be unusually inviting. See notice in to-day's paper.

Horace Greeley has an umbrella which he has used for forty-two years.

AUCTION!

Will be sold at Public Auction, on WEDNESDAY, Aug. 18th, 1869, at 1 o'clock from the House and all other Buildings situated on the Church Lot, at the junction of Hancock and Sea Streets, Quincy.

Also, at same time, a LOT of LUMBER, belonging to ABNER D. PACKARD, in the rear of Clapp's Store, in lots to suit purchasers.

HENRY H. FAXON, Auctioneer.

Quincy, Aug. 14th, 1869. 1w

NEW STRAW.

JUST Received a prime lot of New Straw for filling beds, &c.

JOS. ARBY, Jr.

Quincy, Aug. 14.

GLADES HOUSE,

Cohasset, Mass.

THE Undersigned, by advice and solicitation of many friends and former patrons of this celebrated sea-side resort, has leased the above premises, and put the House and Buildings in complete repair, stocked the cellar, and arranged all things requisite for the comfort and pleasure of the guests. Ready, with experienced man, and furnished with all the implements for fishing, will be in constant readiness. A new road has been recently opened from the House to the Depot, making the route shorter by a mile and a half. Is, in fact, everything desirable for a first-class sea-side resort, can now be found at the Glades. Families wishing to secure rooms for the season, will do well to send in their orders immediately. Parties accompanied with dinner, supper, &c., at the shortest notice, at satisfactory prices, and with the choicest viands.

G. W. HOICES, from Newport.

Aug. 14.

FOR SALE,

HOUSE and Land, situated on Cottage Avenue.

Inquire of Mrs. E. B. BENT, on the premises.

Quincy, Aug. 14. 1f

GO TO

21 TREMONT STREET,

AND GET YOUR

BOOTS AND SHOES,

And Save from 25 cts. to $1.00

ON EACH PAIR.

All goods warranted as represented.

F. G. RICHARDSON & Co.

21 Tremont St.,

Aug. 14-15

Opp. the Museum, Boston.

Lasell Female Seminary,

AT AUBURNDALE, MASS.,

10 MILES from Boston, on Boston and Albany Railroad. For 17 years a leading New England Seminary. Not excelled in thorough English or artificial training, nor in the highest accomplishments in Modern Languages, Painting and Music. Location, for health, beauty and refining influences, unsurpassed. Next year begins September 1st.

Aug. 14-15

CHAS. W. CUSHING.

$5 REWARD.

THE above reward will be paid for the arrest of the person, or persons, who took Powers, in front of William Spear's Tomb, in the Old Cemetery, in Quincy.

Dorchester, July 31.

CHARLES SPEAR.

WANTED.

A MIDDLE aged, Protestant woman, to do work in a family of six; good cook, washer and ironer,—to such a one, $5 per week will be paid.

Apply at this OFFICE.

Quincy, July 31.

Houses to Let.

SLATED Roof House, 6 Rooms, with Stable, Carriage House and 2 Acres of Land, on North street.

Cottage House 6 Rooms, on Brackett Place.

French Roof House, on Linden Place.

Quincy, July 31.

HENRY H. FAXON.

NATIONAL

Mount Wollaston Bank.

On and after SATURDAY, May 1st, 1869, until further notice, this Bank will not open on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS.

HENRY F. BARKER, Cashier.

Quincy, April 27, 1869. 1f

Old Horse R. R. Sleepers

FOR SALE!

ONE Hundred Cords at $2.00 per Cord.

HENRY H. FAXON.

Quincy, July 31. 1m

SUMMER GOODS,

AT RETAIL,

—BY—

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

At their New and Spacious Store,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

Now landing, per Steamer TARIFA, Cases of

WHITE GOODS, elegant styles,

LISENS,

Rich FANS,

White FRINGES,

HAMBURG FLOUNCINGS,

French BRILLIANTS,

LINEN LAWNS,

SHIRT FRONTS,

CHEMISETS,

Thread-lace COLLARS,

Infants' Embroid'ed WAISTS

SCARFS,

NECK TIES,

Poetry.

NOTHING LOST.

Nothing lost. The drop of dew
That trembles on the leaf or flower
Is but excluded to fall away
In summer's thunder-shower;
Perchance to shine within the bow
That fronts the sun at fall of day;
Perchance to sparkle in the flow
Of fountains far away.

So with our deeds, for good or ill,
They have their power, scarce understood;
Then let us use our better will
To make them rich with good;
Like circles on a lake they go,
Ring within ring, and never stay.
Oh! that our deeds were fashioned so
That they might bless away.

Farmers' Department.

PICKING AND RIPENING PEARS.

A correspondent of the Rural New Yorker, says: "We desire to put upon record a few suggestions upon picking and ripening pears. It ought to be fully understood that pears should not be allowed to remain upon the trees longer than to perfect their growth, and those who let them hang to get ripe and good to eat, commit a fatal mistake, as our observation fully confirms. The proper time to pick the different varieties may be easily ascertained by an examination. By taking the pear in hand and elevating it to a level of the limb upon which it grows, if sufficiently mature for picking it will easily come off, even though it has the appearance of being green. The whole should then be carefully hand picked and placed in shallow boxes or drawers, and covered with flannel blankets if possible, excluding light and air. If the fruit is desired in the shortest time the room should not have too low a temperature, and ripening may be hastened by an increase of temperature. This process of maturing or ripening renders the fruit tender, rich and juicy, making even ordinary fruit very palatable, and materially increasing or developing the better qualities of choice fruit. When desirable to retard the ripening keep the fruit at a low temperature until the change is attained. Winter pears may be placed in a cool fruit room or cellar until the desired season arrives, when they may be ripened and rendered delicious by the treatment above indicated.

THE BLUEBERRY.

We have often thought that something might be done in the way of cultivating this useful berry, which can be served upon the table in so many palatable forms. Talking with a farmer from a neighboring town, the other day, we were interested by his experiments in raising blueberries. He commenced by burning over an unproductive field many years ago, and now annually sends to market from three to six thousand boxes. Large numbers go to Boston, and the two principal hotels in this city have taken each seventy-five boxes per day during the season. He burns over his field once in two or three years, and sows each fall two or three bushels of the dried berries.

He pays five cents a box to pickers, and some women earn from $1.00 to $1.25 per day; the berry season is a holiday time with the pickers, and gives the women who spend the rest of the year in sewing for the ready made clothing dealers, a healthful vacation. Our informant said he had paid $300 a year for the gathering of his blueberry crop, and he found it as profitable as any other crop raised on his large farm. In favorable years, the blueberries had a long season; he had sent them to market as early as the 5th of July and continued up to the 15th of September.—Portland Transcript.

Incidents.

At a Sunday school in New York recently the teacher asked a little boy if he knew what the expression, "sowing the tares" meant.

"Couth I doeth," said he pulling the seat of his little breeches around in front. "Thereth a tear my mother thieved; I tared it thidding down hill."

A tipsy Irishman leaning against a lamp-post, as a funeral procession was passing by, was asked who was dead?

"I can't exactly say, sur," said he—"but I presume it is the juteleman in the coffin."

A little six-year old who attends church at a meeting-house recently remodelled, was enlarging eloquently on the beauties of the edifice, when a young friend interrupted her by inquiring if she supposed the minister preached any better than he did in the old house.

"Well," said the enthusiast, "I guess he does; at any rate, a dinner tastes better when you have a nice clean plate to eat off of."

LOVEJOY'S

CLOTHING HOUSE

DOCK SQUARE,

(Corner of North Street.)

THE CHEAPEST PLACE

TO BUY

GOOD CLOTHING.

J. D. 5m

RICHARD HAILS,
Merchant Tailor!

CORNER OF HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.,

WOULD inform the citizens of Quincy, and vicinity, that he has a large and

CHOICE ASSORTMENT

of goods adapted to the season which he will make to measure in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,

and warranted satisfactory.

Goods sold by the yard, and GARMENTS CUT

and trimmed.

All Goods warranted.

Quincy, June 19.

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

Genuine Lykens Valley
Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE undersigned having on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice at the lowest cash price.

OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

BOSTON, JULY 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now on hand, the Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co. Quincy, July 6.

LUMBER,
COAL,
WOOD,
BRICK, &c.

THE Subscribers have just received at their

Wharf, several Cargoes of Lumber of all

descriptions, consisting of—

Spruce Timber and Joist,

Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,

Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,

Sheathing and Finishing Boards,

Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Burnside red and white ash Coal, George's Creek Cumberland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick,

Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold Cheap, for Cash.

ORDERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo. H. Locke, Washington St. French, Joseph W. Lombard, or at Post Office Box, 133, will receive prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.

Quincy, Aug. 22.

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

J. A. McLellan's
LADIES' & GENTS'
Variety Store,Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.,
QUINCY.

IS THE PLACE TO GET

BARGAINS!

Hosiery, Gloves, Hdk's, Cottons, White

Goods, Stamped Aprons, Ladies'

Children's Gents' and

Boys' Hats, Artificial Flow-

ers, Patent Medicines,

Hoop Skirts, Boots, and

Shoes, &c., &c.

We have marked down our goods below

the lowest. We mean sell!

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

J. A. McLELLAN'S,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.

Quincy, May 9.

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

THE ELIAS HOWE
SEWING MACHINES,Are celebrated for doing the BEST WORK, using a much smaller needle for the same
thread than any other Machine.

SEWING of all kinds, such as HEMMING,

FELLING, BINDING, CORDING, BRAIDING,

SEAMING, QUILTING, TUCKING, GATHERING,

and FAGOTING, done in a superior manner, on
our Family Machines.

Some valuable improvements have recently

been added to these Machines, which render them

superior to those made heretofore. Ladies who use our Family Machines, cannot fail to be gratified and pleased with their operation, as they are not subject to the annoyance and difficulties

experienced with most machines.

Experience has proved that there is but one

really good Sewing Machine, and that one is the HOWE SEWING MACHINE. The advantages of the Howe Sewing Machine consist in its economy

in the use of thread, the elasticity of the seam,

(having the same appearance on both sides), and

the fact that it cannot be unravelled.

The Howe Machines are better made: they are free from disagreeable noise; they are much

less liable to get out of order; and when out of order, they cost less for repairs.

They combine the greatest simplicity and durability with the greatest certainty in operation, and for all household Sewing,—Shirt, Dress, Coat, Vest Making and Tailoring, are THE BEST MACHINES IN THE WORLD.

The Howe Machines have taken the Premium

for the Best Work whenever they have been in competition with other Machines. This arises

from the fact that they are constructed of the best

material, and in the best manner.

This Machine can be seen in operation at

N. B. FURNALD'S,

Who is the Agent for Quincy.

Quincy, Jan. 23.

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

tf

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1827.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Printer.

Also—Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,

Hancock opp. Granite St.,

QUINCY.

Jan. 2. if

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.

Homeopathic Physician,

Opposite E. Clapp's Store,

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

Aug. 25. if

MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,

[Who is stopping at Dr. Roundy's.]

Will Examine and Prescribe

FOR THE SICK.

Also will give Psychological Readings of the

Past and Future Destiny.

Please call and try.

Quincy, March 6. if

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

OFFICES:

At his dwelling house, QUINCY.

No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.

Office hours in Boston from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M.

Office hours in Quincy.

Sept. 14. if

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,

Office, Weymouth Landing.

Weymouth, Mass. July 13. if

Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants

CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

Wedding & Funeral Flowers

Furnished at Short Notice.

ISAIAH WHITE,

Feb. 20. 1y 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK,

Real Estate and Insurance Agent,

Granite Street, Quincy.

May 4. 1y

B. F. MESERVEY,

WATCHMAKER,

2 CITY HALL AVENUE,

BOSTON.

Watches and Jewelry repaired.

April 29. 1y

JAS. WHITE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

FLOUR!

47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.

Quincy, June 15. if

FURNITURE

—AND—

UPHOLSTERY GOODS!

Our stock is large, and in point of style and

workmanship

CANNOT BE SURPASSED

BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON

Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our

Warehouses, and judge for themselves.

BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,

511 Washington St., Boston.

July 13. 1y

NEW

Wheelwright Shop.

THE Subscriber having taken the New Shop,

NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILD'S

Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow,"

is now prepared to execute all orders in the

Wheelwright line.

Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds of

Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.

Stocks made to order.

The Subscriber hopes by his long experience

and strict attention to the interest of his customers,

to merit a portion of your patronage.

DANIEL MCGURDY.

Quincy, May 9. if

Ah! My Teeth.

DR. C. S. FRENCH performs painful operations in extracting

teeth by a new and improved

process of preparing and inhaling gas, such as Nitrous Oxide Gas. Such as prefer this to other methods of extraction.

Please call and try it. Filling and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satisfactory manner.

C. S. FRENCH.

Quincy, April 18. if

Rhode Island Coal.

R. L. LEE,

WOULD respectfully inform the people of

Quincy and vicinity, that he is now pre-

pared to furnish them with the Rhode Island

Coal, cheap for cash.

Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short

for the Store, and Granular Fuel.

ORDER SLATES can be found at Whitney &

Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams

Depot.

Quincy, Jan. 9. if

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1869.

NUMBER 34.

CONDITIONS.
No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot:
BOSTON—S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., S. R.
NILES, HORACE DODD, T. C. EVANS, A. L.
BRYANT, & Co., ALLEN & SHALER and COOLEY
& DAUGHTY.
NEW YORK—S. M. PETTINGILL & Co.,
Geo. P. ROWELL & Co., and FRANKLIN & Co.
PHILADELPHIA—COE, WETHERILL & Co.

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in
the Town House every SATURDAY, from 10 to 11 o'clock, P. M., until further notice.
Persons having business with the Town will
please present it on those days.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of
ENGLISH S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.
Quincy, March 6.

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions
of the law of 1867.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of
ENGLISH S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.
Quincy, March 6.

SOUTHER'S

Newspaper and Periodical Depot.

I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends,
the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that I have purchased the interest, and leased the
store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT,

Next Door to the Post Office,
Where I will continue to supply the

Daily and Weekly Newspapers,
MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,
to patrons promptly.

Subscriptions taken for any Paper or Magazine
in the Country.

School Books, Slates, Pens, Ink and Paper, in
fact, everything connected with the Stationery Department, on hand or procured at the shortest
notice.

Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the
day.

Papers and Magazines bound in any style.

Quincy, May 1. if

MRS. M. E. CURTIS

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity that she has taken the rooms
lately occupied by

MISS CURRIER,

Over Mr. C. T. Reed's Store,

Where she is prepared to show them a large and

Choice Assortment

French Millinery Goods,

suitable for the season.

STRAW GOODS, BLEACHED PRESSED AND DYED.

Mourning and Grave Cloths constantly on hand or made to order.

Orders received for Funerary FLOWERS.

Dress and Cloak Making in all its varieties.

Corsets, Hoop Skirts, and other articles kept constantly for sale.

Also, Agent for the famous WOOD SEWING
MACHINE. Those in want of a Good Machine,
please call and examine.

Quincy, May 9. if

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY

WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies
generally, that she has removed to the Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING.

Thinking them for past favors, respectfully so-

licits orders for

SPRING and SUMMER

MILLINERY.

A Fresh assortment constantly on hand.

MOURNING and GRAVE CLOTHS made to order.

All orders promptly attended to.

CORNER HANCOCK & GRANITE STS.,
Quincy, April 18. if

REMOVED.

MRS. H. F. CURTIS.

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that
she has moved to a room over the POST
OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute

DRESS MAKING,

in the latest Styles.

And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.

Quincy, Apr. 10. if

A CARD.

THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making

AND

CARRIAGE TRIMMING

in all its branches

Also, REPAIRING done in the nearest manner at short notice.

Quincy Jan. 13. if

LIVERY STABLE.

REMOVED.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons
that he has removed to his

New Stable on Hancock Street,

REAR OF MESSRS. THRELL'S SHOP,

where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages
at short notice.

He would also take this opportunity to thank the public
for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.

Quincy, June 20. if

Dr. Warren's Cordial.

DR. Warren's celebrated Pulmonic Cherry

Cordial for Consumption, Bronchitis,
Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Gravel, Gout,
&c. For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy Mar. 27. if

Poetry.

For the Patriot.

MY OWN DEAR LIZZIE.

My own dear Lizzie bye and bye to be
As tender vine entwined about an oak,
May my strong arms from evil ever shield
And guard thee, spotless as the driven snow.

May Autumn winds and wintry blasts ne'er touch
Thee with their chilly breath, but summer flowers
In rich profusion spring about thy path.

Through life with clasped hands and hearts entwined,

We, rich in love that springs from innocent soul,
Will wend our way, and where our lot is cast,
There we abide till duty calls us hence.

Thy heart is pure and tender, mine has met
The storms of adverse fortune, and the smiles
Which she bestows in favoring moods on men,
Until I treat her smiles and frowns as one.

Her whims, caprices, follies, all I spurn,—
Her better moments fill my soul with joy,
And I have wished it might remain, but no,
Sunshine and cloud in quick succession move,
And if we dare to gaze upon the sun
The doom which after intervals but makes
The darkness grow the darker. So with her.

Then, with an upright heart, an unflinching trust,
We, while dark fortune smiles on whom she will,
And frowns when'er it suits her mood, will move Unhurt amid the wreck of time. At last,
Our mission done, in heart and spirit bound,
We, one on earth, will still be one in heaven.

CAREMETH.

Miscellany.

A STORY OF LONG AGO.

A venerable old farmer, in one of our snug little villages, kept several cows, from which he occasionally supplied his neighbors with the most delicious milk that ever graced a dairy. Uncle Zeb's cows did actually give good milk; but, like many others in this world, Uncle Zeb always fancied every thing on his farm to be somewhat extra. His grindstone was of better grit than any other in town—his carts, plows, oxen, everything about him, were of a superior cast, and far better than his neighbors'—and his cows, for Uncle Zeb had been the herald of their fame, were such as could not be produced by any other farmer in the whole country.

Mr. Jenkins was a neighbor of Uncle Zeb's, and had thus far in life maintained the reputation of being a good citizen—generally minding his own business first, and if he found a little leisure, now and then, he would attend to his neighbors' affairs just enough to keep in the fashion, and no more. He had always from his youth, been in the habit of taking a "nipper"—sometimes in the morning, always at eleven o'clock, and once or twice in the afternoon, and, if his stomach required it, a small drop when he went to bed—but he was considered a temperate, industrious man for that, having by his economy gathered together a decent little interest in the world. This habit of drinking had rather gained on Mr. Jenkins for a few years past, and he was aware of it; but somehow or other he could find no excuse for leaving it off, until the new-fangled doctrine, got up by the "Washingtonians," as they called themselves—whereby a man was cut off entirely from the comforts of a social glass—put it into Mr. Jenkins' head that it would now be his time to break off the habit entirely. He applied to the President of the society, read the pledge over and over again, and finally put his name to it, accompanied by the additional oath of—"By the hokey! I will stick fast to this promise as long as my name is Jenkins."

It was dreadful hard work for Mr.
Jenkins to do entirely without his usual potations, and it seemed to him that every day his hankering grew stronger and stronger. His stomach trembled in the morning, he frequently felt faint during the day, and more than once did he regret that he had ever put his name to that unlucky document. He thought of applying to the Legislature for a change of name; "and then," said he, "my name would be no longer Jenkins." But he was bound by the pledge, and saw no way to get over it but to "tough it out" or die.

"Tough it out, Mr. Jenkins," said his spouse; "tough it out; you will soon feel better, and then everything will look bright, and this will be a new world to you. Drink milk; there is nothing better than good milk, for your complaint; and I tell you, Mr. Jenkins, to tough it out, if you die of it!"

This was madam's kind advice, and Mr. Jenkins made up his mind to stick to it, die or live. The next morning, the first thing he did was to take his tin pail and walk over to Uncle Zeb's, for a quart of milk. "If the experiment will only answer," said he, "I will soon have a cow of my own, and milk shall be my preserver."

Now Uncle Zeb had never signed the pledge, but he had for a long time been very cautious about drinking. Not particularly about the quantity, I would not have it understood, for that rather increased than diminished every day of his life; but the manner of his drinking was altogether different from what it had been in former years. In a word, he had got to be amazing private about such things.
Considering it to have become somewhat unpopular to drink before folks, he had altogether given over the practice of treating a neighbor when he chanced to call on him, or even making the least show or appearance of anything in the shape of rum about his domicile. He even ordered his girls to put some flowers into one pair of decanters and two or three broken tumblers, and place them conspicuously upon the window seat, leaving others to guess at the meaning of putting such articles to so singular a use.

But Uncle Zeb owned a horse and chaise, and the chaise carried a large

Interesting Selections.

BLACKBERRY WINE.

Measure your berries and bruise them, to every gallon adding one quart of boiling water; let the mixture stand twenty-four hours, stirring occasionally; then strain off the liquor into a cask, to every gallon adding two pounds of sugar; cork tight and let it stand till the following October, and you will have wine ready for use that will make your lips smack.

TOMATO PRESERVES.

Take the round yellow variety as soon as ripe, scald and peel; then to seven pounds of tomatoes add seven pounds of white sugar, and let them stand over night; take the tomatoes out of the sugar, and boil the syrup, removing the scum; put in the tomatoes,
and boil gently fifteen or twenty minutes;
remove the fruit again, and boil until the syrup thickens. On cooling, put the fruit into jars, and pour the syrup over it, and add a few slices of lemon to each jar, and you will have something to please the taste of the most fastidious.

LEMON EXTRACT.

Put an ounce of the oil of lemon and a pint of alcohol, put it in a bottle, give it a good shaking, and cork it up tight. It is a great deal stronger than what you buy ready made and is cheaper.

A widower having taken another wife was, nevertheless, always paying some panegyric to the memory of his late spouse in the presence of the living one, who one day added, with great feeling, "Believe me, my dear, nobody regrets her more than I do."

On the gravestone of an old lady in Duxbury, after the mention of her name, date of death, and age, the epitaph asserts the needlessness of adding to a well-established fame by the simple sentence, "The chisel can't help her any."

A Wisconsin newspaper, describing a large farm which the advertiser wishes to sell, adds the following: "The surrounding country is most beautiful;
also two wagons and a yoke of oxen."

Putting or sulking is cataplexy of the spirit, in which, as in the physical disease, every limb rapidly maintains the position in which it was surprised by the attack.

CHEERFUL COMPANIONS. Reflections on the good offices we have performed towards our fellow beings in need, are cheerful companions in our lonely hours.
The grave may hide the remnant of humanity, but it can never obliterate its virtue.

A home missionary was asked the cause of his poverty. "Principally," said he, with a twinkle of the eye, "because I have preached so much without notes."

Flourishes in writing, like colors in dress require care and finish to make them combine and look well; so, also, does flourishes in people.

Give a man a taste for reading, and the means of gratifying it, and you can scarcely fail of making him a happy man. You make him a denizen of all nations—a cotemporary of all ages.

"Mamma!" said a precocious little boy, who against his will was made to rock the cradle of his little baby brother,
"If the Lord has any more babies to give away, don't you take 'em."

Success in life is very apt to make us forget the time when we wasn't much.
It is just so with the frog on a jump: he can't remember when he was a tadpole, but other folks can.

"Sweet are the uses of adversity," but the adversity that brings sugar up to twenty cents a pound makes the sweeten-ing become rather dear.

CONDITIONS.

No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

TO READERS AND CORRESPONDENTS. Readers will find many excellent articles in this number. Our Western and Virginia letters—from young men, natives of Quincy—are very interesting; and our Boston communications are worthy the space they occupy, and the writers have our thanks.

We have been obliged to omit several communications which will appear in our next.

QUINCY BOYS. There were on Saturday last an unusually large number of young men, paying a visit to their old parental homes, in this town, who are permanently located in the West or South, or have been absent two, three or more years. It seems pleasant to meet one another here, where they had spent their school boy days, and enjoyed so many happy hours. Among the number were Henry Crane, of Charleston, S. C.; Monroe Crane, of New York City; W. M. Turner, of the same city; Joseph F. Torrey, of St. Louis; Frederick French, of Chicago; Luther S. Bent, of Salt Lake City; F. Edward Bent, Elizabeth, New Jersey; Rev. A. F. Nightingale, Evanston, Ill., and probably others whom we did not know or see.

SALE OF OLD BUILDINGS. The house, barn, shop, &c., on the corner of Hancock and Sea streets, were sold at auction, by Henry H. Faxon, Esq., on Wednesday last. The buildings sold well, particularly the house, together amounting to over one thousand dollars, viz:—

Old Ink Shop to H. G. Pratt, Jr. $30
Barn to George Venzie, 2d, 21
House to Patrick McDonald, 900
Underpinning &c., to R. Newcomb, 45
Shed, to A. B. Morse, 30
Fence, to Charles R. Mitchell, 8
Amounting to 1,034

The lumber from the old Gillett stable, belonging to Col. Packard, sold at the same time, brought between eighty and ninety dollars.

The buildings are to be moved within sixty days. Workmen have already commenced taking down the old barn.

The Society, we learn, do not intend to commence building the church this season.

POTATOES. Mr. James S. Cary, who resides on the Penn Hill farm, occupied for many years by the late Charles A. Spear, has raised this season, from one Early Rose potato, sixty-seven pounds of handsome tubers as any one need to wish. Mr. John Kirk has also raised from two pounds of the Early Rose potatoes, one hundred and three pounds, an increase of over fifty fold. The productiveness of this new variety, together with its rich meaty quality must soon make it a favorite among our citizens. The only objection we have noticed is their liability to crack open badly if not taken from the kettle as soon as cooked.

VALUATION. The Assessors of Quincy have completed their labors and make the following return of the valuation for the present year:

Personal Estate,	$1,399,000
Real Estate,	2,860,100
Total valuation,	4,259,100
Rate of taxation, on $1000	17.50
No. of Polls,	1747
No. of Dwelling Houses taxed	1132 1/2
" Horses "	470
" Cows "	595
" Acres of Land "	8893

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. At a meeting of the Democrats and Conservatives of this town, held at the Town Hall, on Saturday evening last, the following gentlemen were elected delegates to attend the Democratic State Convention, to be held at Worcester, on Tuesday next:—

At large—John Q. Adams, Esq. Delegates—William S. Patten, John Ring, Jacob F. Eaton, Maurice Sheahan, Joseph A. Bass, William B. Duggan, Hugh Mundy, George Beard, Arthur P. Hayden. Substitutes. At large—Charles P. Tirrell. Delegates—George Cahill, Patrick Lacey, Galen Bowditch, Jr., Bryant N. Adams, Eleazer Frederick, Augustus Duggan, John T. Willey, Ralph Low, John Hussey.

There was a very pleasant moonlight excursion, on Wednesday evening last. The Steamer Massasoit is an excellent boat for an excursion, and the Quincy Brass Band adds much to the trip; and all that was desired on Wednesday last was a larger company to make the sail both pleasant and profitable. A better notice we think would have added to the number.

At a town meeting in Dorchester last week, appropriations for new roads, school and engine houses, &c. were voted amounting to over $130,000. The city of Boston will of course have to foot the bills.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

The progress of Civil Liberty.—Reconstruction a mooted question.—Matters about Town.—Wealth of Boston; great rise of value in Roxbury.—Democratic State Convention.—The Prohibitory Convention in Council; hard kicks to their opponents.

BOSTON, AUGUST 19, 1869.
Summer is on the wane, and the autumnal season will soon make its advent. How rapid is the flight of time,—stamping in its passage the records of important events—foreign and domestic. If we mistake not, the year 1869 will be memorable in civil history for the progress of liberalism. We have had occasion in former epistles to allude to the rapid strides of England and France for a wider popular freedom. Titles of nobility from the accidents of birth are becoming questionable. Suffrage, the unbought treasure of civilization, is becoming a reality, and freedom of opinion and of the press is expanding. The fusion of monarchy to free governments is the distinctive feature of the day in Europe. France is passing a transition from a government of despotism to a government of laws and freedom. England now in form is a limited monarchy,—in spirit republican.—Southern and Central Europe are not behind in the progress of a higher civilization and enlarged freedom. The work of reconstruction in our own precious government of men is not slumbering,—still incomplete but eventually to be consummated. The error would seem to be in the distrust of the people of the North towards the repenting people of the South in their efforts to come again into the folds of the Union. Our government can afford to be both generous and just in the great work of national reconstruction. The presence of a standing army and the rule of military government,—the enforcement of the iron clad oath, and the glistening of the bayonet at the doorways of the Southern people are questionable remedies for a happy return of all the States to unity,—at least in our humble judgment. But let us briefly turn to matters "about town."

Business here and probably throughout the country is slack. No change for the better since my last in monetary affairs. The latest statements of the New-York banks are not favorable to an easy money market. Uncle Sam seems to be the greatest broker of the country in the purchase of government bonds. Many argue that the public debt is increased by purchases of bonds at 120, for currency at 100. It may or may not be so.

The Board of Assessors for the city of Boston, have now completed their valuation of the real and personal property—a rich place is Boston—possessing $549,511,600 in valuation, and 51,195 polls—the valuation averaging per capita, about $2000 to every inhabitant of Boston; rate of taxes per thousand dollars, $13.70. The valuation of Roxbury in 1867, was $26,551,700, now, since annexation to Boston, $40,538,100. In one Roxbury ward, (No. 14,) nearly two millions of dollars worth of new houses were erected during the past year.

The Democratic State Convention meets at Worcester on Tuesday next. That John Quincy Adams will be nominated for Governor by acclamation there is little doubt. The issues of the coming canvass are mainly of a local character.—The change of the Prohibitory Liquor Law to one of License; a curtailment in the expenditures of the State, and thereby the lessening of taxes, and justice in legislation towards that large and industrious class of the Old Bay State, the St. Crispin Associations, will be among the matters that will influence the ballot box. It is not expected here that political party lines will be tightly drawn.

The Prohibitory Convention was held at the Tremont Temple, in this city, on Tuesday last. The assemblage was quite numerous, bringing together many of the most worthy citizens of our State.

RELIGIOUS. A large congregation assembled last Sunday evening, at the Orthodox Church, to listen to a discourse from Rev. A. F. Nightingale, who enters the coming Fall upon the Presidency of the North Western Female College, Evanston, Ill.

From the text, "All things work together for good to them who love God," he proceeded to show, in an interesting way, that all the varied conditions of life are designed by the Creator to be conducive to man's highest good, with reference both to this life and the next; that the trials and sorrows which fall to the lot of all, bitter as they may be, are but precursors of joys and blessings all the brighter and richer because of them. God does not suffer afflictions to come upon men for their punishment, but for their discipline. "Behind a frowning Providence He hides a smiling face."

The discourse in many particulars was able, and in some of its passages eloquent. Mr. Nightingale is a native of this town, was educated in our schools, and is a young man of much promise.

For the Patriot.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific.—No. 5.

DENVER, COLORADO TERR.,
July 22d, 1869.

For something of the character of Denver, read Bolle's "Switzerland of America," published last winter. The snowy range extends north and south as far as the eye can reach. Pike's Peak on the south, and Loring's Peak on the north, ranking among our highest mountains, are in full view from the windows of the hotel where I am writing. East of the city is one continuous plain, six hundred and fifty miles to the Missouri River—unlike that of Nebraska, mostly fit for agriculture. Yesterday I started out with a party of Denverites to visit the Ute Indians; a friendly tribe, who wander up and down the Platte River. A hunting party had come back from the Mountains, and were anxious to trade their sun-tanned skins for articles of food and clothing. Most of the men and boys were mounted on wild ponies. No two were dressed alike, but each tried to outdo the other in ornamenting their heads and bodies. They were great beggars—and the children would keep up a continual cry for sugar and matches. It was difficult to keep things in our pockets. Towards evening, a war party of thirty came into camp, with the scalp of an Arapahoe, which caused much excitement among the wigwags. The two parties had met near a small stream, and as they were enemies, a fight ensued, in which four Arapaho and three Utes were killed. A war dance and pow-wow was ordered by the Chief, which some of our party determined to see. We were well paid, and wished we were artists to paint the strange scene. The moon was about two hours high, when on a bluff that rose a hundred feet from the river, we saw strange figures dancing near a fire, that shone upon a hundred wigwags.

The whooping of warriors, the howling of squaws and screaming of children, echoed from the mountains. A procession of squaws was led by one who carried a pole, on the end of which was fastened the scalp. The long black hair was prepared, so as to float gracefully high in the air, on the breeze that came pouring through the canon. As we came near them we could see the war party squeezed tightly together, singing and swinging, to and fro. The squaws, in two flanks were advancing and receding with limping steps, and joining at intervals in the song. As the scalp was swung over the heads of the braves, their notes would grow and swell like the chorus of a great peace jubilee singing war songs. When the square of one of the killed, had cut and lashed herself sufficiently to express her grief, she came out of her wigwag dressed in mourning and joined in the dance. On her head was a crown of white feathers, standing erect in the air, and from it swung a long line of the same trailing on the ground. She took the lead of half the squaws, and the scalp bearer the other half. Then, in opposite directions each half danced around in circles all night. Almost as bad as some white folks, except they used no liquor. Some of the squaws wore pretty capes, naturally scalloped by the shape of the fox skins, and ornamented with rows of beads of various colors. Their coarse black hair was combed out straight, and their heads uncovered, except by a band of brass or tin. Some of their faces were painted in stripes, but most of them covered their faces thick with red paint. We found that Jack, the Chief, could talk some English. He had been in Washington two winters ago.

He said he "was glad to see us there; they were having a good dance; good dance."

When some one remarked, "that he had some good looking squaws," he replied: "Yes, good to work; good to work."

The men do the hunting, but do no work around the wigwags.

"Your squaws sing first rate," said another.

"Yes," said Jack: "I heard 'um sing first rate too; me heard 'um sing in Washington."

"What did you see there, Jack?"

"Me saw great big wigwag—big white stone house—Chief's house."

"Did you see Grant?"

"No, me saw Johnson."

"Your men seem to like war dances, Jack."

"Yes, bully—bully."

He then asked us to join them. Some of the party stepped up behind the squaws, and their attempts to mimic them was amusing to Jack and the other Indians. When a young Denverite walked around on his hands, with heels up, they stopped singing, threw up their arms, and were unbounded in their applause and laughter.

When we left at midnight, Jack bid us good-bye, and wanted us to come again. I would like to go with them at full moon to-night to see them bury the dead. Without being sacrilegious, we might sing:—

"Green be the graves by the wild dashing river,
Where sleeps the brave with his arrow and quiver,
Where in his prime he roamed in his childhood,
Fought he and died in the depths of the wild wood."

The 24th is to be the great anniversary celebration among the Mormons, at Salt Lake City. I am inclined to take the next stage, so as to reach there in time to see the grand turnout.

TRAVELLER.

AGRICULTURAL FAIR AT HYDE PARK.

The Dedham Gazette says, FARMERS OF NORFOLK, are you making preparations for the coming Agricultural Fair at Hyde Park? We hope that in every town in the County agriculturists will bear the coming exhibition in mind, and forward their choicest products of the field and dairy. Mechanics should also have a good display of articles in their line of trade, as such an opportunity to advertise their productions by practical demonstration is seldom offered. Our Society has generally had a good display of such implements as tend to develop our agricultural resources, and aid the farmer in garnering his crops, and we venture to say they have reaped a large profit in return, and will continue to contribute. The preparations for the next Fair are rapidly progressing, and the managers are determined to make the coming one more attractive than any previous exhibition, and the chance to exhibit articles where so many thousands will be assembled, can scarcely be obtained in any other way. The most liberal expenditures are being made in fitting up the grounds, and although a tent will this year have to be used instead of a building, the result of the labors of the Committees can but be apparent in the completeness of the arrangements.

The race track will be one of the best in the State, and will be rounded up like a good road, thus making it easier for the horses in their rapid progress, to move around it. This is a great improvement, and with the riddance of the short curves, as upon the track on the old ground, we may expect a better class of trotters to compete for the prizes, and some fast time.

Extensive preparations are to be made for the exhibition of cattle. Swine, sheep, and poultry, will have plenty of room to breathe, bleat, root and cackle, without becoming home-sick. Every opportunity will be afforded the ladies for the exhibition of articles of their skill and handiwork, and contributions of this nature, and all kinds of fancy work, whether by the needle, the brush, or the pencil will be gladly received.

For those who do not possess conveyances of their own, the place selected in Hyde Park or "Readville," as it is used to be called, is most convenient, as it is a kind of "head centre" for railroads that run through a greater portion of the County; this means constitutes the most agreeable and cheapest access, and we hope that the fares may be put at such a figure as to be no obstacle to any one in the County desiring to attend.

The arrangements for spectators will be ample and comfortable, as the location is most favorable for a view of the trotting and running races which will take place.

We trust there may be an exhibition of ball playing on the occasion, as the excitement consequent upon the game, as played by two good clubs, would greatly increase the attendance.

For the Patriot.

LETTER FROM THE HUB.

BOSTON, AUG. 19, 1869.
Boston is becoming considerable of a city since Roxbury and Dorchester have been added to it. Since it now comprises twice the territory of New York, the "Gothamites" cannot well call it any longer, "a village" on the way to their city.

Our next step will be to annex Quincy, and then we will stop going that way, and take in Charlestown, Chelsea, the Cambridge, Brookline, &c. You know, we are destined to have "all that joins us."

We have just had a wonderful convention here, by which it seems, the Republican party are all temperance people and the Democrats all for liquor.

How curiously these things work! Some of the delegates "pitched into" Major Jones, the State Constable, without mercy. Others came to his defence with equal zeal. So, you see, it was a lively time.

The Herald seems proud of Rev. Dr. Miner's speech because he attacked the Journal, Post and Transcript, but said nothing about the Herald.

We are to have a Daily Temperance Patriot soon. You know we have just had the Daily Times which lasted about three weeks. It costs money to establish a Daily in these days.

We are all pleased to find the "Quincy Patriot" holding on its way, and growing vigorous with age. One of our Boston Merchants told us lately, "it was one of the best papers to advertise in, in the county." Success to it. May it live a thousand years.

DR. WOODWARD'S BEQUEST.

To the Publisher of the Patriot:

May I again trespass upon your space? In the report of the Committee, to whom the bequest of the late Dr. Woodward was referred in Town Meeting, I find the following paragraph:

There appears to have been some oversight in Dr. Woodward in his capacity as trustee, in regard to making returns to the Probate Court, and there is, of course, a difference of opinion as to his title to the estate, arising out of the means by which the estate came into his hands, the manner of the fulfillment of his trust, which cannot be determined until the proper returns are made, and as they have not yet been made, your Committee cannot undertake to express an opinion in relation to the matter.

There was no "oversight in Dr. Woodward in his capacity as trustee." On the 29th of March, 1856, he received his appointment as such from Judge Leland of the Probate Court. The printed instructions, which were handed to Dr. W. with his appointment, contains this section:

You are also required to render an account to said Court, on oath, of all property in your hands as Trustee, and of the management and disposition thereof, within one year, and at such other times as shall be required by the Judge of the Court.

On the 21st of March, 1857, "within one year," Dr. Woodward rendered the first account, as required by these instructions, and the account was duly allowed by the Court. Since then no returns have been required by the Judge or by any other person; and any further returns, therefore, in the absence of any demand for them, were entirely optional with the trustee.

My communication, published last week, is a sufficient answer to the first paragraph of the Committee's report.

F. H.
August 17, 1869.

Mr. Loring A. French having leased the saloon recently kept by Capt. Rogers, corner of Hancock and Granite streets, will serve up this day, as will be seen by a notice in another column, a chowder similar to those which our citizens enjoyed so much in those good old times before the war.

REGATTA. We learn that there will be a regatta of Quincy yachts next Saturday afternoon. Full particulars given next week.

"Barrett's" deserved the Premium.

Summary Intelligence.

The rice crop of Louisiana is expected to reach 80,000 barrels this year. The harvest begins this month.

The Syracuse Journal reports the running of an express train on the New York Central Railroad seventy-one miles in seventy-eight minutes.

John T. Alexander of Jacksonville Ill., shipped to the N. Y. market last year 36,000 beavers. He is probably the largest dealer in cattle in the United States.

A gentleman in Boston has invented a rat trap which kills the animals instantly, throws its body in the air, and sets itself for another victim.

A gentleman in Mansfield offers to present the town with $500 of his salary if it will send him to the Legislature next fall.

Washington street, in Boston, from Dock square to Dover street, numbering nearly 1000, contains but twenty-seven dwelling-houses, exclusive of tenements over stores.

Benjamin Kilburn, of Littleton, N. H. while exploring Tuckerman's Ravine, on the 10th inst., narrowly escaped being buried alive, an immense quantity of snow weighing about ten tons falling just as he stepped from beneath the arch.—There are twenty feet of snow still there.

The Sandwich cranberry crop will be light, owing to the destruction of blossoms by the worm. In other towns on the Cape a large yield is expected.

Several fields of corn in the vicinity of Canton, N. H., have been almost entirely killed by frost, and other forms of vegetation have been considerably damaged in the same way.

Try "Barrett's" Hair Restorative. Memorials to Congress, praying for the repeal of the duty on coal, are freely circulated about New York city, and are hung up for signatures in almost every place of public resort.

About one-half the "bore" at the Hoosac Tunnel will be completed by the end of the present month.

Dea. Andrews, the Kingston murderer, is regarded as the "model prisoner" at Charlestown, Mass., no occasion having yet arisen for punishing him for any infraction of the rules.

The city of Boston has received this season, for dog licenses, about six thousand dollars.

The net receipts of the Lynn post office are larger than those of any other office in the State—the Boston office alone excepted.

Tom Thumb and wife have gone by the F. R. R. to San Francisco.

Fashionable ladies use "Barrett's."

DROWNED. A valuable ox belonging to Mr. Edwards, was drowned on Tuesday last, while being swam ashore from Pettucks Island.

Andrew Johnson's last job of tailoring was to "sew up" the Tennessee carpet-baggers. His next will be to "baste" the Radical Senators in Washington.—Cin. Enquirer.

John Quincy Adams says that the Governor of Massachusetts is at best but a fancy officer—a figurehead to preside at public receptions, military reviews and prayer meetings.

50 Girls Wanted

IMMEDIATELY, to do Worsted Crochet Work at their homes.
Apply to MRS. W. S. COGSWELL,
Quincy, August 21.

Millinery Shop

AND

STORE TO LET!

ROOMS now occupied by Mrs. Curtis, over R. T. C. REED'S Boot and Shoe Store. Possession given Sept. 1st.
Also, one-half of the Store under the same.
Apply to CHARLES R. MITCHELL,
Quincy, Aug. 21.

Salt Marsh for Sale.

ABOUT One Acre of Salt Marsh on Broad Meadows, in Quincy, belonging to the Estate of the late DANIEL H. NILES.
Will be sold cheap.
Apply to E. F. E. THAYER,
Quincy, Aug. 21—11

NOTICE!

THE Assessors of the town of Quincy, give notice that they have delivered to GEORGE H. LOCKE, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant, in due form of law for collecting the same, and that by a vote of the town, all persons who shall pay their taxes on or before the 15th day of SEPTEMBER 1869, a discount of four per cent. will be made. By a vote of the town all taxes are due and payable on the First day of November, and the Collector is required to pay interest on all taxes not paid before December 1st, 1869.
EDMUND R. TAYLOR, Assessors
E. W. UNDERWOOD, of Quincy.
ESIGN S. FELLOWS, of Quincy, Aug. 21.

TO SPRAINS AND BRUISES

Apply the Pain Killer.

SOUTHMAY'S

PURE CONFECTIONERY

Every particle of my manufacture is warranted free from every ingredient deleterious to health.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL AT Corner of Tremont and Bromfield Sts.
BOSTON. Aug. 21 4w

The great Family Medicine of the Age,

David's Vegetable Pain Killer.

NEW STRAW.

JUST Received a prime lot of New Straw for Baling, &c.
JOS. ARLEY, Jr.
Quincy, Aug. 14.

CLADES HOUSE,

Cohasset, Mass.

THE Undersigned, by advice and solicitation of many friends and former patrons of this celebrated sea-side resort, have leased the above premises, and put the House and Buildings in complete repair, stocked the cellar, and arranged all things requisite for the comfort and pleasure of the guests. Boats, with experienced men, and furnished with all the implements for fishing, will be in constant readiness. A new road has been recently opened from the House to the Depot, making the route shorter by a mile and a half. In fact, everything desirable for a first-class sea-side resort can now be found at the Clades. Families wishing to secure rooms for the season, will do well to send in their orders immediately. Parties accommodated with dinners, suppers, &c., at the shortest notice, at satisfactory prices, and with the choicest viands.
G. W. HOGUES, from Newport.
Aug. 14.

FOR SALE,

HOUSE and Land, situated on Cottage Avenue.

Inquire of Mrs. E. B. BENT, on the premises.
Quincy, Aug. 14.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER,

Good for Man or Beast.

$5 REWARD.

THE above reward will be paid for the arrest of the person, or persons, who took Fowers, in front of William Spear's Tomb, in the Old Cemetery, in Quincy.
Dorchester, July 31. CHARLES SPEAR.

WANTED.

A MIDDLE aged, Protestant woman, to do work in a family of six; good cook, washer and ironer,—to such a one, $5 per week will be paid.
Quincy, July 31. Apply at this OFFICE.

Houses to Let.

SLATED Roof House, 10 Rooms, with Stable, Carriage House and 3 Acres of Land, on North street.
Cottage House 6 Rooms, on Brackett Place.
French Roof House, on Linden Place.
Quincy, July 31. HENRY H. FAXON.

NATIONAL

Mount Wollaston Bank.

ON and after SATURDAY May 1st, 1869, until further notice, this Bank will not open on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS.
HENRY F. BARKER, Cashier.
Quincy, April 27, 1869.

Old Horse R. R. Sleepers

FOR SALE!

ONE Hundred Cords at $8.00 per Cord.
HENRY H. FAXON.
Quincy, July 31.

THE PAIN KILLER

Is for Internal and External Use.

Quite Nobby,

The perfumed Scent may be had of

C. T. REED.

SUMMER GOODS,

AT RETAIL,

—BY—

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

At their New and Spacious Store,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

Now landing, per Steamer TARIFA, Cases of WHITE GOODS, elegant styles, LENSES,

Rich FANS, White FRINGES, HAMBURG FLOUSINGS, French BRILLIANTS, LINEN LAUNDS, SHIRT FRONTS, CLOTHESSETS, Thread-lace COLLARS, Infants' Embroidered WAISTS, SCARFS, NECK TIES, Rich HIBBONS, White & Col'd Lisle Thread GLOVES, English HOSIERY,

Silk Handkerchiefs,

(Extra large sizes.)

For Old Gentlemen.

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

37 and 39 TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

At Our New and Spacious Store,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON.

Our only place of Business,

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

Will offer at Retail,

1500 dozen Ladies' and Misses' Linen CAMBRIC

HANDKERCHIEFS,

R GOODS,

RETAIL,

& BROOKS,

and Spacious Store,

and 39

E PLACE,

BOSTON.

Dresser TARIFF, Cases of

FRINGES,

EMBROIDERINGS,

ENTS,

NETS,

and Lace COLLARS,

Gents' Embroidered WAISTS

and 39

E PLACE,

BOSTON.

and 39

E PLACE,

BOSTON.

and Spacious Store,

and 39

E PLACE,

BOSTON.

place of Business,

and 39

E PLACE,

BOSTON.

and 39

E PLACE,

BOSTON.

large Line of Children's Hdkfs.

reasonable prices.

39 Temple Place.

Celebrated

Corsets!

N & BROOKS,

their new and Spacious Store,

39 Temple Place,

on of the Old Bay State COR-

BONE. CORDED EDGES

all sizes,

Cents per Pair.

and Down FRENCH GORED perfect fitting Corset, at $1.25

N & BROOKS,

and 39

E PLACE,

BOSTON.

MORE'S

ing Tin Cans!

KINDS OF

FRUIT JARS.

F. PIERCE & CO.

GO TO

MONT STREET,

AND SHOES,

from 25 cts. to $1.00

EACH PAIR

as represented.

E. G. RICHARDSON & Co.

Opp. the Museum, Boston.

Female Seminary,

BURNDALE, MASS.,

on Boston, on Boston and Allany. For 17 years a leading Seminary. Not excelled in thorough training, nor in the in Modern Languages.

Location, for health, beautifulness, unsurpassed. Next number 9th. Address

CHAS. W. CUSHING.

LETTER FROM VIRGINIA.

BATH ALUM SPRINGS, VA.

August 7th, 1869.

A lovely day. The surrounding mountains which encircle Bath Alum Springs never looked grander; doubtless, rejoicing in the thoughts of what they were to witness in the afternoon; and also feeling happy to think that they would add to the beauty of the scene—as they gloriously did.

In the morning, the boarders at the hotel here, concluded that, if vehicles could be obtained, the best place to witness that, which perhaps they never would be able to see again, the nearly total eclipse of the sun, would be from the top of "Flag Rock" mountain, three miles distant, towards the west.

Of course, we were not to be deprived of witnessing that on which so many scientific discoveries depended, on account of no vehicle large enough to contain our party. Not being able to do better, a stage coach, capable of conveying nine inside, three on top, besides the driver, and if one was willing, a standing place on the tail-board, was obtained. Then a small wagon with two horses attached, large enough to carry seven beside the driver, (a negro worthy of his race), and two horses with saddles, formed the articles of conveyance. Now it is important that you should have a right idea of the contents of the vehicles, and the riders. The most important personage was a Colonel, late of the Confederate army; a fine looking gentleman, who though suffering some from rheumatism, rode his charger like "a knight to bold."

By his side, seated on the finest steed, of the "country round," was a young lady, who, if it were possible, looked finer than her escort. In a moment they were gone. "Over bank, bush and stream."

Like the royal carriage of the Queen of England, the stage-coach with four prancing horses, halted before the grand entrance to the hotel. Presently—not the queen—a flock of gay young boarding school girls, who were stopping at the Springs for the summer, ran down the steps which led to the door-way, and began to arrange themselves in the interior of the stage, who, with the addition of the Colonel's daughter, completely filled it.

On the top, seated beside the driver, was a gentleman with wife and sister from Baltimore; and on the tail-board, the Principal of the young ladies' school, by profession a minister. With one joyous crack! from the driver's whip, the first "load" started on its way. The second "load" was decidedly "Yonder." The proprietor's wife and nephew from one of our neighboring towns, a smart, active, intelligent lad from Brooklyn, and myself and sister, with the driver, Pelts, whom I spoke of before, constituted the company of the second team. Crack! smuck! and away we started. Chatting, laughing, now and then severely jostled by some defect in the road; trying hard to express in terms strong enough our delight, and awe, that the grand, sublime, and majestic scenery inspired us with, we rode slowly along, enjoying hugely every thing that was formed by the hand of Nature.

Up! up! la! we are almost to the top of "Little Piney" mountain. Suddenly we take a sharp turn, and begin the ascent of "Flag Rock," about half way between the summit and base.

"But what is that?" some one asks. "Yes! look! it is a rattlesnake; isn't it large? How glad I am that I did not encounter it in walking! For a few moments all were intent on the rattlesnake. Then the young fellow from B. sees some tremendous blackberries; of course they must be had—so out the back he jumps and gets them. The other young fellow spies some old dried vine, and exclaims: "Just what I have been looking after this long time. I mustn't forget this place when I come back, so that I can get it." He noticed some peculiar rock, or tree, fixed the sight of it in his mind, said no more concerning the vine, and we rode on in quiet again a few minutes. Then again the break in the thickly wooded roadside, which in many cases formed a perfect bower of grape-vines, oak, beech, birch, and pine trees, where, doubtless, many a time and oft the sylvan nymphs enjoyed beyond imagination their games and rural sports." Far in the distance through this bower, "guarded securely by word and by spell," the distant mountains, clothed in garments of "airy nothingness," proudly lifted their heaven-reaching domes almost to the foot of the throne of their Maker.

"The toll-gate is in sight," we all remarked in one voice. Now for a dismount. Like experts, the young ladies sprang one by one from the stage door; and the skill and ease with which the three descended from the top was perfectly marvelous. Middle, what do you call her, from what's his name's circus, would have been puzzled to have done better. Of course, the couple on horse-back rode to the very top. By the way,

I have not informed you what the toll-gate is for, or why we did not all ride to the top. That must be attended to at once. From the toll-gate, the road descends the opposite side of the mountain in the direction of the Warm Springs. A road, wide enough for a carriage to ascend, has been constructed from the toll-gate to the summit; the money paid at the toll-gate being to keep this road in order. The distance from here to the summit is about half a mile, and very steep—so that for horses to ascend with a vehicle would be right hard. As I said, we all dismounted, except the knight and lady, and then began the last half mile of ascent on foot. All started at a brisk pace. But how long did they keep it up? Some one may ask. The young lads and some of the ladies never faltered; others pulling, wiping the perspiration from their brows, declared it a mile. "I see the rocks, only a few steps further," one of the "plucky" ones remarks. Sure enough, another turn in the road, and all the trouble of ascending is over.

Hardly noticing the scenery around them, all, or nearly all, seated themselves on the rock, to renew their breath. A candle was then placed in a secure nook, protected from the wind, and then lit; then old pieces of window glass must have imagined themselves bacon, or herrings.

When rested, and as no eclipse was visible, the scenery, which is one of the finest in Virginia, was discussed. "Wonderous are thy works Almighty God," was undoubtedly, or something to the same effect, uttered by every soul.

Now, as the time approaches, all, with a piece of smoked glass in hand, are watching for the eclipse. Gradually nature and man changed their hues; the earth wearing a gloomy, dismal aspect, as one shrouded in tears for a friend. So peculiar was the light, the faces of the party assumed a sallow, consumptive look; and those who were naturally pale, and white as corpses, imparted with motion, seemed to be. When the sun was almost entirely eclipsed, the uncovered part seeming no wider than one's finger, we all gazed with wondering awe.

"It's all over with it. It is beginning to grow brighter," remarks one. Sure enough, the sublime spectacle was drawing to a close.

We prepared to descend. Like a flock of sheep we ran to the carriages. "Have some maple sugar, sir; only ten cents a cake?"

"Not to-day. Have no money."

"Very well, sir."

And with a pert bow, the sparkling eyed, and rosy checked country lass, left me to tempt the other gentlemen.

Shall I ever forget that ride from Bath Alum Springs to the summit of "Flag Rock" Mountain? I don't believe I shall. With a cool, refreshing mountain breeze and merry humor, we went at a furious rate, stopping for nothing till we arrived at our starting point. Not even the botanist had an opportunity of obtaining the wonderful vine.

An incredible story is told in New York papers. A beautiful young woman entered a street car one day recently, and a working man, whose countenance bore evidence of a day of toil, politely offered her a seat. "Please keep your seat, sir," was the response, "you are no doubt tired."

"Barrett's" is universally admired.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 17th inst., Mrs. Joanna, wife of Mr. James Scannell, aged 38 years.

In Braintree, Mrs. Rebecca M. relief of the late Samuel V. Arnold, aged 90 years.

Special Notices.

CLAM CHOWDER. One of those good, old-fashioned Clam Chowders, which pleased the epicures in years gone by, will be served this day in season for dinner, at the Saloon corner of Hancock and Granite streets. Families leaving their orders will receive prompt attention.

L. A. FRENCH.

NOTICE. At a Special Meeting of the McClellan Guards, Co. H. of Quincy, Captain in the Chair, Voted, that we expect WILLIAM HARNETT, on the 14th and 15th days of Aug. 1869, while in uniform.

HUMPHREY MOYNIHAN, Clerk. Quincy, Aug. 21.

NOTICE. Bills against the Fire Department will not be approved by the Engineers, or paid by the Selectmen, unless ordered by the Engineers.

WASHINGTON M. FRENCH, Chief Engineer. Quincy, June 8.

Twenty-five Years' Practice

In the Treatment of Diseases incident to Females, has placed Dr. DOW at the head of all physicians making such practice a specialty, and enables him to guarantee a speedy and permanent cure in the worst cases of Suppression and all other Menstrual Derangements, from whatever cause. All letters for advice must contain $1. Office No. 9 BRIMFORD STREET, BOSTON.

N. B.—Bills furnished to those desiring to remain under treatment, Boston, July 10, 1869.

Every man his own telegraph operator is becoming the rule in Chicago. The wire is introduced already into private houses in the West, in connection with a little box which contains a lettered dial with a steel pointer revolving and stopping at the letters of the message.

Great harm and discomfort is caused by the use of purgatives which gripe and rack the system. Parson's Purgative Pills are free from all impure matter, and are mild and health-giving in their operation.

At this season of the year, cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels, dysentery, diarrhoea, &c., are quite common, and should be checked at once. Johnson's Dysentery Linctum is the best article that can be used in all such cases, and should be kept in every family.

Be wise and select "Barrett's."

OLD BUILDINGS! We love those ancient Structures, which Tell of days of yore; They in the mind help fill a niche Could not be filled before; They take us back to "good old times," When man for man did live; When for the sake of paltry "dimes" His peace he did not give; When men were honest as the day, And sold at prices fair, Like THE RICHARDS who gives "Clothes" away, Almost—in Old Dock Square; In that Old Store* of such renown, The oldest building, now, in town.

*24 and 25 Dock Square, Boston.

COLBURN'S RED JACKET AXE. This axe is better than the regular shaped axes for these reasons—

I. It cuts deeper.
II. It doesn't stick.
III. It doesn't jar the hand.
IV. No time or strength is wasted in taking the axe out of the cut and in making it.

V. With the same labor you do one third more work. With all these good qualities it is made of same steel and iron and temper, as our regular axes and will not bear rough usage any better than they.

THOMAS, IOWA, Dec. 21st, 1868. LITTLEBERRY & BARKWELL: The Red Jacket Axe you sent us is a good one. I think it is the best axe I ever had hold of.

It is a very easy axe to chop with. Any one can see by the shape of it that it does not require so much exertion on the part of the chopper as the old style axe to make it penetrate into the wood. We are much pleased with it.

Yours, G. W. CLAYTON. Miles Covered Soap Shovel. For the Farmer. Just what you want.

PROBIA, Jan. 26, 1869. LITTLEBERRY & BARKWELL: We have in constant use the Covered Soap Shovel of Mr. Miles and find it to be a very useful article. We more than save the cost of it daily in the amount of grain saved, shoveled from wagons. We can also handle grain much faster than we can with the common Shovel.

GRIER & Co., Grain Dealers. E. S. EASTON & Son, Grain Dealers. ROBINSON & Co., Flour Dealers. GEO. FALLS & Co., City Mills.

While we make these and recommend them because of their great merit, we are also manufacturers of Spades and Shovels of any made in the country, East or West.

Our Saws are patent temper and patent ground and warranted as good as any made.

FEDERICA, IOWA, Feb. 5, 1869. LITTLEBERRY & BARKWELL, GENTS: The Saw that you sent Henry & Pierce is the best Saw I ever saw. It takes two inch feed in oak and stands up badly. I cut 561 feet of oak fencing in 23 minutes.

I have run saws for 19 years, and that is the best one I ever got hold of. I have run my saws in Michigan for five or six years. ASH DAVIS. If your hardware dealer does not keep our goods send to us direct with your inquiries or orders, and you shall have immediate attention and reply.

LITTLEBERRY & BARKWELL, Pittsburgh Penn. Sole Owners of Colburn's and Red Jacket Patents and Patent Tempered Saws.

PHILIP CARVER. Quincy, May 29.

THE FLORENCE Favorite Sewing Machine.

It is excelled by none. People should not fail to examine these SIMPLE, DURABLE and elegant Machines before purchasing any other.

C. S. FRENCH, Agent for Quincy. Quincy, May 29.

$25.00 Reward.

STOLEN from my Stable, THURSDAY, June 24th, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5 P. M.

A new Buggy Breast-plate Harness. It had some Rosettes, some red in front, Buckles all covered. The terrets are lined, broad on top, oval shape, and covered with leather. The Trace Buckles were broad and flat outside, a recent style, and longer than the other pattern which are round.

Scale Straps double and stitched. Check of Bridle straight without nose. The above reward will be paid for the recovery of the Property.

EDWARD TURNER, National Mt. Wollaston Bank. Quincy, July 3.

Grand Excursions

BOSTON HARBOR, DAILY.

Boston, Hull and Hingham.

The commodious and swift steamer JOHN ROMER, Capt. C. E. GORR, the fastest steamer of her class, will commence her regular season on MONDAY, June 28, 1869. Leave Liverpool wharf, foot of Pearl street, Boston, at 9 A. M., 2:30 and 5:30 P. M. Leave Hingham at 1:30 and 10:30 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Fare, 10 Cents.

Stages will connect with the boat for Jerusalem Road, Pleasant Beach, Cohasset, East Marshfield and South Scituate.

SUNDAY, Two Trips down the Harbor

Leaving Liverpool wharf at 10:15 A. M., for a trip outside of Boston Light, stopping at Hull on her return, and leaving Hull at 12 M. Also leaving Liverpool wharf at 2:15 P. M. for a trip to Minor's Lodge Light, stopping at Hull on her return, leaving Hull at 5 P. M.

FARE, 50 CENTS FOR THE ROUND TRIP. DAVID CHAPMAN, Agent. Liverpool wharf, Boston.

Boston and Nantasket Beach, Four Trips a Day.

On and after MONDAY, June 28, 1869, the favorite steamer ROSE STANDISH, Capt. E. A. CASS, will leave Liverpool wharf, foot of Pearl street, Boston, at 9 A. M., 12 M., 2:30 P. M., 5:30 P. M. Leave Nantasket Beach for Boston at 8:30 A. M., 3:30 and 8:15 P. M.

Fare, 25 cents each way.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays the steamer will touch at Fort Warren on the 9:30 A. M. trip from Boston, and the 11 A. M. trip from Nantasket Beach, giving passengers an hour to visit this celebrated fortification.

SUNDAYS TWO TRIPS.

Leaving Liverpool wharf at 10 A. M., and 2:30 P. M. Leaving Nantasket Beach at 11 A. M. and 5:30 P. M. Touching at Fort Warren going and returning.

Fare, 50 cents each way.

Passing all the fortifications in the harbor, and landing passengers directly upon the finest beach in the United States, (noted for its safety for surf bathing and its fine points), this boat affords the most delightful excursions ever offered the public in the vicinity of Boston.

J. B. CHAPMAN, Agent.

FALL RIVER LINE.

New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and all principal points West, South and South West.

via Taunton and Fall River. Cabin, $5 00, Deck, $4 00.

Baggage checked through and transferred in New York free of charge.

New York trains leave the Old Colony and Newport Railway Depot, corner of South and Kneeland streets, daily, as follows: at 4:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 6:30 P. M., and in Taunton at 7:30 P. M. Leaving Taunton at 5:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 7:30 P. M., and in New York at 9:30 P. M. Leaving Fall River at 6:30 P. M., arriving in New York at 8:30 P. M.

New York Express Freight Train leaves Boston at 1:30 P. M.; goods arrive in New York next morning about 10 A. M.; goods leave New York for Boston on the following day at 9:30 A. M.

Steamers leave New York from Pier 20 North River, foot of Chambers street, daily (Sundays excepted), at 5 P. M. Doolittle's Band give Concerts on the boat every night.

Tickets, berths and state-rooms, apply at the Company's Office.

In No. 8 Old State House, corner of South and Kneeland streets, daily, as follows: at 4:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 6:30 P. M., and in Taunton at 7:30 P. M. Leaving Taunton at 5:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 7:30 P. M., and in New York at 9:30 P. M. Leaving Fall River at 6:30 P. M., arriving in New York at 8:30 P. M.

Steamers leave New York from Pier 20 North River, foot of Chambers street, daily (Sundays excepted), at 5 P. M. Doolittle's Band give Concerts on the boat every night.

Tickets, berths and state-rooms, apply at the Company's Office.

In No. 8 Old State House, corner of South and Kneeland streets, daily, as follows: at 4:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 6:30 P. M., and in Taunton at 7:30 P. M. Leaving Taunton at 5:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 7:30 P. M., and in New York at 9:30 P. M. Leaving Fall River at 6:30 P. M., arriving in New York at 8:30 P. M.

Steamers leave New York from Pier 20 North River, foot of Chambers street, daily (Sundays excepted), at 5 P. M. Doolittle's Band give Concerts on the boat every night.

Tickets, berths and state-rooms, apply at the Company's Office.

In No. 8 Old State House, corner of South and Kneeland streets, daily, as follows: at 4:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 6:30 P. M., and in Taunton at 7:30 P. M. Leaving Taunton at 5:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 7:30 P. M., and in New York at 9:30 P. M. Leaving Fall River at 6:30 P. M., arriving in New York at 8:30 P. M.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

BOSTON HARBOR, DAILY.

Boston, Hull and Hingham.

The commodious and swift steamer JOHN ROMER, Capt. C. E. GORR, the fastest steamer of her class, will commence her regular season on MONDAY, June 28, 1869. Leave Liverpool wharf, foot of Pearl street, Boston, at 9 A. M., 2:30 and 5:30 P. M. Leave Hingham at 1:30 and 10:30 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Fare, 10 Cents.

Stages will connect with the boat for Jerusalem Road, Pleasant Beach, Cohasset, East Marshfield and South Scituate.

SUNDAY, Two Trips down the Harbor

Leaving Liverpool wharf at 10:15 A. M., for a trip outside of Boston Light, stopping at Hull on her return, and leaving Hull at 12 M. Also leaving Liverpool wharf at 2:15 P. M. for a trip to Minor's Lodge Light, stopping at Hull on her return, leaving Hull at 5 P. M.

FARE, 50 CENTS FOR THE ROUND TRIP. DAVID CHAPMAN, Agent. Liverpool wharf, Boston.

Boston and Nantasket Beach, Four Trips a Day.

On and after MONDAY, June 28, 1869, the favorite steamer ROSE STANDISH, Capt. E. A. CASS, will leave Liverpool wharf, foot of Pearl street, Boston, at 9 A. M., 12 M., 2:30 P. M., 5:30 P. M. Leave Nantasket Beach for Boston at 8:30 A. M., 3:30 and 8:15 P. M.

Fare, 25 cents each way.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays the steamer will touch at Fort Warren on the 9:30 A. M. trip from Boston, and the 11 A. M. trip from Nantasket Beach, giving passengers an hour to visit this celebrated fortification.

SUNDAYS TWO TRIPS.

Leaving Liverpool wharf at 10 A. M., and 2:30 P. M. Leaving Nantasket Beach at 11 A. M. and 5:30 P. M. Touching at Fort Warren going and returning.

Fare, 50 cents each way.

Passing all the fortifications in the harbor, and landing passengers directly upon the finest beach in the United States, (noted for its safety for surf bathing and its fine points), this boat affords the most delightful excursions ever offered the public in the vicinity of Boston.

J. B. CHAPMAN, Agent.

FALL RIVER LINE.

New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and all principal points West, South and South West.

via Taunton and Fall River. Cabin, $5 00, Deck, $4 00.

Baggage checked through and transferred in New York free of charge.

New York trains leave the Old Colony and Newport Railway Depot, corner of South and Kneeland streets, daily, as follows: at 4:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 6:30 P. M., and in Taunton at 7:30 P. M. Leaving Taunton at 5:30 P. M., arriving in Fall River at 7:30 P. M., and in New York at 9:30 P. M. Leaving Fall River at 6:30 P. M., arriving in New York at 8:30 P. M.

Poetry.

A SUMMER NIGHT'S SONG.

The west is broken into bars
Of orange, gold and grey;
Gone is the sun, come are the stars,
And night unfolds the day.
My boat glides down the gliding stream,
Whose fitting, glowing breast
Is lighted with one fading gleam,
The death-smile of the west.
The river flows; the sky is still,
It hath no ceaseless quest;
Sad hearts and eyes may flow and fill
To think of such a rest.
The stream flows on. The skies repose,
All night the starbeams play,
In clouds and gleams the river flows;
The sky is clear away.

Farmers' Department.

GRAPES ON TREES.

We see this old subject revived again. We have an account from the Journal of Horticulture, in which a correspondent says that some years ago he allowed an Isabella grapevine to run up into a tree, which stood in an angle near the house, where it did not have more than three or four hours of morning sun, yet the grapes ripened perfectly and the vine was very productive, &c. If such were the case, why not go on with that way of raising grapes? Every farmer or person with a garden has a tree that he could run a vine on, and ought to know so important a fact, if it is true. But we advise them not to do it if they wish to have good grapes. Vines so run, bear heavily, every year higher and higher up, and smaller and smaller fruit, and poorer and poorer in quality, and soon become entirely worthless. We are now trying a Concord in this way, just because it was growing at the foot of a tree; but we have no expectation that the grapes will be fit to eat after the first two years of fruiting.—Germantown Telegraph.

COWS WITHHOLDING MILK.

As all farmers and dairymen are well aware, some cows possess the power of holding up or retaining their milk, or a portion of it, and often the milking process is not only long and tedious, but the quantity obtained is small in consequence of this failing. A correspondent of a Western paper says cows can be cured of this habit if they will drink sour milk. After drinking, and as soon as they begin to lick the pail, they will give down freely. He has tried it with cows that would give about two-thirds the proper quantity, retaining the other portion. Then he gives them the milk to drink, and waits until they begin to lick the pail, when he has no trouble in obtaining the remainder. He has tried meal, salt, and various other things, but found nothing to produce such an effect as sour milk.

APPLE-TREE BORER.

This pest of our orchards lays its eggs in the month of June and July, depositing them in the bark near or just below the surface of the soil. These eggs soon hatch, and the grub immediately commences to eat its way into the tree, pushing its castings out of the hole, and by this sign we may readily detect its presence. At this time the borer is very easily destroyed with a wire or a sharp pointed knife, but allow them to penetrate the wood several inches and it becomes quite difficult to reach them. As these borers live two or three years, eating continually and penetrating the tree farther and farther each season, it must be apparent to every one that they should be destroyed before they have done much damage to the tree.—Hearth and Home.

Anecdotes.

"My dear sir," said a candidate, accosting a sturdy way on the day of election, "I am very glad to see you."
"You needn't be," replied the way, "I've voted."
"Anything pite you dare?" inquired one Dutchman of another while engaged in angling.
"No, nothing at all."
"Well, returned the other, "noting pite me too."
"Well, did you deliver the message?"
"Yes, sir, but I think the gentleman is rather queer."
"Queer! how do you mean?"
"Well, sir, he asked me where my hat was, and it was on my head all the time."
An Irish juror having applied to the judge to be excused from serving on account of deafness, the judge said: "Could you hear my charge to the jury, sir?"
"Yes, I heard your Honor's charge," said Paddy, "but I couldn't make any sense out of it."
He was let off.

A shoemaker was fitting a customer with a pair of boots, when the buyer observed that he had but one objection to them, which was that the soles were a little too thick.
"If that is all," replied the maker, "put on the boots, and the objection will gradually wear away."

LOVEJOY'S

CLOTHING HOUSE

DOCK SQUARE,

(Corner of North Street.)

THE CHEAPEST PLACE

TO BUY

GOOD CLOTHING.

J 19.

Sm

RICHARD HAILS,

Merchant Tailor!

WOULD inform the citizens of Quincy, and

CHOICE ASSORTMENT

of goods adapted to the season which he will make to measure in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,

and warranted satisfactory.

Goods sold by the yard, and GARMENTS cut

and trimmed.

All Goods warranted.

Quincy, June 19.

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

Merchant Tailor & Dealer

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS

AND VESTINGS,

School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

AS on hand, and is constantly receiving

from the best sources, New and Desirable

Goods adapted to his trade. All who wish first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price, are

respectfully invited to call.

N.B. It would be well to remember, that

Cheapness and Dearthness are relative attributes;

they have a relation to the quality of the article

we buy, and that, which does not answer well

the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR

at last.

Quincy, March 30

A NEW STOCK

GROCERIES.

THE Subscriber having leased the store

recently occupied by Mr. Lombard,

next door to the Orthodox Church,

and added a large stock of FRESH GROCER-

IES, would invite his friends and the public to call at his

NEW STORE,

and examine his large stock of West India Goods

which have been selected with care, and are warranted to give the best of satisfaction.

A good assortment of Fruit, Meat, Provisions,

&c., of the best quality, constantly on hand.

JAMES N. BLAKE.

Quincy, June 5, 1869.

The Best and Cheapest Place to buy

CLOTHES WRINGERS

OR WASHING MACHINES.

Or to get your WRINGERS REPAIRED, is at

H. S. THAYER'S,

42 Elm Street, - BOSTON.

Entrance from the Yard of Wilde's Hotel.

July 10

QUINCY

MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce

that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a Ware-room, where

EVERY VARIETY

— OF —

Monumental Work,

from the simplest grave stones, to the

Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,

may be seen finished and ready for lettering.

All persons needing such, are invited to call

Genuine Lykens Valley

Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the

above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice

at the lowest cash prices. OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

BOSTON, JULY 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now

on hand, the Pure Genuine Franklin Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being

the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit

Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co.

Quincy, July 6.

LUMBER, COAL, WOOD, BRICK, &c.

THE Subscribers have just received at their

descriptions, consisting of:

Spruce Timber and Joist,

Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,

Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,

Sheathing and Finishing Boards,

Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Burnside red and white ash Coal, George's Creek Cam-

berland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick,

Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold Cheap,

for Cash.

ORDERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo.

H. Locke, Washington M. French, Joseph W.

Lombard, or at Post Office Box, 155, will receive

prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.

Quincy, Aug. 22.

M. HARTNEY'S

Quincy and Boston Express.

New Arrangement.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Leave Boston at 2 1/2 o'clock, P. M.

ORDERS in Quincy may be left at the following places, at the Store of C. T. Reed & Co.,

and Daniel Baxter & Co., 43 North Market Street

Office in Boston, 23 and 40 South Market Street.

Business attended to with care and responsibility.

Quincy, May 25.

WILLIAM CARRITY'S

(Formerly Farnald and Shee's)

Quincy & Boston Express

THE Subscriber having purchased the good will of the Route recently managed by Messrs. Spear &

Russell is prepared to convey Freight and Passengers between Quincy and Boston, and to carry out business to and from the above named cities.

N.B.—Furniture Moved and Parties

accommodated at short notice.

Leaves Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 2 1/2

P. M.

Orders—Orders may be left at Whitney & Nash's, John

A. Wood's, W. Abernethy's, and at the Stable.

BOSTON—Washington Street, 43 South Market St.;

2 Faneuil Hall Square.

Quincy, Sept. 7.

Quincy & Boston Express.

JOHN RING,

WILL faithfully attend to the delivery of

any packages entrusted to his care.

Leave Quincy at 8 1/2; Boston at 2.

Orders left at his residence on Summer

Street, or at E. Clapp's Store, in Quincy; or

2 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt

and careful attention.

Quincy, May 18.

For New and Beautiful Styles

PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.

Quincy, May 1.

SPRING TRADE.

THE Subscriber, having employed a good

upholsterer is now ready to accommodate the public, in remodeling old furniture of every description.

Housekeepers should send in their work

J. A. McLellan's

LADIES' & GENTS'

Variety Store,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.,

QUINCY,

IS THE PLACE TO GET

BARGAINS!

Hosiery, Gloves, Hdkfs., Cottons, White

Goods, Stamped Aprons, Ladies'

Children's Gents' and

Boys' Hats, Artificial Flow-

ers, Patent Medicines,

Hoop Skirts, Boots, and

Shoes, &c., &c.

We have marked down our goods below

the lowest. We mean sell!

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

J. A. McLELLAN'S,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.

Quincy, May 9.

BOOTS & SHOES.

BARTHOLOMEW HERNAN would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy that he has taken the shop recently occupied by

MR. JOHN WILLIAMS,

Over Emerson's Hair Dressing Saloon.

And having secured the services of Mr. Williams,

is prepared to make Custom Boots in the best

manner, and at the most reasonable cash prices.

Also, will repair Ladies', Gents' and Children's

Shoes, at short notice.

Quincy, April 17.

BOOTS & SHOES

Made and Repaired!

THE Undersigned would respectfully announce

to the public that he has moved to the shop

corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.

where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots

and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

NATH'L. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, May 8.

Don't Fail to Call

— AT —

D. B. STETSON'S

AND EXAMINE

HIS LARGE STOCK OF

BOOTS AND SHOES

Some Extra Bargains.

Quincy, April 3.

WARRANTED

BOOTS & SHOES,

For sale at low prices,

By E. CLAPP.

Quincy, Mar 3

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable,

healthy, and effectual

for preserving the hair. Faded or gray

hair is soon restored

to its original color

with the gloss and

freshness of youth.

This hair is thick-

ened, falling hair checked, and baldness

often, though not always, cured

by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed,

or the glands atrophied and decayed.

But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair

from turning gray or falling off, and

consequently prevent baldness. Free

from those deleterious substances which

make some preparations dangerous and

injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted

merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts

long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy

luster and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS,

LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE $1.00.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

SHRINER'S

BALSAMIC COUGH SYRUP

Will cure the ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, BLOOD

SPITTING, DIFFICULTY OF BREATHING,

PAIN AND WEAKNESS IN THE CHEST, TROU-

BLESOME COUGHING AT NIGHT, &c. It will effectually remove the Cough that frequently follows Measles, and any affection of the respiratory organs, no matter how long standing, or wherever the age of the person. It acts as a specific, is purely vegetable, and is pleasant to the taste. In effect it soothes, allays the violence of the cough, facilitates expectoration, quiets the nerves and exhilarates the system.

Mothers, Save Your Children

No child needs die of CROUP, if this Syrup is used in time; this is a fact demonstrated by experience. No family should be without this

Syrup, as that fatal disease, CROUP, comes like a thief in the night, to steal away your little one, when regular medical aid cannot be obtained.

Prepared only by

DAVID E. FOUTZ,

Baltimore

The Quincy Patriot.
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.
GEO. W. PRESOOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. 1869.
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. 1869.
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
(Who is stopping at Dr. Roundy's.)
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. 1869.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M., and in Quincy, from 10 A.M. to 12 P.M.
Sept. 14. 1869.
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law.
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. 1869.
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.
JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent.
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1869.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1869.
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 15. 1869.
FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1869.

NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers,
to merit a portion of your patronage.
DANIEL McCURDY.
Quincy, May 9. 1869.
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling, and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satisfactory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18. 1869.
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATES can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or B. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams Diput.
Quincy, Jan. 9. 1869.

Dr. Warren's Cordial.
DR. Warren's celebrated Pulmonic Cherry
Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c., &c.
For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Mar. 27. 1869.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1869. NUMBER 35.

Selectmen's Meetings.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in
the Town House every SATURDAY, from
1:30 to 4:30 o'clock, P.M., until further notice.
Persons having business with the Town will
please present it on those days.
EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of
ENGLISH S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.
Quincy, March 6.

State Aid.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each Month, from 9 to 12 A.M., for the purpose of making a report to the State, under the provisions of the law of 1867.
EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of
ENGLISH S. FELLOWS, } Quincy.
Quincy, March 6.

SOUTHER'S
Newspaper and Periodical Depot.
I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends,
the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that I have purchased the interest, and leased the
store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT,
Next Door to the Post Office,
Where I will continue to supply the
Daily and Weekly Newspapers,
MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,
to patrons promptly.
Subscriptions taken for any Paper or Magazine
in the Country.
School Books, Slates, Pens, Ink and Paper, in fact, every thing connected with the Stationery Department, on hand or procured at the shortest
notice.
Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the
day.
Papers and Magazines bound in any style.
E. B. SOUTHER.
Quincy, May 1. 1869.

MRS. M. E. CURTIS
WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has taken the rooms
formerly occupied by
MISS CURRIER.
Over Mr. C. T. Reed's Store,
Where she is prepared to show them a large and Choice Assortment
—OF—
French Millinery Goods,
suitable for the season.
STRAW GOODS, BLEACHED PRESSED AND DRESSED.
Mourning and Grave Clothes constantly on
hand or made to order.
Orders received for FANCY FLOWERS,
Dress and Cloak Making in all its varieties.
Corsets, Hoop Skirts, and other articles kept
constantly for sale.
Also, Agent for the famous WOOD SEWING MACHINE. These in want of a Good Machine,
please call and examine.
Quincy, May 9. 1869.

MILLINERY!
MISS S. H. HUSSEY
WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies
generally—that she has removed to the Old Stand, in
GOODNOW'S BUILDING.
Thinking them for past favors, respectfully solicit their orders for SPRING and SUMMER
MILLINERY.
A Fresh assortment constantly on hand.
MOURNING and GRAVE CLOTHES made to
order.
STRAW GOODS Repaired, Bleached & Dyed.
All orders promptly attended to
CORNER HANCOCK & GRANITE STS., Up Stairs.
Quincy, April 18. 1869.

REMOVED.
MRS. H. F. CURTIS.
WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that
she has moved to a room over the POST
OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute DRESS MAKING,
in the latest Styles.
And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.
Quincy, April 10. 1869.
A CARD.
THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.
Collar & Harness Making
—AND—
CARRIAGE TRIMMING
in all its branches
Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest
manner at short notice.
Quincy Jan. 13. 1869. RALPH LOWE.

LIVERY STABLE.
REMOVED.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons
that he has removed to his
New Stable on Hancock Street,
REAR OF MESSRS. TIRRELL'S SHOP,
where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages
at short notice.
He would also take this opportunity to thank the public
for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.
JOHN HALL.
Quincy, June 20. 1869.

Poetry.
LIVE NOT TO THYSELF ALONE.
Live not to thyself alone,
For from the realms above
The voice of God is bidding us
To live a life of love;
And like the sweet refreshing dews,
Our blessings to impart;
While blessing hope's pure rainbow round
The weary, wounded heart.
In blessing beauty there;
If not to scatter its perfume
And fragrance to the air?
It lives not to itself alone,
For, let it bloom or fade,
It shows to man the hand of God,
By whom its leaves were made.
The tree that in the highway stands,
We say must stand alone;
But know we hear a voice reply,
From reason's holy throne;
Within the bosom of that tree
Young birds have found a nest,
And there, when loud the tempest roars,
Have found a place of rest.
The mountain stream that gushes on,
With sweet and gentle song,
Repeats—'I live not to myself,
As with I glide along;
Down in the valley goes I leap,
Where, on my margin's brink,
The birds may sing, while those who thirst
May of my waters drink.
Then live not to thyself alone,
Is written on everything—
Upon the rose that scents the air,
And on the breeze of spring—
Upon the raindrops as they fall,
Which for our good are given—
And on the silver lamps that hang Upon the walls of heaven.

Interesting Selections.
PAN PIE. Make a quart of nice apple sauce, sweeten with sugar, nutmeg may be used for flavoring if preferred.
Bake the paste very thin on a tin sheet, mark it into squares, and when baked break it into the sauce, and be sure that all the paste is well covered in the sauce, for at least two or three hours before it is used.
TOMATO OMELETS. Beat six eggs, mix two tablespoonsful of flour in a little water, and add some salt and pepper, peel and chop very fine four tomatoes, stir this altogether. Put a bit of butter half the size of an egg into a frying-pan, heat it hot, turn on the mixture, stirring all the time until it begins to thicken, then let it stand to brown three minutes; lap it half over; slip it on a dish and send it to the table very hot.
A lady whose kindness to animals amounts to a mania, was one day sadly annoyed by a blue bottle fly. Calling her maid, she bade her catch the fly, without hurting it, and put it out of the window. Seeing the girl hesitate to raise the sash, she inquired the cause. "Why madam, it rains so very hard," answered the mischievous creature. "True," replied the mistress; put the poor thing in the other room.

A little boy came to school, recently with a very dirty face. The teacher sent him out to wash it, and after a while he returned, with the lower part of his face clean and dry, but the upper portion was streaked with mud and looked worse than before. "Why didn't you wash your face, Johnny?" asked the teacher.
"I did wash it," replied Johnny. "Then why didn't you wipe it clean, all over?"
"I did wipe it, as high as my shirt would reach," was Johnny's conclusive answer.

DRY ROT. Charles Dickens says that "the first external revelation of the dry rot in men is a tendency to lurk and loam; to be at street corners without intelligible reason; to be going anywhere when met; to be about many places rather than any; to do nothing tangible, but to have an intention of performing a number of tangible duties to-morrow or the day after.
Kinder is the looking glass than the wineglass; the former reveals our defects to ourselves only, the latter to our friends.
IT is easier to think right without doing right than to do right without thinking right. Just thoughts may, and often do, of producing just deeds, but just deeds are sure to beget just thoughts.

THEIR ROOSTERS. Not many days ago a young lady from the country went into a store not a thousand miles from Boston, and asked a clerk if he wished to purchase a couple of chickens, at the same time throwing a pair of live ones on the counter.
"Why, yes," he replied; "but will they lay here," meaning would they remain on the counter for a few moments.
"Lay there?" archly retorted the rustic beauty; "No sir! they won't lay no where, then roosters."

OUR NEAREST OF KIN—Mosquitoes.
They are our blood relations.
A man in Maine whose wife is an Elizabeth-Cady-Dickinson-man, has ordered a tombstone engraved "Let us have Peace." He says it is not material whether it goes over him or her.

Miscellany.
TWO KINDS OF PLEASURES.
"He's a mean, niggardly fellow, and you can't make any thing else of it," said James Pearce, addressing half a dozen companions, and speaking very emphatically.
"So he is," echoed another.
"A regular skinflint," added a third, anywhere," chimed in a fourth. "I wouldn't have him at any rate."
"It's a pity that such a good-hearted fellow should be so mean," resumed Pearce. "I supposed he would be on hand for any kind of fun."
These were young men, ranging from twenty to thirty years in age, all fond of what they denominated life. They lived in a large suburban village, where sport was plenty, and the means of carrying it on abundant. They were none of them really bad youths, but they lived fast.
"What's all this?" asked a young man, who came up just as the last remark was made, and whose name was Landon Merritt.
"We are talking about Tom Thornley," replied James Pearce.
"And what about him?"
"We were speaking about his meanness."
"Why, what do you find mean in Tom Thornley?"
"Why, every thing. Here he is, right among us just in the prime of youth, money enough, and yet won't pay a cent towards any of our fun. Only this morning I went to him and asked him to subscribe towards our club, and what do you suppose he said? He just very coolly told me he couldn't afford it. Now what do you think of that?"
"Well, 'I don't know,'" answered Merritt.
"I think he could afford it if he wished."
"Of course he could. Afford it?— Why, he not only has a salary of a clear thousand a year, but I know that he has ten thousand at interest, besides the splendid house his father left him. He's a mean chap any way."
"How much did you ask him to put down?"
"I didn't name any sum, but I told him I had put down fifty dollars for the year, and most of the others had done the same. But he couldn't afford it! Bah!
he's a miser—a regular young skinflint.
Why, I supposed as soon as he got back from college he'd make a glorious companion for us. I meant he should go to our races, join our boat club, put up a shilling at poker once in a while, and make himself happy generally. But now look at him. There he is, at home every evening, and afraid to come out lest he should lose a cent."

"Who's that James?" asked a voice close at hand.
The party turned and saw Thomas Thornley himself, who had just come round the corner of the building before which they stood. He was a young man, not over five-and-twenty, and wearing the appearance of a true and intelligent man.
"What is it?" Who is it that has just merited your disapproval?"
All hands were silent for a few moments, but Pearce saw that his companions expected him to speak, and he did so.
"I'll tell you Tom," he said, "we were talking about you. I won't say a thing behind a man's back that I wouldn't say to his face. I was saying that I was disappointed in you."
"And how so?" asked Thornley, with a smile.
"Why in your not joining with us in our sports, and bearing your share of the tax.
But mind, we aren't anxious for you to do so, if you don't wish it."
"And I suppose it is my wish not to do so that you condemn."
"Yes. I thought for a chap who had as much money as you have, it looked rather small to be hoarding it away like an old miser."
"But my dear friend you forget that every man naturally follows that which he thinks yields him the most pleasure. If you find the most pleasure in spending your time and money in boating, horse-racing, card-playing, and in wine suppers, I shall not find fault with you, though I sincerely believe you could spend time and money to better advantage."
"That's your opinion."
"It is."
"Well, isn't mine. After sticking to business all day, I think we have some right to a bit of recreation for the evening. And once in a while, of a pleasant day, we'll trot a horse, or sail a boat, and hurt nobody."

"And you do so, do you not?"
"Of course we do."
"Then why find fault with me?"
"Because you keep from us that companionship we have a right to expect.
If you were a regular Jack, we shouldn't care: but you're too good a fellow to love fun as well as any of us, only—I speak plainly—"
"Certainly; go on."
"You're too miserly to pay for it; and that don't look well for one who has so much money as you have."
For some moments Thornley was silent.
A single instant there appeared a flush upon his cheek, but a meaning smile soon took its place.
"Boys," he said, at length, "you do not fully understand me. But come with me to my home, and I will explain—
Come, I cannot offer you wine, but you shall have some as nice fruit as this section can afford; and if I do not satisfy you that I am right, I will give you a hundred dollars for your club. Come, I will not detain you long."
As the young man spoke, he turned back towards the point whence he had come, and the others followed him. The walk was not long, for at a short distance from the dusty street they came to a cottage-like mansion, before which spread
a wide park, with neatly gravelled foot and carriage paths, along the borders of which grew all sorts of flowers and evergreens. Thomas led the way up to the verandah, and under the shade of the trellised walk he stopped and pointed to some marble statues that had been recently set up near an artificial fountain.
"How do you like those?" he asked.
"Splendid," answered several.
"I take a great deal of pleasure in having them there; and though they cost me quite a sum, yet I do not regret it."
Next he led them into the house, and conducted them to a room which he informed them was his own place of resort.
The apartment was spacious and airy,
and the ceiling highly and richly frescoed.
Around the walls were hung several splendid paintings, together with quite a number of the framed were niches
in which stood chaste and elegant statues and busts. One side of the apartment was wholly occupied by a library,
within which were over a thousand volumes of good substantial works. On a wide table, were drawing, painting
and writing materials, while in a recess, constructed on purpose, stood a beautiful house organ. Thomas was upon the point of speaking, when one of the doors opened and a female entered. She stood back on seeing such a party, and would have instantly withdrawn had not
the host called her back.
"Here Susan," he said, "some of my friends have come to see our little cage-
my wife, gentlemen."

The young lady turned back into the room, and with a sweet smile, welcomed
her husband's guests. She was a lovely, beautiful woman, and seemed just the companion for a man with such tastes as young Thornley displayed.
"Can we have some fruit?" the host asked, after his wife had saluted the company.
"I think I can find some," replied his wife; and thus speaking, she left the room.
"Now boys," said Thomas, "you see here some of my sources of pleasure. I suppose the articles in this room have cost me not less than five thousand dollars.
It is quite a sum, but I had the money
to spare, and I laid it out after my own tastes. You see that painting there over the mantel. I bought that last week.
It is either one of Murillo's or a most excellent copy, but I think it is an original.
I bought it of a gentleman who attended
the sale of an estate in Seville, and this he obtained there. Did you ever see such exquisite touches?"
All admired the picture, and while they were looking around upon the others, the young hostess returned, accompanied by a servant bearing trays of fruit. There were peaches, pears, grapes, and some beautiful plums. The repast was luscious;
and when it was finished, Thornley arose and asked his friends to follow him into the garden. Here they found about an acre of ground laid out into orchard, vineyard and tillage, and looking neat and tidy. Here and there were little trellised arbors, within which were mossy seats,

while flowers and grapes hung overhead.
"Here," said Thornley, after they had walked through the garden, "I spend some of my leisure time, and I assure you
I find much pleasure in the cultivation of my fruit. My wife attends to the flowers, while I see to the trees and vines.
While the sun shines we find comfort
here; and when the night comes we repair to our library, where reading and again, I am content."
from my business when the weather will not permit us to work in our garden. We then write, and draw and paint. But come, let us go in once more, and you shall examine my library."

The party repaired again to the house,
but they could not remain long, for some of them had engagements.
"And now," said Thornley, after his friends were ready to retire, "you have seen my sources of pleasure. Every industrious man with fair fortune may have the same, though many may not go quite so far as I have gone; but I only speak in general terms. If I could find pleasure in the sports you have tried to urge upon me, you may be assured I should not only join in them, but I should also pay my share of the expenses cheerfully.
But such things have no real pleasure for me—not generally. Once in a while I love to sail, and I love social gatherings;
but my fullest joy is here, with my wife,
my books, my music, my pictures, and my garden. My home is open to you whenever you wish to join me in my kind of pleasure, and you may be sure you will ever be warmly received. And one other thing I will tell you. I have subscribed
a thousand dollars to the new Athenaeum
in the city, and whenever any of you may wish to visit there and see the splendid specimens of art there collected, I will give you a pass."
The party had reached the verandah
on their way, but they hesitated, as though something should yet be said. At length
James Pearce spoke:
"As I commenced the discussion which has led to this pleasant visit, I ought to speak what I think to be the truth now.
Tom, you are right. Your pleasure is surely better than ours, for it has more wear to it, and—and, well, I may as well tell the truth—it's got more sense to
it. I'll never find fault with you again;
but one thing I will do—I shall accept your invitation to spend an occasional evening here."

All agreed with Pearce; and when they turned away from Thornley's home
they were wiser than before. They had learned what they had not previously understood, and that was, that there was another kind of real pleasure besides that which they followed. Argument might never have convinced them; but one good look at their friend's home, and an understanding of his domestic arrangements, opened their eyes. Never again did they ask Thomas Thornley to accompany them upon any of their scrapes, but they did often visit him, and they were not long in finding that an evening spent beneath his roof, with music and sensible conversation, and a simple collation of fruits and nuts, was better by far than a wine supper, with its boisterous laugh and jest, and consequent depression and headaches of the morning following.

CONDITIONS.
No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conscientiously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot:
BOSTON—S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., S. R.
NILES, HORACE DODD, T. C. EVANS, A. L.
BRISTOL, & Co., ALLEN & SHAW, and COOLEY & DANCY.
NEW YORK—S. M. PETTINGILL & Co.,
GEO. P. BOWELL & Co., and FRANK & CO.
PHILADELPHIA—COE, WETHERILL & CO.

FLOWERS.
This was a dreary world, indeed, if never upon its breezes floated the sweet influence of beauty and blossoms. Everything beautiful has its mission among men;
every recurrence of the blossoming time is a season full of blessing, if only men will open their hearts and allow themselves to be blessed. Each opening petal teaches something; and the thoughtful will surely learn somewhat of its teachings.
Flowers teach us the tenderness of God's character. If He had made nothing of this kind,—if His works had been for bare utility, and had consisted of coarse and more substantial creations only, the tender side of the divine character would have failed of the revelation it now has in nature. You cannot come across a delicate, trembling flower in the shade of a wood, so small that your heel could crush out its life with one careless step, but that you will think how gentle God must be, who made this flower in its exquisite beauty to live there, and daily cares for it in the regular course of His providence.

Following the same idea, the sleep of the flowers touches our sympathies. Many of them at night will fold their petals closely together, and, like the darlings of a kind mother, repose trustfully in the care of their Creator. And during the long, dark night, they gather the dews which distil in the quiet air, and when day comes, the first beams of the morning fall on millions of glittering drops, and flash back from leaf and bud and petal and glassy blade, in such brilliancy that the whole waving and nodding field of blooming beauty seems dressed in gems more resplendent than any dream of oriental magnificence. So it may be with us, if in the night of this somewhat sombre life, we draw to ourselves the dews of heavenly grace. We may hope that when eternity fully dawns, the morning light of our Father's love will glance upon these jewels which we have gathered near the cross, and so light them up as to cover us with glory.

AUTUMNAL DISEASES.
Hundreds of thousands die every autumn of three forms of disease—dysentery, dysentery and various kinds of fevers—but no one need die; they are avoidable diseases—their causes being known, all that is required is to bring a very moderate amount of intelligence to bear in avoiding these causes. A child will avoid putting its finger in the candle a second time; it remains only to grow-up stupid to expose themselves to the causes of disease, year after year, and thus recklessly imperil health and even life itself.
The cause of autumnal disease is an emanation from the surface of the earth in those localities where are found in combination, heat, moisture and vegetable matter, such as leaves, wood, etc., for the heat of eighty degrees combined with moisture induces decay, and from this decaying substance something arises which, if breathed or otherwise taken into the system, induces the disease mentioned, sooner or later.

What this emanation is has hitherto been a conjecture, because it was imperceptible, so like thin air that the atmosphere which contained it, when subjected to chemical analysis, yielded nothing beyond the constituents of pure air. But within a year or two it has been ascertained that if a quantity of air of a mistreated locality is bottled up and conveyed to a sleeping apartment, the persons who breathe it will, in a short time, have more or less decided symptoms of fever and ague, and on examining his saliva or the inside of his mouth, a living, moving thing is clearly visible with microscopic aid. Observation and experiment have shown incontrovertibly that there are two ways of escaping the ill effects of having these living things in the system. Persons must avoid living in those localities where the land is rich, flat and moist, or they must drain those lands; but it is possible to live in those places and have reasonably good health, simply by keeping in the house mornings, with a brisk, blazing fire, until breakfast is eaten, and taking supper at sundown, because it has been found that these emanations are more poisonous at sunrise and sunset, and that if the stomach is excited to action by the process of digestion, the emanation is rendered innocuous, perhaps from the fact, in part, that the juices of the

A NOVEL HYMN-BOOK.
A traveller called lately about nightfall at a farmer's house near Albany.
The owner being from home, and the mother and daughter being alone, they refused to lodge the wayfarer.
"How far then," said he, "is it to a house where a preacher can get lodgings?"
"Oh, if you are a preacher," said the lady, "you can stay here."
Accordingly, he dismounted, deposited his saddle bags in the house, and led his horse to the stable. Meantime, the mother and daughter were debating the point as to what kind of a preacher he was.
"He cannot be a Presbyterian; for he is not dressed well enough."
"He is not a Methodist," said the other;
"for his coat is not the right cut."
"If I could find his hymn-book," said the daughter, "I would soon tell what sort of a preacher he is." And with that she thrust her hand into the saddle-bags and, pulling forth a flask of liquor, she exclaimed, "La, mother, he's a Hard-shell Baptist."

Painters and politicians have much to do with canvases.

right to a bit of recreation for the evening. And once in a while, of a pleasant day, we'll trot a horse, or sail a boat, and hurt nobody."
"And you do so, do you not?"
"Of course we do."
"Then why find fault with me?"
"Because you keep from us that companionship we have a right to expect.
If you were a regular Jack, we shouldn't care: but you're too good a fellow to love fun as well as any of us, only—I speak plainly—"
"Certainly; go on."
"You're too miserly to pay for it; and that don't look well for one who has so much money as you have."
For some moments Thornley was silent.
A single instant there appeared a flush
upon his cheek, but a meaning smile soon
took its place.
"Boys," he said, at length, "you do not fully understand me. But come with me to my home, and I will explain—
Come, I cannot offer you wine, but you shall have some as nice fruit as this section can afford; and if I do not satisfy
you that I am right, I will give you a hundred dollars for your club. Come, I will not detain you long."

As the young man spoke, he turned back towards the point whence he had come, and the others followed him. The walk was not long, for at a short distance from the dusty street they came to a cottage-like mansion, before which spread
a wide park, with neatly gravelled foot
and carriage paths, along the borders of which grew all sorts of flowers and evergreens. Thomas led the way up to the verandah, and under the shade of the trellised walk he stopped and pointed to some marble statues that had been recently set up near an artificial fountain.
"How do you like those?" he asked.
"Splendid," answered several.
"I take a great deal of pleasure in having them there; and though they cost
me quite a sum, yet I do not regret it."
Next he led them into the house, and
conducted them to a room which he informed them was his own place of resort.
The apartment was spacious and airy,
and the ceiling highly and richly frescoed.
Around the walls were hung several splendid paintings, together with quite a number of the framed were niches
in which stood chaste and elegant statues and busts. One side of the apartment was wholly occupied by a library,
within which were over a thousand volumes of good substantial works. On a wide table, were drawing, painting
and writing materials, while in a recess,
constructed on purpose, stood a beautiful house organ. Thomas was upon the point of speaking, when one of the doors opened and a female entered. She stood back on seeing such a party, and would have instantly withdrawn had not
the host called her back.
"Here Susan," he said, "some of my friends have come to see our little cage-
my wife, gentlemen."

The young lady turned back into the room, and with a sweet smile, welcomed
her husband's guests. She was a lovely,
beautiful woman, and seemed just the companion for a man with such tastes as
young Thornley displayed.
"Can we have some fruit?" the host asked, after his wife had saluted the company.
"I think I can find some," replied his wife; and thus speaking, she left the room.
"Now boys," said Thomas, "you see here some of my sources of pleasure. I suppose the articles in this room have cost me not less than five thousand dollars.
It is quite a sum, but I had the money
to spare, and I laid it out after my own tastes. You see that painting there over the mantel. I bought that last week.
It is either one of Murillo's or a most excellent copy, but I think it is an original.
I bought it of a gentleman who attended
the sale of an estate in Seville, and this
he obtained there. Did you ever see
such exquisite touches?"
All admired the picture, and while they were looking around upon the others, the young hostess returned, accompanied by a servant bearing trays of fruit. There were peaches, pears, grapes, and some beautiful plums. The repast was luscious;
and when it was finished, Thornley arose
and asked his friends to follow him into the garden. Here they found about an acre of ground laid out into orchard, vineyard and tillage, and looking neat and tidy. Here and there were little trellised arbors, within which were mossy seats,

while flowers and grapes hung overhead.
"Here," said Thornley, after they had walked through the garden, "I spend
some of my leisure time, and I assure you
I find much pleasure in the cultivation
of my fruit. My wife attends to the flowers, while I see to the trees and vines.
While the sun shines we find comfort
here; and when the night comes we repair to our library, where reading and
again, I am content."
from my business when the weather will not permit us to work in our garden. We then write, and draw and paint. But come, let us go in once more, and you shall examine my library."

The party repaired again to the house,
but they could not remain long, for some of them had engagements.
"And now," said Thornley, after his friends were ready to retire, "you have seen my sources of pleasure. Every industrious man with fair fortune may have the same, though many may not go quite
so far as I have gone; but I only speak
in general terms. If I could find pleasure
in the sports you have tried to urge upon me, you may be assured I should not only join in them, but I should also pay my share of the expenses cheerfully.
But such things have no real pleasure for me—not generally. Once in a while I love to sail, and I love social gatherings;
but my fullest joy is here, with my wife,
my books, my music, my pictures, and
my garden. My home is open to you whenever you wish to join me in my kind of pleasure, and you may be sure you will ever be warmly received. And one other thing I will tell you. I have subscribed
a thousand dollars to the new Athenaeum
in the city, and whenever any of you may wish to visit there and see the splendid specimens of art there collected, I will give you a pass."

The party had reached the verandah
on their way, but they hesitated, as though something should yet be said. At length
James Pearce spoke:
"As I commenced the discussion which has led to this pleasant visit, I ought to speak what I think to be the truth now.
Tom, you are right. Your pleasure is surely better than ours, for it has more wear to it, and—and, well, I may as well tell the truth—it's got more sense to
it. I'll never find fault with you again;
but one thing I will do—I shall accept your invitation to spend an occasional evening here."

All agreed with Pearce; and when they turned away from Thornley's home
they were wiser than before. They had learned what they had not previously understood, and that was, that there was another kind of real pleasure besides that which they followed. Argument might never have convinced them; but one
good look at their friend's home, and an understanding of his domestic arrangements, opened their eyes. Never again
did they ask Thomas Thornley to accompany them upon any of their scrapes, but they did often visit him, and they were not long in finding that an evening spent bene

stomach destroy the life of these living things; but the fact remains just the same, whether this supposition is true or not.

A practical use may be made of this subject, in the light of these facts, in reference to breathing night air. Very many advocate the raising of windows in a sleeping apartment, summer and winter, all the year round. The theory seems a good one, but experience will not corroborate it. Persons living on water courses, where the "bottom lands," as they are called, are rich, luxuriant and damp, will save health and life itself by keeping all outside doors and windows opening into chambers closed from sundown to sunrise, during the three autumnal months, in fever and ague or intermittent localities.

—Hill's Journal of Health.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1869.

THE SECOND REGATTA.

One of the finest sailing matches ever enjoyed by the Quincy yachts, is announced to take place this afternoon, off Mearns, at Great Hill. There will be six prizes, and as a large number of boats have entered, no little enthusiasm is being felt among the captains of the several yachts.

The Judges' yacht will be moored in the River, off Great Hill. Yachts in taking position will form in line with it, and a flag boat farther southward.

In coming into line in each race, the smallest yachts will keep to windward.

A gun will be fired at 1 3-4 o'clock for yachts of the First Class to take position.

At 2 o'clock a second gun will be fired, which will be the signal for starting.

Immediately after the starting of the First Class, the Second Class yachts will take position, and on the signal gun being fired, will start.

Course for both Classes.

Starting from the Judges' boat, leaving Sheep Island on the port and Grape Island on the starboard, to buoy in Hingham Channel, southward of Bunkin Island, leaving it on the port, thence leaving Bunkin Island on the starboard, to buoys, Nos. 2 and 1 off Hull, leaving both on the port, thence to the buoy on wreck between Hangman's and Nut Island, leaving Sheep Island on the port and Prince's Head on the starboard, and the buoy on the port, thence to the Judges' boat, leaving Nut Island on the starboard and the Judges' boat on the port.

All yachts not returning to Judges' boat within three hours from time of starting will be debarré from any chance in prizes.

Boats measuring 19 feet and 6 inches and under will form the Second Class, and all over 19 feet and 6 inches will form the First Class. The measurement will be from stem to stern post on deck.

The prizes will be six in number, one for the keel and one for the centre-board boats of the First Class; and two for the keel and two for the centre-board boats of the Second Class.

The yachts which have entered up to this morning are as follows:—

FOR THE FIRST CLASS.

Rat, Capt. Emmons, keel.

Fair, "Crane, " "

Mist, "Cain, " "

Mystery, "French, centre-board.

Echo, "Barker, " "

FOR THE SECOND CLASS.

Clara, Capt. Graham, centre-board.

Marie, "Curtis, " "

Vivid, "Mayberry, " "

Sadie, "White, " "

Surf, "Newcomb, " "

Lottie, "Page, " "

Pride of the Bay, "Bass, " "

Minnehaha, "Penniman, keel.

Fairy Queen, "Chubbuck, " "

Adelaide, "Curtis, " "

Naid, "Faxon, " "

Bluebird, "Sargent, " "

Judges—Eben. Deaton, Gideon F. Denton, E. W. Underwood.

THE SIDEWALKS. Pedestrians who travel that part of Hancock street, lying between the town pump and School street complain of the wretched condition of the sidewalks. They are so uneven—furrowed with wide seams, by late rains, and a mass of rolling stone upon the surface, that makes locomotion even to the young, laborious and unsafe, and to the aged, insupportable, who have abandoned them, for better travelling furnished in the street. A coat of loam in some parts, would be an improvement.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING. Charles T. Trask of Roxbury, who keeps a public house at Cohasset, was out sailing off Black Rock on Monday with his son, when a sudden squall upset the boat. He was unable to swim, but clung to the boat while his son swam to Black Rock and raised signals, when relief came from the shore, and he was rescued. He was nearly insensible, and it was some time before he fully recovered.

Old lumber at auction this afternoon.

OUR TAXES.

The howl of dissatisfaction from property holders, after the annual assessment, is to be expected of course. Everybody wants convenient school houses, good roads, passable streets (&c.); but who does not pay too much taxes for these? We answer—Those who hold large tracts of land, eligible for buildings and moderate sized estates, land which if properly introduced into the market, would command a ready sale, ten fold remunerative to the owners and equally productive of taxable property to the town. The owners of large landed property too often hold in their hands the destinies of a place. Shutting out taxable property which would naturally flow into a town by an embargo on land, is a public injury which taxpayers often endure with surprising indifference. If "He who makes two blades of grass to grow where but one grew before" is a town benefactor, who brings five thousand dollars taxable property on an acre which was taxed for two hundred dollars before. Let us not deplore the high rate of taxation, nor suppose, east an imploring look for help abroad, while we fail to exercise the calculation and put forth the enterprise which God and human success demand. Waiting for "something to turn up" has kept others than Macawber, poor. Let taxpayers take warning.

COMMON SENSE.

PICNICS. This week is to be devoted pretty generally to picnics, by the different religious societies. The St. John's and St. Mary's Sunday Schools are to hold their annual picnic at Island Grove, Abington, on Tuesday next.

The Universalist Sabbath School and Society will go to Squantum, on Wednesday next. If stormy, first day.

The Union Sunday School at West Quincy, are to unite with the Orthodox Sunday School in their summer excursion and picnic on Thursday. They are to go in the Steamer Massasoit from Quincy Point to Long Island.

A CURIOSITY. Mr. C. H. Hutchinson was trying in our streets, on Thursday last, a new steam carriage which he has built at the machine shop of Messrs. Badger, at West Quincy. Mr. Hutchinson has labored at odd times for about two years on this invention, and now has the pleasure of seeing it work in a very satisfactory manner. In passing along the street it made but little noise, and the machinery being in the rear end of the carriage is less liable to scare horses. The inventor thinks he shall be able to run his carriage a mile in about two minutes, on good smooth road.

THANKS. Rev. J. F. Nightingale has our thanks for a sample of green tea, the first that was ever imported directly from China to Chicago, Illinois. It was only a few weeks since that this first direct shipment was made, and in future it will be a common event. Probably it will be sent mostly hereafter by the way of San Francisco, Cal., over the Pacific Railroad.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL HOUSE. The sum of fifty thousand dollars was appropriated last spring for the purpose of building a High School House in Dorchester. The contracts being all completed it is to be erected on the corner of Centre and Washington streets, and the foundation is now under way. The building is to be of brick with granite facings.

FISHING IN THE NEPONSET. The Hyde Park Journal says, quite a number of citizens are improving the hours of their vacation by fishing in the Neponset, near the new grounds of the Agricultural society. Pickerel are very frequently taken from the stream weighing from two to three pounds.

MECHANICS' EXHIBITION. From the fifteenth of September to the sixth of October, inclusive, the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association will make their eleventh public exposition in Faneuil and Quincy Halls, Boston, of American manufactures, new inventions, and works of art.

VANDERBILT'S MARRIAGE. The gossip that has been current in the newspapers for several months, that the venerable Cornelius Vanderbilt, the world-wide known millionaire and railroad king, was seriously contemplating matrimony, has been verified. He was married at eight o'clock on Saturday morning last, at London, Canada, to Miss Frank Crawford, daughter of a widow lady, Mrs. M. Crawford, of Mobile, (Ala.) The Commodore is in the seventy-fourth year of his age, and has been a widower about a year. The bride is about thirty years of age, and quite a good looking, though by no means a beautiful woman. She was very expensively and elegantly dressed.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

City matters.—Widening of streets.—Trade and revenue.—National taxes.—The Democratic gathering on Tuesday.

Boston, August 26, 1869.

The continuance of beautiful weather to the time of my writing, infuses quite a cheerfulness in the business community, as is seen in our principal thoroughfares by the immense transit of pedestrians, and carrying transportation. It is uncomfortable and somewhat hazardous to drive a light carriage through many parts of Boston in the day time; the driver is fortunate if he escapes a collision or "block up." The extensive widening of streets now going on at a great expense by the city, will, when completed, render passing with vehicles more safe and convenient. The prolongation of Washington street to Hay Market Square is a much needed improvement. Other streets at the North End are also to be widened.

Referring to the prohibitory liquor law, it is an infringement upon the personal liberties of the people, and spoke satirically of the manner in which it was enforced.

Mr. Adams' address was received with frequent applause, and he retired amidst tremendous and long continued cheers.

Lieut. Governor and other nominations.

For Lieut. Governor: S. O. Lamb, of Springfield.

For Secretary of State: John K. Tarbox, of Lawrence.

For Treasurer: Mr. Heywood, of Gardner.

For Attorney-General: J. G. Abbott, of Boston.

For Auditor: Phineas Allen, of Pittsfield.

The following are the Resolutions adopted by the Convention:

1. Resolved.—That the democratic party of Massachusetts have no new theories to advance upon national subjects. Recent events, as well as the experience of our earlier history, serve to convince us that the farther the nation wanders from the old and cherished principles of the democracy, the more urgent grows the need of a speedy return to them. But we nevertheless deem it a political duty to acquiesce in settled results, and postpone fruitless opposition to the accomplished facts of yesterday, in order to secure effective action upon the pressing problems of to-day.

2. Resolved.—That we repeat our demand for assured honesty and ascertained ability in public servants, rigid economy in public expenditures, and an opportunity for all to buy in the cheapest market, and with honest coin, so that taxes may no longer utterly consume wages, and renew our declaration in favor of the Monroe doctrine, and in favor of protecting the rights of our naturalized citizens at home and abroad, and our sympathy with every people now struggling for independence and self-government, and now as heretofore acknowledge our obligation and indebtedness to the courage and bravery of our fellow-citizens, who in the hour of peril defended the flag of our country on land and sea.

3. Resolved.—That we condemn the increase of the State debt by extravagance and improvident grants of the public funds, as intolerably onerous to the taxpayer, unequal, unjust, and undemocratic, and we protest against the undue length of the sessions of the legislature. If the public scandal of three hundred men spending more than five months and a half in making laws to govern the people the other six months and a half, and thereby increasing the burden of taxation by three hundred thousand dollars a year, cannot be otherwise removed, we are in favor of doing it by a constitutional limitation.

4. Resolved.—That the constitutional and statutory provisions now in force in this Commonwealth uniting the exercise of the elective franchise aimed at certain classes of citizens, and intended to deprive them of the free exercise of that right, are unjust, pernicious, and at variance with the principles of true democratic government, and should be summarily repealed.

5. Resolved.—That equal justice and equal privileges to all classes of the people, the laborer equally with the capitalist, is the cherished doctrine of the democratic party; that while capital is encouraged to organize for the increase of its property, the prayer of labor for chartered privileges in its effort to secure its rights and elevate its condition should not be denied; that the present republican legislature of this State in refusing to grant charters to the labor organizations which petitioned for incorporation, outraged common justice and robbed the workingman of his just right, and that the working classes of the country should have prompt relief from the oppressions of the pernicious system of legislation and administration, in State and nation, which, under the rule of the republican party, pampers capital and degrades labor.

6. Resolved.—That as freedom, the pursuit of happiness, and self-government, are the highest rights of man and their exercise the subject of God's revelation, we hold that the true object of a free government is attained in the toleration of diversities of opinions, conscience and doctrine, and the preservation of equal liberty, and equal rights to all men; we therefore, without distinction arising from our respective religious creeds or opinions, on the true limits between the use and abuse of stimulus, hold those laws forming the prohibitory system of Massachusetts to be an outrage on the liberty of individuals, coercive against the liberty of conscience and self-government, demoralizing to a free people, and incompatible with securing the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, and transcending the proper office of the law-making power.

7. Resolved.—That the Declaration of the Bill of Rights of Massachusetts or the execution of the laws ought never to be exercised but by the legislature "is utterly at defiance by the State constabulary who suspend the execution of the law at will, authorizing certain persons to violate the law while rigorously prosecuting others, putting the liberty and prosperity of a portion of the people, not under the protection of law impartially administered, but subject to the will, caprice, passion, and prejudice of one man who appears to exercise his power not with a single eye to requirements of law but as if moved by fear, favor or hope of reward.

8. Resolved.—That while the State Temperance Convention avow the policy that to keep the State prohibitory, prohibitory judges must be put in to get prohibitory decisions, gratefully recognize the services of Governor Claflin in the cause of prohibition, and especially in the appointment of judges, the democratic party earnestly repeats the great truth in the twenty-ninth article of the Bill of Rights, that "it is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as free, impartial, and independent as the lot of humanity will admit," and calls on all citizens to denounce the polluting policy of packing juries and judges to coerce and convict.

9. Resolved.—That all measures affecting the welfare and interests of the people should be submitted to public scrutiny and discussion before they assume the form of law. We therefore believe that the question of restoring the system of school districts as it existed before the action of the present legislature should be fairly and fully presented as one of the issues in the pending State election.

10. Resolved.—That this convention in presenting the names of John Quincy Adams for Governor of Massachusetts, and his associates upon the State ticket this day nominated, confidently ask for them the suffrages of all liberty-loving citizens of the Commonwealth.

THE NEW SEARS BUILDING on Washington street, opposite the old State House, in Boston, has cost over three hundred thousand dollars, and is the handsomest and most convenient edifice for mercantile purposes in the city. The building contains one hundred rooms, with the largest elevator ever put into a business building, and it is to be occupied by insurance companies and banking firms.

THE MONSON QUARRYMEN have split out a granite slab 350 feet long, 11 feet wide, and 4 feet thick, containing 15,400 cubic feet, and weighing twelve hundred and eighty-three and one-third tons. To cut it from the rock 1104 holes were drilled on a line parallel with the front edge. This ponderous piece of granite will be cut up and sent to Albany to be used in the construction of the new capitol.

POST OFFICES. The whole number of offices in the United States on the 1st inst., was 27,131. Massachusetts had 676. Since the 4th of March twenty-seven postmasters have resigned, thirty-seven removed and five died; two vacancies, caused by the change of names and sites of offices. There has been twenty-one appointments by the President and fifty-four by the Postmaster General.

SINKING OF THE EARTH. A curious phenomenon near Stockport, Columbia county, N. Y., is now attracting great attention. About three acres of ground has sunk a depth of seventy feet, taking with it the fences, &c. A large hickory tree, which, before the slide occurred, stood at the top of a hill on the edge of the Columbiaville road, now stands in the centre of the sunken ground below.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic State Convention which met at Worcester on Tuesday last, nominated John Quincy Adams, Esq., of this town, for the third time, for Governor. In accepting the nomination, Colonel Adams delivered quite a lengthy speech which has attracted considerable attention in political circles and from the people at large. He declared it the duty of the Democracy to abandon dead issues by accepting the established fact of universal unqualified suffrage, and to turn their attention to other and more vital issues. Mr. Adams then referred to these living questions of the day by saying, that "the price of coal is an outrage, the duty on iron a swindle, and the tariff an abomination." He spoke of the condition of the working classes as being worse than it was in 1860, and expressed his belief that a return to hard money was the panacea for existing ills.

Referring to the prohibitory liquor law, it is an infringement upon the personal liberties of the people, and spoke satirically of the manner in which it was enforced.

Mr. Adams' address was received with frequent applause, and he retired amidst tremendous and long continued cheers.

Lieut. Governor and other nominations.

For Lieut. Governor: S. O. Lamb, of Springfield.

For Secretary of State: John K. Tarbox, of Lawrence.

For Treasurer: Mr. Heywood, of Gardner.

For Attorney-General: J. G. Abbott, of Boston.

For Auditor: Phineas Allen, of Pittsfield.

The following are the Resolutions adopted by the Convention:

1. Resolved.—That the democratic party of Massachusetts have no new theories to advance upon national subjects. Recent events, as well as the experience of our earlier history, serve to convince us that the farther the nation wanders from the old and cherished principles of the democracy, the more urgent grows the need of a speedy return to them. But we nevertheless deem it a political duty to acquiesce in settled results, and postpone fruitless opposition to the accomplished facts of yesterday, in order to secure effective action upon the pressing problems of to-day.

2. Resolved.—That we repeat our demand for assured honesty and ascertained ability in public servants, rigid economy in public expenditures, and an opportunity for all to buy in the cheapest market, and with honest coin, so that taxes may no longer utterly consume wages, and renew our declaration in favor of the Monroe doctrine, and in favor of protecting the rights of our naturalized citizens at home and abroad, and our sympathy with every people now struggling for independence and self-government, and now as heretofore acknowledge our obligation and indebtedness to the courage and bravery of our fellow-citizens, who in the hour of peril defended the flag of our country on land and sea.

3. Resolved.—That we condemn the increase of the State debt by extravagance and improvident grants of the public funds, as intolerably onerous to the taxpayer, unequal, unjust, and undemocratic, and we protest against the undue length of the sessions of the legislature. If the public scandal of three hundred men spending more than five months and a half in making laws to govern the people the other six months and a half, and thereby increasing the burden of taxation by three hundred thousand dollars a year, cannot be otherwise removed, we are in favor of doing it by a constitutional limitation.

4. Resolved.—That the constitutional and statutory provisions now in force in this Commonwealth uniting the exercise of the elective franchise aimed at certain classes of citizens, and intended to deprive them of the free exercise of that right, are unjust, pernicious, and at variance with the principles of true democratic government, and should be summarily repealed.

5. Resolved.—That equal justice and equal privileges to all classes of the people, the laborer equally with the capitalist, is the cherished doctrine of the democratic party; that while capital is encouraged to organize for the increase of its property, the prayer of labor for chartered privileges in its effort to secure its rights and elevate its condition should not be denied; that the present republican legislature of this State in refusing to grant charters to the labor organizations which petitioned for incorporation, outraged common justice and robbed the workingman of his just right, and that the working classes of the country should have prompt relief from the oppressions of the pernicious system of legislation and administration, in State and nation, which, under the rule of the republican party, pampers capital and degrades labor.

6. Resolved.—That as freedom, the pursuit of happiness, and self-government, are the highest rights of man and their exercise the subject of God's revelation, we hold that the true object of a free government is attained in the toleration of diversities of opinions, conscience and doctrine, and the preservation of equal liberty, and equal rights to all men; we therefore, without distinction arising from our respective religious creeds or opinions, on the true limits between the use and abuse of stimulus, hold those laws forming the prohibitory system of Massachusetts to be an outrage on the liberty of individuals, coercive against the liberty of conscience and self-government, demoralizing to a free people, and incompatible with securing the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, and transcending the proper office of the law-making power.

7. Resolved.—That the Declaration of the Bill of Rights of Massachusetts or the execution of the laws ought never to be exercised but by the legislature "is utterly at defiance by the State constabulary who suspend the execution of the law at will, authorizing certain persons to violate the law while rigorously prosecuting others, putting the liberty and prosperity of a portion of the people, not under the protection of law impartially administered, but subject to the will, caprice, passion, and prejudice of one man who appears to exercise his power not with a single eye to requirements of law but as if moved by fear, favor or hope of reward.

8. Resolved.—That while the State Temperance Convention avow the policy that to keep the State prohibitory, prohibitory judges must be put in to get prohibitory decisions, gratefully recognize the services of Governor Claflin in the cause of prohibition, and especially in the appointment of judges, the democratic party earnestly repeats the great truth in the twenty-ninth article of the Bill of Rights, that "it is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as free, impartial, and independent as the lot of humanity will admit," and calls on all citizens to denounce the polluting policy of packing juries and judges to coerce and convict.

9. Resolved.—That all measures affecting the welfare and interests of the people should be submitted to public scrutiny and discussion before they assume the form of law. We therefore believe that the question of restoring the system of school districts as it existed before the action of the present legislature should be fairly and fully presented as one of the issues in the pending State election.

10. Resolved.—That this convention in presenting the names of John Quincy Adams for Governor of Massachusetts, and his associates upon the State ticket this day nominated, confidently ask for them the suffrages of all liberty-loving citizens of the Commonwealth.

Summary Intelligence.

The trees at the White Mountains are donning their fall colors.

The subject of annexing Jamaica Plain to Boston is being agitated among the citizens of that village just now, and a large proportion seem to be in favor of the movement. It is proposed to call a meeting of the citizens about the first of October, to talk over the matter.

The President, Tuesday, attended a clambake, given by the Grand Army of the Republic at Ocean Cottage, on Narragansett Bay, thirty miles from Newport. Thirty thousand persons were present.

The peach stones cast aside by the armies at Petersburg have shot up into a grove of trees forty-five miles long, which is now loaded with fruit.

Half pound bunches of grapes are being sold at Vineland, N. J., for three cents.

Twelve States have formally ratified the new fifteenth amendment, and two more are expected to do so, before the day of its becoming a law.

The State constabulary now numbers one hundred and twenty-six men, fifty-four of whom are for duty in Suffolk county.

The oldest person in Marshfield Mass. is Capt. Asa Sherman, who formerly commanded a packet between that place and Boston. He is 97 years of age.

The Massachusetts Republican State Convention meets in Worcester, September 22.

Rheumatism is said to be uncommonly prevalent in Boston at the present time.

One firm in the ice business at Boston expect to clear over $100,000, this year.

Mrs. John S. Jones of Stratford, N. H., brought fire from Durham sixty-three years ago, and for sixty-one years this fire was not permitted to go out. Stoves and matches have never entered that house, and when, two years ago, the fire accidentally went out, it was rekindled by coals from a neighbor's house.

There are at present one thousand and sixty-three branches of labor organizations in the United States.

"Barrett's" challenges the world.

It is said Portsmouth is to be the western terminus of the proposed German-American Atlantic cable.

Eighty Chinese were robbed of their queues by hair thieves on the day of their arrival in San Francisco.

A Minnesota editor has in his office a cucumber vine, upon one branch of which are growing a cucumber and a tomato.

The New England Wood Pulp Company of Lawrence are turning out 2000 pounds of pulp per day, which is used in the manufacture of newspaper.

The demands on the Treasury for fractional currency at the present time are so great and the amounts required so large that to supply them would necessitate the issue of currency at the rate of $200,000 per day for a year to come.

Don't confound "Barrett's" with others.

"ABOUT THE JUBILEE, SIR." We have received from Oliver Ditson & Co., a song with the above title, dedicated to members of the grand chorus, words and music by Alfred Little. To those who took parts in this memorable occasion it will make a very pleasing souvenir.

CHEAP MUSIC. We have received from R. M. DeWitt, 139 Franklin street, N. Y. the following sixteen series of Choice Music, for voice and piano. "Tasels on the Boots," "The Soft Dew is sleeping," "Tommy Dodd," and "When the Roses Blow." This variety of musical gems are a valuable treasure to all lovers of music and song.

Out of "Barrett's," out of fashion.

GILMORE'S

Self Sealing Tin Cans!

— ALSO —

ALL KINDS OF

GLASS FRUIT JARS.

For sale by

C. F. PIERCE & CO.

Quincy, July 31.

GO TO

21 TREMONT STREET,

AND GET YOUR

BOOTS AND SHOES,

And Save from 25 cts. to $1.00

ON EACH PAIR.

All goods warranted as represented.

F. G. RICHARDSON & Co.

21 Tremont St.,

Aug. 14—14w

Opp. the Museum, Boston.

Lasell Female Seminary,

AT AUBURNDALE, MASS.

10 MILES from Boston, on Boston and Albany Railroad. For 17 years a leading New England Seminary. Not excelled in thorough English or artificial training, nor in the highest accomplishments in Modern Languages, Painting and Music. Location, for health, beauty and refining influences, unsurpassed. Next year begins September 20th. Address

Aug. 14—14w

CHAS. W. CUSHING.

Old Lumber at Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on SATURDAY, August 28th, at 5 o'clock, P. M., a lot of BUILDING and TIMBER, from the State, in rear of CLAPP'S STORE, situated on the Church Lot, at the junction of Hancock and State Streets, Quincy.

Also, at the same time and place, ONE BUGGY and HAYNESS.

JOSEPH W. LOMBARD, Auctioneer.

Quincy, Aug. 28.

PENSIONS

Collected at Small Expense by

W. ABERCROMBIE.

Quincy, Aug. 28.

REDUCTION.

I AM DETERMINED

To Reduce My Stock

Of Goods and shall make prices

that will ensure it.

Please call and see.

Poetry.

SOUNDS.

The sweet, sweet sound of the morning breeze
In the fields of waving wheat;
The low, low sigh of the woodland trees
In the panting noonday heat.

The pleasant music of gentle words
From the lips of those we love;
The mellow whistle of waking birds
In the shadows of the grove.

The prattle of our little ones
While they sleep their evening prayer;
The murmur of the rill that runs
By meadows green and fair.

The sad, sad sound of the kiss that falls
On the lips that kiss no more;
The dull, dull thud in the earthen walls
Beneath the grassy dore!

Farmers' Department.

WHEN TO CUT TIMBER.

We have annually published articles on the best time for cutting timber, and still those who are observant in this matter are giving their advice. What is singular is the very general agreement of all the wise men on this subject. The time now agreed upon, almost if not quite universally, is between the 10th of August and the 10th of September. Timber cut during this time will not be troubled with worms, and hickory will make good rails. Timber is generally cut in the winter, because farmers have more leisure time, and chopping is good exercise for cold weather. It can be cut at the right time and worked up during the winter. The labor of merely felling the trees is not very great. One tree cut during the next month from this time will be worth three cut in the winter.—Exchange.

PINCHING THE GRAPE.

It is not too late yet to pinch off the ends of the luxuriantly growing grape shoots. Some varieties like the Concord and all vigorous growers can be generally pinched back. It will add to the size and quality of the fruit and will give the vine a more compact form. If the berries of such branches that stand too closely together were considerably thinned out, say from a fourth to a third, it would have a marked effect upon the size of the fruit. This, it is true, requires some labor, but to the fruit growers it is never thought of in his attempts to excel.

FEED THE HOGS. The Maine Farmer says it is a great mistake to feed hogs short at this season of the year, and adds as follows:—"There is no time when a hog will grow so fast on so little food, as in August and September. The weather of these months seems better adapted for them than any other. Make a little extra effort for the hogs now and you will see the benefit next November. We think a bushel of meal, fed to them now, worth more than a bushel and a half in cold weather."

Potatoes should never be dug until the skin is firm, and if showing any sign of rot, let them remain in the soil as late as possible, as it is scarcely worth while to dig out those, that will decay when put in bins. Dig only in dry weather, leaving the tubers in the sun long enough to get completely dried before picking them up. Bruise as little as possible in handling, and store only in dry bins.

In the care of cattle, nothing keeps them in better order than the light of the eye of the owner several times a day. The eyes of boys and hired men are sometimes covered with a film.

Anecdotes.

A young man having preached for Dr. Edwards one day, was anxious to get a word of approval for his labor of love. The grave Doctor, however, did not introduce the subject, and his younger brother was obliged to bait the hook for him.

"I hope, sir, I did not weary your people by the length of my sermon to-day."

"No, sir, not at all; nor by the depth, either."

The young man was silent.

A choleric old gentleman becoming enraged at the stupidity of an aged and faithful servant, exclaimed:—

"Zounds, you dolt, I shall go out of my wits at your dullness!"

To which the honest old servant replied,

"Well, there's one comfort, master, you won't hear from me again."

"My dear," said an affectionate spouse to her husband, "am I not your only treasure?"

"Yes," was the cool reply, "and I would willingly lay it up in heaven."

A physician walking out with a friend of his, said to him, "Let us avoid that pretty little woman you see there on the left. She knows me, and casts on me looks of indignation. I attended her husband."

"Ah! I see; you had the misfortune to despatch him."

"On the contrary," replied the doctor, "I saved him."

LOVEJOY'S

CLOTHING HOUSE

DOCK SQUARE,

(Corner of North Street.)

THE CHEAPEST PLACE

TO BUY

GOOD CLOTHING.

J. D.

2m

RICHARD HAILS,

Merchant Tailor!

CORNER OF

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.

WOULD inform the citizens of Quincy, and vicinity, that he has a large and

CHOICE ASSORTMENT

of goods adapted to the season which he will make to measure in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,

and warranted satisfactory.

Goods sold by the yard, and GARMENTS cut and trimmed.

All Goods warranted.

Quincy, June 12.

if

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

Merchant Tailor & Dealer

IN

CLOTHES, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS

AND VESTINGS,

School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

AS on hand and is constantly receiving

from the best sources, New and Desirable

Goods adapted to his trade. All with first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price, are

respectfully invited to call.

N. B. It would be well to remember, that

Cheapness and Demeanor are relative attributes;

they have a relation to the QUALITY of the article we buy, and that, which does not answer well

the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR

at any price.

Quincy, March 20

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

Genuine Lykens Valley

Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE undersigned having now on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal, is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice

at the lowest cash price.

OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

BOSTON, JULY 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now on hand, this Pure Genuine Franklin Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being

the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit

Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co.

Quincy, July 6.

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

J. A. McLELLAN'S

LADIES' & GENTS'

Variety Store,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.,

QUINCY,

IS THE PLACE TO GET

BARGAINS!

Hosiery, Gloves, Hdkfs, Cottons, White

Goods, Stamped Aprons, Ladies'

Children's Gents' and

Boys' Hats, Artificial Flow-

ers, Patent Medicines,

Hoop Skirts, Boots, and

Shoes, &c., &c.

We have marked down our goods below

the lowest. We mean sell!

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

J. A. McLELLAN'S,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.

Quincy, May 8.

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

if

MUTUAL FIRE Insurance Company

HOUSES, FURNITURE, STORE BUILDINGS, FARM RISKS, &c. of the entire class of hazards insured.

ND, JAN. 1st, 1869, has paid over $350,000, in 1870,000 in dividends, since business 16 years ago.

10,000.00, LOSSES PAID.

Risk April 1, 1869, 1,685,962.

S. STOCKING, Dental Surgeon.

JOHN HARDWICK, Real Estate and Insurance Agent.

WATCHMAKER, 2 CITY HALL AVENUE, BOSTON.

JAS. WHITE & CO., FLOUR!

FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS!

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

GREAT REMEDY FOR THE STOMACH.

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

The Quincy Patriot, Published every Saturday by M. ELIZABETH GREEN, Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden, Hancock opp. Granite St., QUINCY.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D. Homeopathic Physician, Opposite E. Clapp's Store, HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS, Will Examine and Prescribe FOR THE RICK.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, OFFICES: At his dwelling house, QUINCY.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, Office, Weymouth Landing.

Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants, CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

ISAIAH WHITE, Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, Granite Street, Quincy.

B. F. MESERVEY, WATCHMAKER, 2 CITY HALL AVENUE, BOSTON.

JAS. WHITE & CO., FLOUR! 47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.

FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS!

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

Quincy Patriot. A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1869. NUMBER 36.

Selectmen's Meetings. THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House every SATURDAY, from 12 to 1 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of receiving applications for State Aid.

State Aid. THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1857.

SOUTHER'S Newspaper and Periodical Depot. TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends, the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that I have purchased the interest, and leased the store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT.

Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants, CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

ISAIAH WHITE, Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, Granite Street, Quincy.

B. F. MESERVEY, WATCHMAKER, 2 CITY HALL AVENUE, BOSTON.

JAS. WHITE & CO., FLOUR! 47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.

FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS!

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

CLARK & CO., COE'S EPSIA CURE.

Poetry. For the Patriot. The Sanctum of Love, or Home and Hearth. May be sung to the Tune of Fair Harbord.*

HYPOCHONDRIAC DISEASES: SOMETIMES CALLED VAPORS, LOW SPIRITS, BLUE DEVILS, &c.

Interesting Selections. HOW TO PEEL PEACHES. As the time for putting up peaches is at hand, the following receipt for peeling them, we recommend to our lady readers:—Take a kettle of very strong lye, and heat to boiling; take a wire cage—similar to a corn popper—fill it with peaches, and dip into the lye for a moment; then into cold water.

MILLINERY! MISS S. H. HUSSEY WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies of Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING. Thanking them for past favors, respectfully solicits orders for

SPRING AND SUMMER MILLINERY. A Fresh assortment constantly on hand. MOURNING & GRAVE CLOTHES made to order.

REMOVED. MRS. H. F. CURTIS. WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that she has moved to a room over the POST OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute

DRESS MAKING, in the latest Styles. And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.

A CARD. THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making AND CARRIAGE TRIMMING in all its branches Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest manner at short notice.

LIVERY STABLE. REMOVED. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that he has removed to his

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

HYPOCHONDRIAC DISEASES: SOMETIMES CALLED VAPORS, LOW SPIRITS, BLUE DEVILS, &c.

Interesting Selections. HOW TO PEEL PEACHES. As the time for putting up peaches is at hand, the following receipt for peeling them, we recommend to our lady readers:—Take a kettle of very strong lye, and heat to boiling; take a wire cage—similar to a corn popper—fill it with peaches, and dip into the lye for a moment; then into cold water.

MILLINERY! MISS S. H. HUSSEY WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies of Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING. Thanking them for past favors, respectfully solicits orders for

SPRING AND SUMMER MILLINERY. A Fresh assortment constantly on hand. MOURNING & GRAVE CLOTHES made to order.

REMOVED. MRS. H. F. CURTIS. WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that she has moved to a room over the POST OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute

DRESS MAKING, in the latest Styles. And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.

A CARD. THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making AND CARRIAGE TRIMMING in all its branches Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest manner at short notice.

LIVERY STABLE. REMOVED. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that he has removed to his

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

HYPOCHONDRIAC DISEASES: SOMETIMES CALLED VAPORS, LOW SPIRITS, BLUE DEVILS, &c.

Interesting Selections. HOW TO PEEL PEACHES. As the time for putting up peaches is at hand, the following receipt for peeling them, we recommend to our lady readers:—Take a kettle of very strong lye, and heat to boiling; take a wire cage—similar to a corn popper—fill it with peaches, and dip into the lye for a moment; then into cold water.

MILLINERY! MISS S. H. HUSSEY WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies of Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING. Thanking them for past favors, respectfully solicits orders for

SPRING AND SUMMER MILLINERY. A Fresh assortment constantly on hand. MOURNING & GRAVE CLOTHES made to order.

REMOVED. MRS. H. F. CURTIS. WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that she has moved to a room over the POST OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute

DRESS MAKING, in the latest Styles. And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.

A CARD. THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making AND CARRIAGE TRIMMING in all its branches Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest manner at short notice.

LIVERY STABLE. REMOVED. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that he has removed to his

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

HYPOCHONDRIAC DISEASES: SOMETIMES CALLED VAPORS, LOW SPIRITS, BLUE DEVILS, &c.

Interesting Selections. HOW TO PEEL PEACHES. As the time for putting up peaches is at hand, the following receipt for peeling them, we recommend to our lady readers:—Take a kettle of very strong lye, and heat to boiling; take a wire cage—similar to a corn popper—fill it with peaches, and dip into the lye for a moment; then into cold water.

MILLINERY! MISS S. H. HUSSEY WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies of Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING. Thanking them for past favors, respectfully solicits orders for

SPRING AND SUMMER MILLINERY. A Fresh assortment constantly on hand. MOURNING & GRAVE CLOTHES made to order.

REMOVED. MRS. H. F. CURTIS. WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that she has moved to a room over the POST OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute

DRESS MAKING, in the latest Styles. And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.

A CARD. THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making AND CARRIAGE TRIMMING in all its branches Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest manner at short notice.

LIVERY STABLE. REMOVED. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that he has removed to his

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

HYPOCHONDRIAC DISEASES: SOMETIMES CALLED VAPORS, LOW SPIRITS, BLUE DEVILS, &c.

Interesting Selections. HOW TO PEEL PEACHES. As the time for putting up peaches is at hand, the following receipt for peeling them, we recommend to our lady readers:—Take a kettle of very strong lye, and heat to boiling; take a wire cage—similar to a corn popper—fill it with peaches, and dip into the lye for a moment; then into cold water.

MILLINERY! MISS S. H. HUSSEY WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies of Old Stand, in

GOODNOW'S BUILDING. Thanking them for past favors, respectfully solicits orders for

SPRING AND SUMMER MILLINERY. A Fresh assortment constantly on hand. MOURNING & GRAVE CLOTHES made to order.

REMOVED. MRS. H. F. CURTIS. WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that she has moved to a room over the POST OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute

DRESS MAKING, in the latest Styles. And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.

A CARD. THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making AND CARRIAGE TRIMMING in all its branches Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest manner at short notice.

LIVERY STABLE. REMOVED. THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that he has removed to his

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Dr. Warren's Cordial. Dr. Warren's celebrated Palmolive Cherry Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

CONDITIONS. No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the Publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

Advertising Agents. The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Publisher: BOSTON—S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., S. R. NILES, HORACE DODD, T. C. EVANS, A. L. BRYANT, & CO., ALLEN & SHILLER and COOLEY & DAUGHTY.

USE OF LEMONS. When persons are feverish and thirsty beyond what is natural, indicated in some cases by a metallic taste in the mouth, especially after drinking water, or by a whitish appearance of the greater part of the surface of the tongue, one of the best "coolers" is to take a lemon, cut off the top, sprinkle over it some loaf sugar, working it down into the lemon with a spoon, and then suck it, slowly squeezing the lemon and adding more sugar as the acidity increases from being brought up from a lower point. Invalids with feverishness may take two or three lemons a day in this manner, with the most marked benefit, manifested by a sense of coolness, comfort and invigoration.

ALL ABOUT PRINTING. Movable types for printing were not used until the fifteenth century.

WHAT TO DO—WHAT NOT TO DO. Children will find that an observance of the following rules makes them esteemed and admired, besides essential to establish them as gentlemen and ladies in after life:

1. Always say Yes, sir. No, sir. Yes, papa. No, papa. Thank you. No, thank you. Good night. Good morning. Never say How or Which, for What. Use no slang terms. Remember good spelling, reading, writing and grammar are the base of all true education.

2. Clean faces, clean clothes, clean shoes and clean finger nails, indicate good breeding. Never leave your clothes about the room. Have a place for everything and everything in its place.

3. Rap before entering a room, and never leave it with your back to the company. Never enter a private room or public place with your cap on.

4. Always offer your seat to a lady or old gentleman. Let your companions enter the carriage or door first.

5. At the table, eat with your fork; sit up straight; never use your toothpick (although Europeans do) and when leaving, ask to be excused.

6. Never put your feet on cushions, chairs or tables.

7. Never overlook any one when reading or writing, nor talk or read aloud while others are reading. When conversing, listen attentively, and do not interrupt or reply until the other has finished.

8. Never talk or whisper aloud at the opera, theatre or public places, and especially in a room where any one is singing or playing the piano.

9. Loud coughing, hawking, yawning, sneezing and blowing are ill-mannered. In every case cover your mouth with your handkerchief, which never examine.

10. Treat all with respect, especially the poor. Be careful to injure no one's feelings by unkind remarks. Never tell tales, make faces, odd names, ridicule the lame, mimic the unfortunate, or be cruel to insects, birds or animals.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

THE SECOND REGATTA.

The grand regatta of the Quincy yachts on Saturday afternoon last, off Mear's was a very pleasant affair. A large number of our citizens were present to witness the sport. There was a very strong breeze from the southwest, and the boats had all the wind they desired, and some a little more.

The following were the boats entered:

FOR THE FIRST CLASS.

Lat, Capt. Emmons, keel.
Flirt, " Crane, "
Mist, " Cain, "
Mystery, " French, centre-board.
Vivid, " Mayberry, " "

FOR THE SECOND CLASS.

Clara, Capt. Graham, centre-board.
Marie, " Curtis, "
Sally, " White, "
Surf, " Newcomb, "
Lottie, " Page, "
Prize of the day, " Bass, "
Minnehaha, " Penniman, keel.
Fairy Queen, " Clumbuck, "
Adelaide, " Curtis, "
Naiad, " Faxon, "
Sandy Pansy, " Slade, " Bluebird, " Sargent, " "

Most of the boats made excellent time. The distance sailed was nearly ten miles, and the Flirt, a very fine boat owned at the Sailer's Song Harbor, came in by the Judges' boat in one hour and twenty-two minutes and a half. Only two minutes behind her was the Mystery, owned by Mr. F. W. French, and sailed by Capt. John Packard, in a very creditable manner.

Soon after starting the Prize of the Bay broke her mast, and the Mist carried away her sails, which necessitated their withdrawal from the contest. This was the only mishap during the race. The Echo, Capt. Barker, a centre-board of the first class, was entered for the regatta, but was not on hand at the start and did not take part.

The following was the actual time made by the several boats, as far as taken by the judges. Those whose time is not given were a long distance behind:

FIRST CLASS.

Boat	Hour	Min.	Sec.
Flirt, Keel Boat	1	22	30
Lat	1	25	43
Mystery, Centre-board	1	24	30
Vivid	1	28	15

SECOND CLASS.

Boat	Hour	Min.	Sec.
Minnehaha, Keel Boat	1	40	40
Adelaide	1	44	22
Marie, Centre-board	1	41	32
Blue Bird	1	45	20
Surf	1	46	10

The Prizes were awarded as follows: the first Prize, a Marine Glass to the Flirt, Minnehaha and Marie. The second Prize to the Vivid, (by allowance of time) Adelaide and Blue Bird.

Judges.—Eben. Denton, of the Boston Yacht Club, Gideon F. Denton, E. W. Underwood.

We learn that there will be another regatta next Saturday. Full particulars next week.

ARREST OF AN ESCAPED PRISONER.

On the 5th of May last Thomas D. Lines, was arrested in this town by Detectives Briggs and Smith, for breaking and entering the boat and shoe factory of Loring & Searle, in Braintree, and larceny of boots and shoes valued at $1000. He was committed to the lock-up in Weymouth for examination, from which he broke out that night and escaped. Briggs and Smith have been at work since that time ferreting him out, and on Sunday night last succeeded in arresting him again in a house about half a mile this side of the Canada line in Derby, Vt. Lines had his wife and two children with him, and designed going over into Canada Monday morning. He was brought to Boston on Monday, and was examined by Trial Justice Temple of Dorchester, on Wednesday last, who bound him over to the Supreme Court at Dedham, in the sum of $2000. We learn that his brothers-in-law in this place, gave bonds for him, and he is now on bail.

JURORS. Messrs. Richard G. Elliott and Henry A. C. Adams, have been drawn to serve as Jurors from this town at the September Term of the Superior Court, for Norfolk County.

THE FALL TERM OF THE SCHOOLS OPEN on Monday next, and what a relief it will be to many poor tired mothers.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—Services will be resumed to-morrow; the bell ringing in the morning at 10.30, and in the evening at 7. Sunday School at 9.30 morning.

THE cold weather has commenced this Fall earlier than usual. For the last ten days the nights and mornings have been very cold; and, in fact, many a day an overcoat has not felt uncomfortable.

RATE OF TAXATION, 1869.

Boston,	$12.70 on $1000
Salem,	14.50 "
West Roxbury,	13.30 "
Randolph,	17.00 "
Hull,	10.00 "
Dedham,	13.50 "
Quincy,	17.50 "
Lynn,	19.60 "
Waltham,	13.50 "
Dorchester,	8.80 "
Taunton,	12.60 "
Marblehead,	15.00 "
New Bedford,	15.50 "
Worcester,	14.40 "
Braintree,	12.00 "

PICKNICS. The picnic parties the past week have had very pleasant gatherings, considering the cool weather.

The Catholics turned out quite largely and had a very pleasant time at Island Grove, Abington, on Tuesday.

The Universalists went to Squantum Bluff, in the rear of Mr. Edmund Pope's—one of the finest seaside places in this vicinity—and had a very pleasant gathering.

The Congregational and West Quincy Sunday school took their excursion to Long Island, Thursday, in the Steamer Massasoit. The company was a large one, and notwithstanding the threatening clouds in the morning and the cool air of the day, all had a splendid time, and the general verdict was, "we want to go again."

SUCCESSFUL. At a meeting of the North Weymouth Pilgrim Wharf Company, held one day recently, their Committee made a very satisfactory report, which was unanimously accepted. The wharf recently built at North Weymouth by the Company, for the accommodation of the steamer Massasoit, was then leased to Mr. T. J. Dunbar, of Boston, proprietor of said steamer, for ten years, he paying seven per cent. on the cost.

Long Island, except the north end where the light house stands, is owned by T. J. Dunbar, & Co., together with the large, elegant, pleasant and commodious hotel, also several other splendid buildings. The company have decided to build a track two miles in length, around a portion of the island, next season, which will give visitors a grand opportunity to ride all they wish. This Company is known as the Bay State Steam Boat and Land Company. This island, owned by such an enterprising company, is destined to become a favorite resort.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS. The combined Exhibition of the New England Agricultural Society and the Maine State Agricultural Society, is to be held at Portland, Me., commencing on Tuesday next, and continuing four days. The fare on all the principal railroads have been reduced one-half to persons attending the exhibition.

The Weymouth Agricultural Society hold their annual exhibition Tuesday and Wednesday, September 21st and 22d.

The Norfolk Co. Agricultural Society will hold their annual fair this year, at their new grounds, at Hyde Park, on Thursday and Friday, September 23d and 24th.

The Hingham Fair will be held September 28th and 29th.

NEPONSET BRIDGE. Workmen have been engaged for a number of weeks in repairing this bridge, which was getting to be in a very bad condition. The work is being done in a very thorough manner, much to the satisfaction of the travelling community. The travel over this structure is immense, and on the increase year by year. The citizens of Neponset say the excursion parties passing through their village, and over the bridge to Squantum and other summer resorts, have been more numerous than usual this season.

PERSONAL. Mr. Samuel B. Pierce, an aged citizen of Dorchester, paid his town tax last week. He has been particular to be the first man to pay his tax each year for a long period. The accommodating collector has kindly given him that opportunity.

SNOW ON THE WHITE MOUNTAINS. A special dispatch from Concord says that a heavy snow storm prevailed on the summit of Mount Washington Tuesday. The telegraph wires had been broken in several places by the ice, which had accumulated to the thickness of two inches or more. The thermometer was twenty-eight. It was quite comfortable at the Glen House.

Mr. Easterbrook, editor of the Weymouth Gazette and Mr. Jones, editor of the North Bridgewater Gazette, have just returned from a pleasant trip to Niagara Falls, Montreal, &c. We are pleased to learn that our editorial brothers are thus enjoying themselves.

In holding produce for higher prices the loss on shrinkage is usually greatly underestimated. Potatoes, for instance, will often shrink one-fifth during a winter in the cellar.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

The approach of Autumn.—Some and less on the White Mountains.—Review of business.—Financial affairs.—A change hopeful in the Railroad system of Massachusetts.

BOSTON, SEPTEMBER 2, 1869.

For a few days past the weather has been remarkable for low temperature. Thermometer ranging at forty-one. The White Mountains in New Hampshire were visited on Tuesday by a heavy snow storm. The telegraph wires had been broken in several places by the ice which had accumulated to the thickness of two inches or more. The thermometer at twenty-eight degrees. An early precursor of what we soon shall realize throughout New England, and for which the good people should be prepared. Our citizens are returning from their summer excursions in great numbers to Boston; many of them looking better, but all glad to get home. The city is daily becoming more lively and general business improving. The Boston Journal gives a nutshell view of monetary affairs as follows:

"The month of August has been marked by a very steady state of financial affairs. There has been no stringency, but a wholesome demand, which has kept every thing moving, but restrained our banking institutions within conservative limits. This has been due in a great measure to Secretary Boutwell, who, by his purchases of bonds, has released currency from the Treasury and prevented the withdrawal to the West and Southwest from having any deleterious effects on the market."

By an act of our Legislature approved June 18, 1869, a Board of Railroad Commissioners is established, of great importance to the public interest. Quincy is fortunate in having one of her most talented citizens a member of that Board. The powers delegated to the Commissioners are ample. They having the general supervision of all the railroads in the Commonwealth, whether operated by steam, horse or other motive power, and shall examine the same with reference to the welfare of the public; a change of the stations, or station houses, or any change in the rates of fares for transporting freight or passengers, or in operating the roads of the Corporations, all come under their supervision. Upon due notice and a proper hearing, they can correct any abuses that may grow out of the action of railroad corporations. The regulation of passenger's fares as well as freight is a matter of no small interest to the community. And it is not improbable some uniform tariff will be adopted so that passenger-travel will be regulated per centage on each mile distance. We all know that there is no uniformity on the rates of travel by the railroads radiating from Boston on all points. The modest fares on the short routes of the Old Colony and Newport Railway are very unpalatable to the inhabitants whose lot of residence is cast there. Twenty cents is asked for a ride from Neponset to Quincy; fifteen cents from the Atlantic station in North Quincy, and we believe ten cents from and to the other short stations in Quincy. But if you miss buying a railroad ticket where the tickets are sold at the Quincy stations, you are inflicted with the wholesome penalty of paying ten cents additional fare. Thus, without a ticket the ride from Quincy to Neponset is 40-100 of one dollar. The abolition of all season tickets and the adoption of a mileage fare for passengers of two cents per mile on all of the steam railroads, would, in our judgment, prove a financial benefit to these corporations.

LOCAL. We cut from the Boston Daily Advertiser the following report of the decision of the Court in a "Trust" case in this town.

Annie A. Folk v. Edward Turner. The complainant, who was at the time unmarried, in October, 1866, made a deed, conveying all her estate, real and personal, to the respondent, in trust for her benefit. The deed provided that the trust should terminate with the death of the respondent, and that he might at any time, in his discretion and upon her written request, reconvey the property to her. She subsequently married, and in the latter part of 1867, brought this bill to have the trust set aside, alleging for cause, misrepresentation on the part of the respondent at the time the trust was created, and mistake of law and fact on her part. She further asked relief on the ground of her ability to take care of her own property, and of her desire to regain possession of it.

The respondent, in his sworn answer, denied all her allegations of misrepresentation and mistake. The case was sent to a master to take testimony, and was argued at the last April term.

The court has now dismissed the bill on the ground that "The allegations of the bill are not sufficiently sustained by the evidence."

E. Avery and R. D. Smith for the complainant, and Asa French for the respondent.

THE HIDE AND LEATHER TRADE.

Previous to 1850, the boot and shoe business and the manufacture of leather were considered of such comparative unimportance as distinct departments of trade, that the census reports prior to this date failed to divide them into separate accounts, but included boots and shoes among "all other manufactures of leather, saddlery," etc. The census of 1840 gave the number of tanneries in Massachusetts 555; sides of sole leather, 212,844; sides of upper leather, 391,609; number of men employed, 2446; capital employed, $1,024,699. Last year the sales of leather in Boston amounted to $35,879,838. The amount of leather manufactured in the State and out of the State for dealers in Boston was about $30,000,000, and the importation of hides into Boston, including foreign and domestic, was $11,500,000. The above estimate is probably a low one. During the war the hide and leather interest of Boston was seriously interfered with. The importations of hides for a long period succeeding 1861 were very few, not over one-third what they now are. She is, however, rapidly recovering her business in this direction. The importation of English and French tanned skins,—calf and sheep skins, the latter of which are used extensively for hat linings, etc., and for book-binding purposes, as also for shoes, are at present very heavy.

The hide and leather trade of Boston is divided up into several departments, and there are prominent firms which lead in a special line of goods. Some houses tan and deal in sole leather exclusively—while others sell only upper leather.—Some firms are chiefly engaged in the sheep, goat-skin, or morocco trade. This latter class of goods in addition to the purposes to which it is applied, as above mentioned, is used in the manufacture of women's misses' and children's shoes. Then there are houses which do an exclusive commission business, in a certain line of goods, while other firms deal in all kind of skins, and both sole and upper leather. Nearly every firm, however, makes a specialty of a particular class of goods.

New York and Boston are the principal hide markets of the United States, though Salem formerly was a very important port, importing quite heavily at one time from Buenos Ayres and the African coast. Of late years, however, she has imported only a few thousand hides annually.

Boston is the chief upper leather market in the country, but New York still leads in sole leather, though Boston gradually gains in this direction, and is destined at no distant day to compete with New York even in this respect. The largest proportion of the upper leather which finds its way to the Boston market, is tanned and finished at Danvers, Peabody, Woburn, etc., in this State.

The average capacity of these tanneries to turn out sole leather is from ten to twenty thousand hides annually. Occasionally a factory may be found which can tan fifty thousand hides per year. These hides being split into sides, by drawing a knife along the back before tanning, make 100,000 sides per year to a factory. The tanning is done almost exclusively with hemlock, oak tanning being chiefly confined to Maryland, Pennsylvania and States South.

The amount of capital employed in the hide and leather business of Boston is very large. It is estimated that not far from twenty million dollars are invested in this interest in Massachusetts. The amount of sales of leather, etc., in Boston last year reached thirty-five millions of dollars, and during the same period about 720,000 foreign hides were imported into Boston. There are upwards of one hundred firms in this city engaged in all the various branches of the hide and leather business, many of which are prominent. There are imported into New York about 2,000,000 hides annually, and into Boston about one-half that number. In addition to these direct imports received from New York, from 200,000 to 400,000 foreign and domestic hides arrive per year—also large arrivals by rail of domestic hides from the West and other points. These hides are disposed of for sale and upper leather—the sole leather tanning being chiefly confined to New York, Maine and Pennsylvania. These houses either own their tanneries, or contract the work done for these markets, paying a certain price per pound for the manufacture of the leather.

Rio Grande importers consider Boston the best market for their kind of goods, and keep a line of ships plying to this port with cargoes of dry and salted hides for upper leather purposes.

While other States supply Massachusetts with large quantities of sole leather for the manufacture of boots and shoes within her borders, she on the other hand not only provides sufficient upper leather through her own industry for home consumption, but is able to manufacture to a considerable extent for other demands; and for export into other States.

Much of the goat skin, morocco, etc., made in Massachusetts finds its way into other States, while large quantities of this class of material used in home manufacture come from Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The calf skin business in itself is likewise a very large and important interest, and enlists the special attention of certain houses, who make it a separate or distinct branch of the trade. A large proportion of the dealers in hides and leather buy their goods of importers, who make the importing of hides their business, instead of importing directly on their own account.

The hide and leather houses of Boston are generally wealthy and are doing a very prosperous business, while the individual members composing the firms deserve to be classed among the most enterprising and honorable of Boston merchants. To their energy, capital and public spirit, wisely directed and liberally employed, is our city in no small degree indebted for the thrift and growth and progress that mark her history to-day, and the fair reputation which she enjoys both at home and abroad as a commercial metropolis.—Boston Post.

For the Patriot.

LETTER FROM PORTLAND.

SEPTEMBER 1st, 1869.

The New England Fair is to be held here a week hence, and preparations are going forward actively. The grounds are pleasantly located on the outskirts of Westbrook, a short walk or ride from the city. The entries already are large in the agricultural department, and rooms in the City Hall will also be allotted to art and mechanics. The governors of several States are expected. The water from Sebago Lake is alloyed, but at present, the pipe opens into the Presumpscot River, six miles out of town, just above the beautiful falls at Saccarappa village. The water power here is said to be the finest in Maine,—superior to Biddeford or Lewistown. A large population is already settled here, and a city charter is talked of. There were two lines of railroad to the west, laid out through this suburban village, and property and population must steadily increase year by year. Four congregations are represented in Saccarappa, the Baptist, Universalist, Methodist and Congregationalist,—the latter being the wealthiest in Westbrook. They contemplate the erection of an elegant brick church edifice, with free-stone finish, to take place in time, of their present insufficient wooden meeting house.

A large band of Young Crusaders has been formed in connection with this Second Church of Westbrook. It numbers eighty-four, and yesterday enjoyed an excursion to Mt. Independence,—a magnificent outlook, six or eight miles north of the city, commanding a view of two or three hundred miles circuit. Few cities on the Continent possess equal advantages to those of Portland,—unmatched, unmatchable, brave, generous, beautiful Portland," as John Neal enthusiastically writes in that volume of "Recollections," just published by Roberts Brothers.

Three excursions has your correspondent recently made among the islands of Casco Bay, and is therefore ready to repeat the verdict of the enthusiastic fact just quoted.

The coming weeks will see a great influx of strangers to this still beautiful city.

OLD SQUAMTUM. The Selectmen and a few invited guests, were entertained in a very fine manner by the Messrs. Reed at the Old Squantum House, on Thursday afternoon. It was hard to do ample justice to the dinner spread by the gentlemen on this day,—in each and all the courses, from the soup or chowder to the pies and fruit, each gentleman tried to do his part, but was found more or less wanting. The Colonel and the Doctor was found about equal in dissecting the chickens. Such good times one cannot help appreciating and will be long remembered.

INCOME TAX IN THE 2d DISTRICT. The total receipts from incomes, licences, bowling saloons, billiards, watches, &c., in this district the present year, is $283,900 21, which is about 25 per cent more than the amount received last year.

BASE BALL.

A very interesting game of Base Ball, for the Championship of the town, took place at the grounds at South Quincy, last Saturday, between the Actives and Eagles (Juniors). We append the score which shows the result.

EAGLES.	O. R.	ACTIVES.	O. R.
Jones, C.	3	Kingsley, 2d D.	3
Clapp, P.	3	Sutton, E.	5
O'Neil, 1st B.	2	Waltmore, C.	1
Hardwick, 2d D.	2	Bugelow, S.	4
Lumb, 2d B.	3	Strong, C.	2
Mitchell, S. F.	2	Gelman, 2d B.	1
Coulton, L. S.	2	Niles, R. F.	5
Sullivan, C. P.	2	Curtis, 1st B.	3
Callahan, B. F.	4
Total	27 118	Total	27 114

Actives: 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9.
Eagles: 2. 6. 1. 2. 0. 4. 1. 0. 3-18
Actives: 0. 1. 0. 0. 6. 0. 1. 1. 2-14
Umpire, WILLIAM GLOVER.
Scorer, WILLIAM PIERCE.

Summary Intelligence.

In China, secret societies offer rewards for the murder of foreigners. A dead Yankee is good for $10.

Patterson, N. J., expects to turn out a locomotive for every working day this year.

The Tribune estimates that there are 140,000 children growing up in New York, without any sort of education.

Boston has a debt of $17,000,000. Perhaps this explains her policy of annexation.

Bachelors and widowers may gather consolation from the fact that on one of the most pleasant streets in Worcester, within a distance of seven hundred feet, reside fourteen widows, of ages varying from thirty-five to eighty-two years.

A Scotchman of Dundee, recently married a woman who had twice recovered damages from him for breach of promise.

A thermometer which has been kept for seventy-five years in the vaults of the Paris Observatory, at a depth of ninety-one feet below the surface, has not varied more than half a degree during the interval.

"Two thousand perfectly ripe grapes in a single bunch," grew in Georgia this year.

A lady in a workhouse at Chelsea, England, lately arrived at the age of 100 years. Being asked how she would like to celebrate the day, she expressed a preference for a ride in a balloon. She was accordingly taken up in a great balloon, and took a lunch of wine and biscuits at an altitude of half a mile.

A Cincinnati belle, heir to $73,000, is so annoyed with interested suitors that she has retired to another city and assumed an humble position in a respectable private family, determined to win a husband, if at all, upon her own merit.

A delegation from Encampment Fletcher Webster, Post 13, G. A. R., of North Bridgewater, decorated the grave of Colonel Fletcher Webster, in Marshfield, on Sunday.

The right to use the fence surrounding the New York Post Office was leased Saturday at $15,000 for advertising purposes for two years.

An exchange says that two posts split from the same log were set for gate posts, one of them top end in the ground, the other with the butt; the first lasted seventeen years, the other ten years.

Brigham Young, Jr., weighs 240 pounds and has twelve children.

A lady in Ashby, Mass., this summer, picked thirty-seven bushels of blueberries in five weeks' time, for which she received $118.

Bull Run is the only battlefield of consequence that has not been changed since the war. The forts, the monuments, the stockades and the desolation remain as our soldiers left them.

The Newport route of steamers to New York, will be closed for the season on Sept. 6th. The Fall River steamers will, however, touch at Newport.

Flour extra has declined in San Francisco to $6, and superfine to $1 37 1-2.

At Greene, N. Y., they have a red-eyed boy who can see better in the dark than in the light.

Restores, Renews, Regenerates.

The paupers of Massachusetts supported at the State almshouses seem to be on the decrease, the whole number at Monson, Tewksbury and Bridgewater being about fifteen hundred this year against sixteen hundred and twenty-eight last year.

A little over a ton and a third per acre is the average yield of hay in Massachusetts, and no state cuts as much from the same surface.

The weather is quite wintry in Canada.

Jeff Davis, writing to friends in Montreal, says that he is of his ill health have been exaggerated, and that he will probably pass the rest of his life in Great Britain.

The Counterfeit $10 Greenbacks can be detected in one way only, and that is by the color of the red ink in which the number on face of the note are printed. The red color on the genuine note is clear and bright, while the color of the number of the counterfeit is dull and of a brownish shade.

"Barrett's," "Barrett's," "Barrett's."

A correspondent of the Boston Journal says the whisky destroyed by the late Philadelphia fire would have made sixty-one million "straight drinks," which at fifteen cents a glass, would amount to $800,000,000, more than one-third of the national debt.

WHITE MOUNTAIN VIEWS, by F. G. Waller, Littleton, N. H., are deservedly popular, and embrace a great variety of subjects. They are printed in the best style, and will be sent by mail, postage prepaid, at the rate of three dollars per dozen.

NATIONAL Mount Wollaston Bank.

ON and after SATURDAY, May 1st, 1869, until further notice, this Bank will not open on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS.

HENRY F. BARKER, Cashier.

Quincy, April 21, 1869.

THE PAIN KILLER

Is for Internal and External Use.

Auction Sale.

Will be sold at the residence of the real-estate agent, on TUESDAY, the 14th day of September, 1869, at 9 o'clock, P. M., a lot of Household and Kitchen Furniture, 2 Carriages, Double and Single Harnesses, &c.

Terms Cash.

Quincy, September 4.

ANNE A. FALK.

For Sale or To Let.

A FINE modern built house in South Quincy.

Apply to MRS. HENRY CURTIS.

Quincy, Sept. 4.

Removal!

MRS. M. E. CURTIS

WOULD inform the ladies of Quincy, that she has removed to the building next her residence on

FRANKLIN STREET, where she will attend to

MILLINERY, DRESS

AND

CLOAK MAKING

as usual.

MRS. WORK'S New System of Dress Making taught. And Charts furnished to Agents.

BUTTERICK'S Celebrated Patterns from New York for Ladies and Children.

Clothing of every variety for Sale.

For the next few weeks previous to getting in Fall Stock Goods, she offers Goods consisting of Bonnets, Hats, Flowers &c., &c.

At less than Cost.

Housewarming and Grave Cloths constantly on hand or made to order.

Orders received for Funeral FLOWERS.

Ladies will find it for their interest to call.

Quincy, Sept. 4.

J. A. McLellan's

LADIES' & GENTS'

Variety Store,

Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.,

QUINCY.

IS THE PLACE TO GET

BARGAINS!

Patent Medicines lower than the lowest!

Boots and Shoes

Of the First Quality marked down the present price.

RIBBONS we sell Cheaper than the Cheapest!

SILKWA, a new assortment of Splendid Styles, CHEAP.

WORTSIEDS in great variety.

Hosiery, Gloves, Hdkfs., Cottons, White

ed Scarf may be had of
C. T. REED.

Quincy, July 3.

1697 Washington St., Boston.
J 24-3m

Poetry.

NATURE KNOWS NO LOSS.

The flying leaf with golden colors stained,
The solitary robin on the lawn,
The clovered stubble wet with dew at dawn,
Remind the world what victories time hath gained.

But this will mend; the invading tread of Spring
On silver-sparking frosts shall make them yield,
Till legions of flowers cover Earth's green field,
And up from waving corn the larks and linnets wing.

Only to us the same great Seasons come,
And wear, a sweet, but still another smile;
A thing is lost they carry from our lake;
And many eyes are dim, and many voices dumb.

Farmers' Department.

DRIED GREEN CORN.

A lady whom we regard as one of our best neighbors and as a model house-keeper, remarked to us the other day, that she had never seen her process of preserving sweet corn for winter given among the cooking receipts which she had read in the Farmer or in other papers, and that she thought it was not so generally known as it ought to be. She remarked that her family was fond of it, and would be very unwilling to do without it, when fresh vegetable food is as scarce as it generally is during our long winter season. Late in the season when sweet corn becomes plenty, she boils a kettle full at once, cooking it just as for table use. The kernels are then cut from the cob, placed on tins, and dried by the stove. It might be dried in the sun, but as her cooking stove furnishes good conveniences, she has never tried that plan. When sufficiently dry it is tied up in cloth bags, to keep out insects, &c., and kept in a dry place.

To prepare it for breakfast, if she has plenty of milk and thinks there is no danger of its souring, the corn is soaked over night in cold milk. But if there is danger of the milk souring, it may be heated before pouring upon the corn. If milk is scarce, the corn may be soaked in milk and water, or even in clear water. Milk, however, add much to its palatableness. In the morning, it is put upon the stove and warmed, and then buttered and salted to taste. In her family she says it is as much the standard dish for Sunday breakfast, as pork and beans were for dinner. It is also often called for and always welcomed as a luxury, at other meals.—N. E. Farmer.

ROAD DUST AND VEGETATION.

No careful observer will deny that the trees along much frequented roads, especially when exposed to the influence of prevailing winds, distinguish themselves in the rapidity of their growth and the luxuriance of their foliage as being more thriving than those of the neighboring wood. This fact is being ascribed to the dust from the roads which is carried and deposited by the wind upon their branches and foliage. Dry road dust contains from eight to ten per cent of organic matter, arising from the excrement of animals, from straw, hay, or grains which may have fallen from wagons frequenting the roads. After having been pulverized by carriage wheels to a fine dust, they form a large amount of already decomposed and readily soluble nourishment for vegetable growth. Roads kept in good condition, are therefore not only important promoters of the civilization of the district wherein they are located on account of easier transportation, but also because of an inexpensive, but no less efficient fertilizer. It is in such, at the first apparent causes that an explanation of many of the declared mysteries of vegetation may be found.—Manufacturer and Builder.

Pears, that are naturally rather green or dull yellow at maturity, may be made beautifully rosy tinted by touching spots on them a few weeks before maturing, with sweet oil. A light camel's hair pencil brush is best for the purpose.

Anecdotes.

"What is conscience?" asked a Sabbath school teacher of his class.
"An inward monitor," replied a bright little fellow.
"And what's a monitor?"
"One of the iron-clads."
A clergyman asked some children, "Why do we say in the Lord's Prayer, 'Who art in Heaven' since God is everywhere?"
He saw a little drummer who looked as if he could give an answer and turned to him for it.
"Well, little soldier what say you?"
"Because it's headquarters."
"Sister," said one of the brethren at a love feast, "are you happy?"
"Yes, deacon, I feel as though I was in Beebe's bosom."
"Not in Beebe's bosom?"
"Well, some of the patriarchs, I don't care which."
"Jimmy, do you go to school?"
"Yes, sir, to the school kept by Miss Post."
"Not a whipping Post, I hope?"
"Oh, no, she is a guide Post."

LOVEJOY'S

CLOTHING HOUSE

DOCK SQUARE,

(Corner of North Street.)

THE CHEAPEST PLACE

TO BUY

GOOD CLOTHING.

J 20.

8m

RICHARD HAILS,
Merchant Tailor!

HAWKWOOD AND GRANITE STS.,

WOULD inform the citizens of Quincy, and vicinity, that he has a large and

CHOICE ASSORTMENT

of goods adapted to the season which he will make to measure for Mr. Lombard.

GOODS sold by the yard, and GARMENTS cut

and trimmed.

Quincy, June 19.

if

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

Merchant Tailor & Dealer

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS

AND VESTINGS,

School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

HAS on hand and is constantly receiving

from the best sources, New and Desirable

Goods adapted to his trade. All who wish first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price are

respectfully invited to call.

N. B. It would be well to remember, that

Cheapness and Dearthness are relative attributes;

they have a relation to the QUALITY of the article

we buy, and that, which does not answer well

the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR

at any price.

Quincy, March 30

A NEW STOCK

GROCERIES.

THE Subscriber having leased the store re-

next door to the Orthodox Church,

and added a large stock of FRESH GROCERies, would invite his friends and the public to call at his

NEW STORE.

and examine his large stock of West India Goods which have been selected with care, and are warranted to give the best of satisfaction.

A good assortment of Fruit, Meat, Provisions,

&c., of the best quality, constantly on hand.

JAMES N. BLAKE.

Quincy, June 5, 1869.

The Best and Cheapest Place to buy

CLOTHES WRINGERS

OR WASHING MACHINES.

Or to get your WRINGERS REPAIRED, is at

H. S. THAYER'S,

42 Elm Street, - BOSTON.

Entrance from the Yard of Wilde's Hotel.

July 10

QUINCY

MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce

that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a Ware-room, where

EVERY VARIETY

Monumental Work,

from the simplest grave stone, to the

Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,

may be seen finished and ready for lettering.

His books on medical subjects may be had at his office

or will be sent by mail for the following prices:—

"Epitaph," 80 cents.

"Inhalation," 25 cents.

"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.

"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.

"The Doctor," 60 cents.

Many of the best Educators have recommended this book as a subject too much neglected. Wm. H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Girard College, says, "By the publication of this book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."

Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all our young men."

Aug. 17 if

Genuine Lykens Valley
Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice at the lowest cash prices.

OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

BOSTON, JULY 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, his now on hand, the Pure Genuine Franklin Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit Branch L. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co. Quincy, July 6.

LUMBER, COAL, WOOD, BRICK, &c.

THE Subscribers have just received at their

Wharf, several Cargoes of Lumber of all

descriptions, consisting of:—

Spruce Timber and Joist,

Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,

Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,

Sheathing and Finishing Boards,

Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Burn-

side red and white ash Coal, George's Creek Cumberland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick,

Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold Cheap,

for Cash.

ORDERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo. H. Locke, Washington M. French, Joseph W. Lombard, or at Post Office Box, 195, will receive prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.

Quincy, Aug. 22.

M. HARTNEY'S

Quincy and Boston Express.

New Arrangement.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Leave Boston at 2 1/2 o'clock, P. M.

ORDERS in Quincy may be left at the following places, at the Store of C. T. Reed & Co., and

Dan R. Baxter & Co., and at the Stable.

Office in Boston, 43 North Market Street

Order Box, 39 and 40 South Market Street.

Business attended to with care and responsibility.

Quincy, May 25.

WILLIAM CARRITY'S

(Formerly Fernald and Shea's)

Quincy & Boston Express

THE Subscriber having purchased the good will of the business recently engaged by Messrs. Spear &

Ramsdell is prepared to convey Freight and Parcels between Quincy and Boston, and hopes by strict attention to merit a share of public patronage.

N. B.—Furniture Moved and Parties

accommodated at short notice.

Leaves Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 2 1/2

P. M.

Quincy—Orders may be left at Whitney & Nash's, John

A. Wood's, W. A. Armstrong's, and at the Stable.

Boston—3 Washington Street, 4 1/2 South Market St.;

2 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt

and careful attention.

Quincy, May 18.

Quincy & Boston Express.

JOHN RING,

WILL faithfully attend to the delivery of

any packages intrusted to his care.

Leave Quincy at 8 1/2; Boston at 2.

Orders left at his residence on Summer

Street, or at E. Clapp's Store, in Quincy; or

2 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt

and careful attention.

Quincy, May 18.

For New and Beautiful Styles

PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.

Quincy, May 1.

if

SPRING TRADE.

THE Subscriber, having employed a good upholsterer, is now ready to receive orders for public, in remodeling old furniture of any description. Housekeepers should send in their work to the harbor season, if they would have it attended to, at an early hour and oblige.

JOSEPH ARRY.

N. B. New and desirable paper hangings, will be found Cheap for Cash.

Quincy, Mar. 20.

if

LINIMENT.

FOR the cure of acute or chronic Rheumatism,

Catharrhs, Neuralgia, weakness of the joints,

Swelling, Cramps, &c., &c.

Merchants Gargling Oil, has been used for the above diseases, with success for more than twenty years. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square,

Quincy, Feb. 20th.

if

C. N. DITSON

WOULD announce to his friends and customers, that he will continue to keep constantly on hand, at the Old Stand,

A LARGE AND CHOICE VARIETY

Family Groceries,

Glass and Crockery

WARE.

which he offers to the citizens of Quincy, at

The Lowest Cash Prices!

CHAS. N. DITSON,

Two Doors North of the Post Office,

Quincy, Nov. 4.

if

Ellis' Iron Bitters.

HAYDEN used your Iron Bitters in my practice, I can testify to its superior tonic properties for invigorating the appetite and promoting

digestion. I can unhesitatingly recommend it

in cases of general debility and dyspepsia, and

in conditions of the system requiring the use of a fermenting tonic. Its agreeable flavor must recommend it to all.

Yours, Respectfully

CHAS. S. GAUNT, M. D.,

Professor in the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

For sale by Druggists generally. M 15 if

Plaster and Salve.

GREEN Mountain Balm of Gilead and Cedar

Sawyer's Salve, and Tracy's Salve.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, May 13.

if

CUSTOM
CLOTHING,
HATS AND CAPS

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.

The Subscriber having opened the Store

No. 86 Hancock St.,

for the sale of the above named articles would invite the public to give him a call believing that he can show them as good an assortment and at as low prices as can be found in town.

C. A. SPEAR.

Having made arrangements with Mr. Spear, I can be found at his store, where I shall be pleased to see all my friends and customers,

and will endeavor to use them as well or better than heretofore.

J. W. LOMBARD.

Quincy, June 5, 1869.

if

Try the Pacific Collar,

The best paper collar yet manufactured.

For Sale

C. T. REED.

BOOTS & SHOES.

BARTHOLOMEW HERNAN would respectfully inform the public that he has moved to the shop recently occupied by

MR. JOHN WILLIAMS,

Over Emerson's Hair Dressing Saloon.

And having secured the services of Mr. Williams,

is prepared to make Custom Boots in the best

manner, and at the most reasonable cash prices.

Also, will repair Ladies', Gents' and Children's

Shoes, at short notice.

Quincy, April 17.

if

BOOTS & SHOES

Made and Repaired!

THE Undersigned would respectfully announce

to the public that he has moved to the shop

corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.

where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots

and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

NATH'L. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, May 8.

if

Don't Fail to Call

— AT —

D. B. STETSON'S

AND EXAMINE

HIS LARGE STOCK OF

BOOTS AND SHOES

Some Extra Bargains.

Quincy, April 3.

if

WARRANTED

BOOTS & SHOES,

For sale at low prices,

By E. CLAPP.

Quincy, Mar 3

if

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which

is at once agreeable,

healthy, and effectual

for preserving the hair. Faded or gray

hair is soon restored

to its original color

with the gloss and

freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured

by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed,

or the glands atrophied and decayed.

But such a remedy can be saved for

MUTUAL FIRE
Insurance Company

HOUSES,
FURNITURE, STORE BUILDINGS,
FARM RISKS

of the safer class of business has paid over $350,000, in

$75,000 in dividends, since business 16 years ago

ND. JAN. 1st, 1869,

$0,000.00,

LOSSES PAID.

N. L. W. MUNROE,

HOWLAND, Secretary.

th & Braintree

MUTUAL

Insurance Co.,

WEYMOUTH,

INGS AND OTHER BUILD-

EXTRA HAZARDOUS,

at as low rates as any other

Risk April 1, 1869,

$685,982.

$21,718.25

$57,876.64—$79,594.89

N. L. WHITE, President,

R. S. Sec'y.

STOCKING,

mental Surgeon,

personal attention in the setting of gold, silver, and Platinum Jewelry, will be returned to ignorant boys or be sold for the benefit of the poor.

—Half each in the time of finishing pieces when, by use, the work is thoroughly done and will be perfectly fitted for use as long as the material is good. No other material, at a price as cheaply charged at the present day.

House of Gold or Silver Jewelry.

Isaiah White, (opposite Boston, Mass.)

ions for the Hair.

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

hair, Scales, Scales, Scales,

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESOTT, Printer.
Also,—Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
(Who is stopping at Dr. Roundy's.)
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future History.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.,—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our
Warehouses, and judge for themselves.

BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILD'S
Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his customers,
to merit a portion of your patronage.
DANIEL MCCURDY.
Quincy, May 9.

Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs
painless operations in extracting
teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling
nitrous oxide gas. Such as prefer this to other may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling, and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satisfactory manner.
C. S. FRENCH.
Quincy, April 18.

Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
OLDER SLATES can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Depot.
Quincy, Jan. 9.

Dr. Warren's Cordial.
DR. Warren's celebrated Pulmonic Cherry
Cordial for Consumption, Bronchitis,
Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Croup,
&c. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 9.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1869. NUMBER 37.

Selectmen's Meetings.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in
the Town House every SATURDAY, from 12 to 4 P. M., until further notice.
Persons having business with the Town will
please present it on those days.
EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of Quincy.
ESSIGN S. FELLOWS, }
Quincy, March 6.

State Aid.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions
of the law of 1867.
EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of Quincy.
ESSIGN S. FELLOWS, }
Quincy, March 6.

SOUTHER'S
Newspaper and Periodical Depot.
I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends,
that I have purchased the interest, and leased the
store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT,
Next Door to the Post Office,
Where I will continue to supply the
Daily and Weekly Newspapers,
MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,
to patrons promptly.
Subscriptions taken for any Paper or Magazine
in the Country.
School Books, Stationery, Pens, Ink and Paper, in fact, every thing connected with the Stationery Department, on hand or procured at the shortest
notice.
Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING
LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the day.
Papers and Magazines bound in any style.
E. B. SOUTHER.
Quincy, May 1.

MILLINERY!
MISS S. H. HUSSEY
WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies
generally—that she has removed to the Old Stand, in
GOODNOW'S BUILDING.
Thinking them for past favors, respectfully solicit orders for SPRING and SUMMER
MILLINERY.
A Fresh assortment constantly on hand.
MOURNING & GRAVE CLOTHES made to
order.
STRAW GOODS Repaired, Bleached & Dyed.
All orders promptly attended to
CORNER HANCOCK & GRANITE STS.,
Quincy, April 18.

REMOVED.
MRS. H. F. CURTIS.
WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that
she has moved to a room over the POST
OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute DRESS MAKING,
in the latest Styles.
And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.
Quincy, April 10.

CONFECTIONERY,
Fruit, &c., &c.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and former patrons that he has reopened the old stand,
ON FRANKLIN STREET, where he will keep during the warm season a good assortment of Ice Cream, Confectionery,
Fruit, &c., &c.
The public are cordially invited.
FREDERICK HARDWICK.
Quincy, June 19.

IF YOU WANT
A New Hat!
Don't fail to call on
E. CLAPP.
Quincy, May 1.

A CARD.
THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making
—AND—
CARRIAGE TRIMMING
in all its branches
Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest
manner at short notice.
RALPH LOWE.
Quincy Jan. 13.

LIVERY STABLE.
REMOVED.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons
that he has removed to his
New Stable on Hancock Street,
REAR OF MESSRS. TIRRELL'S SHOP,
where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages
at short notice.
He would also take this opportunity to thank the public
for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.
JOHN HALL.
Quincy, June 20.

Dr. Warren's Cordial.
DR. Warren's celebrated Pulmonic Cherry
Cordial for Consumption, Bronchitis,
Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Croup,
&c. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Jan. 9.

Poetry.
For the Patriot.
IN THE MOONLIGHT.
BY CARLEMEY.
Oh! it's charming in the moonlight
To sit in our "May-Queen" boat;
So swiftly we glide over sparkling wave,
Or touch on the shore where the ripples lave,
And so lightly laugh with echoing note.
Oh! it's charming in the moonlight,
To walk in the tangled way;
For step we so gently and push we aside
The bush and the briar, and the leafy pride
Of the woodland shade in our beauteous May.
Oh! it's charming in the moonlight,
To gather the wildwood flowers,
So modest they hide in the night wind's embrace,
And the light so pale disclosing their face,
We break their frail stems and a garland is ours.
Oh! it's charming in the moonlight,
To speak of the things to be,
To build up our castles so high in the air,
And see them all vanish with never despair,
These creatures of Fancy to thee and to me.

Interesting Selections.
CORN CAKES (PROFESSOR BLOT.)
Mix well in a bowl two eggs with two ounces of melted butter, a pint of corn meal, salt and sugar to taste. While mixing, set milk on the fire, and as soon as it rises turn it into the mixture little by little, stirring and mixing all the while,
and till it makes a kind of a thick dough.
Butter well a shallow cake pan, put the mixture into it and bake.
MEAT AND POTATO PIE. Mash three pounds of potatoes with a little dripping and milk, and pepper, and salt to taste.
Spread two-thirds in a pie-dish, and place on it a breast of mutton, cut into pieces.
Cover the remainder of the potatoes over the top, and bake it for an hour, more or less, according to the heat of the oven.
TO CURE WARTS. Apply acetic acid with a camel's hair brush. The acid may be obtained at a druggist's.

"Forty years once seemed a long and weary pilgrimage to make. It now seems but a step; and yet along the way are broken shrines where a thousand hopes fade to ashes, foot prints sacred under their drifting dust, green mounds where the grass is fresh with the weeding of tears. We will garner the sunshine of these years, and with chastened steps and hope press on toward the twinkling where the waters are still and the storm never beat."

Drawing a daguerreotype from his coat, said he: "I wish to show you something nice. There what say you to that?"
I told him it was absolutely enchanting.
"Who is it?" I cried with enthusiasm.
"This, my dear friend, is Miss Leary;
the lady I wish you to marry."
"Tell me," exclaimed I, "is she all they claim for her?"
"My dear friend, honestly as I value truth, I have not heard her sufficiently praised."
"Why don't some man try his luck?"
"I am glad you ask. Simply because she is over-courted, and hard to please—
She is clearly romantic, and I clearly see not winnable by ordinary methods."
"You say she is very particular?"
"She is, sir."
"Then good-by for me."
"Not at all; she is rapturous over your likeness, and sends her cousinly love, with an invitation to come and visit her.
I pledged you I omitted not a single good point in your body and character."
"Do you consider her daguerreotype accurate?"
"I can tell you it don't flatter her—She has extraordinary beauty, and the kind that is more striking in animation or conversation."

While mutual friends in Centerville were lauding my fair cousin, mutual friends in Indianapolis were decided in the eulogies for me and preparing her for an alliance.
I am not very self-conceited. Believing such concord must be born of an obvious fact, I settled on an idea of marrying this wonder in beauty, soul and accomplishment.
My intent was quickly confirmed upon hearing that a very wealthy and influential banker from Gotham was in the melting mood. I remember it was midnight. I hinted from my store the last of a batch of loungers, and selected the best stationery in the establishment. I was to write my first letter to Kate.
From all that had passed a fine style was easy. I always flattered myself on my syntax, and will egotistically affirm that my missive was at once tender, judicious, dignified, wild and intense. It struck her very much like an electric shock. The banker was laughed out of Miscellany.

MARRIED BY TELEGRAPH.

"Mr. Leary, are you a married man?"
"Very, sir."
"Very! Why do you say very?"
"Because my dear little wife and I are bound together by wires!"
"Latimer Leary, you talk enigmas."
"Then, sir, to be as plain as a primmer, I will inform you that I was married by telegraph."
"You don't say!"
"Yes, I do."
"Then tell the company all about it."
"I will with pleasure. Ladies and gentlemen, my wife is a second cousin, and was also a Leary. She once resided in Indianapolis, while I was a resident of Centerville in the same State. I was a bachelor of thirty, but full of romance and general love, because I had not made a conquest."

"Why don't you take a wife," was eternally buzzed in my ears. "Whom will I take?" said I. To this query a score of friends would say:
"Your relative, Kate Leary."
"Why she is my cousin!"
"Only a second cousin," they would re-tor, "and your opposite, Latimer. Kate is a blonde, and you as dark as the ace of clubs."

I had never seen Miss Leary, but this continual association of the young lady with my wedded life had a very strange influence.
One day a member of Congress exclaimed: "Mr. Leary were I single, I would assuredly pay court to your magnificent cousin. As I am married, and you are my best friend, I earnestly hope you will possess that luxury."

At this period I was a merchant. Having discharged a thriving clerk, I was so confined to my store that a journey to Indianapolis was out of the question. I was growing almost wild to see one whom all praised, and so many wished me to wed.
Soon after the call of my legislative friend, his brother a noted judge appeared at my store. The judge was also my devoted ally—a position intensified by his recollection of being educated by my deceased father.

The judge understood me and gladly complied. The result I forwarded to Kate by return mail, and soon received word that on the following Thursday she
and proper authority would present themselves at the Indianapolis office according to said formula, there to enter upon the holy estate of matrimony.

I tell you the appointed day was a great one among the mutual friends at each end of the wire. The affair was so novel, that all else was eclipsed by the contemplation of it.
Clergymen and witnesses assembled at the terminus. There in full costume two unseen lovers were made man and wife.
The instrument began its tick-tick-ticking.
The operator read, the clergyman put questions, I answered, the instrument did more work, and soon I was saluted as the husband of Kate Leary. Happy was I;
although the possessor of a lady I never beheld.

One week passed, and I was still without help. My brain was becoming frenzied. I must see Kate, and must go to her first, for it was her fiat, and well did
I know what a Leary was.
By entreaty I prevailed upon a brother merchant to loan me his best clerk.
Soon as he put his foot in the store, I put mine in a stage en route for the capital of Indiana. When about twelve miles from the city, we stopped for a passenger. It was a young lady. Such a being I never beheld. She resembled my likeness of Kate but was far more beautiful. I own my heart went out to her. Call me fic-tle; say what you please and I will bear
it. My heart gushed forth a flood of love.

Here was a fix! I, a married man, going to see his telegraph bride, as tele-
graphically in love with another woman.
I began to repent my haste, and, when too late, saw the crime of marrying one
I had never put eyes upon. What would
I do? The lady was also married, for I heard the driver call her madam.

How she eyed me! I spoke about the coach window being raised to suit her.
She thanked me in tones that acted like an arterial stimulant. I was gone. Much competition, and your humble servant
was master of the situation.
Such a reply as I received! Well—
you must see it—you shall see it. I have very good gas works, but am inadequate. In a brief time we knew that each knew the other well. The much said by so many mutuals, superadded to our daguerreotypes and letters, made us a comprehending couple. In fact, we confess our love—a full round ripe and luscious article. There could be no un-safety in the case. Our union was common and every fact known. What followed is very clear—an engagement!
—yes, between unseen lovers and cousins.
I was 'dying' to fold her to my heart,
but my sole condition and maturing appointments, postponed it indefinitely.
What did you say? Why didn't she visit one of our friends at Centerville?
I answer you cheerfully. She was an odyssey. She had notions and would entertain them. Though we were plighted
she declared it should not be said she made the first visit. Many believed she was right.
I don't argue the point, but merely answer a question.
Weeks passed, letters were numerous and copiously saccharine. The tide arrived when I could endure my single condition no longer. What if some one were to cut me out at the eleventh hour?
With such love what would become of me? I was determined to own her, even if I did not see her for a decade.

An idea dawned—a brilliant one. I was determined to compass a speedy marriage and satisfy her thirst for romance.
After a flood of tenderness, by way of dramatic peroration, I wrote, "—my, my adored one let us depart from the stale
routine, and wed by telegraph."
The idea took her by storm. Her answer was characteristic. It ran thus—
"Darling, I WILL. The idea is savory, but it is legal!"
Immediately I sent for my friend, the judge. Soon as he faced me, said I:
"Judge, I want to know if a marriage by telegraph is legal?"
"Certainly, sir; I see no objections to a contract by telegraph. I readily perceive how all the requirements can be accomplished."

"Will you state this opinion on paper, and prescribe a formula of an electric wedding?"
"With pleasure."
The judge understood me and gladly complied. The result I forwarded to Kate by return mail, and soon received word that on the following Thursday she
and proper authority would present themselves at the Indianapolis office according
to said formula, there to enter upon the holy estate of matrimony.

I tell you the appointed day was a great one among the mutual friends at each end of the wire. The affair was so novel, that all else was eclipsed by the contemplation of it.
Clergymen and witnesses assembled at the terminus. There in full costume two unseen lovers were made man and wife.
The instrument began its tick-tick-ticking.
The operator read, the clergyman put questions, I answered, the instrument did
more work, and soon I was saluted as the husband of Kate Leary. Happy was I;
although the possessor of a lady I never beheld.

One week passed, and I was still without help. My brain was becoming frenzied. I must see Kate, and must go to her first, for it was her fiat, and well did
I know what a Leary was.
By entreaty I prevailed upon a brother merchant to loan me his best clerk.
Soon as he put his foot in the store, I put mine in a stage en route for the capital of Indiana. When about twelve miles from the city, we stopped for a passenger. It was a young lady. Such a being I never beheld. She resembled my likeness of Kate but was far more beautiful. I own
my heart went out to her. Call me fic-
tle; say what you please and I will bear
it. My heart gushed forth a flood of love.

Here was a fix! I, a married man, going to see his telegraph bride, as tele-
graphically in love with another woman.
I began to repent my haste, and, when
too late, saw the crime of marrying one
I had never put eyes upon. What would
I do? The lady was also married, for I heard the driver call her madam.

How she eyed me! I spoke about the coach window being raised to suit her.
She thanked me in tones that acted like an arterial stimulant. I was gone. Much competition, and your humble servant
was master of the situation.
Such a reply as I received! Well—
you must see it—you shall see it. I have very good gas works, but am inadequate. In a brief time we knew that each knew the other well. The much said by so many mutuals, superadded to
our daguerreotypes and letters, made us
a comprehending couple. In fact, we confess our love—a full round ripe and luscious article. There could be no un-safety in the case. Our union was common and every fact known. What followed is very clear—an engagement!
—yes, between unseen lovers and cousins.
I was 'dying' to fold her to my heart,
but my sole condition and maturing appointments, postponed it indefinitely.
What did you say? Why didn't she
visit one of our friends at Centerville?
I answer you cheerfully. She was an odyssey. She had notions and would entertain them. Though we were plighted
she declared it should not be said she made the first visit. Many believed she was right.

I don't argue the point, but merely answer a question.
Weeks passed, letters were numerous
and copiously saccharine. The tide arrived when I could endure my single condition no longer. What if some one
were to cut me out at the eleventh hour?
With such love what would become of me? I was determined to own her, even if I did not see her for a decade.

An idea dawned—a brilliant one. I was determined to compass a speedy marriage and satisfy her thirst for romance.
After a flood of tenderness, by way of dramatic peroration, I wrote, "—my, my adored one let us depart from the stale
routine, and wed by telegraph."
The idea took her by storm. Her answer was characteristic. It ran thus—
"Darling, I WILL. The idea is savory,
but it is legal!"
Immediately I sent for my friend, the judge. Soon as he faced me, said I:
"Judge, I want to know if a marriage by telegraph is legal?"
"Certainly, sir; I see no objections to a contract by telegraph. I readily perceive how all the requirements can be accomplished."

"Will you state this opinion on paper,
and prescribe a formula of an electric wedding?"
"With pleasure."
The judge understood me and gladly complied. The result I forwarded to Kate by return mail, and soon received word that on the following Thursday she
and proper authority would present themselves at the Indianapolis office according
to said formula, there to enter upon the holy estate of matrimony.

I tell you the appointed day was a great one among the mutual friends at each end of the wire. The affair was so novel, that all else was eclipsed by the contemplation of it.
Clergymen and witnesses assembled at the terminus. There in full costume two unseen lovers were made man and wife.
The instrument began its tick-tick-ticking.
The operator read, the clergyman put questions, I answered, the instrument did
more work, and soon I was saluted as the husband of Kate Leary. Happy was I;
although the possessor of a lady I never beheld.

One week passed, and I was still without help. My brain was becoming frenzied. I must see Kate, and must go to her first, for it was her fiat, and well did
I know what a Leary was.
By entreaty I prevailed upon a brother merchant to loan me his best clerk.
Soon as he put his foot in the store, I put mine in a stage en route for the capital of Indiana. When about twelve miles from the city, we stopped for a passenger. It was a young lady. Such a being I never beheld. She resembled my likeness of Kate but was far more beautiful. I own
my heart went out to her. Call me fic-
tle; say what you please and I will bear
it. My heart gushed forth a flood of love.

Here was a fix! I, a married man, going to see his telegraph bride, as tele-
graphically in love with another woman.
I began to repent my haste, and, when
too late, saw the crime of marrying one
I had never put eyes upon. What would
I do? The lady was also married, for I heard the driver call her madam.

and public spirit. When $2,000 were given for a town library, by a single benefactor, this amount was nearly doubled by individual contributions, and the town cheerfully appropriates all that is needed to meet the current expenses. The library is therefore free, and the librarian informs us that from forty to eighty persons visit it daily. The library building, a beautiful stone edifice, with reading room and lecture hall, is also the gift of a munificent citizen of Stockbridge, the Hon. J. Z. Goodrich.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

THE THIRD REGATTA.

There will be another grand regatta off Mears', at Great Hill, this afternoon. The course, time, &c., will be similar to those a fortnight ago. The following yachts have entered for the prizes, which are six in number:—

THE FIRST CLASS.
Bat, Capt. EDMONDS, Keel.
Mystery, "French, centre-board.
Vivid, "Mayberry, "
Echo, "Barker, "

THE SECOND CLASS.
Clara, Capt. GRAHAM, centre-board.
Marie, "Curtis, "
Sadie, "White, "
Sari, "Newcomb, "
Lottie, "Page, "
Pride of the Bay, "Bass, "
Minnehaha, "Penniman, keel.
Fairy Queen, "Chubbuck, "
Adelaide, "Curtis, "
Naiad, "Faxon, "
Bluebird, "Sargent, "

Mr. French requests us to say that he is prepared to convey persons to the regatta. One large team will leave the Hancock House at 1 o'clock.

A GREAT GALE. The most terrific storm known here since the memorable gale of 1815, visited this place on Wednesday afternoon last, doing an immense amount of damage. The gale commenced about four o'clock, but did not reach its height until about six. A large number of buildings, trees, chimneys, fences &c., were blown down. The most severe damages that we have been able to learn were as follows:—The bowling alleys and other buildings owned by Mr. Mears, at Great Hill were demolished; the sail lots occupied by Mr. Whiton at the Point, was blown down, and the coal sheds of Messrs. Owen and Ebenezer Adams were badly injured. Four of the chimneys on the Hancock House; and some others were blown over, and in some instances carried a rod or more from the house. Large numbers of ornamental and fruit trees were broken and in some instances tore entirely out of the ground. The most in any short space could be seen on Elm street, and near the residence of Mr. Charles E. Miller.

Dr. Storrs' Church, at Braintree, was very badly damaged. The steeple was blown over, and the bell made a big hole through the roof. The damage is estimated over ten thousand dollars.

The gale did not, as we can learn, extend out of the New England States, and mostly on the eastern shore, and the heaviest is reported at Providence, R. I., where a number of lives were lost and property valued at two million dollars was destroyed.

RELIGION. The 129th meeting of the Southern District Association (Episcopal) of the Diocese of Massachusetts will meet in Christ Church on Tuesday next.

Divine services will be held at 10 o'clock, A. M. and 7 1/2 o'clock, P. M. At the evening service addresses will be made by eminent clergymen on subjects of general interest connected with the work of the Association; after which an offering will be asked of the congregation in aid of said work.

The public are cordially invited to attend

HORRID. The terrible colliery accident at Plymouth, Penn., on Monday last, by which over two hundred men and boys lost their lives, and causing over six hundred widows and orphans, is unparalleled in the history of American mining.

The fire broke out in a flue in the bottom of the Steuben shaft, and in a short time the whole breaker and out-buildings were in flames, and the hoisting apparatus, the only avenue of escape for the miners, was destroyed. All efforts to stay the flames were unavailing and the whole structure fell, partly filling up the shaft. The miners had no communication out, with no chance for air, as the only way of getting air into the shaft was through the main opening, and that was filled with burning timbers and debris.

At last, the fire was extinguished and the rubbish removed, but it was not found safe on account of the deadly air, to visit the inner recesses of the mines, until Wednesday morning,—after two days and nights of energetic labor,—when the unfortunate victims were found congregated and piled one upon another,—dead.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

The transit of successful events during the week.—France and its destiny.—The Coal Mine horror.—Feverish condition of trade.—Gold, 137.—The voice of the Workmen to be heard.—No-bility of labor.

Boston, September 9, 1869.

The passing events of the week do not fail to leave behind them a moral. The Emperor Napoleon's illness touches all interests of the French people and his demise would convulse all France. The scenes of the French Revolution of 1793, in all probability would not be revived. France is higher civilized than it was seventy-five years ago; now leading to the hope that a change in the organic government would be without the clash of arms. The people are imbued with the love of the First Napoleon. A change of government with the most liberal ideas would find a Bonaparte still at the head of the nation.

The death of General Rawlins, Secretary of War, has filled Washington with mourning. He passed away at forty, leaving a bright record of good deeds. The President and Cabinet were deeply affected; reminding them and all of us of the uncertainty of all things here below. The sad calamity in one of the coal mines of Pennsylvania by which two hundred of the human race were hurried into eternity, may be reckoned as one of the most appalling disasters that ever transpired in the United States. The hearts of six hundred widows and orphans, are sorrowed—refusing to be comforted. This wholesale loss of life may lead to some beneficial results—a thorough, philosophical inquiry in the best means of preventing such accidents.

The equinoctial gale, of yesterday, made matters very lively in Boston and vicinity during its prevalence of four hours. Much damage was caused, which you probably will notice more full in your columns of Saturday next. More people here were frightened than hurt.

The phases of general business are the same here as last week, slowly improving, but in the absence of confidence of man with man, which alone makes business healthy and cheerful. Gold reaching on Tuesday the high figure of 137. This demoralizing condition of things seriously affects the monetary community, fearing greater stringency, and not without good reason.

The political lull in State affairs continues. It seems conceded that a liberal Legislature will be elected in November, with the chances favorable for John Quincy Adams as Governor; but all is conjectural as yet.

The labor reform movement is assuming large dimensions. It is undeniably true that all the wealth of the world is the product of industry, and that which is called capital is the mere accumulation through economy of a portion of that which has been produced by labor. May success attend every movement of the industrial class in their advocacy of equal rights to all men.

To the Publisher of the Patriot:
I would be pleased to have the Selectmen examine Sea street, from Hancock to the junction of Canal street, believing as I do, that the sidewalks need some repairing.

A CITIZEN.

YACHT REVIEW AT DORCHESTER. The last sailing review for the season will take place this afternoon. The boats will be divided into two classes. First-class boats measuring twenty feet and upwards. Second-class boats under twenty feet. Course for the first-class down the Bay, through Squantum Gut, passing around Long, Spectacle and Thompson's Islands, back to the Judges' Boat. Course for the second-class, through Squantum Gut, around Spectacle and Thompson's Islands to the Judges' boat. If the day is stormy, the review will take place on Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

SCHOOL BOOKS. In reference to the choice of books, which just now is occupying the attention of our School Committee, a "parent" writes to us, warmly commending the adoption of "Guyot's series of Geographies."

Professor Guyot's eminent attainments as a scientific man are too well known to need commendation, and at the same time he has had the aid of a practical teacher, Mrs. Smith, of Oswego, thoroughly versed in the actual wants, alike of the teacher and of the pupil. It is earnestly hoped that in making the proposed change, the Committee will show their good judgment, as heretofore, and secure to both our children and our instructors, the fruits of ripe scholarship and most practical school experience.

A live, and enterprising firm, have just opened a new and spacious boot and shoe store in Boston, at 21 Tremont street. F. G. Richardson & Co., although they commence business in a dull season, will win their way into public favor, providing they use a good supply of printers' ink with their enterprise.

FALK vs. TURNER.

The interest which has been felt in this vicinity in the case of Annie A. Falk vs. Edward Turner, a brief report of which, copied from the Advertiser, appeared in our last issue, is our excuse for presenting to our readers a verbatim copy of the opinion of the Court.

OPINION.

Chapman, C. J. The plaintiff made a conveyance of her property, in trust, to the defendant on the 27th of October, 1866, she being then a widow, and having in contemplation the marriage with her present husband, which took place Nov. 14th, 1866. The bill seeks to set aside this trust on several alleged grounds. The principal ground is that she was induced to execute the deed by the false representations of the defendant, and by the exercise of undue influence on his part, he being then her confidential adviser. The bill alleges that he advised her to convey her property to him, and told her that, if she did not do so, immediately after her marriage with Falk, all her property, real and personal, would become his and he could sell and dispose of it at his pleasure and leave her without a home; that he also told her that, after giving the trust-deed, she could still have and retain the management and ownership of all her said property, the same as before, and the deed was simply and only to protect her property from being sold and conveyed away by her husband without her consent.—The bill further alleges that the deed was not read by her, or to her; and that she signed it without knowing its import or contents; that the schedule of property was not annexed to it at the time, nor did she know of the same till long afterwards.

The defendant in his answer denies all these allegations; and the answer being made on oath, as the bill requires it to be, is entitled to such consideration as the law gives to a sworn answer in chancery, though the testimony of the parties, given in the presence of each other and subject to cross-examination, is more satisfactory than a written statement prepared by counsel. After careful consideration of the pleadings, and all the evidence reported by the master, and the character of the deed of trust, the Court were of opinion that the allegations are not proved. The defendant was a confidential adviser of the plaintiff; but she appears to have been in a state of independence, and wholly disregarded what she avers he advised in respect to her marriage; and when such independence exists, a contract will not be set aside, merely on account of confidential relations. 1. Story Ec. § 320.

The bill also alleges that the deed was made under a mistake both of law and of fact. But on a careful examination of the evidence we fail to find proof of such mistake.

It alleges that the deed works to the wrong and injury of herself and husband. But, as he had no right to the property, it is difficult to perceive how he is wronged by an act which she had the right to do. Moreover, he makes no complaint, not being a party to the bill. And, as to himself, one of the leading purposes of a deed of trust made in contemplation of marriage usually is, to disable the wife from disposing of the property while under the influence of her husband, and thus relieve her from exposure to such influence.

The bill avers that she now desires to regain the possession and management of the property, and has the ability to manage it. Nothing appears in the case to raise a doubt as to her ability, either at present or when she made the deed. But the ability of the cestui que trust to manage the property, or his desire to do so, has never been recognized as a ground for setting aside a trust.

It does not appear that the trust has been administered faithfully, or injudiciously; but the evidence shows the contrary. The purchase of the mining stocks resulted in a considerable gain, of which the plaintiff had the full benefit; and the defendant denies that he invested any of the trust property in the purchase. His dissent from the plaintiff's contract to sell a part of the real estate was judicious; for the property was sold, in consequence of his course, at a large advance. Moreover, the value of the whole property was increased largely in his hands.

Looking into the terms of the deed, we can find nothing unfair or unreasonable, which will authorize a Court of Equity to interfere within the principle stated in Hildreth v. Elliot, 8 Pick.—293.

However desirable it may be, on grounds of expediency, that the present relations of the parties should cease to exist, no ground is established on which a Court of Equity can interfere.

Bill dismissed.

A North Carolina paper comes out in favor of repudiation, State and national.

For the Patriot.

DISINTERESTED KINDNESS.

While the gale of Wednesday was at its height, Mr. D. B. Stetson, in defiance of wind and rain, and from a pure love of doing good, with his own horse and carriage, succeeded in carrying safely to their homes, four loads of children, twenty-four in all, from the Coddington school. We are sorry to add, however, that in returning home from his last trip, the wind proved too strong, and capsized the carriage, damaging it quite badly. The members of the school, desire in this public manner, to express to Mr. S. their grateful thanks, for his great kindness in their time of need.

To the Publisher of the Patriot:

Permit me through your columns to thank the anonymous friend who so modestly presented me with a horse a few days since.

The gift is not only valuable, but an exceedingly useful one, and whoever the donor may be,—the generosity which prompted the act has my sincerest gratitude.

May the blessings of the kind Father above be visited upon him, whether I ever know him or not. Very truly,

C. R. BRAINARD,
Rector X. Church.

AUCTION. Mr. Joseph W. Lombard will sell at Auction this afternoon, at the residence of William Parker, Jr., a large lot of genteel furniture, together with many other useful articles. Good chance for bargains.

Henry H. Faxon sells on Thursday next, a lot of furniture, together with carriages, harnesses &c., at the residence of Mrs. Falk.

It will be seen by our advertising columns, that the last regular trip of the season, by the steamer Massasoit, will take place on Thursday afternoon next.

Sunday School Concert at the Orthodox Church to-morrow evening. Recitations and singing by twenty-four girls.

The great parade of the Boston Fire Department on Friday next, it is estimated will cost the city $2000.

Summary Intelligence.

Miss Susan Stanton wishes to wipe out the defeat of the Harvards, by having a crew of American girls challenge an equal number of English girls to row in American waters.

Wagner's new opera has a swimming scene, and Mme Mallinger, who is to take the part in Munich, is learning that accomplishment.

It is estimated that each of the proprietors of the West Virginia White Sulphur Springs has received $30,000 as his share of the profits this season.

The mayor of Providence, R. I., has issued his proclamation to close up the liquor saloons, and seizures will be made immediately if the law is violated.

Refrigerating cars are now being built at Detroit for $2000 each, which will severally carry 18,000 pounds of meat and 6000 of ice.

Dr. Nichols produces thirty bushels of wheat to the acre in Haverrhill. That is more than twice the average yield in the State of Ohio.

The cranberry crop on the Cape this year will be an average one.

The convicts at the Connecticut State prison were treated, on Thursday of last week, to peaches, at the expense of the warden and contractors.

The earnings of the Central Pacific Railroad for August were $572,000, showing a steady increase in passengers and freight since the opening of the through line.

The drought at Portland, Me., is very severe. Wells that were never dry before have given out, and water carts find it difficult to supply the regular demand.

The rice crop of Louisiana before the war only averaged about 10,000 barrels; now it amounts to 70,000.

A Newtown, Conn., boy is preparing to have his head shaved, with a view to defeating a bloodthirsty desire on the part of his teacher to pull his hair.

Mr. P. M. Jeffords of Foxcroft, Me., last week, sold a five years old stallion for $2500.

The Shurtleff school-house on Dorchester street, one of the finest school buildings in the city, will be ready for occupancy about the middle of October.

A bed of green mottled granite, the first ever found in America, has been discovered on the Adirondack Railroad in New York.

The sales of ready made clothing in Boston amount to twenty million dollars annually.

"Barrett's" strengthens the hair.

Hon. Joseph Farewell, Mayor of Rockland, Me., Isaac M. Bragg, Esq., Bangor, and Messrs. Pope Bros., Machias, Me., lumber merchants, fully endorsed the Sheridan Cavalry Condition Powders, and have given the proprietors liberty to use their names in recommending them.

DEATH OF GENERAL RAWLINS.

For the first time in ten years, death has invaded the cabinet. General John A. Rawlins, who has been the tried friend and assistant of the President almost from the beginning of his military career, died in Washington on Monday afternoon last, from disease of the lungs. He leaves three children, an infant born last week, and two daughters, ten and twelve years old, by a former marriage. Mrs. Rawlins is a native of Danbury, Conn., where she now is. She was unable by reason of sickness to attend his last moments.

General Rawlins was born in Jo Daviess County, Illinois, February 13th, 1831. He received a common school and academic education, but lived and worked on a farm until he was twenty-three years of age, when he began to study law in Galena. In 1854 he was admitted to the bar and was moderately successful as a lawyer. He became an active democratic politician, and in 1860 was placed on the Douglas electoral ticket. Soon after the flag was flung upon at Sumter he astonished his neighbors and political friends by making a strong war speech at a meeting in Galena presided over by Mr. now President, Grant. The war took away Grant as Colonel of an Illinois regiment, but in August, 1861, the colonel had become a brigadier-general, with Mr. Rawlins as his adjutant-general. Since then the relations of the two have been of the closest character.

The successive promotions of General Grant were closely followed by the elevation of his adjutant-general, who became major in February, 1862, lieutenant-colonel in November of the same year, brigadier-general in August, 1863, and major-general in March, 1865. From November, 1862, he was chief of staff to General Grant until the latter became President, and seven days after the transfer of his chief to the executive mansion he was made Secretary of War, a position which he held until his death.

While at the beach at Nantasket on Saturday last, a Mr. Howard found a pistol, and his son, who was with him at the time, asked him to let him see it. He did not know it was loaded, but he cocked it and fired, the ball passing through his coat and shirt sleeve, thence through his pants, just grazing his hip. It was a narrow escape and should serve, but will not, as a useful warning in the handling of fire-arms.

"Barrett's" imparts new life.

Norfolk Agricultural Society.

Cattle Show & Fair.

THE TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Horses, Live Stock, Vegetables, Fruits, Flowers, &c., &c.

WILL TAKE PLACE AT READVILLE,

— ON —

THURSDAY & FRIDAY,

The 23d and 24th of September, 1869.

EXERCISES ON THURSDAY.

THURSDAY MORNING will be devoted to the Plowing and Drawing Matches, and to the reception and examination of articles for premium, which must be on the grounds as early as 12 o'clock, M. Bread and Butter excepted, (which latter articles must be presented by 3 o'clock on Friday,) at which time the Judges are expected to be prepared to enter upon their respective duties.

Plowing Match, at 10 1/2 o'clock, A. M.

Drawing Match, at 11 1/2 o'clock, A. M.

TROTTING MATCH, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

Purse of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars. Divided as follows:—1st, $75; 2d, $50; 3d, $25. Horses to be owned in the County, who have never trotted better than 2:45.

Purse of Fifty Dollars. Divided as follows:—1st, $25; 2d, $15; 3d, $10. Open to gentlemen's driving horses that have never trotted for money, and never known to have trotted better than 3 minutes—owners to drive.

EXERCISES ON FRIDAY.

FRIDAY will be the Grand Exhibition Day, the exercises of which will be in the following order:—Grand Cavalcade and Trial of Horses, at 10 o'clock, A. M. Dinner, at 12 o'clock, M., after which the Annual Address will be given, and Addresses made by distinguished guests of the Society, a more specific announcement of which will be made hereafter.

A Grand Exhibition of TROTTING HORSES.

Under the direction of a competent Committee will commence at 8 o'clock, P. M., when matches for the following premiums will take place:—TROTTING HORSES IN HARNESS.

Purse of One Hundred Dollars. Divided as follows:—1st, $50; 2d, $30; 3d, $20. Open to gentlemen's driving horses that have never trotted for money—owners to drive.

Purse of Three Hundred Dollars. Divided as follows:—1st, $175; 2d, $75; 3d, $50. Open to all horses; subject to the Society's rules.

RUNNING HORSES.

Purse of Thirty Dollars. Divided as follows:—1st, $20; 2d, $10. Open to all horses.

Entrance Fee 10 per cent. of the Prize entered for, to be paid to the Superintendent of Horses on entering. All entries and trotting to be subject to the rules of the Society.

Five mile heats, best three in five.

JOHN S. ELDRIDGE, President.

HENRY O. HILDRETH, Secretary.

THE WASHINGTON MARKET.

This is a new market to be finished by the first of January, and located on the corner of Washington and Lenox streets, Boston. It is to be four hundred and sixteen feet long, and finished in a very superior and costly manner, in the Grecian style, and will be one of the largest and most imposing buildings in Boston.

In the rear of the market will be a large open square, to be used as a market yard, with ten feet of sidewalk all around and roof over it, supported by iron columns and brackets. The yard will accommodate about eighty wagons, and the entrance will be on Lenox street.

"Barrett's" Hair Restorative.

CHEWING-CANDY. One of the choicest confections ever invented by Southmayd is the chewing-candy. It is flavored with many different extracts, and can be had at wholesale and retail at his store under Horticultural Hall.

Notice to Tax-payers.

THE Collector will be at the Selectmen's Room, SATURDAY, Sept. 11th, to receive all unpaid taxes, from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

GEO. H. LOCKE, Collector.

Quincy, Sept. 10.

Gravel for Sale

ON BRACKET STREET, also near the South Quincy Depot, by P. McDONNELL.

Quincy, September 11.

WANTED!

ANY one having either a second hand saddle, bridle or harness, or disposed of any of the above, apply to a purchaser.

Quincy, September 11.

Shop To Let.

THE Shop now occupied by Ralph Lowe on Hancock Street.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

HENRY H. FAXON.

Valuable Homestead For Sale!

THE beautiful residence formerly owned and occupied by the late DANIEL D. NILES situated on the corner of Adams and Hancock streets. The house is very thoroughly built, and by one of our best Mechanics. The rooms are conveniently arranged, a good supply of water, commodious cellar, and other modern improvements.

The premises were planned and completed, under the supervision of Mr. Nye, for his own use and occupancy, has a fine view of Boston Harbor, and the location is not surpassed by any other Estate in this Town.

The Stable will accommodate three or more horses, has a good Carriage House, Harness Room, &c., with a capital cellar under it. The grounds are supplied with a fine selection of Fruit bearing Trees.

Application may be made to me at my office, No. 134 Pearl Street, Boston.

EDWARD TURNER, Trustee.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

A CARD.

L. W. COOK,

WOULD respectfully announce to the citizens of Quincy that his Photograph Rooms near the Post Office, Weymouth Landing, are still open daily, where

All kinds of nice Pictures,

are taken in his usual satisfactory manner. His arrangements for taking pictures of small children are such, that he has no trouble in obtaining good

Photographs or Ferrotypes

of all children that are brought to his rooms. When Mr. Cook is obliged to be at his rooms in Boston his Weymouth Rooms will be in charge of a skilful operator and all persons coming will receive the same attention as if he was present.

Particular attention paid to making large Photographs from small ones in all sizes up to Life Size.

Persons having pictures that are fading or changing in any manner can now have them taken in any desired style by leaving them at Weymouth, or his Dorchester Rooms, 203 Washington Street.

Weymouth, September 11.

To Milliners and Country Storekeepers

FALL TRADE.

Wholesale Department

UP STAIRS.

Desirable goods received daily from auction and private sale.

Our stock of Feather, Flowers, Satins, Silks, Velvets, Ribbons, Laces, Trimmings, Fringes, Yankee Notions, Fancy Goods, etc., etc., is large and cheap.

We cut lengths at piece prices.

Buy and sell for cash.

Ewd. Ridley & Son,

309, 311, & 311 1/2 Grand, and

66, & 70 Allen Streets,

Corner store, fifth block east from the Bowery,

NEW YORK CITY.

Sept. 11.

Ten Per Cent. Coupon Bonds

— OF THE —

CTION.

el Furniture.

Public Auction, on SAT.
at 11 o'clock, P. M., William Parker, Jr., near Mr.
Tin Store, viz:—

Parlor Set, nearly new; 1 Very little used; 1 New French Sofa; 1 Splendid French Chamber Set, 1 Ten-foot Mahogany Green, 1 Lounger, Lot of Iron ware, Cane-seat Dining Chair, Kitchen Furniture, Crockery, and Lot of Library Books, &c., The Sale will take place the day after tomorrow.

W. LOMBARDY, Auctioneer.
1w

For Sale!

Wagon, for Sale by THURILL & SONS,
11

TRIP!

Massasoit.

Sept. 14, 1869.

Massasoit will make her trip of the season on TUESday, Sept. 14th; leaving Quincy at 10 P. M.

J. J. DUNBAR, Agent.
1w

ction Sale.

at the residence of the sub-TUESDAY, the 14th day of at 2 o'clock, P. M., a lot of Furniture, 2 Carriages, Harnesses, &c., 1w

ANNE A. FALK.

le or To Let.

FINE modern built house in South Quincy.
Apply to
MR. HENRY CURTIS,
Quincy, Sept. 11.

Removal!

I. E. CURTIS
removes from Quincy, to the building next to

KLIN STREET, and to VERY, DRESS
AND MAKING

New System of Dress Making furnished to Agents.
Celebrated Patterns from New York and Children.
Variety for Sale.
We welcome friends to call on the office. Goods consisting of Flowers, &c., &c.

less than cost.
and Grave Clothes constantly on hand for the interest to call.
1w

McLellan's
S' & GENTS'
Variety Store,
Quincy,
PLACE TO GET GAINS!

Medicines lower than the lowest!

Shoes and Shoes Quality marked down the entire week.

sell Cheaper the Cheapest! assortment of Splendid Styles, CHEAP.

EDS in great variety.
es, Hdkfs., Cottons, White
imped Aprons, Ladies' & Gents' and Boys' Artificial Flowers,
Pop Skirts, &c.

acked down our goods below mean sell!

UNDER THE PLACK,
A McLELLAN'S,
Hancock and Temple Sts.
1w

linery Shop,
AND E TO LET!

replied by Mrs. Curtis, over
S. Boot and Shoe Store. Pub-1st.

the Store under the same.
CHARLES R. MITCHELL.
1w

Marsh for Sale.

any of Salt Marsh on Broad highway, adjoining the Estate of H. NILES.

E. F. E. THAYER,
Branford.

te Nobby, and Scarf may be had of
C. T. REED.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

Barrett's is celebrated.

For the Patriot.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific.—No. 8.

STOCKTON, CALIFORNIA,
August 7th, 1869.

At 6 o'clock in the morning, I took the cars, or rather the cars took me, as far as Galt, the present terminus of the Western Pacific railroad. There I obtained an outside seat on the stage bound for Stockton. My right hand neighbor, Professor B—, was quite familiar with Quincy, where he had often spent the summer months with a relative. A man of great observation, much learning, and extensive travels, could not fail to make him an agreeable travelling companion. The four or five hours' ride was through continuous wheat fields, dotted with noble specimens of live oak, that gave it the appearance of extensive lawns. Hundreds of grey squirrels and rabbits crossed the road as the coach advanced towards their feeding stations. The sun was warm at noon, yet the California heat is not oppressive.
The dust is the most disagreeable accompaniment of the dry season.

It was a novel sight approaching Stockton, to see the various windmills of many colors, flying around like so many butterflies. The city has been called, "a city of windmills." They are used for pumping up water for household and irrigating purposes. The wharves were covered with wheat in bags, waiting to be shipped to San Francisco down the river San Joaquin—pronounced San War-keen, not Sanga-wall-kin, as one Yankee failed it. Long lines of teams with ten and fourteen horses or mules each, blocked the levees. There is a population here of twenty thousand according to last accounts. With the largest wheat country of the State, it is not of the world, it cannot fail to continue to grow, and perhaps to rival the great Western metropolitan. The Yo Semite, a public house, just started, will rival any East, for neatness, or first class comforts, at the moderate rate of $2.50 a day. This is the headquarters for the great Yo Semite valley travel. Three routes, varying from one hundred to one hundred and fifty miles, start from this place. Miss Anna Dickenson had a crowded house to hear her lecture. "What next?"

The streets were well occupied this afternoon with men, women and children, with pieces of smoked glass, gazing at the eclipse. Here we met again Gen.
Tom Thumb and his small party, also,
Senator Hendricks and lady.

Oakland, August 10, 1869. Ten miles out of Stockton, I visited the ranch of a friend, once connected with the Patriot, and with him rode to this place over the country roads. We left the ranch after 8 o'clock in the morning, drove about sixty miles and bivouacked for the night among the mountains. Coming through Livermore Pass, was rather rough riding, compared with the level plains we had earlier in the day. Livermore Valley is one grand wheat field, of about one hundred square miles, among the hills, surrounded on every hand by mountains, and about as lovely a spot as can be imagined. One flock of sheep that we saw contained five or six thousand, herded by one man, back on the mountains. Two men in San Francisco own all the land, and let it to ranches, who pay every fourth bag of wheat that they raise as rent. Arising with the lark this morning, I ascended around top mountain to get a look into this valley at sunrise. It was magnificent. Even to the top of some of the mountains, were cultivated fields of grain. Just opposite to where I stood was a threshing machine, operated by steam, an unusual sight among mountain tops.
At 6 o'clock we were on the road again between the mountains. Innumerable broods of quails stepped one side to let us pass. We came out of the mountains at Brighton Market, and at Haywards, came to a great fruit growing country. It was a straight and hard road for fifteen miles to Oakland. On either side were fruit trees laden with the richest fruit, in quantities beyond imagination. The houses were built in modern style, ranking with the suburbs of Boston in architecture, and surpassing them in flower and shrub ornaments. Oakland is more of a country seat than a city. It being only six miles from San Francisco, merchants prefer its climate and gardens as a home.
Large, broad spread live oaks are standing in the middle of many of the sandy streets. It contains something over fifty thousand inhabitants, but has only one business street. The dust is the only thing objectionable, but this is troublesome only in some of the most thickly settled parts of the city. Cars and steamboats connect with the metropolis.

Traveller.

The State Liquor Agency commenced business on the 31st of July, and the sales for the past month have amounted to $42,000, which is considered a good month's work. Most of the orders for liquors have come from cities and towns east of Worcester.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

"Barrett's" is celebrated.

The Clinton Courier says a few days since Mr. J. R. Foster, who has just returned from a visit to Vermont, having occasion to unlock the basement of his barn, found therein a hen, left there by accident, which had enjoyed "solitary confinement" without provision or care for the long period of fifty-eight days.

She came out as well as could be expected, and although somewhat "exhausted," is able to be around and is apparently doing well, although entertaining, it is presumed, a poor opinion of Vermont vacations.

Statistics show that during the past two years Old Fellowship in the United States has increased two hundred and forty-five lodges, some 30,000 members, and a total relief of nearly 700,000.

Ports from which commerce was driven during the hot months by their terrible fevers are visited all the year with impunity now. Many localities in the South and West kept tenacious by their deleterious miasma are now filling up with populations under the protection of Ayer's Agree Cure. Their afflicting Chills and Fever are so effectually cured by this remedy that the disease no longer turns emigration aside or destroys the settler if he ventures upon its infected districts.—Gazette, Independence, Mo.

Like angels' visits,
"Few and far between,"
Are those old structures,
Here and there are seen:
They take us back,
To speak in simple rhyme,
To days long past,
Upon the track of time!
So that old structure,
Two-five Docks Square,
Where "Lodgings" sold
At prices which are fair:
The oldest BUILDING, now, in town,
Please call and see before 'tis taken down.
Boston, Aug. 25.

The most astonishing cure of chronic diarrhea ever heard of is that of
Wm. Clark, Frankfort Mills, Waldo Co.,
Maine; the facts are attested by Ezra Treat, Upton Treat, and M. A. Merrill, either of whom might be addressed for particulars. Mr. Clark was cured by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

"Barrett's" warranted, "Barrett's" warranted.

NOTICE

Narragansett Steamship Co.

Fall River Line.

ON and after MONDAY, Sept. 6, 1869, the Steamers NEWPORT and OLD COLONY, forming the line to New York via Newport, will be sailed off, and that route closed for the season.
The Steamers BRISTOL and PROVIDENCE will touch at Newport while en route to and from Fall River.

GEO. SHIVERICK, Agent.
JAMES FISK, Jr., President.
M. R. SIMONS, Managing Director.
S 4-2w

IN BANKRUPTCY.
THE Third General Meeting of the Creditors
of
JOHN PAGE, JR.,
Bankrupt, will be held at the office of Samuel B.
Noyes, 96 Washington street, Boston, September 16th, 1869, at 10 o'clock P. M.

JAMES SKINNER, Assignee.
Bankrupt, Sept. 4.

PENSIONS
Collected at Small Expense by
W. ABERCROMBIE.
Quincy, Aug. 28.

REDUCTION.
I AM DETERMINED
To Reduce My Stock
Of Goods and shall make prices
that will ensure it.
W. ABERCROMBIE.
Quincy, Aug. 28.

NEW STRAW.
JUST Received a prime lot of New Straw for filling beds, &c.
JOS. ARLEY, Jr.
Quincy, Aug. 14.

50 Girls Wanted
IMMEDIATELY, to do Wornest Crochet Work at their homes.
Apply to
MRS. W. S. COGSWELL,
Over the Post Office.
Quincy, August 21.

THE HYVANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE AND NORMAL TRAINING INSTITUTE, 361 Washington St., Boston, Mass., is a liberal and practical education in preparation for active business pursuits, and has acquired by its steady and extensive connections, facilities for assisting graduates to obtain positions of honor and profit, and is enabled by its local institution. Pupils can register their names for Fall and Winter sessions, and receive the full term of instruction at any time if there are vacancies. The full term of the "English Training School" of the above institution will commence Sept. 1st.

H. E. HIBBARD,
Boston, Mass.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. It is especially adapted
to young children, and to young adults, and is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all
are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all
should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured,
and the patient restored to sound health by the
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Over the confidence of mankind, as this excellent
remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the men of
men it has risen higher and higher in its estimation,
as it has become better known. Its uniform
character and power to cure the various affections
of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable

Poetry.

REBUKE.

The world is old and the world is cold,
And never a day is fair, I said;
Out of the heavens the sunlight rolled,
The green leaves rustled above my head,
And the sea was a sea of gold.

The world is cruel, I said again,
The voice is harsh to my shrinking ear,
And the nights are dreary and full of pain.
Out of the darkness sweet and clear,
There rippled a tender strain;

Euphony the song of a bird asleep,
That sang in a dream of the budding wood;
Of shining fields where the robins reap,
Of a wee brown mate and nestling brood,
And the grass where the berries peep.

The world is false, though the world be fair,
And never a heart is pure, I said;
And lo! the clinging of white arms bare,
The innocent gold of my baby's head,
And the lip of a childish prayer.

Farmers' Department.

THE APPLE TREE BORER.

Entomologists tell us that in July and August the apple tree borer, then in the beetle state, lays its eggs on the bark near the roots of the tree. If your trees are banked up its operations may be easily watched. But if the tree stands in the grass or weeds, or if roots are exposed, as is often the case, for some distance from the trunk, the mother beetle will "steal her nest," and deposit her litter of ten eggs whenever she pleases.

Before winter, from each of these eggs, a whitish worm with a dark, horny head, and tapering body, will hatch out, and at once enter upon its mission. Leaving a slender monument of its glued chips to mark its entrance into the tree, it spends its first winter under the bark. The next season it penetrates the wood, throwing out coarser cuttings as practice makes more perfect the operations of its powerful jaws. Its whole route is from twelve to fifteen inches; in the third season, nearly two years from its entrance, the full-sized borer, about three-fourths of an inch long, shapes its course toward the center of the tree, where the wrinkled worm puts on a new dress, and, cutting a round hole in the bark, emerges into daylight with the legs, wings, and delicate feelers of the flying beetle.

How shall we remedy? how prevent these operations? are questions of interest to fruit growers. Some recommend washes of lye, strong soap suds, sulphur, tobacco and other offensive matters. Lye strong enough to bear an egg was year after year recommended by an editor of an agricultural paper in Boston, as sure to kill the eggs, but others found the application too strong for their trees. By keeping the earth over the roots and well up to the trunk, we have succeeded in removing, without excessive labor, the young larvae by scraping them out with a pruning knife; being guided in our search for the trespassers by the "latch string" which they incautiously leave out. After the borer has got fairly into the wood of the tree, which may be known by his chips, he may be killed or withdrawn by thrusting a flexible wire with a rough barbed end into the hole.—The People.

A correspondent of the Scientific American gives this advice to horsemen: Whenever they notice their horse directing his ears to any point whatever, or indicating the slightest disposition to become afraid, let them, instead of pulling the rein to bring the horse towards the object causing his nervousness, pull it on the other side. This will instantly divert the attention of the horse from the object which is exciting his suspicion, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the horse will pay no more attention to the object, from which he will fly away if forcibly driven to it by pulling the wrong rein.

Incidents.

A skeptical young collegian confronted an old Quaker with the statement that he did not believe in the Bible. Said the Quaker:—

"Does thee believe in France?"

"Yes, for, though I have not seen it, I have seen others that have; besides, there is plenty of corroborative proof that such a country does exist."

"Then thee will not believe anything thee or others has not seen?"

"No, to be sure I won't."

"Did thee ever see thy own brains?"

"No."

"Ever see anybody that did?"

"No."

"Does thee believe thee has any?"

"Parson, I had much rather hear you preach," said a baffled, swindling horse jockey, "than see you interfere in bargains between man and man."

"Well," replied the parson, "if you had been where you ought to have been last Sunday you would have heard me preach."

"Where was that?" inquired the jockey.

"In the state prison," returned the clergyman.

"Won't that bo-constrictor bite me?" said a little urchin to a showman.

"Oh, no, boy, he never bites, he swallows his wittles whole."

LOVEJOY'S

CLOTHING HOUSE

DOCK SQUARE,

(Corner of North Street.)

THE CHEAPEST PLACE

TO BUY

GOOD CLOTHING.

J. D. 2m

RICHARD HAILS,

Merchant Tailor!

CORNER OF HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.

WOULD inform the citizens of Quincy, and vicinity, that he has a large and

CHOICE ASSORTMENT

of goods adapted to the season which he will make to measure in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,

and warranted satisfactory.

Goods sold by the yard, and GARMENTS cut and trimmed.

All Goods warranted.

Quincy, June 19.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

J. D.

Genuine Lykens Valley

Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice at the lowest cash prices.

OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

BOSTON, JULY 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now on hand, the Pure Genuine Franklin Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co. Quincy, July 6.

if

LUMBER,

COAL,

WOOD,

BRICK, &c.

THE Subscribers have just received at their Wharf, several Cargoes of Lumber of all descriptions, consisting of:—

Spruce Timber and Joist,

Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,

Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,

Sneathing and Finishing Boards,

Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Burnside red and white ash Coal, George's Creek Cumberland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick,

Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold Cheap, for Cash.

ORDERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo. H. Locke, Washington M. Freigh, Joseph W. Lombard, or at Post Office Box, 153, will receive prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.

Quincy, Aug. 22.

M. HARTNEY'S

Quincy and Boston Express.

New Arrangement.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Leave Boston at 2 1/2 o'clock, P. M.

ORDERS in Quincy may be left at the following places, at the Stores of C. T. Reed & Co., and Daniel Baxter & Co.

Office in Boston, 43 North Market Street.

Order Box, 29 and 40 South Market Street.

Business attended to with care and responsibility.

Quincy, May 25.

WILLIAM GARRITY'S

(Formerly Farnold and Shea's)

Quincy & Boston Express

THE Subscribers having purchased the good will of the Route recently managed by Messrs. Farnold and Shea, are prepared to convey Freight and Passengers between Quincy and Boston, and hope by strict attention to business to merit a share of public patronage.

N. B.—Furniture Moved and Parties accommodated at short notice.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 2 1/2 P. M.

Quincy—Orders may be left at Whitney & Nash's, John A. Wood's, W. Abernethy's, and at the Stable, Boardman & Washington Street, 4 1/2 South Market St.; 2 Faneuil Hall Square.

Quincy, Sept. 7.

Quincy & Boston Express.

JOHN RING,

WILL faithfully attend to the delivery of any packages entrusted to his care.

Leave Quincy at 8 1/2; Boston at 2.

Orders left at his residence on Summer Street, or at E. Clapp's Store, in Quincy; or 2 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt and careful attention.

Quincy, May 18.

For New and Beautiful Styles

PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.

Quincy, May 1.

SPRING TRADE.

THE Subscribers, having employed a good upholsterer is no ready to accommodate the public in remodeling old furniture of any description. Housekeepers should send in their work previous to the harvest season, if they would have it attended to, at an early hour and oblige.

JOSEPH AREY.

N. B. New and desirable paper hangings, will be sold Cheap for Cash.

Quincy, Mar. 20.

LINIMENT.

FOR the cure of acute or chronic Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, weakness of the joints, Swelling, Cramps, &c. &c.

Merchants Gargling Oil, has been used for the above diseases, with success for more than twenty years.

For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square.

Quincy, Feb. 20th.

C. N. DITSON

WOULD announce to his friends and acquaintances, that he will continue to keep constantly on hand, at the Old Stand, a LARGE AND CHOICE VARIETY

Family Groceries,

Glass and Crockery

WARE.

STONE AND WOODEN WARE,

which he offers to the citizens of Quincy, at The Lowest Cash Prices!

CHAS. N. DITSON,

Two Doors North of the Post Office,

Quincy, Nov. 4

Ellis' Iron Bitters.

HAVING used your Iron Bitters in my practice, I can testify to its superior tonic properties for invigorating the appetite and promoting digestion. I can unhesitatingly recommend it in cases of general debility and dyspepsia, and in conditions of the system requiring the use of a purgative tonic. Its agreeable flavor must recommend it to all.

Yours, Respectfully

CHAS. S. GAUNTY, M. D.,

Professor in the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

For sale by Druggists generally. M 15 if

Plaster and Salve.

GREEN Mountain Balm of Gilead and Cedar Tree Salve.

Miss Sawyer's Salve, and Tracy's Salve.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, May 15.

CUSTOM

CLOTHING,

HATS AND CAPS

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.

The Subscriber having opened the Store

No. 86 Hancock St.,

for the sale of the above named articles would invite the public to give him a call believing that he can show them as good an assortment and as low prices as can be found in town.

C. A. SPEAR.

Having made arrangements with Mr. Spear, I can show them as good an assortment and as low prices as can be found in town.

J. W. LOMBARD.

Quincy, June 5, 1869.

Try the Pacific Collar,

The best paper collar yet manufactured.

For Sale

C. T. REED.

BOOTS & SHOES.

BARTHOLOMEW HERNAN would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy that he has taken the shop recently occupied by

MR. JOHN WILLIAMS.

Over Emerson's Hair Dressing Saloon.

And having secured the services of Mr. Williams, is prepared to make Custom Boots in the best manner, and at the most reasonable cash prices.

Business attended to with care and responsibility.

Quincy, April 17.

NATH'L. NIGHTINGALE.

Don't Fail to Call

D. B. STETSON'S

AND EXAMINE

HIS LARGE STOCK OF

BOOTS AND SHOES

Some Extra Bargains.

Quincy, April 3.

WARRANTED

BOOTS & SHOES,

For sale at low prices.

By E. CLAPP.

Quincy, Mar. 3

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveretrate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system is much deranged, and the blood is impure, its use is indispensable. It cures all eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and are cured by its use: Eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers on some part of the body. Here the occasional

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.
GEO. W. PRESGOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

MUTUAL FIRE
Insurance Company
INCORPORATED
1851.
Houses,
FURNITURE,
STORE BUILDINGS,
FARM RISES
of the safer class of hazle terms.
has paid over $500,000, in $10,000 to dividend; since of business 16 years ago.
ND, JAN. 1st, 1869,
$10,000.00,
LOSSES PAID.
ON, I. W. MUNROE,
Treasurer.
HOWLAND, Secretary.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,
Hancock opp. Granite St.,
QUINCY.
Jan. 2. if
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. if
MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,
[Who is stopping at Dr. Roundy's.]
Will Examine and Prescribe
FOR THE SICK.
Also will give Psychological Readings of the Past and Future Destiny.
Please call and try.
Quincy, March 6. if
E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M., to 2-1/2
P. M.,—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. if
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 12. if
Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants
CONSTANTLY ON HAND.
Wedding & Funeral Flowers
Furnished at Short Notice.
ISAIAH WHITE,
Feb. 20 1y. 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK,
Real Estate and Insurance Agent,
Granite Street, Quincy.
May 4. 1y
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. 1y
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. if

FURNITURE
— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warerooms, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. 1y

NEW
Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,
NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS
Blacksmith Shop, on the "Hollow,"
is now prepared to execute all orders in the
Wheelwright line.
Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds
of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.
Blocks made to order.
The Subscriber hopes by his long experience
and strict attention to the interest of his custom-
ers, to merit a portion of your patronage.
Quincy, May 9. DANIEL MCCURDY. if
Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs painless operations in extracting teeth by a new and improved
process of preparing and inhaling Nitrous Oxide Gas. Such as
prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling,
and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satis-
factory manner.
Quincy, April 18. C. S. FRENCH. if
Rhode Island Coal.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of
Quincy and vicinity, that he is now prepared to furnish them with the Rhode Island
Coal, cheap for cash.
Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn split
for the Store, and Granular Fuel.
ORDER SLATES can be found at Whitney &
Nash's, or H. W. Gray's Store, or Quincy Adams
Bread.
Quincy, Jan. 9.

CLARK & CO.,
New Haven, Conn.
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
1y

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1869. NUMBER 38.

Selectmen's Meetings.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in
the Town House every SATURDAY, from
1-1/2 to 4-1/2 o'clock, P. M., until further notice.
Persons having business with the Town will
please present it on those days.
EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } Quincy.
ENIS S. FELLOWS, }
Quincy, March 6.

State Aid.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each Month, from 9 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions
of the law of 1867.
EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } Quincy.
ENIS S. FELLOWS, }
Quincy, March 6. if

SOUTHERN'S
Newspaper and Periodical Depot.
I TAKE this opportunity to inform my friends,
the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that I have purchased the interest, and leased the
store formerly occupied by C. A. FOLLETT.
Next Door to the Post Office,
Where I will continue to supply the Daily and Weekly Newspapers,
MAGAZINES and PERIODICALS,
to patrons promptly.
Subscriptions taken for any Paper or Magazine
in the Country.
School Books, Classics, Pens, Ink and Paper, in fact, every thing connected with the Stationery Department, on hand or procured at the shortest
notice.
Additions will be made to the CIRCULATING LIBRARY weekly, of the popular books of the
day.
Papers and Magazines bound in any style.
Quincy, May 1. E. B. SOUTHER. if

MILLINERY!
MISS S. H. HUSSEY
WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies
Old Stand, that she has removed to the
GOODNOW'S BUILDING.
Thanking them for past favors, respectfully solicits orders for
SPRING AND SUMMER
MILLINERY.
A Fresh assortment constantly on hand.
MOURNING & GRAVE CLOTHES made to
order.
STRAW GOODS Repaired, Bleached & Dyed.
All orders promptly attended to.
CORNER HANCOCK & GRANITE STS., Quincy, April 18. Up Stairs. if

REMOVED.
MRS. H. F. CURTIS.
WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy, that
she has moved to a room over the POST
OFFICE, where she is prepared, to execute DRESS MAKING,
in the latest Styles.
And she is confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.
Quincy, Apr. 10. if

CONFECTIONERY,
Fruit, &c., &c.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and former patrons that he has reopened the old stand.
ON FRANKLIN STREET, where he will keep during the warm season a good assortment of Ice Cream, Confectionery,
Fruit, &c., &c.
The public are cordially invited.
Quincy, June 12. FREDERICK HARDWICK. if

IF YOU WANT
A New Hat!
Don't fail to call on Quincy, May 1. E. CLAPP. if

A CARD.
THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past year, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making
— AND —
CARRIAGE TRIMMING
in all its branches
Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest
manner at short notice.
Quincy Jan. 13 RALPH LOWE. if

LIVERY STABLE.
REMOVED.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons
that he has removed to his
New Stable on Hancock Street,
REAR OF MESSRS. TIRRELL'S SHOP,
where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages
at short notice.
He would also take this opportunity to thank the public
for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.
Quincy, June 20. JOHN HALL. if

Dr. Warren's Cordial.
DR. Warren's celebrated Pulmonic Cherry
Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Croup,
&c. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Mar. 27.

Poetry.
THROUGH THE WORLD.
Some hearts go hungering through the world,
And never find the love they seek;
Some lips with pride or scorn are curled,
To hide the pain they may not speak.
The eyes may flash, the mouth may smile,
The voice in gladdest music thrill,
And yet beneath them all the while
The hungry heart be pining still.
These know their doom and walk their way
With level steps and steadfast eyes,
Nor strive with Fate, nor weep, nor pray—
While others, not so sadly wise,
Are mocked by phantoms evermore,
And lured by seemings of delight,
Fair to their eye, but at the core
Holding but bitter dust and plight.
I see them gaze with wistful eyes,
I mark their signs of fading cheeks;
I hear them breathe in smothered sighs,
And note the grief that never speaks;
For them no night redresses wrong,
No eye with pity is imparted,
Oh, misconstrued and suffering long,
Oh, hearts that hunger through the world.
For you does life's dull desert hold
No fountain shade, no date grove fair,
No gush of waters clear and cold,
But sandy reaches wide and bare.
The foot may fail, the soul may faint,
And weight to earth the weary frame,
Yet still ye make no weak complaint,
And speak no word of grief or blame.
Oh, eager eyes which gaze afar!
Oh, arms which clasp the empty air!
Not all unmarked your sorrows are,
Nor all unplied your despair.
Smile, patient lips so proudly curled—
When life's frail tent at last is furled,
Your glorious recompense shall come,
Oh, hearts that hunger through the world.

Interesting Selections.
FRENCH LOAF CAKE. Take one cup of butter, one cup and a half of sugar, beat to a cream; three eggs well beaten, cinnamon, cloves, allspice and nutmeg, one teaspoonful of soda, two of cream of tartar, one cup of sweet milk, either wine or brandy, half pound of raisins, quarter pound of currants, and two cups and a half of flour—bake well.
MOLASSES CAKE. Two cups of mollasses, one cup of sugar, one of butter, four eggs and half a teaspoonful of saleratus.
BREAD GRIDDLE CAKES. Soak a few pieces of stale bread until soft; then rub them through a sieve; put into one quart of buttermilk and add two eggs, one teaspoonful of salt, do of soda, and flour enough to make the batter of the right consistency.
Don't fret. Never fret about what you can't help, because it won't do any good. Never fret about what you can help, because if you can help it, do so.
When you are tempted to grumble about anything, ask yourself, "Can I help this?"
and if you can't, don't fret; but if you can, do so, and see how much better you'll feel.
It is a great waste of raw material to put five dollars' worth of beaver on ten cents worth of brains.
Dr. Sawbones, having finished the amputation of a leg of one of his patients, a near relative of the latter took him aside and said to him: "doctor, do you think that your patient will recover?" "Recover! there has never been the least shadow of a hope for him." "Then what was the use of making him suffer?"
"Why, my dear fellow, you could not brutally say to a sick man, 'you are dying. He must be amused.'"
It is said that the juice of one lemon a day, taken in water, will cure the most obstinate case of neuralgia. No sugar should be taken, as it has a tendency to counteract the effects of the lemon juice.
A GOOD REASON. An honest old Dutchman, in training up his son in the way he should go, frequently exercised him in Bible lessons. On one occasion he asked him:—
"Who vos dat vot would not sleep mit Botphers' wife?"
"Shoshph."
"Dat's a good boy. Vell, vot vos de reason he wouldn't sleep mit her?"
"Don't know," replied the boy, "shoshph he vos'n't sleepy."
Don't RUN UP STAIRS. Often practised, it is ruinous to health. An eminent physician once said to us that he wouldn't go up stairs faster than a walk if the house was on fire, and he had valuable property to save; and we believe he wouldn't. Much walking up stairs is especially injurious to women, and frequent running up is a sure ticket to heart disease.
A MOMENTOUS QUESTION. Oh! I am so glad you have come, Harriet! I have been so perplexed I could hardly sleep all night.
"Well, what is it, dear?"
"Why, I don't know whether to have my new dress violet or dark blue!"
What kind of a vest suits a farmer best? A full har-vest.
Why should women be made postmis-tresses?
Because they are fond of the males.

Miscellany.
THE YELLOW RIBBON.
Dr. Annan sat in his office, casting up yearly accounts. "Yes," he said, after careful consideration, "I think next year
I can get a carpet and some new chairs here. I want one new chair, any way," moving uneasily; "I ought to paint and paper, too. I wonder if I could afford to do both? If I made my old harness last,
I could; perhaps I can find a second-hand one.
Like many other country physicians, Dr. Annan, though well educated and of more than usual ability, was poor. His was a hard prosaic life to one of his temperament and culture, but he saw no gleam of hope in the future. There he was settled, there he must die.
He was interrupted by a summons to a lady visitor at the rectory. In a moment he had stepped from the dingy office and his dingy figures to a room filled with bits of trophies in the shape of rich, bright shawls and jewels, with fragments of Parisian fancy, with flowerpots dispensing the hues and glow of a last summer's heaven, and on a sofa a woman, pressing her hand to her brow.
Dr. Annan sat down by her, laid his finger on her pulse, and gazed down on her face. Where had she come from, this concretion of creamy delicacy and deep sparkling bloom, with full rich life kind-ling every fibre? In the world, whence had he wandered hither, were there others fit to be her mates, nurtured as she had been, living the life she had lived?
Dr. Annan was a plain country doctor, thirty years old, just from the calculations about a second-hand harness; but as he sat with his hand on that hot brow, I am afraid his reflections were not exactly of nervous disturbance and his infallible pharmacopoeia.
"Have you been subject to these attacks?" he asked at length.
"Yes," answered Miss Eno, "for the last few weeks. This is the worst, though."
"There is a serious derangement of the nervous system," said he, "and it will take time to cure it."
"But you can give me something to relieve this pain, can't you, doctor?" and the large melting eyes looked up at him in infinite entreaty.
"Certainly," he replied, "something temporary, for to-night; but I must see you again if I am to do you much good."
"If you will only give me relief now," said Miss Eno, "I shall be so grateful that I shall be glad to see you again as often as you will come."
At home once more in his shabby office there came another knock, and his landlady appeared at the door. "It's Mrs.
Green's child again, sir."
"And what is the matter now with Mrs. Green's child?" asked he, impatiently.
"His mother thinks he's eaten something that isn't good for him, and it's got tangled round his heart," replied Mrs.
Tompkins.
"Tangled round his granny!" exclaimed Dr. Annan. "Is the woman outside?"
"Yes, she's here."
"Tell her to come in. Well, Mrs.
Green what has your boy been gorging himself with now?"
"I can't tell, sir," said Mrs. Green.
"I've given him every remedy I know of."
"No wonder he don't get better, then," muttered the doctor, and sat without speaking for several minutes.
"I'd been taking home some fine things," pursued Mrs. Green, "that I'd been getting up for the lady at the rectory, and as I see the light in here, I thought I'd stop."
Dr. Annan faced round and stared fixedly at the woman. She had the handling, then, of the lace and frills that clung to that soft, warm neck.
"She's quite poorly to-night," continued Mrs. Green. "Maybe you've been there."
That night Dr. Annan's mind was filled with images of Guinevere and Cleopatra.
"Confound it!" he exclaimed, startling up as the clock struck twelve, "what does this mean?" and he went resolutely to bed.
Two hours after saw him again seated by Miss Eno's couch. His drops had failed to quiet that surging brain. He tried magnetizing her. While the hours of the night throbbed away, he sat with his hands pressed on her knotted temples, her pale, palpitating face beneath his intense gaze, her breath hot on his wrists

the whole night, and the grasp of his will centered on her physical being. Every now and then the snowy eyelids would tremble and half raise, and through his whole frame would run a thrill, as if it were some delicate musical instrument roused to action by a note struck upon another in perfect unison.
When the morning began to steal through the window, he withdrew his almost stiffened fingers, and, laying his hand on the wavy masses of hair, bent low over the sleeper. Did his lips touch her brow! Mrs. Everett, in her chair by the fire, almost thought so, but the next moment he was tiptoeing his way out of the room.
"Can I know the outward cause of all this?" he asked, the next morning.
"I do not think the knowledge would guide you at all," replied Miss Eno.
"There are details, of course, of time and place, persons and circumstances; but the thing itself, the shock—for it was a shock—was not peculiar."
"I beg your pardon! Everything that happens to you must be peculiar."
"You are mistaken. I am not an uncommon woman," said Miss Eno.
"I do not know," answered he. "I have not seen a great many people—I begin to think I have never seen any."
"Doctor," said she, "your flattery is sweet, because it is so unconscious."
"I did not mean to flatter," said he,
looking even graver than before.
Immersed in his profession, Dr. Annan had heretofore no time for love; in fact, he had regarded it as only a school girl's pastime. But now, after weeks, which might have been a Hashesh dream,
he awoke suddenly to realize his folly.
One morning Miss Eno announced to him her departure the next day, and was startled by an abrupt, hoarse avowal of devotion, and such as the knights of old felt for the bright particular star of their idolatry. She turned around and looked at him steadily with parted lips and wondering eyes. Then she raised her hand and lifted away the masses of brown hair from his brow, and let the soft, warm weight rest there, while she continued to gaze wistfully and intently.
"Do not try me too long," said he, his lips quivering.
"No, I ought not, returned Miss Eno, and I ought not to do this, taking her hand away; but I was thinking, I was wondering, whether I could rest upon such devotion,—whether it alone would be enough for me."
"I know I have nothing else to offer you," said Annan bitterly.
"I thank you for it sincerely," said she, while a happy smile broke over her face. "But"—and her face clouded.
Dr. Annan understood it, and took up his hat.
"Give me something of yours to keep,"
he said hesitatingly.
She took from her arm a little fancy bracelet tied with a knot of amber ribbon.
He placed it next his heart.
The next morning in his office, Dr.
Annan heard the rumble of a carriage.
He stepped out upon his little wooden stoop and saw the enchantress pass. She waved her hand to him. He gazed after the carriage till it turned the corner to the railroad station, entirely out of sight; then his eyes wandered vacantly to the hills across the river. How low and dim they looked! How dry, matted and dusty the grass at the side of the street! How shabby the little yellow houses! How mean and pretentious the smart glistening Gothic villa at the end of the row. He turned into his den again and drew the bolt.

Five years rolled around. At the high window of the St. Nicholas, in New York, stood Miss Eno, in a sad and weary attitude. She had just returned from Europe.
She was looking at the gleams of light spring into the windows around, and speculating on the riches gathered inside; watching the human stream below—in particular one little body with woeful hood and bundle, who threaded her way eagerly, but without nervousness, and with a certain, happy, cheerful gait, which told that she was going to a home, and had a loving heart to rest upon. Miss Eno suddenly turned to her companion and said,
"Ermina, you know that I believe in impulses! I have one to go and see Mrs.
Everett, the minister's wife in Groton, for a few days. You will not be afraid to stay here alone without me?"
"Now Zara, there is something behind this! a scheme of some kind."

"I never thought of it till within the last five minutes, Ermina. I'll be back, perhaps, in two days."
"And, perhaps in—"
Zara turned and went into her bedroom, and the next morning was on her way.
Dr. Annan was sitting down to supper at night, after a long, cold ride among his patients. Suddenly the bell rang.
"Well," he said, looking up wearily, as the servant entered. The girl put a small parcel into his hand, and went out again.
The doctor paused a moment. There was something in the dainty way in which the little parcel was tied up—a delicate fragrance that reminded him of his one dream of happiness.
"What a fool I am!" he said, suddenly; "that is dead and buried long ago. And yet, and yet—"
He did not finish the sentence; but thought how different it might have been if Miss Eno could have loved him. Mechanically he untied the parcel, and opened a little box it contained. A bracelet, tied with yellow ribbon, lay before him.
After a few minutes he rose and went to a desk, which he opened. In this desk was a secret drawer, and from that drawer he drew forth a second bracelet, also tied with yellow ribbon, the exact counterpart of the first.
"Where did this parcel come from?"
he asked, as the servant, whom he rang for, entered.
"From Mrs. Everett's."
"Was any message left with it?"
"None."
The doctor put on his hat and strode rapidly down the street. He seemed ten years younger than an hour ago. Very soon he found himself in the presence of Miss Eno.
She rose, hurriedly, to receive him.
As for him, he was trembling like a boy.
"I have kept the bracelet," he said.
"See! And I have never loved any one but you. You have come to reward me?"
"Yes I have come."
That was all.
A few days after Miss Eno went back to New York.
"I am going to be married," she said,
to her friend.
"And that heart-break which happened just before you went to Groton, five years ago?"
There is the secret. I found at Groton one who spoke as if his love was real, and not the sham we have offered to us in the world here. But my wound was not yet cured, nor my new found belief in all men. I went back after five years and found him waiting for me. I think at last," she said softly, "I shall be happy."
Dr. Annan is now a celebrated practitioner in New York. His wife is one of the queens of society. Both are brighter and better and happier.
Was it impulse, as she thinks, that took Miss Eno back to Groton? Or was it something deeper of which she is not conscious? Blind chance is but a poor explanation.
At any rate, impulse or not, two lives but for it would not have been married.

BIRDS AND THEIR USES.
Baron Von Tschudi, the well known Swiss naturalist, says:
"Without birds, successful agriculture is impossible. They annihilate, in a few months, a greater number of destructive insects than human hands can accomplish in the same number of years. Amongst the most useful birds for this purpose may be classed the swallow, wren, robin red-breast, sparrow and finch. Tschudi tested a titmouse upon the rose bushes of his neighbor, and rid the same in a few hours, of innumerable lice. A robin red-breast killed in the neighborhood of eight hundred flies in an hour. A pair of night swallows destroyed in fifteen minutes, an immense swarm of gnats. A pair of wrens flew thirty-six times in an hour, with insects in their bills to their nests. He considers the sparrow very important, as a pair of them in a single day, carry three hundred worms or catterpillars to their nests—certainly a good compensation for the few cherries which they pluck from the trees. The generality of small birds carry to their young ones, during the feeding period, nothing but insects, worms, snails, spiders, &c.
Julius, did you ever see the Catskill Mountains?"
"No, Sambo; but I've seen 'the cats' kill mice."

FANCIES OF BOYHOOD.
BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.
While yet a boy of ten years old, it was a sore puzzle which we should be—a farmer, storekeeper, or a stage driver.
The last honorable business had the preference in our mind. Yet there were days when the other named pursuits strongly urged their attractions. We reflected that, if a farmer, we should not have to drive the cows to and from pastures, but should have a boy to do it for us; and not, as then, be obliged ourselves to work under them. We could rest when we pleased, and no one could scold us. In short, the attractions of a farming life were manifold.
But, however attractive, we never returned from an errand down town without feeling our preferences shaken. A store was to our young eyes a mystery of sight and sweets! Ah! to be a storekeeper, put my fingers whenever I pleased into the candy-jar or peppermint drawer!
to eat raisins and figs every day! to get behind the counter whenever I chose, and to open drawers and to look under the counter, which was always a place of imaginary treasures! Besides—but this was a secret and envious thought—I might, by using pomatum, and by diligent use with brush and glass, become as smooth and pretty as that dashing clerk, Jim Velvettop. Ah, if my brown cheeks only would look as handsome as his smooth face! But of that I despaired every time I looked into the little glass that served purposes of humility in my bedroom. Yes, a merchant I would be.
But one ripping blast on the stage-horn put all these fancies to an utter rout.
There came the stage—the great red stage—full of passengers, baggage behind and piled on top; Hiram Barnes in the driver's seat, corduroy breeches on, a low-crowned, jaunty hat, in one hand the four reins and in the other the whip, whose long lash was perfectly enchanting to my boyhood, always excepting the occasions when it was swung around to give "a cut behind." But, oh, that final dash of the team! Every horse had saved up a little steam, and, on coming round the corner, the pace which had been sparkling before burst into a royal run, rounding up before the tavern in a style that captivated every boy of the least spirit. No, others might be farmers and merchants, but our mind was made up, and a stage driver we would be! Nor was the charm lost when, on going toward home, we passed Mr. Parker's stage-barn, and saw the smoking horses under Ulysses Freeman's hands (Cato and Candace were his parents), while driver Hiram sunned himself with all the superb air of a dandy of the barn-yard. It was too much! Why were some men born to luck, and others to luckless seclusion?
Here were those happy fellows living among horses, whenever they pleased—the admiration of all the boys in town, while I, shut up in the door-yard, only let out to drive the cows, run of errands, or, saddest of all, to go to school, seemed doomed to a spiritless life.

ELEGANCE DOES NOT MAKE A HOME.
I never saw a garment too fine for man or maid; there was never a chair too good for a cobbler, or cooper or king to sit in; never a house too fine to shelter the human head. The elements about us, the gorgeous sky, the imperial sun,
are not too good for the human race.
Elegance fit man. But do we not value these tools of house-keeping a little more than they are worth, and sometimes mortgage a home for the mahogany we would bring into it? I had rather eat my dinner off the head of a barrel, or dress after the fashion of John the Baptist in the wilderness, or sit on a block all my life, than consume all myself before I got to a home, and take so much pains with the outside that the inside was as hollow as an empty nut. Beauty is a great thing, but beauty of garments, house, and furniture is a very tawdry ornament compared with domestic love. All the elegance in the world will not make a home, and I would give more for a spoonful of real hearty love than for whole ship-loads of furniture, and all the gorgeousness that all the upholsterers of the world could gather together.—Theodore Parker.
The best way to train up a child in the way it should go, is for the person to travel that way occasionally himself.

CONDITIONS.
No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.
Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.
BOSTON—S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., S. R.
NILES, HORACE DODD, T. C. EVANS, A. L.
BRYANT, & CO., ALLEN & SHAILER and COLEY & DARTY.
NEW YORK—S. M. PETTINGILL & CO.,
GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., and FRANKLIN & CO.
PHILADELPHIA—COE, WETHERILL & CO.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

THE REGATTA.

On Saturday last nearly all the yachts owned in Quincy were mustered off Mear's at Great Hill, for the third time this season.

The boats entered in the First Class, and measuring nineteen feet six inches and upwards, were the Bat, Captain Emmons, owned by J. Q. Adams, Esq.; Echo, Capt. Spear, owned by Barker Brothers; Mystery, Capt. Packard, owned by Capt. F. W. French, and the Vivid, owned by Capt. Maybury.

In the Second Class there were the Adelaide, Captain F. Curtis; Minnehaha, Capt. J. T. Pennington; Naiad, Capt. S. H. Spear; Fairy Queen, Capt. Perez Chubbuck, Jr.; and the Old Abe, Capt. Newcomb—all keel boats.

The centre-board boats of this class, were the Clara, Captain Graham; Marie, Capt. S. Curtis, 2d; Surf, Capt. R. Newcomb, Jr.; Bluebird, Capt. Sargent, and the Sadie, Capt. Henry White.

THE COURSE FOR BOTH CLASSES OF BOATS was from the Judges' boat, leaving Sheep Island on the port and Grape Island on the starboard, to buoy in Hingham Channel, southward of Bankin Island, leaving it on the port, thence leaving Bankin Island on the starboard, to buoys, Nos. 2 and 1 off Hull, leaving both on the port, thence to the buoy on wreck between Hangman's and Nut Island, leaving Sheep Island and Pig Rocks beacon on the port, and Prince's Head on the starboard, and the buoy on the port, thence to the Judges' boat, leaving Nut Island on the starboard and the Judges' boat on the port.

At 2:20, p. m., a gun was fired from the Flirt, the Judges' boat, which was the signal for the boats of the first class to start. At this time the wind was north-west and very light. The boats were well together, and made a very fair and even start,—the Mystery excepted, she having been delayed in arriving into line, had barely come to anchor when the signal was given,—therefore she was some distance behind the fleet in starting. A gun, the signal for the second class was given at 2:45, when they all made a fair start.

Although the wind was very light the boats made a very pretty appearance as they moved away from the moorings, and their movements were eagerly watched by the friends of the several boats who had assembled in large numbers to witness the regatta.

By the regulations of the regatta all boats not returning to the Judges' boat within three hours of starting, were disqualified from any chance in prizes. At six o'clock all the fleet having been distanced, the Judges decided it no race,—pulled up anchor and returned to shore.

Owing to the falling away of what little wind the squadron was favored with at starting, but two boats sailed the entire course, the Echo and Mystery; the former arriving at seventeen minutes and seventeen seconds past six o'clock, and the latter at 19 1-4 minutes past.

On their return to the village in the evening, our gallant yachtsmen consulted and decided to try again; and on the Monday following all the above mentioned yachts,—with the addition of the Flirt, Captain S. Crane, in the first class, and the Lottie, Captain N. G. Glover, in the second class,—again appeared off Great Hill. At 2:45, p. m., the signal was given from the Mayflower, for the boats of the first class to start. A good breeze was blowing, and they were off in excellent order. The second class boats came immediately into line, and were off at four minutes past three. The boats returned in the following order:

FIRST CLASS BOATS:
	II.	M.	S.
The Mystery	at	4	19
" Echo	"	4	20
" Vivid	"	4	25
" Flirt	"	4	26

SECOND CLASS BOATS:
	II.	M.	S.
The Fairy Queen	at	5	4
" Surf	"	5	6
" Adelaide	"	5	7
" Clara	"	5	9
" Marie	"	5	9
" Minnehaha	"	5	9
" Naiad	"	5	11
" Bluebird	"	5	13
" Lottie	"	5	25
" Sadie	"	5	35

The Bat grounded just before reaching the stake boat.

The prizes were awarded as follows: The first prize, (a marine glass) to the Mystery, Surf and Fairy Queen. The second prize, (a spyglass) to the Vivid, Marie and Naiad,—all three by allowance of time. The Adelaide was the second keel boat of the second class to return, but having accidentally fouled the Minnehaha, near Prince's Head, was by the regulations of the regatta disqualified from a prize.

It will be seen by our advertising columns that Mr. Glover wishes to purchase Indian relics.

Also, that Mr. George Morton has for sale a steam engine, oxen, derrick, &c.

NORFOLK AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The new grounds of this Society at Readville were complimentary opened to the members and their friends on Thursday afternoon last. The attendance was quite large,—between one and two hundred teams were present containing a large number of ladies. Miss Maria Hartshorn of South Dedham, attracted great attention from the grace and speed with which she rode a grey pony. The new track,—half a mile long—is in a good condition, and has cost the Society $4,500. The grounds embrace an area of twenty-eight and a half acres and has been surrounded by a high fence. The enclosure gives ample accommodations to all teams visiting the fair. Twenty-two of the old barracks have been refitted and furnished, and present a very neat though business-like appearance. Twenty have been arranged to suit the class which it is intended to place in them, and which will embrace a large variety of such as are usually found at such exhibitions. The two central buildings have been fitted for the use of Committees, Reporters, Reception Room, Police and Ticket Office, and for the President, Treasurer, etc., of the Society. On the right hand side of these, buildings have been devoted, one each, for ladies' fancy work, flowers, fruits, vegetables, dairy products, farm implements, and two for carriages. Those on the left are devoted to cattle, and are appropriately divided for the purpose. Eighty-four box stalls have been built for stock horses, twenty-eight for trotting-horses, and eighty for stable. Fifty-eight are to accommodate cattle; eighteen pens are allowed for sheep, and seven for hogs.

The fair next Thursday and Friday will in many respects surpass any ever given by the Society. Being only about seven miles from Quincy, it is a very pleasant ride, and we shall expect to see an unusually large number of our citizens present.

A Republican caucus will be held at the Lyceum Room this evening, to choose delegates to the State Convention.

THE PLEASURE SEASON. The beautiful Steamer Massasoit made her last regular trip from the Point, on Tuesday afternoon last. She has been quite successful this season; not only in her regular and transient passengers, but in carrying picnic and excursion parties. The prosperity this season warrants us, we believe, in saying that the citizens of Quincy Point and North Weymouth will never again be without good accommodations with the city, during the summer months.

One of the passengers the present week was an old lady from our village over four score years. She wish to enjoy a pleasant sail,—and none more beautiful and delightful can be found than sailing up Boston harbor. We will not give her name, but will simply say she is well known to the most of our readers, having carried on for upwards of forty years a very successful business, in this place.

Before closing we cannot refrain from saying a few words in compliment to the gentlemanly officers of the boat. We have not heard one word of complaint from any of the passengers during the season, but all have spoken highly of the kind and courteous manner with which they have been received.

THE IMPROVEMENTS AND REPAIRS of the Universalist Church, which were contemplated, are nearly completed. The house has been painted inside and out, gas pipes have been put in, and some other improvements made. It is now the intention of the Committee to re-open the Church a week from to-morrow for the regular religious services.

AUCTION. Henry H. Faxon, Esq., announces in our advertising columns, that he will sell at Public Auction, on Thursday next, the old Farm House, in the rear of the residence of Hon. Charles Francis Adams, on Adams street, and some furniture and other articles.

Amesbury is not a very large place, yet its inhabitants are this year asked to pay $25 on $1000. Easton $34 on $1000. Blessed are those who pay only $17.50.

THE MECHANICS' FAIR. The eleventh exhibition of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association commenced on Wednesday last at Quincy and Faneuil Halls, Boston, under the most favorable auspices. The fair will be continued three weeks and will probably be in many respects the finest exposition that has ever been given of the mechanic arts, in the Eastern States.

The second anniversary of the West Quincy Sunday School will be observed at their Hall to-morrow afternoon at 4 1-2 o'clock. There will be a variety of exercises, including an address by Eben Shute, Esq., of Boston.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

The coming independence of Cuba.—Spain jealous of the United States.—Great Britain in the wake.—Home Matters.—The Public Schools of Boston; its jewels.—Thoughts on Education.

BOSTON, SEPTEMBER 16, 1869.

Spain is indignant at the Cuba purchase project by the United States. The Spanish people condemn the Americans for intermeddling in the matter, and threaten loudly to resent their interference. General Prim, the present great man of ancient Hispania, as named by the Romans, or Iberia, by the Greeks, has been in conference with the Spanish Ambassadors to England and France, on the subject of communications received from Washington. France at the present moment is critically engaged in her own affairs; though her sympathies are evidently with Spain to hold on to Cuba. John Bull is a wily diplomatist; condemning all interference of the Americans in Cuban affairs,—but ready to make a good trade with Spain at the first opportunity, and take the Antilles to himself. The British Government is historic for treachery, and her love for the institutions of the United States is not worth having. The British press is grumbling at our position with the Cubans; comparing the government of the United States in friendliness for Cuban independence, with her own course towards the Confederate Government of Jefferson Davis; literally meaning, that any aid and comfort we extend for Cuban independence would sanction the course of Great Britain in the Alabama case, and therefore be a good ground for our waving all claims for indemnity. The American people do not see it in that light.

The city is quite lively, and what is better, very healthy for so large a population. There is a great influx of strangers here, and our hotels are crowded. Increased activity is noticeable in most of the trade circles. The money market is quite active at all the sources of supply. Bank discounts active and at an advance.

Sunday last was an interesting day in Boston and the streets were full of people attracted by the opening of the several churches at the close of the long vacation of summer. Our public schools are re-commenced. Unlike the age of Shakespeare, when boys went "unwillingly" to school, the children here take pleasure in their school attendance. The public institutions for schooling in this metropolis are its great pride and glory. Imagine that the pupils now number some 37,000, at a cost yearly of about $18,000 each,—that the sum per annum is a goodly $700,000 school appropriation, and we can form some idea of the common school system of Boston. We are free to confess there are defects in the public educational system of Massachusetts. Too many branches are taught, and the refinements in classic literature should be the last taught in the order of series. Spelling, punctuation and capitalizing might be greatly improved in the method of teaching.—"No person," says a celebrated teacher, "ever yet learned to spell by a spelling book. In fact, a spelling book, excepting for the mere power of letters, is a nuisance in society. Let a child copy well-selected printed books one quarter, and he will neither spell well nor point as well by his spelling-book in three years." Again he says, "In arithmetic the student should learn Addition, Subtraction, Division, Proportion and Square Root, in whole numbers only. Next should follow the same exercise in Decimals. * * * Applications of whole numbers should be made to all the various calculations of business men * * * The memory and fancy should be put in high requisition at this early age. But to jade down a young person's patience with a disgusting routine of what is senseless jargon to him, is robbing him of all prospect of successful scholarship."

THE ORTHODOX CHURCH was crowded last Sunday evening to hear the children at their Sunday School Concert. The singing and recitations by twenty-four girls were very fine. Interesting address by Rev. Mr. Fitts, of Cohasset.

JURORS. Messrs. William B. Duggan and Horace Eaton have been drawn to serve as jurors from this town, at the Civil Session, September Term of the Superior Court, Norfolk County.

EXCELLENT. Our readers will find very interesting communications in today's paper. Our Boston correspondence is decidedly good, and worth a dozen times the price of a copy. The Western letter is excellent,—full of information, told in a plain, off-hand way, making it valuable to both old and young.

A COMPLIMENT FOR BOSTON. The London Times says that "Harvard has educated Boston, just as Boston has educated the United States. The best culture of the nation is there."

Use "Barrett's," and be satisfied.

SOUTHERN CROPS. The Charleston News anticipates a crop of about 3,000,000 bales of cotton, which, valued at $108 per bale, (say 455 lbs. at 25 cents,) will give $324,000,000; also a corn crop of 285,000,000 bushels, valued at $230,000,000; and the sugar, wheat, tobacco and other crops will yield $150,000,000 more, giving in all a product of not less than $704,000,000.

THE "FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH," "Barrett's,"

SPECIAL PROVISIONS.

In reading the accounts of the effects of the recent tornado along the different points of its course, I have been struck with the unusual amount of damage done to churches, in some cases resulting in complete demolition,—as in South Boston, Malden, &c. Almost any careful observer will allow that churches have been effected by this storm to a greater degree than any other one class of buildings. Now, if I were a believer in special visitations of Providence, I think I should be almost inevitably forced to the conclusion that the extreme destruction in that line was intended as a punishment for hypocrisy, want of true Christian charity, or the elements of pure religion,—or for some other sin of omission or commission.

At least, I should have regarded it as a capital chance for Divine interposition to have vindicated itself before the world in saving a vast amount of church property. Setting aside the theory of special Providence, I can quite satisfactorily, to myself at least, explain the unusual amount of damage done on the ground of unusual exposure in height, &c., the natural effects of natural causes; believing as I do that man and the little world on which he lives, as well as the whole universe, are governed by fixed and immutable laws, the same now as eighteen hundred or five thousand years ago.

Perhaps some of the advocates of the opposite faith can advance through your columns some arguments to substantiate their theory and thereby convert some who now have to base their religious ideas on their reason and

COMMON SENSE.

A YEAR OF PLENTY. From all parts of the country the cheering intelligence continues to come announcing the abundance of the earth's productions. The wheat crop just harvested is all that could be desired, and the yield is pronounced to be far above the average. In the South the cotton promises to furnish more bales than has been produced since the commencement of the war. In the West, excepting a portion of Illinois, the corn stands firm, and gives assurance of an uncommon harvest. In our own section all kinds of grain have done exceedingly well, and potatoes, the farmers say, are too plenty to pay. We have plenty, now let us have peace.—New York Herald.

CARPETS. Messrs. J. Lovejoy & Co., on Summer St., Boston, next to Trinity Church, have on hand an assortment of the newest and most attractive styles of carpets, selected by their agents abroad. They are constantly receiving new patterns by the European steamers, and their rooms are well worthy of a visit from those wishing to select from a fresh and desirable stock.

OMAHA has received a consignment of two hundred and fifty horses from Plumas County, California. They are the product of twelve years systematic crossing between the Spanish and American breeds. They are small but unexcelled for symmetry and strength of build, and are very swift. They came part of the way over the Union Pacific road, the last three days' run being made without food or water. The horses are destined for eastern cities.

THE ADVERTISER says a book will soon be published in Boston, gravely defending polygamy on moral, religious, social, physiological and political grounds. It is the work of a clergyman, not a Mormon.

No question about "Barrett's."

ILLUSTRATED ANNUAL OF PHRENOLOGY AND PHYSIOGNOMY FOR 1870, now ready,—contains 50 Engravings of leading Editors—Bryant, Greeley, Bennett, Brooks, Marble, Dana, Raymond, with portraits. The Male and Female Form; Why Children resemble their Parents; Gen. Grant and his Cabinet, with portraits; Physiognomy in Politics, or "Faces and Places; Science of Conjugal Selection; Happy Marriages; Temperament in Wedlock; American Artists; The Sleep Walker; Brain Waves; Psychological; Sir Edward Landseer, Lorenzo Dow and Peggy his wife, Royal Ladies of the French Empire, with portraits; Guizot, the Statesman; How to choose a Helpmeet; What is man? and much more in this rich and Racy ANNUAL, which sells for 25 cents. S. R. WELLS, Publisher, New York.

A monument of Alexander von Humboldt was unveiled in Central Park, New York, on Tuesday.

The Humboldt centennial was very generally celebrated on Tuesday.

Brigham Young has fifteen thousand drilled militia.

A New York daily of Tuesday says that capitalists here intend combining to lock up thirty millions of gold.

"Barrett's" claims to be the best.

Missionaries and others sojourning in foreign lands should not fail to take with them a good supply of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is the most reliable medicine for all purposes there is in the world.

LIKE ANGELS' VISITS!

Like angels' visits, "Few and far between," Are those old structures, Here and there are seen: They take us back, To speak in simple rhyme,— To days long past, Upon the track of time! So that old structure, Twenty-five Dock Square, Where "Clothing's" sold At prices which are fair: The oldest BUILDING, now, in town,— Please call and see before 'tis taken down. Boston, Aug. 28.

Summary Intelligence.

The height above the pavement of three well known church spires in Boston is as follows:—Christ Church, 175 feet; Hollis street, 196 feet; Park street, 218 feet.

Of 70 women who went to Oregon from Massachusetts two years ago, 69 are married.

An extensive vein of bituminous coal was discovered about twenty-five miles from Buffalo, recently.

Fifty thousand persons visited Hoosac Tunnel during the last three months.

About 40,000,000 feet of sawed lumber have been shipped from Ottawa, C. W., to the States this season.

Mr. Robert Mills, of Reading, Pa., has on his premises a curiosity rarely met with, a duck having the feet of a chicken—the feet being without webs, and the head graced with combs. The other part of the fowl is like an ordinary duck.

There are at least five hundred buildings going up in Boston at the present time.

The value of boots and shoes manufactured in Massachusetts the present year, will probably amount to over $95,000,000.

George Peabody, the banker, is seventy-five years old, and has lived a life of "single blessedness."

Mobile is so healthy that a sexton advertises a 20 per cent. discount to his patrons.

It is stated in the Lynchburg Republican that there are now in southwest Virginia 50,000 head of cattle that will be sent for sale during the coming season to the Northern markets.

The night trains through Pella, Iowa, now go screeching the whole length of the town, to make the citizens sick of a law which requires whistling at crossings.

Seward's reception in Mexico is to be celebrated with fire-works, and five volcanoes are firing up.

A gentleman tendered a ten cent currency piece to the conductor of a horse car in Chicago. The latter pronounced it counterfeit and ejected the passenger, for which damage he now claims ten thousand dollars.

THE N. Y. POST gives some interesting facts about the culture of potatoes, in which it says that fifty dollars have been paid for a tuber not so large as one's fist, for planting, and retailed at five dollars an eye.

The following is the price of gas in the different cities of New Hampshire:—Portsmouth, $4.50 a thousand; Nashua, $4.50; Dover, $4.25; Manchester, $3.80; Concord, $3.60.

In one Georgia town the hogs have found out that when a steamer touches at the wharf some corn is usually scattered about. Accordingly the sound of a steamer's whistle drives the entire hog population to the river side.

Stewart's first importing venture was linen trimmings, bought at Belfast, Ireland, where he had gone to receive a share of a small inheritance. He sold it for as much per yard as he had paid per piece, and made the first fact in his history.

A woman was brought in a wheelbarrow, drunk, to the New Orleans police station the other night, her three little children following and her infant by her side; and the papers say "it is not a rare instance."

A St. Louis dog, confined in a whiskey store-room, gnawed the faucet of a cask and let twenty-five gallons run to waste. The saloon keeper brought a suit against the owner of the dog and recovered one hundred dollars damages.

The potato rot has made its appearance in several portions of the State.

Salmon have been so abundant in Fraser river, British Columbia, this season, as almost to impede navigation.

Potatoes are selling in Canada at 25 cents a bushel and all other vegetables are proportionately low.

A monument of Alexander von Humboldt was unveiled in Central Park, New York, on Tuesday.

The Humboldt centennial was very generally celebrated on Tuesday.

Brigham Young has fifteen thousand drilled militia.

A New York daily of Tuesday says that capitalists here intend combining to lock up thirty millions of gold.

"Barrett's" claims to be the best.

Missionaries and others sojourning in foreign lands should not fail to take with them a good supply of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is the most reliable medicine for all purposes there is in the world.

LIKE ANGELS' VISITS!

Like angels' visits, "Few and far between," Are those old structures, Here and there are seen: They take us back, To speak in simple rhyme,— To days long past, Upon the track of time! So that old structure, Twenty-five Dock Square, Where "Clothing's" sold At prices which are fair: The oldest BUILDING, now, in town,— Please call and see before 'tis taken down. Boston, Aug. 28.

RETURNED CALIFORNIAN.

Mr. Harvey Field Whitcher, a former compositor in the Patriot Office, and son of Mr. John Whitcher of this town, made a visit at our Sinneton Sanctum a day or two since. He is looking finely, and is enjoying excellent health we should judge by outward appearances. After an absence of twenty years, he says things does not appear natural, and it seems more like home in California. We should judge it might, as a score of years in a young man's life makes great changes,—although he is blessed with father, mother, brothers and sisters, and even the old homestead which appears much as it did in his boyhood.

Quincy Adams GRANITE COMPANY.

Building, Monumental, CEMETERY WORK, promptly executed.

WORKS, near Quincy Adams Station.

B. WATSON, J. NUTTING, M. P. FULLER, J. HANSON.

Quincy, Sept. 18.

SOUTH MARKET.

Fruit, Provision, &c., can be constantly found at their store

On Elm street, rear of Episcopal Church,

at very reasonable prices.

G. TOTMAN & SON.

Birds for Sale!

A PAIR of beautiful dark Green Canaries for sale cheap. The male is an excellent singer.

Apply at the PATRIOT OFFICE.

Quincy, Sept. 18.

Ladies Attention!

Hair Work! Hair Work!

HAVING made arrangements with the only

Wholesale House in the City I am prepared to furnish and manufacture all kinds of ladies hair work at the lowest cash prices.

The Latest Styles

Chignons, Switches, Wigs and Frizzets,

made to order.

OLD HAIR work repaired and made to look equal to new.

Please give us a call before purchasing elsewhere.

Thankful for past favors and by a prompt attention hope to merit a continuance of the same.

T. G. EMERSON,

Cornet Hancock and Temple Sts.

Quincy, Sept. 18.

Mortgagee's Sale.

BY virtue of a power of sale, contained in a mortgage deed, dated February 1st, 1869, executed by Theodore E. Eaton, Nicholas Huggin and Benjamin B. Babitt, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Liber 340, Folio 42, and for breach of the condition of said mortgage, will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, October eleventh, at 11 o'clock, A. M., on the premises, the certain parcel of Real Estate, with the buildings thereon, situated in the East Parish in Melway, Massachusetts, and bounded as follows, to wit:—

Beginning at the East line of Melway, at the corner of the road and land of Dr. A. Gale, thence running Southerly and bounded Easterly

by land of said Gale to a corner of the fence;

thence running Northerly and bounded Westerly

by land now or late of said Jenkins and William

Lacroix to said road; thence running Easterly and bounded Northerly by said road to the corner first mentioned; together with all benefit and equity of redemption of the said Estate,

Hoppin and Babitt; their heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns therein.

The Real Estate above described is pleasantly situated, within five minutes' walk of the Harvard and Erie R. R. station in East Melway, and consists of a large 2-story House, an excellent Stable, a two story building (formerly used as a store), and about four acres of land, here the premises lately occupied by the St. Clements

Yoke of Oxen
for Sale.
Two oxen, 12 horse power, English made with double yoke of Oxen.

G. W. MORTON,
Agent.
ING, & C., ATTN.
Auction, on THURSDAY, at 1 o'clock, P. M., the old estate of the late Messrs. Saxton and a few other articles.

JOHN J. EATON, Auctioneer.
ye for Seed.
of Extra Winter Rye, for and Wollaston Farms.

N. H. EATON,
Agent.

RELICS. of increasing his original relics, would like to obtain any such articles, Mortars and Pestles, Implements, &c., &c., that procession, may be willing will be paid for such or any of antiquity, curiosities, &c.
JOHN J. EATON, Auctioneer.

JOY & CO.
R STREET,
STON, FRESH INVOICES OF
ish Brussels,
Three-Plys, and Kidderminster PETS.

for Sale
Street, also near the South
P. McKNELL.

ANTED!
either a second hand saddle, ing to dispose of may ad-for a purchaser.

Homestead
for Sale!
for sale or lease and oc-DANIEL P. NYE, situated thoroughly built, and by one The rooms are convenand supply of water, cemented burn improvements.

homestead three or more at Garrison House, Harlow capital center under it. The and with a fine selection of
be made to me at my office,
Boston.

CARD.
COOK, fully announce to the citizens that his Photograph near the Post Office, NTH LANDING, where
of nice Pictures, all satisfaction manner. His taking pictures of small that he has no trouble in his or Ferrotypes are brought to his rooms, obliged to be at his rooms in with Rooms will be in charge and all persons coming will attention as if he was present.

Non paid to making large small ones in all sizes up to removal!

E. CURTIS
the ladies of Quincy, that moved to the building near her

ERY, DRESS
K MAKING
New System of Dress Making furnished to Agents.
Instructed Patterns from New Children.
Variety for Sale.
Weeks previous to getting in the offers Goods consisting of Flowers &c., &c.
than Cost.
Grave Clothes constantly on for Funeral FLOWERS, for their interest to call.

Pacific Collar,
ollar yet manufactured.
C. T. REED.

AIN KILLER
and External Use.

For the Patriot.
From the Atlantic to the Pacific.—No. 9.
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,
August 18th, 1869.

There are so many conflicting opinions among old residents, that a stranger is perplexed for a long time what to think of this champion city of the Pacific.—
When doctors differ we must exercise our own judgment. For the past week I have been a close observer, comparing notes and taking testimony,—and now having heard the complainant's and defendant's advocates, the court is ready to volunteer its opinion. Either party, not satisfied, can enter a Bill of Exceptions, the costs being paid out of the conscience fund. In the first place, all agree that the harbor is par excellence. Here the navies of the world, were they all Great Easterns, might rock in this great cradle of the deep. The streets are extensively laid out on paper, but one needs a diving bell, balloon, or boring machine to discover the reservoir. Enough streets are well paved to make a city of respectable size.
There being no frost here, the Nicholson pavement is found to be the best. In spite of the many sprinklers, the dust and sand blows about quite freely during the summer months. Most of the private residences are built of rustic boards, painted the color of the sand, with high steps and bay windows in front. The business streets are built up with fine brick, stone or iron buildings. Some earthquake proof buildings are being put up, with brick outside and wooden frame work inside. Among the many buildings that excel as works of art, are the Merchants Exchange, Bank of California, Mercantile Library, Young Men's Christian Association and numerous hotels and churches. A Quincy lad or Bostonian will find more to interest him in this city, than in any other of the Union. Everything is so unlike the Hub or the sub-Hub, that he will sometimes fancy himself an inhabitant of the moon or some lunatic region. The Chinese will first engage his attention, with their temples, theatres, stores, markets, barber-shops, and laun-dries. Every few steps in this, and in fact in all the cities of the Pacific slope, he will see some dilapidated building or ceiling, dedicated to washing and ironing, by "Sing Chang," or "Ling Tar," or "Tu See,"
"Ring Chang," or some other Chinaman.
Some of them use a two quart iron kettle, filled with burning charcoal, to iron the clothes, after sprinkling them from the mouth or nose. A pan of water is by their side, from which they draw a large mouthful, and then blow it out upon the clothes in a misty or a mysterious form, from the nose or mouth, according to fancy. They handle their chop-sticks with more grace and ease than most Americans handle their knives and forks. The laboring men, as a class, show a bitter hatred towards the Chinese, who come here they say, "to steal their work; living on nothing, laboring for nothing, and carrying back what they make to their own country. It is generally conceded that they excel in good behavior, second to none as a race. No one has any fear of being alone among the lowest classes at any time or place. They are quite cleanly in person, but not in their dwelling places.
They are gradually modifying their dress, yet will not like the Japanese dress, but will coil it up under their felt hats with sacred reverence. This is the only thing I have seen them reverence. Their god Jesh is considered the chief devil, and they call on him at the temple once a year to get on good terms with him, but laugh and talk about him without the least respect. Their idea of beauty is small feet—all other persons are decidedly ugly.— Strange that their enemies here should imitate them so closely.

Alas, that among our own countrymen and women we should lose caste by having good understandings in the lower story.
Large feet in San Francisco, advertise or reveals recent barfoot excursions, or ragged wanderings, and brands the possessor,
"shoddy." The men appear to be active, shrewd, business men, yet I did not hear of one but had lost in mining stock. Large fortunes have been made in real estate speculations. They make less show with their money, than people East, and spend it more freely. The men dress in plain substantial woollen goods, but the women are evidently trying to surpass the world in gaudy apparel. A jeweller's show-case on runners, or a pawn-broker's shop on all four wheels, moving down Montgomery street, could hardly create a sensation, such appearances are so frequent. Most of the ladies being pretty, they have the extreme pleasure of being treated as dolls, pets, or fairies, not as mere puritanic human beings, endowed with a mind and soul. There are some noble women here, but their influence seems to be small.
The men are free-hearted, always ready to help the needy, but they think it honorable to use sharp practice, as they call it, in business. They come here to make money, and to make it honestly if they can,—but make it they must. Business is always slack this time of the year, but money is extremely scarce this season.

A panic is likely to occur very soon.
Hundreds of workmen are complaining for want of work, or money to take them back to the States. Yet back in the country, forty or fifty miles, farm hands cannot be had at thirty or forty dollars a month in gold with board. It is a novel sight to see the teams drive up to the Bank of California, and the quantities of gold and silver that is carted away. One stout porter had more than he could carry in twenty dollar gold pieces, amounting to thirty thousand dollars. An assistant relieved him of a third of it, and they passed through the crowd up California street.
Greenbacks and nickels are refused by all the traders. The banks give seventy-three cents coin for a dollar in currency.
Ten cents is the smallest piece in circulation. Every thing is at least ten cents or a bit, as it is called here, meaning twelve and a half cents. If you buy a bit's worth and give a quarter of a dollar you receive a dime as change. Yet they will not take two dimes for two bits' worth.
Pennies and five cent nickels are refused.
Dry goods are about the same here in gold as they are in the East in paper money. Groceries are cheaper. Fruit cheaper than either,—and a better in quality, quantity and variety, than in any of the States. It is a great sight to go through the markets and see the quantities of all kinds of fruit. Ripe figs, oranges, and the second crop of strawberries are now in abundance. All kinds of grapes, peaches and plums, are selling for five and six cents a pound. As fast as one crop of vegetables come out of the ground, another takes its place, so that most kinds are in the market the year round. Where it does not rain for eight months, and the dews are light, windmills are used for pumping the water, to run in little streams through the gardens.
The wealth of California is not in her gold hills, but in her vast wheat fields, vineyards and gardens. People have found this out, and property has doubled in nearly every part of the State within two or three years. It can be bought now, for from ten to one thousand dollars an acre according to locality.

I must trouble you with another letter;
I cannot finish San Francisco without making mention of other items.

TRAVELLER.

Deaths.
In this town, on the 10th inst., Mrs.
Margaret, wife of Mr. John Dunn, aged 43 years.

On the 10th inst., Mary, daughter of Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Mary Horan, aged 13 months.

On the 12th inst., George Adams, son of Mr. John Q. A., and Mrs. Sylvia C.
Field, aged 11 months.

On the 13th inst., Charlotte P., daughter of Mr. Charles and Mrs. Marietta
Richards, aged 3 years.

On the 15th inst., Willie S., son of Mr.
Edward and the late Mrs. Elizabeth N.
Richardson, aged 5 months and 13 days.

In Nashua, N. H., on the 10th ult., of heart disease, Thomas Nottage, formerly of this town, aged 63 years.

In Dorchester, on the 14th inst., Mrs.
Lydia M. Elroy, aged 84 years.

In Braintree, on the 15th inst., Everett F., son of Josephus Sampson, aged 5 months.

Special Notices.
NOTICE. Republicans of Quincy are hereby notified that a meeting for the choice of delegates to the State Convention, at Worcester, Sept. 22d, will be held at the Lyceum Room, on SATUR-DAY EVENING, Sept. 18th, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

Per order of the Town Committee.
NOAH A. GLOVER, Chairman.
GEO. L. GILL, Sec.
Quincy, Sept. 18. 1w

A CARD.
Those kind friends who so generously presented the beautiful pennant for the Yacht Mystery, on Tuesday evening last, have the hearty thanks and kind wishes of the receiver.

MYSTERY.
Quincy, Sept. 18. 1w

NOTICE. The Undersigned will close their places of business at eight o'clock P. M., on and after MONDAY, September 20th, 1869—Saturday evenings
excepted.

Whitney & Nash, John O. Holden,
Chas. N. Ditson, G. L. Baxter & Co.
Allen & Wilson, Wm. A. Hodges,
Mrs. Richardson, Joseph Arey, Jr.
Richard Hails, N. B. Fernald, Elbridge Clapp, D. B. Stetson,
J. N. Blake, C. A. Spear,
H. Walter Gray, George Cahill,
C. T. Reed, C. F. Pierce, & Co.
J. A. Holden, W. Abercrombie,
M. O. Copeland, Ensign S. Fellows.
Quincy, Sept. 1. 3w

NOTICE. Bills against the Fire Department will not be approved by the Engineers, or paid by the Selectmen, unless ordered by the Engineers.
WASHINGTON M. FRENCH,
Chief Engineer.
Quincy, June 8. 1f

Twenty-five Years' Practice
In the Treatment of Diseases Incident to Females, has placed DR. DOW at the head of all physicians making such practice a specialty, and enables him to guarantee a speedy and permanent cure in the worst cases of Vag-initis and all other Menstrual Derangements, from whatever cause. All letters for advice must contain $1.
Office No. 9 BOSTON STREET, BOSTON.

N. B.—Board furnished to those desiring to remain under treatment.
Boston, July 10 1867. sp-ly

Norfolk Agricultural Society.
Cattle Show & Fair.

THE TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL EXHIBITION
—OF—Horses, Live Stock, Vegetables, Fruits, Flowers, &c., &c.,
WILL TAKE PLACE AT READVILLE,
—ON—
THURSDAY & FRIDAY,
The 23rd and 24th of September, 1869.

EXERCISES ON THURSDAY.
THURSDAY MORNING will be devoted to the Pleading and Drawing Matches, and to the reception and examination of articles for premium, which must be on the grounds as early as 12 o'clock, M. Bread and Butter excepted, (which latter articles must be presented by 9 o'clock Friday morning) will be received by the Society, and be prepared to enter upon their respective duties.

Pleading Match, at 10 1-2 o'clock, A. M.
Drawing Match, at 11 1-2, A. M.

TROTTER MATCH, at 3 o'clock, P. M.
Purse of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars.
Divided as follows:—1st, $75; 2d, $50; 3d, $25.
Horses to be owned in the County, who have never trotted better than 2:45.

Purse of Fifty Dollars.
Divided as follows:—1st, $25; 2d, $15; 3d, $10.
Open to gentlemen's driving horses that have never trotted for money, and never known to have trotted better than 3 minutes—owners to drive.

EXERCISES ON FRIDAY.
FRIDAY will be the Grand Exhibition Day, the exercises of which will be in the following order:
Grand Cavalcade and Trial of Horses, at 10 o'clock, A. M.
Dinner, at 12 o'clock, M., after which the Annual Address will be given, and Addresses made by distinguished guests of the Society, a more specific announcement of which will be made hereafter.

A Grand Exhibition of TROTTER HORSES.
Under the direction of a competent committee will commence at 3 o'clock, P. M., when matches for the following premiums will take place:—
TROTTER HORSES IN harness.

Purse of One Hundred Dollars.
Divided as follows:—1st, $50; 2d, $30; 3d, $20.
Horses to be owned in the County, who have never trotted for money—owners to drive.

Purse of Three Hundred Dollars.
Divided as follows:—1st, $175; 2d, $75; 3d, $50.
Open to all horses; subject to the Society's rules.

RUNNING HORSES.
Purse of Thirty Dollars.
Divided as follows:—1st, $20; 2d, $10. Open to all horses.

Entrance Fee 10 per cent. of the Prize entered for, to be paid to the Superintendent of Horses on entering. All entries and trotting to be subject to the rules of the Society.

Mile heats, best three in five.
JOHN S. ELDRIDGE, President.
HENRY O. HILDETH, Secretary.
Sept. 11. 2w

To Milliners and Country Storekeepers
FAIL TRADE.
Wholesale Department
UP STAIRS.

Desirable goods received daily from auction and private sale.
Our stock of Fabrics, Flowers, Satins, Silks, Velvets, Ribbons, Laces, Trimmings, Fringes, Yankee Notions, Fancy Goods, etc., etc., is large and cheap.

We cut lengths at price prices.
Buy and sell for cash.

Ewd. Ridley & Son,
309, 311, & 311 1-2 Grand, and
66, & 70 Allen Streets,
Corner street, fifth block east from the Bowery,
NEW YORK CITY. 8m 2p

Ten Per Cent. Coupon Bonds
—OF THE—
CITY OF LANSING,
The Capital of Michigan.
For sale by A. WILKINS, Detroit, Michigan.
Sept. 11. 4w

SOUTHMAYD'S
CHEWING CANDY.
$2.00 per Hundred.
Every particle of my manufacture is warranted free from every ingredient deleterious to health.
Corner of Tremont and Bronfield Sts.
Sept. 11. BOSTON. 12t

PENSIONS Collected at Small Expense by
W. ABERCROMBIE.
Quincy, Aug. 28. 1f

REDUCTION.
I AM DETERMINED
To Reduce My Stock
Of Goods and shall make prices
that will ensure it.
Please call and see.
Quincy, Aug. 28. W. ABERCROMBIE. 1f

NEW STRAW.
JUST Received a prime lot of New Straw for filling beds, &c.
Quincy, Aug. 14. JOS. AREY, JR. 1f

WARRANTED
BOOTS & SHOES,
For sale at low prices,
By E. CLAPP.
Quincy, May 3.

Quite Nobby,
The perfumed Scarf may be had of
C. T. REED.

J. A. McLellan's
LADIES' & GENTS'
Variety Store,
Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.,
QUINCY.

IS THE PLACE TO GET
BARGAINS!
Patent Medicines lower than the lowest!

Boots and Shoes
Of the First Quality marked down the present week.

RIBBONS we sell Cheaper than the Cheapest!
SHAWLS, a new assortment of Splendid Styles, WORTHLESS in great variety.

Hosiery, Gloves, Hdkfs., Cottons, White
Goods, Stamped Aprons, Ladies'
Children's Gents' and Boys' Hats, Artificial Flowers, Hoop Skirts, &c.

We have marked down our goods below
the lowest. We mean sell!

REMEMBER THE PLACE,
J. A. McLELLAN'S,
Corner Hancock and Temple Sts.,
Quincy, Sept. 4. 1f

THE BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE AND NORMAL WRITING INSTITUTE, 303 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON MASS., offers a liberal and practical education in preparation for active business careers, and has acquired by its long standing and extensive connections, a high reputation for its graduates positions of honor and trust. It cannot be equaled by any local institution. Pupils can register their names for Fall and Winter terms after Sept. 1st, and will be received at any time if there are vacancies. The fall term of the "English Training School" of the above institution will commence Sept. 6.

For further information address,
H. E. HIBBARD, BOSTON, MASS.
J. 31-12 w

FALL RIVER LINE.
New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore,
Washington, and all principal ports
West, South and South West. via Taunton and Fall River.
Cabin, $5 00, Deck, $4 00.

Baggage checked through and transferred in New York free of charge.

New York trains leave the Old Colony and Newport Railway Depot, corner of South and Kneeland streets, daily, as follows: at 4 30 P. M., arriving in Fall River, going West and South, of the regular steamboat Train, which leaves Boston at 5 30 P. M., connecting at Fall River with the New York and Fall River line, going West and South, and convenient to the California Steamer.

"To Shippers of Freight" This Line, with its new and extensive depot, accommodates shippers in Boston, and large Piers in New York, with New York Express Freight Cars, and is the only line which cannot be surpassed. Freight always taken at low rates, and forwarded with dispatch.

New York Express Freight Cars, and is the only line which cannot be surpassed. Freight always taken at low rates, and forwarded with dispatch.

Steamers leave New York from Pier 30 North River, four of Chamber street, daily (Sundays excepted) at 5 P. M.
Dudworth's Band give Concerts on the boat every night.

For Tickets, berths and state-rooms, apply at the Company's Office.

In Boston, at No. 5 Old State House, cor. of Washington and State streets.
In Quincy, at Old Colony and Newport Railroad Depot, cor. South and Kneeland Sts.

GEO. SHIVERT, Passenger and Freight Agent at M. SIMONS, Managing Director N. S. & W.
JAMES FISKE, JR., Pres't. A-7

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.
THE REMEDY FOR CURING Consumption, Coughs, Bronchitis, Asthma,
And Croup.

AS AN EXPECTORANT
IT HAS NO EQUAL.
It is composed of the active principles of roots and plants, which are chemically extracted, so as to retain in their medicinal qualities.

Ministers and Public Speakers
Who are so often afflicted with throat diseases, will find a sure remedy in this Balsam. Anxious and weary voices are relieved, but this Balsam taken a few times, will insure a permanent cure.
Will all those afflicted with Coughs or Consumption, give this Balsam a fair trial. They will be pleased with the result, and confess that the SURE REMEDY IS FOUND AT LAST.

IT IS SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
84-4w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
TO the Next of Kin, and all persons interested in the estate of ELLA POSTER DWELLE,
of Quincy, in said County, minor.

GABRIEL: I
WHEREAS, Lucy M. Dwell, Guardian of said minor has presented her petition for license to sell certain real estate therein specified, of her said ward for investment.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dorchester, in said County, on the Twenty-second day of September inst., at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once a week, in the Quincy Patriot newspaper printed at Quincy three weeks successively, the first publication to be two days at least before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE WHITE, Esquire, Judge of said Court,
this First day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine.
Sept. 4-3w J. H. COBB, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
TO the Next of Kin, and all persons interested in the estate of FRANCIS E. HAYWARD and LEM UEL A. HAYWARD, both of Braintree, in said County, minors.

GABRIEL: I
WHEREAS, J. E. Hayward the Guardian of said minors has presented his petition for license to sell certain real estate therein specified, of his said wards for investment.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dorchester, in said County, on the Twenty-second day of September inst., at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same
should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once a week, in the Quincy Patriot
newspaper printed at Quincy three weeks successively,
the first publication to be two days at least before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE WHITE, Esquire, Judge of said Court,
this First day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine.
Sept. 4-3w J. H. COBB, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
TO the Next of Kin, and all persons interested in
the estate of FRANCIS E. HAYWARD and LEM UEL A. HAYWARD, both of Braintree, in said County, minors.

GABRIEL: I
WHEREAS, J. E. Hayward the Guardian of said
minors has presented his petition for license to sell certain real estate therein specified, of his said wards for investment.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dorchester, in said County, on the Twenty-second day of September inst., at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same
should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once a week, in the Quincy Patriot
newspaper printed at Quincy three weeks successively,
the first publication to be two days at least before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE WHITE, Esquire, Judge of said Court,
this First day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine.
Sept. 4-3w J. H. COBB, Register.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

Now is the Time
To Save Money!

OUR ENTIRE STOCK
—OF—
Spring and Summer
CLOTHING
TO BE CLOSED OUT AT FROM 25 to 33 per cent less than cost
of Manufacture.

We have the largest and most attractive stock of
Men's, Boys' and Yonths'
CLOTHING
IN NEW ENGLAND.

Which we are determined to close out at once
REGARDLESS OF COST!

GEO. H. RICHARDS,
24 and 25 Dock Square.

Price tells and everybody tells
the Price.

Remember!
OUR PRICES ARE BOTTOM PRICES.

GEO. H. Richards,
The Olden Wooden Building,
24 and 25 Dock Square.

CHEVIOT WALKING SUITS
At Richards',
24 & 25 Dock Square.

TRICOT DRESS SUITS
At Richards',
24 & 25 Dock Square.

MIX'D CASSIMERE BUSINESS SUITS
At Richards',
24 & 25 Dock Square.

LINEN DUCK SUITS
At Richards',
24 & 25 Dock Square.

WHITE MARSEILLES & DUCK VESTS
At Richards',
24 & 25 Dock Square.

SEER SUCKER SACKS
At Richards',
24 & 25 Dock Square.

FINE BLACK ALPACA SACKS
At Richards',
24 & 25 Dock Square.

Agents Wanted for CHAMBERLIN'S
LAW BOOK

For the People!
CONTAINING
Full Instructions and Practical Forms, adapted to Every Kind of Business, and to all the States of the Union.
BY FRANKLIN CHAMBERLIN,
of the United States Bar.

"There is no book of the kind which will take rank with it for authenticity, intelligence, and completeness."—Springfield Republican.
This is the ONLY NEW BOOK of the kind published for many years. It is prepared by an able PRACTICAL LAWYER, of twenty-five years experience, and is just what everybody needs for daily use.

It is highly recommended by many eminent Judges, including the Chief Justice and other Judges of Massachusetts, and the Chief Justice and entire Bench of Connecticut.
Sold only by Subscription. AGENTS WANTED
EVERYWHERE. Send for Circulars.
O. D. CASE & CO., Publishers, Hartford, Conn.; No. 1 Spruce St., New York; Cincinnati, O.; and Chicago, Ill.

CAUTION.
An old law-book, published many years ago, has just been hastily re-issued as "a new book," without even a suitable revision of its obsolete statements. Do not confound that work with CHAMBERLIN'S LAW-BOOK FOR THE PEOPLE.
J 31-6m

CHEAP, CHEAP,
A LOT of House paper at 6 to 10 cents per roll, by
JOSEPH AREY, JR.,
24 Washington Street.
Quincy, July 24. 1f

Mrs. N. Bailey's
CASCARILLA
COMPOUND.
SAFE. SURE.

ACKNOWLEDGED to be the greatest Medicine of the Age, for the cure of Catarrhs, Constipation, Colic, Hemorrhage of the Poetry.

"JUDGE NOT."

Judge not the working of his brain
And of his heart, thou canst not see;
What looks to thy dim eyes a strain,
In God's pure light may only be
A star, brought from some well won field,
Where thou wouldst only faint and yield.

The look, the air, that frets thy sight,
May be a token that below
The soul has closed in deadly fight
With some internal fiery foe,
Whose glance would scorch thy smiling grace
And cast thee shuddering on thy face!

The fall thou dar'st to despise—
May be, the slackened angel's hand
Has suffered it, that he may rise
And take a firmer, surer stand;
Or, trusting less to earthly things,
May henceforth learn to use his wings.

And judge none lost, but wait and see,
With hopeful pity, not disdain;
The depths of the abyss may be
The measure of the height to gain,
And love and glory yet may raise,
The soul to God in after days!

Farmers' Department.

BEST FEED FOR MILCH COWS.

Plain bran or ship stuff, says the Stock Journal, is one of the very best kinds of food to increase the milk. It is not fattening. A steer could not be fattened on bran alone, and a cow, if fed on the best of hay and bran alone, might fall off in her yield, unless her strength and condition were kept up by Indian meal or stronger food. If there were anything in which there would seem to be no strength, it is bran, the mere hull of wheat. It is not stimulating, like brewers' grains, and can certainly do no harm, if it does no good; and yet any farmer who will make the experiment, will find—or, at least, we have found—that a cow being otherwise kept in a proper condition her yield of milk will be very considerably increased by giving her twice a day a feed of pure bran. The fact is patent, although we are not able to explain it. If there is any one article, which, while keeping up the health and strength of the cow, will also increase the supply of rich, healthy milk, in our experience it is cotton seed cake meal. We have found this to have a great effect on the milk secreting organs. The cows at first do not seem to relish it, and it should be mixed with some other seed, but they soon come to like it, and we have never seen any bad effects in any way.

MATURING CABBAGE IN WINTER.

C. H. Sweet informs us that two years ago he had in the fall some cabbages which failed to mature, when it occurred to him that they might be made to grow during the winter with very little trouble. Acting on this conviction he dug a trench in the garden, and set the immature plants in it a couple of inches deeper than they grew before. On each side of the row a board was placed on edge, and on top of these two other boards, coming together at the top and forming a roof. These are fastened in position, leaving the plants ample room to expand. The ends of the cabbage rows should be closed with the exception of small vent holes for the circulation of air. Over this board cover, place about one foot of earth, and leave the cabbages to expand at will. In the spring they will come out crisp and much matured, furnishing a desirable relish for the table at a season when most things of a vegetable nature have become stale and insipid.

Incidents.

A tricky individual was refused a drink until he paid for it in advance. A bystander who owed the barkeeper one in the way of practical jokes, bid him give the man his liquor, and said, "if he refuses to pay for it, I will."

The fellow got his drink, but refused to pay for it, and so did his endorser, as he promised that he would.

"Mary," said a teacher, "why didn't you come to school yesterday?"
"If you please, ma'am, my aunt died, and I went to the funeral."

"Well, hereafter, when your relatives die, tell them to have the funerals Saturday afternoon or Sundays, for we can't have our schools disorganized by such things."

An ignorant fellow, who was about to be married, resolved to make himself perfect in the response of the marriage service, but by mistake he committed the office of baptism for those of riper years; so when the clergyman asked him in the church, "Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" the bridegroom answered in a solemn tone:

"I renounce them all!"

The astonished minister said, "I think you are a fool!" to which he replied:

"All this I steadfastly believe."

An observing individual in a very healthy village, seeing the sexton at work in a hole in the ground, inquired what he was about.

"Digging a grave, sir."

"Digging a grave, sir? Why I thought people didn't die often here, do they?"

"Oh no, sir; they never die but once."

LOVEJOY'S
CLOTHING HOUSE

DOCK SQUARE,

(Corner of North Street.)

THE CHEAPEST PLACE

TO BUY

GOOD CLOTHING.

J. 19.

8m

RICHARD HALLS,
Merchant Tailor!

HAWKINS AND GRANITE STS.,

WOULD inform the citizens of Quincy, and vicinity, that he has a large and

CHOICE ASSORTMENT

of goods adapted to the season which he will make to measure in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,

and warranted satisfactory.

Goods sold by the yard, and GARMENTS cut

All Goods warranted.

Quincy, June 19.

tf

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

Merchant Tailor & Dealer

IN

CLOTHES, CASSIMERES, BOESKINS

AND VESTINGS,

School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

HAS on hand and is constantly receiving

from the best sources, New and Desirable

Goods adapted to his trade. All who wish

a good assortment of Goods, for a fair price, are respectfully invited to call.

N. B. It would be well to remember, that

Cheapness and Dearthness are relative attributes;

they have a relation to the QUALITY of the article

we buy, and that, which does not answer well

the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR

at any price.

Quincy, March 30

tf

A NEW STOCK

GROCERIES.

THE Subscriber having leased the store

recently occupied by Mr. Lombard,

next door to the Orthodox Church,

and added a large stock of FRESH GROCER-

IES, would invite his friends and the public to

call at his

NEW STORE,

and examine his large stock of West India Goods

which have been selected with care, and are warranted to give the best of satisfaction.

A good assortment of Fruit, Meats, Provisions, etc., of the best quality, constantly on hand.

JAMES N. BLAKE.

Quincy, June 5, 1869.

tf

The Best and Cheapest Place to buy

CLOTHES WRINGERS

OR WASHING MACHINES.

Or to get your WRINGERS REPAIRED, is at

H. S. THAYER'S,

42 Elm Street, - - BOSTON.

Entrance from the Yard of Wilde's Hotel.

July 10

1y

QUINCY

MARBLE WORKS.

THE Proprietor would respectfully announce

that he has enlarged his premises, by the addition of a Warehouse, where

EVERY VARIETY

—OF—

Monumental Work,

from the simplest grave stone, to the

Most Elegant and Costly Tablet,

may be seen finished and ready for lettering.

All persons needing such, are invited to call

and judge for themselves,—they are sure to find

in so large a Collection what will suit their taste

and requirements.

The character of the place for good work and

honest dealings is so well known that it is not necessary to refer to it.

All prices from ten dollars upwards.

SHOP and YARD near South Quincy Depot.

P. McGRATH.

tf

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,

At 8 Oak Place, Boston,

From 11 A. M. to 1 P. M., 7-10-11.

GIVES special attention to Epilepsy; to all Nervous

Affections, in Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and

Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical Colleges, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.

His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office

and will be sent by mail for the following prices:—

"Epilepsy," 50 cents.

"Inhalation," 25 cents.

"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.

"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.

"Cerebral Health," 40 cents.

"The Brain," 60 cents.

Many of the best Educators have recommended this named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams

College says, "The Brain" is adapted to do great good, especially on a subject so much neglected." Wm. H.

Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Girard College,

says, "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."

Rev. Dr. Edly says, "It should be read by all our young men."

Ang. 17

Genuine Lykens Valley
Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the

above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice

at the lowest cash price.

OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

BOSTON, JULY 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now

on hand, the Pure Genuine Franklin Coal, the

undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being

the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit

Branch R. E. and Short Mountain Coal Co.

Quincy, July 6.

tf

LUMBER,

COAL,

WOOD,

BRICK, &c.

THE Subscriber has just received at his

Wharf, several Cargoes of Lumber of all

descriptions, consisting of:—

Spruce Timber and Joist,

Spruce and Pine Floor Boards,

Hemlock and Pine Covering Boards,

Sheathing and Finishing Boards,

Shingles, Laths, Clapboards, Pickets, &c.

Also, constantly on hand the Celebrated Barn-

side red and white ash Coal, George's Creek Cumberland Coal, and Eastern Wood, &c.

Also, a lot of Hard Brick,

Of a Superior Quality, which will be sold Cheap,

for Cash.

ORDERERS, left with Geo. L. Baxter & Co., Geo.

H. Locke, Washington M. French, Joseph W.

Lombard, or at Post Office Box, 133, will receive

prompt attention.

E. ADAMS & SON.

Quincy, Aug. 22.

tf

M. HARTNEY'S

Quincy and Boston Express.

New Arrangement.

Leave Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Leave Boston at 2 1-2 o'clock, P. M.

ORDERERS in Quincy may be left at the following places, at the Store of C. T. Reed & Co.,

and Daniel Baxter & Co.

Office in Boston, 43 North Market Street

Order Box, 39 and 40 South Market Street.

Business attended to with care and responsibility.

Quincy, May 25.

tf

WILLIAM CARRITY'S

(Formerly Fernald and Shea's)

Quincy & Boston Express

THE Subscriber having purchased the good will of the Route recently managed by Messrs. Spear &

Barnes, is prepared to convey Freight and Passengers between Quincy and Boston, and to give strict attention to business to merit a share of public patronage.

N. B. Express Moved and Parties

accommodated at short notice.

Leaves Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 2 1-2

P. M.

Quincy.—Orders may be left at Whitney & Nash's, John

A. Wood's, W. Abernethy's, and at the Stable.

Boston.—3 Washington street, 43 South Market St.;

2 Faneuil Hall Square.

Quincy, Sept. 7.

tf

Quincy & Boston Express.

JOHN RING,

WILL faithfully attend to the delivery of

any packages entrusted to his care.

Leave Quincy at 8 1-2; Boston at 2.

Orders left at his residence on Summer

Street, or at E. Clapp's Store, in Quincy; or at

Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, will receive prompt

and careful attention.

Quincy, May 18.

tf

For New and Beautiful Styles

—OF—

PAPER HANGINGS!

Call at

E. CLAPP'S, 66 Hancock St.

Quincy, May 1.

tf

SPRING TRADE.

THE Subscriber, having employed a good

upholsterer is now ready to accommodate the public, in remodeling old furniture of any description. Housekeepers should send in their work

previous to the hurried season, if they would have

it attended to, at an early hour and oblige.

N. B. New and desirable paper hangings, will

be found Cheap for Cash.

Quincy, Mar. 20.

tf

LINIMENT.

FOR the cure of acute or chronic Rheumatism,

Chilblains, Neuralgia, weakness of the joints,

Swellings, Cramps, &c. &c.

Merchants' Goods have been used for the above diseases, with success for more than twenty years. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square.

Quincy, Feb. 20th.

tf

C. N. DITSON

WOULD announce to his friends and former patrons, that he will continue to keep constantly on hand, at the Old Stand,

A LARGE AND CHOICE VARIETY

—OF—

Family Groceries,

Glass and Crockery

WARE.

STONE AND WOODEN WARE,

which he offers to the citizens of Quincy, at

The Lowest Cash Prices!

CHAS. N. DITSON.

Two Doors North of the Post Office,

Quincy, Nov. 4

JOSEPH ALLEY.

Ellis' Iron Bitters.

HAVING used your Iron Bitters in my practice, I can testify to its superior tonic property for invigorating the appetite and promoting digestion. I can unhesitatingly recommend it in cases of general debility and dyspepsia, and

in conditions of the system requiring the use of a ferruginous tonic. Its agreeable flavor must recommend it to all.

Yours, Respectfully

CHAS. S. GAUNT, M. D.,

Professor in the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

For sale by Druggists generally. M 15 tf

Plaster and Salve.

GREEN Mountain Balm of Gilead and Cedar

Leaf Plaster.

Miss Sawyer's Salve, and Tracy's Salve.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, May 15.

tf

CUSTOM
CLOTHING,
HATS AND CAPS

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.

The Subscriber having opened the Store

No. 86 Hancock St.,

for the sale of the above named articles would

invite the public to give him a call believing that he can show them as good an assortment and as low prices as can be found in town.

C. A. SPEAR.

Having made arrangements with Mr. Spear, I can be found at his store, where I shall be pleased to see all my old friends and customers,

and will endeavor to use them as well or better than heretofore.

J. W. LOMBARD.

Quincy, June 5, 1869.

The Quincy Patriot,

(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

GEO. W. PRESOTT, Printer.

Also—Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Dr. W. Martyn Ogden,

Hancock opp. Granite St.,

QUINCY.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.

Homoeopathic Physician,

Opposite E. Clapp's Store,

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

Aug. 25.

MRS. S. H. MATTHEWS,

[Who is stopping at Dr. H. H. H. H.]

Will Examine and Prescribe

FOR THE SICK.

Also will give Psychological Readings of the

Past and Future Destiny

☞ Please call and try. ☞

March 6.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

OFFICES:

At his dwelling house, QUINCY.

No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.

Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M., and in Quincy.

Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,

Office, Weymouth Landing.

Weymouth, Mass. July 12.

Choice Fruit, Flowers and Plants

CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

Wedding & Funeral Flowers

Furnished at Short Notice.

ISAIAH WHITE,

Feb. 20 ly. 100 Tremont St., Boston.

JOHN HARDWICK,

Real Estate and Insurance Agent,

Granite Street, Quincy.

May 4.

B. F. MESERVEY,

WATCHMAKER,

2 CITY HALL AVENUE,

BOSTON.

☞ Watches and Jewelry repaired.

April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

FLOUR!

47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.

Quincy, June 18.

FURNITURE

— AND —

UPHOLSTERY GOODS!

Our stock is large, and in point of style and

workmanship

CANNOT BE SURPASSED

BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON

Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our

Warerooms, and judge for themselves.

BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,

511 Washington St., Boston.

July 13.

NEW

Wheelwright Shop.

THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,

NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS

Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow,"

is now prepared to execute all orders in the

Wheelwright line.

Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds

of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch.

Blocks made to order.

The Subscriber hopes by his long experience

and strict attention to the interest of his custom-

ers, to merit a portion of your patronage.

Quincy, May 9.

Ah! My Teeth.

Dr. C. S. FRENCH

has invented a new and improved

process of preparing and inhaling his purely Nitrous Oxide Gas. Such as prevents tooth decay, and is the most satisfactory manner.

Quincy, April 18.

Rhode Island Coal.

R. L. LEE,

WOULD respectfully inform the people of

Quincy and vicinity, that he is now pre-

pared to furnish them with the Rhode Island

Coal, cheap for cash.

Also, with Hard and Soft Wood Sawn short

for the Store, and Granular Fuel.

ORDER SLATES can be found at Whitney &

Smith's, or H. W. Gray's Store, on Quincy Adams

Street.

Quincy, Jan. 9.

Dr. Warren's Cordial.

Dr. Warren's

Cordial for Consumption, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, Asthma, Gout, Gravel, &c.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Mar. 27.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1869.

NUMBER 39.

Poetry.

OVER THE RIVER.

The river is dark and the waves are cold,
The boatman is pale and the bark is old;
'Tis the burden that's breathed from lips of clay,
And the spirit shudders to launch away.

To ungrapple the chains from the shores of Time,
With an outward bound for an unknown clime;
To loose its grasp from the realm of Real,
And be drifted away to the dim Ideal.

And a mystic voice that the deep life hears,
Would scatter such doubts and would banish the fears;
It talks to the soul in a different way,
And it says that the rays from the regions of day

Give warmth to the waves that we dream are so cold,
And the river is glistened with glimmers of gold;
That the ripples are bronzed by a brilliancy bright,
Unswayed by the shadows that darken Time's flight.

And it says that the bark, though a fairy thing,
Is a masterpiece of the heavenly King;
And though light as a cloud in the ether blue,
And clear as the air, it is strong and true.

And angel's wings are the sails that fan
The longing life to a lovelier land;
And the music that drifts from the world of bliss,
Makes the spirit forget all the music of this.

And this is the way our bark shall ride
Over the murmuring, musical tide;
And a host of souls on the other side,
So pure and fair, and so glorified,

With anthems of rapture shall welcome in Another life from the land of sin;
And the spirit released shall nevermore
Regret its change to the fadeless shore.

Interesting Selections.

PRESERVED PEARS. Peel three pounds of pears and place them in a stew-pan; cover them with water and let them stew for two hours. Take them out and put them in a pound of loaf sugar and two tablespoons of the water they were stewed in to each pound. Add a little candied lemon, cut in small pieces, or a few cloves, if preferred. Place the cover on the jar and steam them in an oven for two hours. Golden syrup sufficient to cover them may be substituted for sugar and water.

PICKLING APPLES. Take a peck of sweet apples, pare and boil until tender in a syrup made of five pounds of sugar and one quart of vinegar, to which add two teaspoonsful each of cloves and cinnamon.

AN ITEM FOR DYSPEPTIC SUFFERERS. The kernel of the peach pit is said to be a perfect remedy for what is termed

"heart burn." When the suffering man finds itself, eat one or two of the kernels and after a few days the symptoms will disappear. The remedy is simple, cheap and harmless; and, best of all, effectual.

A man, hearing of another who was a hundred years old, said contemptuously, "Pshaw, what a fuss about nothing. Why, if my grandfather were alive he would be a hundred and fifty years old."

The boy who, when asked to what trade he would wish to be brought up, replied, "I will be a trustee, because ever since papa has been a trustee we have had pudding at dinner," was a wise child in his generation. The greatest successes now-a-days are those connected with the dealing with other people's money.

Guilt is that which quells the courage of the bold, tics the tongue of the eloquent, and makes greatness itself sneak and lurk and behave itself poorly.—South.

A veracious married man from the East recently visited Chicago. In relating his experience he says: "As soon as I reached the city I was attacked by a corps of small boys, who pressed upon me the cards of several lawyers, and assaulted me with shouts of "Want a divorce, mister? Here you are; divorce in fifteen minutes," and such like astounding cries."

"Bob," said a facetious farmer to his son, "we had a pretty hard day's work yesterday, now let's have a game of chopping wood."

As a looking glass, if a true one, faithfully represents the face that looks in it, so a wife ought to fashion herself to the affection of her husband, not to be cheerful when he is sad, nor sad when he is cheerful.—Erasmus.

He that sees ever so accurately, ever so finely into the motives of other people's acting, may possibly be entirely ignorant as to his own. It is to the mental as to the corporal eye the objects may be placed too near the sight to be seen truly as well as too far off; nay, too near to be seen at all.

Old age should be tranquil as one's childhood should be playful; hard work at either extremity of human existence, seems to be out of place; the morning and the evening should be alike cool and peaceful; at midday, the sun may burn, and men may labor under it.—Dr. Arnold.

"Don't touch the lute when drums are resounding. A wise man remains silent when fools are speaking."

Miscellany.

OUT OF THE WRONG POCKET.

Mr. Taggard frowned as he observed the pile of bills by his plate, placed there by his prudent, economical wife, notwithstanding an anxious flutter of heart, in anticipation of the scene that invariably followed. He actually gasped as he looked down at them. "There must be some mistake, Mary," he said, pushing back his plate with a desperate air; "it is utterly impossible for us to have used all these things in one month."

"The bills are correct, John," was the meek response; "I looked them over myself."

"Then one thing is certain, provisions are either wasted—thrown out of the window, as it were—or stolen! Jane has relatives in the place, and I have not the least doubt but what she supports them entirely out of what she steals."

Mrs. Taggard's temper was evidently rising; there were two round crimson spots upon her cheeks, and she tapped her foot noisily on the floor.

"I am neither wasteful or extravagant, John; and as for Jane, I know her to be perfectly honest and trustworthy."

"It is evident that there is a leak somewhere, Mary; and it is your duty as a wife to find out where it is and stop it. Our bills are perfectly enormous, and if this sort of thing goes on longer I shall be a bankrupt!"

Mrs. Taggard remained silent, trying to choke down the indignant feelings that struggled for utterance.

"You will have to order some coal," she said, at last; "we have hardly sufficient for the day."

"Is there anything more, Mrs. Taggard?" inquired her husband, ironically.

"Yes; neither myself nor the children are decently or comfortably clothed; all need an entire new outfit."

"Go on, madam. As I am a man of unlimited means, if you have any other wants, I hope you won't be at all backward about mentioning them."

"I don't intend to be," was the quiet but spirited reply. "I wouldn't do for another what I do for you, for double my board and clothing. But the parlor and sitting-room need refurbishing; everything looks so faded and shabby that I am ashamed to have any one call. And the stairs need recarpeting, and the blinds and gate repaired, and the fence painted."

"That can't be all, Mrs. Taggard; are you sure that there isn't something else?"

"I don't think of anything just now, Mrs. Taggard, though if there should be a few dollars left over and above what these will cost, it won't come amiss—I should like to have a little change in my pocket, if for only the novelty of the thing; you needn't fear its being wasted."

Mr. Taggard was evidently not a little astonished at this sudden outbreak in his usually quiet and patient wife, but who, like most women of that stamp, had considerable spirit when it was aroused.

"Now that you are through, Mrs. Taggard, perhaps you will let me say a word. Here is all the money I can spare you this month, so you can make the most of it."

Laying a roll of bills on the table, Mr. Taggard walked to the door, remarking just before he closed it, "that he should leave town on the next train, to be absent a week."

The reverie into which Mrs. Taggard fell, as she listened to the sound of his retreating steps was far from being a pleasant one. Aside from her natural vexation, she felt grieved and saddened by the change that had come over her once kind, indulgent husband. His mind seemed to be entirely filled with the greed of gain, the desire to amass money—not for the sake of the good it might enable him to enjoy, or confer, but for the mere pleasure of hoarding it. And this miserly feeling grew upon him daily, until he seemed to grudge his family the common comforts of life. And yet Mrs. Taggard knew that he was not only in receipt of a comfortable income from his business, but he had laid by a surplus, yearly, ever since their marriage.

She taxed her ingenuity to save in every possible way, but when the monthly bills were presented, the same scene was enacted, only it grew worse and worse.

And this penuriousness extended to himself. He grudging himself, as well as his wife and children, clothes suitable to his means and station, and went about looking so rusty and shabby that Mrs.

Taggard often felt ashamed of him, inwardly wondering if he could be the same man who had wooed and won her.

With a heavy sigh Mrs. Taggard took up the roll of bills upon the table, hoping to find enough to pay what was due—she did not look for more.

An ejaculation of astonishment burst from her lips as she unfolded the paper in which it was folded. It contained five hundred dollars.

With a look of quiet determination in her eye, Mrs. Taggard rose to her feet. The family should now have some of the comforts to which they were entitled, if they never did again.

First she settled every bill; a heavy weight being lifted from her heart as she did so; besides getting a fresh supply of fuel and other comforts. Her next move was to order new furniture for the sitting-room and parlor; have the hall carpeted and papered, the broken door-step mended, the fence and blinds painted and repaired. She then took the children out and got them new garments, from hats to shoes. She bought herself three new dresses; a neat gingham for morning wear, a delicate for afternoons and something nicer for best. And before going home she took the children into a toy shop, delighting the boy with skates he had so often asked for, and giving the girl the chief wish of her heart, a doll and a doll's wardrobe, not forgetting some blocks for the baby. For, like a wise as well as a kind mother, Mrs. Taggard wished to make their childhood a happy one—something to look back upon, with pleasure through their whole after life.

Neither was her husband forgotten; by the aid of some old garments for a pattern, she got him an entire new suit, together with stuff for dressing-gown and slippers.

The day on which Mrs. Taggard expected her husband's return was a very busy one, but at last the carpets were down, the paper hung, and everything in "apple-pie order."

He was expected on the five o'clock train, and Mrs. Taggard set the children, attired in their pretty new dresses, at the window, to "watch for papa," while she went down to assist Jane in preparing something extra for supper. She had but seen approaching the house.

It looked so different from what it did when he left, that he stared at it in amazement, and he would have hesitated about entering had it not been for the name on the newly-burnished door-plate. But he was still more astonished when he entered.

"Am I in my own house or somebody's else?" he ejaculated, as he looked around the bright and pleasant room.

"It is the new furniture I have been buying," said his wife, smiling. "How do you like it?"

"Have you been running me in debt, Mary?"

"Not in the least, John; it was all bought with the money you so generously left me when you went away."

Mr. Taggard clapped his hand into one of his pockets.

"Good heavens!" he exclaimed, in an agitated tone and manner. "I gave it to you out of the wrong pocket."

Mrs. Taggard did not look at all astonished or disturbed at this announcement; on the contrary, her countenance wore a smiling and tranquil aspect.

"You don't mean to say you have spent it?" inquired Mr. Taggard, desperately.

"Why, what else should I do with it, John? You told me to make the most of it, and I rather think I have."

"Then I am a ruined man," groaned Mr. Taggard.

"Not a bit of it, my dear husband," said his wife, cheerfully; "you would not be ruined if you had given me twice that amount. Besides, I have saved enough for our housekeeping expenses for three months, at least. I think you had better give me an allowance in future for that purpose; it would save us both much annoyance."

The children, who had been led to consider what their mother had brought them as "presents from papa," now crowded eagerly around him.

Mr. Taggard loved his children, and it would be difficult for any one having the kind and tender heart that he really possessed to turn away from the innocent smiles and caresses that were lavished upon him.

And when his wife approached with the dressing gown and slippers, he not only allowed her to induct him into them, but returned the loving caresses with which she assured him "that he looked as young and handsome as ever."

It was a smiling group that gathered around the supper table. And as Mr. Taggard glanced from the gleeful children to the smiling face of his wife, who certainly looked ten years younger, attired in the conclusion that though it might cost something to make his family happy, on the whole, to use a common but very expressive phrase, "it paid."

We do not mean to say that Mr. Taggard was entirely cured; a passion so strong is not so easily eradicated. But when the old miserly feelings came over him, and he began to deal out grudgingly the means with which to make his family comfortable, his wife would laughingly say, "You are taking it out of the wrong pocket, John!" Words which seem to have a magical effect upon both heart and purse-strings.

"Let us take comfort as we go," she would often say, as she laid her cheek lovingly to his; "not grudge our children the innocent pleasures natural to youth, for the purposes of laying up for them the wealth that is, too often, a curse rather than a blessing."—Hours at Home.

HINTS TO WRITERS AND SPEAKERS.

William Cullen Bryant gave the following excellent advice to a young man who offered him an article for the Evening Post: My young friend, I observe that you have used several French expressions in your article. I think, if you will study the English language, that you will find it capable of expressing all the ideas you may have. I have always found it so, and in all that I have written I do not recall an instance where I was tempted to use a foreign word, but that, on searching I found a better one in my own language.

Be simple, unaffected; be honest in your speaking and writing. Never use a long word when a short one will do. Call a spade a spade, not a well-known oblong instrument of manual industry; let a home be a home, not a residence; a place a place, not a locality, and so of the rest. Where a short word will do, you lose by using a long one. You lose in clearness; you lose in honest expression of your meaning, and in the estimation of all men who are competent to judge, you lose in reputation for ability.

The only true way to shine even in this false world, is to be modest and unassuming. Falseness may be a very thick crust, but in the course of time will find a place to break through. Elegance of language may not be in the power of all of us, but simplicity and straightforwardness are.

Write much as you would speak; speak as you think. If with your inferior, speak no coarser than usual; if with your superior, speak no finer. Be what you say, and within the rules of prudence.

No one ever was a gainer by singularity of words or in pronunciation. The truly wise man will so speak that no one will observe how he speaks. A man may show great knowledge of chemistry by carrying about bladders of strange gases to breathe, but he will enjoy better health, and find more time for business, who lives on common air.

Sidney Smith once remarked: After you have written an article, take your pen and strike out half of the words, and you will be surprised to see how much stronger it is.

NIGHT AIR NOT INJURIOUS.

There is a popular prejudice concerning the evil effects of night air, about which a word may be said. In her admirable writings on hygiene and the management of the sick, Mrs. Nightingale has done much to correct this mistake. It was formerly the universal belief that the air of night was very injurious. But the fact is that, except under certain circumstances it is as healthful, or even more so, than that of the day-time. The night air of large cities, such as London, when the bustle and commotion, which cause it to be loaded with dust particles, is comparatively quelled, and the numerous fires which contaminate it with their smoke are mostly extinguished, is purer than that of the day. Nothing conduces more to healthy sleep than good ventilation, and no mode of ventilation surpasses that obtained by opening a window at the top,

CONDITIONS.

No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the Publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.

BOSTON—S. M. POTTINGILL & Co., S. R. NILES, HORACE DODD, T. C. EVANS, A. L. BRYANT, & Co., ALLEN & SHAILER and COOLEY & DAUGHEY.

NEW YORK—S. M. POTTINGILL & Co., GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., and PEARSON & Co. PHILADELPHIA—COE, WETHERILL & Co.

A PITHY SERMON TO YOUNG MEN.

You are the architects to your own fortune. Rely upon your own strength of body and mind.

Your star, faith, perseverance and pluck, and inscribe on your banner, "Be just, and fear not." Don't take too much advice; keep at the helm and steer your own ship. Strike out. Think well of yourself. Fire above the mark you intend to hit. Assume your position. Don't practice excessive humanity; you can't get above your level—water don't run up hill—put potatoes in a cart over a rough road, and the small potatoes will go to the bottom. Energy, invincible determination, with a right motive, are the levers that rule the world. The great art of commanding is to take a fair share of the work. Civility costs nothing and buys everything. Don't drink; don't smoke; don't swear; don't gamble; don't lie; don't steal; don't deceive; don't tattle. Be polite; be generous; be kind. Study hard; play hard. Be in earnest. Be self-reliant. Read good books. Love your fellowman as well as your God; love your country and obey the laws; love truth; love virtue. Always do what your conscience tells you to be a duty, and leave the consequences with God.

—

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION. An adjourned meeting of the Massachusetts Editors and Publishers was held at Worcester, on Tuesday last. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, and the following officers were unanimously elected: President, Stephen N. Stockwell, Boston Journal.

Vice Presidents, F. B. Sanborn, Springfield Republican, George A. Merrill, Lawrence American.

Recording Secretary, C. H. Lyman, Holyoke Transcript.

Corresponding Secretary, J. A. Dresser, Webster Times.

Charles H. Woodwell. The officers, who form an Executive Committee, were authorized to call the first annual meeting of the Association next June. Any editor or publisher in Massachusetts may become a member of the Association by signing the Constitution and By-Laws and paying into the treasury the sum of $3. Ten members constitute a quorum. By the By-Laws the annual assessment is fixed at $2. It was originally proposed to admit to the Association job printers, but it was finally voted not to.

The Association was formed for the purpose of extending the acquaintance of the members of the newspaper fraternity with each other, and for occasional meetings of a social character. Associations of a similar kind have been in existence for years in some of the States, and they have been productive of great practical good and of much social enjoyment.

APPOINTMENT. Mr. Charles B. Travis, formerly Principal of our High School, has recently been promoted from the position of Usher in the Mayhew School, Boston, to that of sub-Master in the English High School. Salary after the first year, $2,400.

FAIR AT READVILLE. The Norfolk Agricultural Fair, held at their new grounds at Readville, was very largely attended on Thursday and a complete crowd was present yesterday. It is much more easy of access by the cars than the old grounds, and by carriage it is only a pretty ride. The display of vegetables was very good; the fruit collectively was not quite equal to last year. The new half mile track was much enjoyed, and some excellent mile heats were made. There was also a good display of family horses. After enjoying an excellent dinner under a mammoth pavilion, the assembly listened to a very able address from Dr. Geo. B. Loring, and speeches from other distinguished gentlemen. The fair was one of the most successful ever given by the society.

Capt. Brown, of the steamer Massachusetts, was the recipient, on Monday of last week, of a splendid pair of marine glasses, the gift of his friends.

CONCERT. A concert will be given in Boston, on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock at the Coliseum, in aid of the Home for the Destitute Catholic Children. The choir of the various Catholic churches in Boston and vicinity will take part, and there will be an orchestra of one hundred brass instruments.

THE ENTERTAINMENTS announced for Monday and Tuesday evenings, of next week, at the Town Hall, see cards in another column, are of such a character, that they cannot fail to please, and meet the public favor.

Sharpley, with his unrivalled corps of Minstrels, who have just completed a most successful engagement in Boston, lead off on Monday evening; and those who enjoy Ethiopian melody, where Sambo will strut his short hour on the stage, have a rich treat in reserve for them.

On Tuesday evening, Washburn's great "Indian Exhibition" will be presented. An intellectual entertainment, amusing and instructive. Where the true type of the red man, dressed in full costume, and displaying all the eccentricities of character of that peculiar people, may be seen. Washburn's last sensation, and no doubt will prove one.

MECHANIC'S EXHIBITION. Those attending this exhibition should not fail to visit the greatest antiquity of the age, the oldest wooden building in Boston, 24 and 25 Dock Square, opposite west end of Faneuil Hall, erected previous to 1869, and consequently over one hundred and eighty years old. Visitors will here find one of the largest and best stocks of Men's and Boys' Clothing to be found in Boston, fully equal to custom made, and at prices but a little in advance of cost of manufacture.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

Prize sale of the Coliseum.—The Boston Traveller pitching into the City Officials.—Business.—Capital and Discounts of Boston Banks.—The National Debt.—Obligation of payment secured.—Schemes for its liquidation.—Can be paid without foreign aid in fifteen years.

BOSTON, SEPTEMBER 23, 1869.

The last musical entertainment ever to be held in the Coliseum, takes place October 21st proximo, and continuing three days. To be grand Promenade Concerts, with Gilmore's famous Military Band of one hundred performers. The price of a single ticket is $1.00; admits to one concert; entitles the holder to one colored view of the Coliseum, and secures ownership of an undivided interest in common with the other ticket holders a chance of drawing the furniture or Coliseum building, the latter containing two million feet of lumber, valued at the same $15,000, the thousands drawing blanks that will be disappointed. It is estimated that the vending of twenty-five thousand tickets would make the selling parties good.

The Traveller since my last has "let loose the dogs of war" on the Municipal Government of Boston. Speaking of the lavish use of money, it says:

"The city is swindled for the benefit of somebody, and it is believed that some of the city officials can tell who it is that is benefitted by the lavish use of the money. But it is not in needed improvements alone that the funds of the city are freely used. Occasions are sought for extravagant junketing, and some of the city fathers are almost all the time travelling or feasting at the city expense, and not content with that, some of them manage to extend these official favors to the political hangers on who are now becoming a power in the city. These costly excursions and feasts are most of them for the benefit of this class, who repay these favors by packing the ward caucuses for the benefit of their patrons."

The charges are serious, and if true, are a blot upon the fair fame of our Puritan city. Is Boston following New York, that Babel city of America in municipal corruption? We hope not, and we have reason to believe the Traveller is too severe in its criticisms.

Business matters in our city, as usual, are wanting in a healthy basis, and will remain so until the circulating media rest on a metallic foundation. The aggregate capital of the Boston Banks is forty-six millions of dollars; but the credits to borrowers are now over one hundred and four millions, and yet the wants of the borrowers are not satisfied, owing to the large amount of maturing obligations; all coming from the general inflation of personal and real estate, the result of paper currency. In connection with the business interests of our country, in reality affecting every man woman and child in it, is the public debt. In the first place, the American people are able, and should pay every cent of the national indebtedness. To pay, is the only way to maintain the national credit, and the national credit is the nation's strength. It has been demonstrated that at the rate the public debt has been paid the present year we should be able to get rid of it all in fifteen years at the extent, including interest. But this supposes for the next decade and a half a continual growth in national prosperity and resources. Funding the public debt to European capitalists at four or even five per cent, payable in forty years, is a plausible theory to relieve our burdens, but might work ill in practice. This immense loan to the United States would raise the rate of interest every where, and panic every business interest of our country. Our government might then tell its creditors, (bondholders) that it had resolved to pay them four per cent, or nothing, which would depreciate their securities at least one third, and be one step to repudiation. If our national debt can be paid in fifteen years on the plan now pursued by the government, extinguishing our liabilities as fast as the net revenue and internal taxes can be realized, the policy is better than funding our debt for the benefit of foreign capitalists.

WORTHY A VISIT. Ladies visiting Boston will find it to their pleasure and profit to call at the store of Messrs. Cushman & Brooks. They have the largest and best stock of merino goods we ever saw in Boston. Underclothing and hosiery of all sizes, adapted for ladies and gentlemen, misses and boys, and warranted to fit any person from a fat cherub of six pounds to a fleshy bantler of four hundred. Their assortment of gloves and handkerchiefs is without limit. Gents' linen handkerchiefs for 37 1-2 cents, and the entire stock at very reasonable prices. Nos. 37 and 39 Temple Place, only a few streets south of Winter, and leading from Washington to Tremont street, the same as Winter.

Barrett's Hair Restorative.

For the Patriot.

SPECIAL PROVIDENCES.

From the tone of the article on "Special Providences" in your paper of the 18th instant, I infer that the writer does not believe in Divine Providence, but looks upon the earth as a vast machine, made and set in motion by the Deity, with certain immutable laws for its guidance, and thus to run on for ever. Further, the manner of speaking of churches seems to me to proceed from a mistaken idea in regard to them. If I misinterpret his article he will doubtless be glad to set me right.

I believe all things are created by God, and directed, controlled and sustained by Him, and that His omniscience, which our finite intelligence may acknowledge, but utterly fails to comprehend, enables Him to know what will be the result to every living thing, of acts that may appear to us to be either in accordance with or contrary to Providence in the sense you mean; the power that creates, also sustains, and in its adaptation of each to all the Divine Providence is shown, and ceaselessly works. In this sense, all of Divine Providence is special providence. I believe that the Divine power works according to Divine order,—thus, according to laws that need never be changed,—and that what at different periods of the world's history have seemed to be miracles, were only acts in obedience to laws not then known, and though we are continually discovering new laws, we are yet like children "picking up pebbles on the shore, while the ocean of truth lies unexplored."

I believe the storm to be as much a special as general act of Divine Providence, and though mysterious to us, it will like all dispensations of Providence, tend towards our highest good.

That it destroys or spares churches, need not be construed as special rebuke or encouragement,—for the church edifice is not the church,—the men who worship there are not the church,—the man who leads a good life, acknowledging God as the source of life, and striving to understand and to live according to His laws, he is the true temple of God, and will never be destroyed. BELIEVER.

HINGHAM FAIR. The annual fair at Hingham, which always attracts a large number of our citizens, is announced in our advertising columns to take place on Tuesday and Wednesday next. The fairs at Hingham in past years have been unusually good, and the one this year we believe will not fall any behind those in former years. We would urge those of our citizens who have never attended these fairs to go next week,—we know they can spend the day pleasantly, and in some instances profitably.

There will be no services in the Universalist Church to-morrow. The painters have not given it the finishing touch as yet.

THE POULTRY that collects about the steps of the Unitarian Church, the Post Office, Armory Hall, and other places every evening and Sundays, is a very poor lot,—all roosters! Why can't they find more out-of-the-way places, for roosting? or, if they must be in these particular localities, why not roost along on the curb stone, and thus be a little more out of the way? and oblige hundreds of people as well as MARY JANE.

BASE BALL.

A MATCH GAME OF BALL was played on Saturday last, September 18th, at South Quincy, between the EAGLES of Boston, and the EAGLES of Quincy, which resulted in a decisive victory for the latter.

EAGLES OF BOSTON.		EAGLES OF QUINCY.
O. R.	O. R.	O. R.	O. R.
Snow, P.	4	Mitchell, C.	2
Haves, I. B.	2	Clapp, P.	3
G. Caruth, S. S.	2	O'Neil, I. B.	1
Smith, C.	3	Sheahan, B. B.	5
Riddell, L. F.	4	Hardwick, S. B.	2
Lester, S. B.	3	Gallagher, S. S.	6
F. Caruth, S. S.	0	Ford, L. F.	4
Hinkley, R. F.	4	Souther, R. F.	5
M'Dermott, C. F.	0	Perry, C. F.	3
Total.	27	Total.	37

INTELLIGENCE. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Eagles of Boston—0 0 1 1 1 0 0 1 2-7
Eagles of Quincy—2 18 2 3 2 1 1 6 16-51
UNFIRE.—L. Strong of the Activists.

SCORERS.—W. Parlee and G. Whittemore.
Time of Game, two hours thirty minutes.
The Eagles of Quincy are now ready to play with any Junior Club.

DR. BRAGO'S SURGEON, CHELSEA EYE AND EAR INFIRMARY. We would especially call the attention of our readers to "our Supplement," which we issue this week, and invite the afflicted to secure the Doctor's services, on his visit to Quincy, (stopping for two days only, at the Hancock House) on Monday and Tuesday, of next week. A physician who has made a careful study of that particular group of diseases, and whose knowledge and experience are therefore of the highest value.

MILITARY. The Rogers Light Guards of Boston, Capt. D. Fred French, will visit this place on Friday next, for parade and enjoyment.

Summary Intelligence.

In Delaware they are very imprudent, trying to repeal a law which requires a man before marrying to give bonds in $200 for good behavior.

The pensions paid at the government agency in Boston amount to nearly a million and a quarter dollars annually.

It is now estimated that eight hundred chimneys were blown down in Taunton during the late gale.

A young girl in Dorchester has lately won a wager of three hundred dollars by jumping eleven feet, two and one-half inches.

The Mormons are going to abandon grain raising and devote themselves to butter making.

A trunk passed over the Boston and Albany road recently, directed to 11 worth Kansas.

New Orleans beauties eat soap to cure freckles.

Upwards of six hundred were rooted by the recent gale in the town of Essex.

There was a snow squall in Carver woods, Plymouth county, on the 2d inst.

The receipts of the recent New England Fair at Portland were $26,000, about $5000 above the expenses.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, prompt and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

THE anniversary exercises of the Sabbath School at West Quincy, last Sunday afternoon, were of much interest to the people in that part of the town. The Hall being handsomely decorated with evergreen and flowers, and well-filled with an appreciative audience. The addresses were appropriate and interesting, and the singing of the children excellent.

The average attendance for the year was reported to be seventy-one. The Treasurer's Report showed the amount of subscriptions for the support of the School, for the year, to be $106.45. The sum contributed by the children for benevolent purposes, $22.43. The School has never been in a more prosperous condition than at present.

Old Lumber for Sale.

A LOT of Old Boards, Joint and Timber for Sale Cheap, by HENRY H. FAXON. 1m Quincy, Sept. 25.

BOOTS & SHOES,

MADE AND REPAIRED.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has enlarged his shop and is now better prepared than ever to do their work at short notice, and reasonable terms. PEREZ JOYCE. Quincy Avenue, near Liberty Street. Quincy, Sept. 25, 1869. 1f

TO LET!

HALF House on Sea Street, next door to Dr. C. S. French. Apply on the Premises. Quincy, Sept. 25. 1f

Wanted to Hire

A CONVENIENT house of six or eight rooms, within five or six minutes walk of the Stone Church, in Quincy, by an American Family. Please state location and terms Address, TENANT, Patriot Office. Quincy, Sept. 25, 1869. 1f

We are now Selling

OUR

ST. JAMES BRAND

At $10 per Barrel.

This Flour has now an established reputation, and we guarantee it equal to any of the fancy brands now retailing at $12 to $13 per barrel. Every barrel warranted, and sure to suit.

Try it! Try it!

And if you are not pleased with it, it will cost you nothing for the trial, as all the money will be refunded.

We will send Flour by Bowditch's Quincy Express, to be paid for on delivery,—25 cents allowed towards express charges. Send orders by Bowditch Express.

Great Western

FAMILY FLOUR COMPANY.

No. 6 Boylston Street,

Next Store to Boylston Market.

Sept. 25. 4w

Agents Wanted

TO SELL TICKETS TO

COLISEUM CONCERTS,

To take place in Boston,

Oct. 21st, 22d & 23d, 1869.

EACH TICKET

admits to one GRAND CONCERT by Gilmore's Band, entitled to one COLORED LITHOGRAPH OF COLISEUM, and secures an INTEREST in the Coliseum and its decorations. This is one of the most popular enterprises in America.

Tickets Only One Dollar Each.

Send for Circular, giving all particulars, terms, and commission to agents, &c. Address COLISEUM ASSOCIATION, P. O. BOX No. 1225, OR No. 14 STATE STREET, BOSTON. Sept. 25. 3w

NATIONAL

Mount Wollaston Bank.

ON and after SATURDAY, May 1st, 1869, and further notice, this Bank will not open on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS.

HENRY F. BARKER, Cashier. Quincy, April 27, 1869. 1f

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

BOSTON,

Retail Department.

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

Having just purchased the entire Stocks of Messrs. G. M. Dayton and Norris & Russell, amounting to some Seventy Thousand Dollars, at a Very Great

DISCOUNT FROM COST,

are enabled to offer the Very Finest Quality of British, French and German Hosiery, by the dozen or single pair.

Also, Cartwright & Warner's Norfolk, and New Brunswick, Scotch and English Merino Underclothing, in every size, from the smallest to the largest imported, at prices

Much below their Value.

Particular attention is invited to the stock of Children's Infants', Misses' and Boys' half hose, long hose, hose in every style; finest quality Lisle Thread and Silk Hosiery; Gentlemen's British Half Hose; Merino Hosiery; Vigonia Hose; Ribbed Hose in extra lengths, Ladies' Thirty Gage white and colored Ribbed Hosiery; Misses' finest quality Merino Hose, in extra lengths; Children's Fancy Stripped and Plaid Hose; white and colored Merino Long and Short Hose, all sizes.

The Hosiery, Under-clothing,

Gloves, Corset, Hand-knit Worsted

Goods and Trimming Stock of Mr. GEO. M. DAYTON

is and has been known to the citizens of Boston and vicinity for the Past Twenty five years.

MOST FAVORABLY

CUSHMAN & BROOKS,

WILL OFFER

THE ENTIRE STOCK,

WITHOUT RESERVE,

AT RETAIL,

37 and 39

TEMPLE PLACE,

(Their only place of business.)

S 25 BOSTON. 1f

ELEVENTH ANNUAL

EXHIBITION

HINGHAM

Agricultural & Horticultural

SOCIETY.

Cattle Show

ATHINGHAM

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY,

Sept. 28 & 29, 1869.

On the Grounds of the Society, and in the spacious Hall at the corner of East and Leavitt streets.

ORDER OF EXHIBITION.

TUESDAY.

The forenoon will be devoted to the examination of the different departments of the Exhibition. The boys from the Farm School, numbers and quality to be considered.—(First Prize, $15.00; Second Prize, $10.00; Third Prize, $5.00.)

Punching Match on the Grounds, 1-2 o'clock P. M.

Trial of Draft Horses, 2-2 o'clock P. M.

Spading Match, 3 o'clock P. M.

Exhibition of Horses, 4 o'clock P. M.

Equitation Match, 4-5 o'clock P. M.

WEDNESDAY.

Town Teams of Oxen, 9 o'clock A. M.

(Prizes for the same will be awarded as follows: For the best Team from Town, numbers and quality to be considered.—(First Prize, $15.00; Second Prize, $10.00; Third Prize, $5.00.)

Trial of Working Oxen, 10-12 o'clock A. M.

Calvalade, 11 o'clock A. M.

Dinner, 1 o'clock P. M.

At twelve and a half o'clock P. M. a Procession will be formed on the track, and escorted by Co. C, Capt. Prentiss, of Scituate, march from thence to the dining Hall, where Addresses may be expected, and also Vocal and Instrumental Music.

The prominent Prizes awarded during the Exhibition will be announced at the table.

Rural Sports, 5 o'clock P. M.

Music on the Grounds and in the Hall each day by the South Hingham Cornet Band.

N. B. The exhibition in the Hall and on the Grounds will be open the first day (TUESDAY) from 9 o'clock A. M. to 5 o'clock P. M.; and on the second day (WEDNESDAY) from 8 o'clock A. M. to 5 o'clock P. M.

All animals intended for exhibition, arriving on Monday and Working Oxen intended for Town Teams, arriving on Tuesday, will be furnished with free accommodations by the Society.

Tickets 30 cents, admitting to the Grounds and to the Exhibition in the Hall. Children under 12 years, 15 cents. Season Tickets, $1.00.

Free Tickets will be furnished to Members of the Society. Contributors on the payment of 40 cents, will be entitled to a Season Ticket. Contributors to the Children's Department will be furnished with a Season Ticket on payment of 20 cents. Horses in harness, or otherwise, 25 cents each.

The Dinner for the occasion will be furnished by Mr. Ripley, of the Rockland House. Tickets for the same, $1.50, and only five hundred will be sold.

Excursion Tickets for both days may be obtained from Boston, Bridgewater and Abington, on the Old Colony Railroad, and at all the stations on the South Shore Railroad at half price.

Per order of the Government.

ALBERT FLAHERTY, President.

DE WITT C. BATES, Secretary.

Hingham, Sept. 25. 1w

We Have Received

Our full Stock of Fall and Winter Goods, suited to the wants of first-class trade, to which we invite the attention of gentlemen requiring stylish and well-made

Clothes at reasonable prices.

C. H. THWING & CO.

TAILORS,

No. 140 Washington Street.

BOSTON.

Sept. 25—4w

INDIAN RELICS.

THE Subscriber, desirous of increasing his collection of aboriginal relics, would like to obtain by purchase or otherwise, any such articles as Stone Axes, Sinks, Mortars and Pestles, Pipes, Arrow Heads, Implements &c., &c., that parties having in their possession, may be willing to dispose of.

A reasonable price will be paid for such or any other authentic relics of antiquity, curiosities, &c. Please apply to or address as if by mail.

JOHN J. GLOVER, North Quincy. 1f

Gravel for Sale

QUARRIES, on Brackett Street, also near the South Quincy Depot, by P. McDONNELL. Quincy, September 11. 1f

WANTED!

ANY one having either a second hand saddle, bridle or martingale to dispose of may address box 62 P. O. for a purchaser. Quincy, September 11. 1f

A CARD.

L. W. COOK,

WOULD respectfully announce to the citizens of Quincy that his Photograph Rooms near the Post Office.

WEYMOUTH LANDING,

are still open daily, where

All kinds of nice Pictures,

are taken in his usual satisfactory manner. His arrangements for taking pictures of small children are such, that he has no trouble in obtaining good

Photographs or Ferrotypes

of all children that are brought to his rooms. When Mr. Cook is absent, his rooms will be in charge of a skilful operator and all persons coming will receive the same attention as if he was present.

Particular attention paid to making large Photographs from small ones in all sizes up to Life Size.

Persons having pictures that are fading or changing in any manner can now have them taken in any desired style by leaving them at Weymouth, or his.

Boston Rooms, 203 Washington Street Weymouth, September 11. 1f

WASHBURN'S

LAST SENSATION.

ONE NIGHT ONLY.

TOWN HALL, QUINCY.

Tuesday Evening, Sept. 28th.

Four Complete Shows

IN ONE.

Ahwanetunk's Great Indian

EXHIBITION.

BURN'S SENSATION.

NIGHT ONLY.

ALL, QUINCY.

ening, Sept. 28th.

Complete Shows

N ONE.

k's Great Indian

IBITION.

A'S Beautiful CONCERT

S, SONGS, DUETS, &c.

e, "La Fete Libre," will appear in Costume Songs.

Great Song and Dance Boy.

ELD the Comic Vocalist.

S BROTHERS, WILLIE and sings, Henry, Charles and singing School of Olympian

Greece and Rome.

saut's Complete Silver Cornet

sroll, JAMES FISH, Solo

y the Band in Front of the previous to the opening of 12: Commence at 8 P. M.

Deserved Stars, 50 cents.

nder 12 years 25 Cents.

1w

HALL, QUINCY.

NIGHT ONLY.

Eve., Sept. 27th.

Band of the Age.

Sharpley's

STRELS!

st Class Artists

st concluded the most success-ever made in the city of Boston. SAM SHARPLEY, the most Performer in the Minstrel sides.

e to your city the same army which we made our Boston repu-

1w

n! Mark This.

any gentlemen are puzzled to e among so many who are ent to buy

THING.

en thus troubled may find will suit them at

SE & CO.,

Goods is complete. They will sell all the most economical.

MADE TO ORDER.

BOISE & CO.,

ington Street, Boston, 30.

5w

ncy Adams

TE COMPANY.

a of Granite Works,

SUCH AS

g, Monumental,

- AND -

TERY WORK,

mpty executed.

s done at a short notice in,

Quincy Adams Station.

A. NUTTING,

R. JOSHUA HANSON.

BENJAMIN WATSON, Agent.

1f

H MARKET.

ers would respectfully announce that a large and fresh stock of Provision, &c., found at their store near of Episcopal Church,

at prices.

G. TOTMAN & SON.

1f

Is for Sale!

erful dark Green Canaries for

The male is an excellent singer.

only at the PATRIOT OFFICE.

1f

es Attention!

rk! Hair Work!

le arrangements with the only hairdresser in the City I am prepared manufacture all kinds of ladies lowest cash prices.

Latest Styles

- or - itches, Wigs and Frizzets, uk required and made to look a call before purchasing else must favor and by a prompt to merit a continuance of the

G. EMERSON,

Hancock and Temple Sts.,

1f

ine, Yoke of Oxen

- AND -

ck, for Sale.

mured, two cylinder, 12 horse power Engine, English made with a reliable Yoke of Oxen.

1f

G. W. MORTON.

1f

Rye for Seed.

LS of Extra Winter Rye, for Mount Wollaston Farms.

N. H. EATON.

1f

From the Atlantic to the Pacific.—No. 10.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

August 19th, 1869.

Our trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific has just been completed by a drive of six miles out of the city, westward, on a splendid road, that brought us to the Cliff House. We passed the Golden Gate, on the right. It was difficult to believe, that through this opening in the mountains, of a mile wide, the great bay of San Francisco was supplied daily with a super-abundance of wind and water. Our enthusiasm was kindled as by magic,

when we rode up to the brow of a hill, and suddenly had laid before us the Mother of Oceans. We gazed spellbound into the massive waves, that had been rolling half around the globe, and tried to comprehend the magnitude of the largest body of water, but it was too much for our calibre. No storm for months had aroused its fury, yet it was anything but peaceful, for its waves and surf exceeded anything at Nantasket after a storm.—

Above the roar of waves, we heard as we approached the shore an incessant barking. Before we had prepared for a canine attack, we discovered a large round rock a short distance from the shore, completely covered with seals, playing and singing the best they could "in their cottage by the sea." Here, on Seal

Rock, as it is called, they have lived for years, within gun shot of the Hotel, protected by the strong arm of the law.—

Other, than a few peeps, no game was seen along the beach, but as we rode along, millions of sea gulls flapped their wings, and dotted the air for miles away.

We returned by a good but winding road over the Mission Peaks, from where we suddenly obtained an excellent view of the city, bay, and its surroundings. I have met a score or more of Quincy people in San Francisco. One evening was pleasantly passed with a family on Folsom street, where, after giving the pass-word,

Quincy, I was, as at old time surprise parties, "clapped in and clapped out."

Another evening, a gardener, on Howard street admitted me to his pleasant home.

Nor did I forget to call at the "House of Burgesses," but in the company of a friend, paid my respects to a favorite teacher of the Quincy High School. Still another evening I enjoyed some excellent views of the Bay from the house of a friend out towards the north beach, where the roses blossomed in the garden, and two fresh blossoms, reinforced by a little bud, made it equally cheerful within doors. None of these seem to have any idea of returning to Elm street, except to visit their friends, which some of them will do during the coming year.

Sabbath morning I went to Starr Kings

Church, and heard Dr. Stebbins, who had just returned from a visit to the East, address his people, upon the results of the completion of the Pacific Railway.

In the afternoon I visited a school of two or three hundred Chinamen. They were very orderly, exceedingly attentive to studies, and succeeded in every thing except singing. The various drinking and billiard saloons, do the most business on the Sabbath, yet several fine churches are well filled with the most respectable portion of the community. New Englanders are spoken of as a church-going people.

Many visitors are here from the East, making pleasure excursions to various parts of the State, and exploring among the mountains and valleys. Time was when such experience made a world renowned hero, and it came near making

Fremont President,—but now it seems like an every day affair. The notoriety is lost, but the wildness, sublimity of the scenes and the reality of the enjoyment remain the same. The imaginer is pleased at thinking what they may be, but the traveller is amazed to see them as they are. I have visited several of these valleys, and am going to start to-morrow for the Great Yosemite. Having photographed its scenes indelibly upon my mind

I shall be willing to return to friends and home.

TRAVELLER.

A GREAT OFFER. That admirable

weekly paper, "The Saturday Evening

Post," is offering a great inducement to new subscribers. It designs commencing a new and brilliant novel on October 2, and it offers to give all new subscribers for 1870, the numbers for October, November and December, gratis. A large extra edition of these months will be printed; but it will be well to send in subscriptions as early as possible, lest the earlier numbers should be exhausted. Of course all names sent in by the middle of October will be certain to receive all the three months of extra papers.

Price $2.50 a year. Four numbers for $6. Sample numbers (post paid) six cents. Address H. Peterson & Co., 319

Walnut street, Philadelphia.

For all Neuralgic affections Turner's

Pill is offered as a certain and speedy cure. See Notice.

STATE CONVENTION. The Republican

State Convention held at Worcester on Wednesday last was very largely attended, and the proceedings quite harmonious.

Governor Claflin was re-nominated by acclamation, and the indications are that he will be elected by the usual large majority.

HARPER'S FOR OCTOBER. This excellent monthly is out in its ever prompt manner, and is well filled with excellent engravings, choice reading matter, &c., and is truly a valuable number for the family. For sale at Mr. Southern's in the Square, and by the New England News

Company, 41 Court street, Boston.

CHURCHILL, WATSON & CO., 269

Washington street, Boston, offer in our advertising columns great inducements to pay their large and elegant store a visit.

The stock of goods in every department is complete, and the quality is, without cavil, of the very best. They believe in customers examining before purchasing and to enable them to do so, they have altered their store by inserting skylights

so that there can be no complaint of the lack of light. Let our friends call, and if they are not satisfied with the variety and beauty of the goods displayed, and above all, with the prices asked, we shall be in great error.

Be metamorphosed by "Barrett's."

SOUTHMAYD'S CONFECTIONERY. It is a gratification to our readers, that in this age of adulteration, there is one article of consumption that can be obtained pure, and that is Southmayd's

Confectionery. Read his advertisement.

"Barrett's" adorns and beautifies.

LIKE ANGELS' VISITS!

Like angels' visits,

"To and fro between,"—

Are those old structures,

Here and there are seen:

They take us back,

To speak in simple rhyme,—

To days long past,—

Upon the track of time!

So that old structure,

Twenty-five DOCK SQUARE,—

Where "CLOTHING" is sold

At prices which are fair:

The oldest BUILDING, now, in town,—

Please call and see before 'tis taken down.

Boston, Aug. 28. 4w

Base ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement, but it often occasionally bungs eyes, broken shins and blistered hands. We can tell you that in all such cases if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to, it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

"Barrett's" harmless as water.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 16th inst., Mrs.

Mary, widow of the late Ebenezer Nightingale, aged 87 years, 10 months and 16 days.

On the 20th inst., Mrs. Hannah, widow of the late Lewis Cleverly, aged 78 years and 10 months.

On the 21st inst., at the National Sailed

Home, Mr. James Lewis, aged 79

years.

On the 22d inst., George Warren, son of Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Nancy A. Noble, aged 1 month.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. The undersigned will close their places of business at eight

o'clock P. M., on and after MONDAY,

September 6th, 1869.—Saturday evenings

excepted.

Whitney & Nash, John O. Holden,

C. L. Baxter & Co.,

Allen & Wilson,

Wm. A. Hodges,

Joseph Arcy, Jr.,

N. B. Fernald,

D. B. Stetson,

Elbridge Clapp,

C. A. Spear,

J. N. Blake,

George Cahill,

H. Walter Gray,

C. F. Pierce, & Co.,

C. T. Reed,

J. A. Holden,

W. Abercrombie,

M. O. Copeland,

Ensign S. Fellows.

Quincy, Sept. 1. 3w

NOTICE. Bills against the Fire Department will not be approved by the En-

